LOOKS BAD FOR HER

Damaging Evidence Against Mrs. Vandergrift.

HER SON IN THE WITNESS CHAIR

He Very Reluctantly Tells What He Knows of the Case.

Proved Almost Beyond Doubt That She Tried to Poison Him for Insurance Money—Eva Kane Testifies to a Circumstance That Goes to Prove the Accused's Guilt.

MT. HOLLY, N. J., May 1.—In the trial of Mrs. Vandergrift for poisoning her son with croton oil, Prof. Reese, of the Medical Chair of the University of Pennsylvania, gave expert testimony to the effect that the symptoms noted by young Norman's physician were those of croton oil poisoning.

Mrs. Eva Kane, who helped nurse Norman, testified that she substituted sweet oil for croton oil, but Mrs. Vandergrift noticed it and sent Mrs. Kane's daughter to buy more croton oil.

Young Norman was then called as a witness for the prosecution. He told his story cautiously, and seemed inclined to shield his mother. He was evidently a reluctant witness. The facts as to his illness were drawn from him, however.

The existence of a life insurance policy for $14,000 on the life of Frank C. Norman was proved conclusively by the officers of the insurance company in Philadelphia by whom the policy was issued. In the event of the death of Norman the blanket mortgage held by the company on the property of Mrs. Vandergrift at Burlington was to be cancelled. The amount referred to was paid to her when the policy was issued.

Norman in his testimony said he signed the policy, but did not receive a penny of the money. His mother got it all. When the premiums fell due she paid them. He had no interest in it whatever. He insisted that his illness did not date from his arrival in Burlington in March last, but existed while he was in Philadelphia. He had the same symptoms while in that city.

On being closely pressed he admitted that he bought croton oil for his mother in a drug store in Burlington since his return home and prior to his last attack of illness.

MINISTERS IN TROUBLE.

Successful as Revivalists They are Accused of Being Thieves.

READING, Pa., May 1.—It now seems that the apparently highly successful revival on the Welsh Mountains, in the haunts of the Buzzard gang of thieves, may, through association, had the effect of corrupting the ministers while they were making Christians of thieves.

Revs. P. H. Garrett and Z. C. Mower were the ministers whose united efforts at Mount Zion Church led many of the hardest sinners to the altar and did other successful work that had much to do with civilizing many of the roughest characters. To the intense surprise of everybody both clergyman are now accused of various forgeries. Rev. Mower is a fugitive from justice and Rev. Garrett is in jail.

Charges of forgery, embezzlement, lying and giving bogus checks are made by the church district officials aagainst Rev. Garret. He claims he is innocent.

Trouble Over a Sale of Land.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 1.—Yesterday James W. Dorsey sold a piece of land and accepted a check to bind the bargain. Dorsey presented the check at the bank twice, the bank officials demanding an identification. Dorsey then got mad and returned the check to the maker and declared the sale off. Yesterday Dorsey again sold the farm to another party at a good advance in price. The original buyer then attached Dorsey and in lieu of property attached his body and had him jailed. Later he was released. Suits are likely to follow.

Lyon's Crooked Career.

BOSTON, May 1.—James E. Lyons, who was arrested here yesterday charged with being a fugitive from justice in Connecticut, was examined to-day and held in bail until to-morrow. He claims that it is a case of mistaken identity. After Lyons broke jail at Granby, Conn., he married a wealthy lady at Nahant, but she procured a divorce when she learned his character. He has since then served time abroad for larceny, and is out on ticket of leave.

Boston's Reputed Leper Case.

BOSTON, Mass., May 1.—The report of the landing of a Swedish woman, whose husband and children are said to reside in Waltham, from the steamship Cephalonia on her inward trip at quarantine, suffering, it is alleged, from leprosy, has just been reported to the commissioners and it is possible that the steamship company will be compelled to take her back to Europe.

Watterson Talks to Editors.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 1.—Henry Watterson delivered an address last evening before the Southern Press Association, and the South Carolina Press Association. There was a large audience present and he met with an enthusiastic reception. Mr. Watterson's subject was "Money and Mortals." He dwelt on the uses and abuses of money.

Underhill Sentenced.

NEW YORK, May 1.—John B. Underhill, the trustee of a Hoboken church who was convicted of abducting a young girl for immoral purposes, was sentenced to State prison for two and a half years.

A HENIOUS OFFENCE.

Nicholas Betsinger, the Bee Man of Syracuse, Under Arrest.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 1.—Nicholas M. Betsinger, a widely known bee keeper, proprietor of the Paradise Apiary at Marcellus Falls, a trustee of the Methodist church, an aggressive Prohibitionist, and a man who on his business cards and in his trademark has stamped the motto, "In God We Trust," is charged with a henious offence upon two little girls in his employ, and he is now at large on $1,000 bail.

Betsinger is a married man and his wife is an invalid.

Four years ago Betsinger adopted a little girl named Zeda Young, aged 11 years, from the Oswego Orphan Asylum, and last February he took another girl, Frida Grossley, aged 14, from the Orphan Asylum at Auburn.

Both girls have been kept in seclusion and the neighbors have seen but little of them.

Last Monday they ran away, and the stories that they told to the people who gave them shelter led to the arrest of Betsinger on a charge of assault.

The village is very much excited over the matter, and there have been threats of tar and feathers and even of lynching.

Betsinger himself claims that he is the victim of a conspiracy.

POWDERLY INTERVIEWED.

The K. of L. in Smypathy with the Eight Hour Movement.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 1.—General Master Workman Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, was seen at his home last evening by a reporter, and asked his views concerning the labor demonstration in New York and elsewhere to-day. He said that his position on this question was too well known to need explanation. He had always favored an eight hour law. The Knights of Labor had also endorsed it, adopting a preamble favoring it at the General Assembly in 1878.

As he understood it, to day's demonstration throughout the country were to convince the public that the labor element was really in favor of shorter hours for the toilers. It had been alleged by many that the eight hour movement was simply for effect, and that the workman did not really favor it. After the demonstration of to-day it was to be hoped that there would be no untrue charges of the kind.

Mayor Grant's Letter to the Senate.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 1.—After Mayor Grant's letter to Lieut. Gov. Jones, asking for a special committee to investigate the charges made by Patrick McCann in his testimony before the Fassett Committee on Saturday, had been read in the Senate, Senator Cantor moved that Senators Robertson, Sloan, Erwin, Linson and Jacobs be appointed a special committee to investigate the charges as Mayor Grant requested. Senator Fassett opposed the resolution. He said the communication was an impudent one, and upon his motion the Mayor's letter was sent to the Committee on Cities, now investigating the departments.

The Baltimore to Go to Hayti.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The report of the board of inspection on the United States steamer Baltimore has been received at the Navy department. The Baltimore will receive additional supplies of coal at Norfolk, Va., and then proceed co Baltimore, where celebration will be held in her honor, arriving there not later than May 10. After the celebration the Baltimore will proceed to Haytien waters as the flag ship of the North Atlantic Squadron.

For Misappropriating Funds.

PATERSON, N. J., May 1.—R. M. Winslow, a member of the Washington Commandery, Knights of Malta, was arrested in the lodge room, at 1 o'clock this morning, on a charge of devoting to his own use funds collected from his fellow members for the purpose of buying new uniforms. He was committed for the grand jury. He came here from Fall River, Mass.

Opposed to Postal Telegraph.

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 1.—At the meeting of the Southern Press Association resolutions were adopted opposing the scheme for a Government telegraph system as undemocratic, and as giving the Government a dangerous control over press and private dispatches; also favoring national construction and maintenance of levees on the Mississippi River.

Fast Horses Caused His Downfall.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 1.—William Moore, paymaster for the Farrell Foundry Company at Ansonia, is under arrest on a charge of embezzling a large amount from the company by manipulating the pay rolls. He has been living expensively and indulging a taste for fast horses.

Man and Money Missing.

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 1.—John A. Hunt, justice of the peace and a prominent citizen of Coeymans, on the Hudson, has suddenly disappeared together with $8,000 to $10,000 of town funds. He is thought to have lost the money in stock speculations. His bondsmen will now make efforts to find him.

Celebrating Washington's Inauguration.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Hon. Warner Miller was the principal speaker at the banquet at Delmonico's in celebration of the anniversary of Washington's inauguration as President. Col. E. F. Shepard, Judge McAdam and others also spoke.

EVERYTHING QUIET

A Peaceful May Day in the United States.

NO DISTURBANCES REPORTED.

The Carpenters Lead the Movement for a Shorter Working Day.

A Big Demonstration in Chicago—Fully Fifty Thousand Toilers in Parade—A Monster Meeting This Afternoon—Boston Carpenters Must Fight for Their Demands—Other Labor Intelligence.

NEW YORK, May 1.—May day, the day set apart two years ago by the American Federation of Labor on which to enforce the eight-hour work day, has arrived. There is, however, no great uprising of the workers in this city. Reports this morning from many cities throughout the United States shows a quiet state of affairs.

The Federation itself is responsible for the quietude of the occasion by having selected only one trade to enter the lists. The honor devolves on the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America to make the acquisition of the eight-hour boon easier for those who come after. Even that organization is not ready, however, to make the demand for an eight-hour work day general. Some of the unions will only ask for nine hours, as the following list will show:

For eight hours—Detroit, Boston, Winona, Minn.; Crowfordsville, Ind.; Portland, Ore.; San Francisco, Cal.; Oakland, Cal.; Louisville, Ky.; Knoxville, Tenn.; Worcester, Mass.; Jennette, Pa.; Pittsburg, Pa.; Seattle, Wash.; East St. Louis, Ill.; New Albany, Ind.; Springfield, Ill.; New York City, Alameda, Cal.; San Jose, Cal.; Omaha, Neb.; Duluth, Minn.; Dorchaste, Pa.; and Bridgeport, Ohio—23 cities.

For nine hours—Bayonne, N. J.; Toronto, Ont.; Lafayette, Ind.; Youngstown, Ohio; Elmira, N. Y.; Binghamton, N. Y.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Lancaster, Pa.; Salem, Mass.; Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; New Haven, Pa.; Rochester, N. Y.; Olean, N. Y.; Colorado Springs, Col.; Lincoln, Neb.; Washington, Pa.; Lowell, Mass.; Ottawa, Canada; Asheville, N. C.; Portland, Me.; Atlantic City, N. J.; Auburn, N. Y.; Punxsutawney, Pa.; New Rochelle, N. Y.; St. Joseph, Mo.; New Cumberland, W. Va.; Taunton, Mass.; Salt Lake City, Utah Ter.; Kearney, Neb.; Cleveland, Ohio; Yonkers, N. Y.; Vicksburg, Miss. (with eight hours Saturdays); Schnectady, N. Y.; St. John's, New Brunswick; Montreal, Canada; Leominster, Mass.; Scottdale, Pa.; Winnepeg, Manitoba (with eight hours Saturdays); Syracuse, N. Y.; Buffalo, N. Y. (mill men), and Bradford, Pa.—42 cities.

A GREAT PARADE.

Fifty Thousand Men in Line To-Day in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 1.—Labor's annual holiday is being celebrated to-day by nearly every trade organization in the city.

The parade was a monster affair. The many that had spoken for places in it turned out full quotas, and it is estimated that no less than 50,000 men were in line.

The one significant feature of the parade is that it in a measure indicated the extent of the eight hour agitation, for nearly all the unions that participated will be found arrayed on the side of the men who are fighting for a shorter working day.

A monster mass meeting will be held on the Lake front this afternoon which will be addressed by Judges Tuley, Altged, Tuthill and Prendergast, Congressman Frank Lawler, Charles F. Selb, of the Cigar Makers Union, and W. H. Oliver, vice president of the Carpenters Council.

BOSTON CARPENTERS.

A Strike for an Eight-Hour Day Begun. Everything Quiet.

BOSTON, Mass., May 1.—There is but little excitement in labor circles here to-day. There will be no street demonstrations of any character.

All carpenters employed by firms which have conceded eight hours went to work as usual this morning, but all those employed by the Master Builders and the Carpenters' and Builders' associations did not report for work. Some of the non-union men also quit work.

The men are confident of success and say they will have the aid of the American United Brotherhood, the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners of the American Federation of Labor.

Conferring With New Bosses.

CHICAGO, May 1.—At an informal conference between committees of the striking carpenters and the new bosses association, it was agreed to submit all points of difference to an arbitration committee, and representatives of each organization were immediately appointed to act. This arrangement, of course, does not include the old Master Carpenters' Association, whose members still refuse to treat with the carpenters as a union although having conceded the eight hour day and other important demands.

Masons Win—Carpenters Opposed.

TAUNTON, Mass., May 1.—The journeymen masons' demand for nine hours has been acceded to without dissent. Of 150 journeymen carpenters, twenty-three belong to the union, and so unanimous is the feeling against the nine hour demand that it is thought the union men will be given up or be crowded out of work, of which there is very little at the present time. A dozen hod carriers on the yan mill at Weir village struck for twenty-five cents increase. They were refused, and others were hired at once.

—The strongly dramatic and emotional drama "Inherited," in which Maude Granger began a tour last Monday, presents such opportunities for the display of the great talent Miss Granger possesses beyond almost every woman of her line, that her success in it will surely result. Its initial performance at Music Hall, was viewed by a critical audience thet included many professional theatrical people. Miss Granger's work received naught but favorable criticism.

A Peddler Plugged.

While Judge Codington was engaged at the station house this morning, a German peddler, whose name contains most of the letters in the alphabet, sauntered in, his face being covered with blood, and his clothing badly disarranged. The peddler claimed that he had been assaulted by a man named Dawe, who was at work on the Crescent Avenue chapel. Officer Sliter went to the chapel and arrested Dawe who subsequently pleaded guilty to the charge of fighting and disorderly conduct. Judge Codington thereupon imposed a fine of five dollars.

An Obstreperous Servant.

Rosa Droads, a Hungarian servant girl, imported from New York to work in Schorb's restaurant on East Front street, was arrested at that place by Captain Grant and Officer Cooney, last evening, on a charge of disorderly conduct. The woman fought and screamed on the way to the station house, but when she arrived there she became more docile. The whole matter originated from a dispute the woman had with her employer about wages. Judge Codington suspended sentence.

Fire at Westfield.

Brokaw's photograph gallery at Westfield, narrowly escaped destruction by fire at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The proprietor was away at the time, and a lamp exploding in the drying room caused the flames to ignite with dry material and spread rapidly. Through the heroic efforts of Messrs John Dorval, L. M. Whittaker and Mat. Clark, the fire was extinguished after about $100 damage was done. No general alarm was sent out.

Fire in Justice Hardy's Office.

While Justice Hardy of North Plainfield and a friend sat conversing in the former's office on Tuesday evening, a fire kindled in the ceiling directly over their heads. The first intimation they had of he fire was when some sparks fell on the floor. The fire which started from a lamp, was easily extinguished.

RAYMOND—DORMAN.

Married Last Evening, and to Sail For Europe on Saturday.

The altar and pulpit of the Crescent Avenue church, last evening, was buried beneath a mass of cherry blossoms surmounted by Harrisii lilies. The occasion was the wedding of Miss Lillian Dorman and Mr Frank Raymond. The church was never more crowded, nor have more ladies in evening dress ever been seen within its walls.

The bride wore white faille francaise, rich in its simplicity. The corsage was cut low, but filled in from the lace trimmed edge to the throat with shirred tulle. The short sleeves met the gloves just below the elbow. She entered on the arm of her father, carrying a bouquet of lilies of the valley bordered with Niphetus roses. The bridemaid was Miss Drake in white India silk. She carried pink roses.

The groomsman was Mr. Edward Raymond, the groom's brother. The ushers were Messrs John N. Moore, Andrew Mc Kinney, Howard Beebe, and Harry V. Borden of this city; and Messrs John G. Elliott and Wm. P. Howe. The Rev. Asa Reed Dilts performed the ceremony—the Rev. Wm. R. Richards making the prayer of supplication.

A reception was held from six to nine at the home of the bride, which is adjoining the home of the groom on Central avenue. There was a large number of guests present. The supper was served by Mazetti, and the music was Landers. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond left Plainfield on a late train. They will sail for Europe on the "Aurania," Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. A large party of young society people of Plainfield will see them off.

Eulogy to the Dead Comrades.

Ex-Mayor L. V. F. Randolph, Past Commander of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., of this city, in speaking Tuesday evening of the dead comrades the Post had lost, said in part:

"To unworthy men life is but a funeral march. To the brave and true, the gate of death itself is but a triumphal arch under which they pass on to a higher glory. The glory of our Union army was that it was an army of volunteers. The World had never seen such a host. How the great uprising comes back to our thoughts! The student, the mechanic, the clergyman, the farmer, the lawyer, the merchant and the physician, all became soldiers almost in a moment. The occasion—because rebels had fired on our flag. What did that flag stand for? Independence, union, freedom, patriotism, national grandeur, human brotherhood.

"Those who have at last been called home were of those who rushed to the rescue of free institutions. It was much that they were spared to enjoy so long the country and the freedom for which they fought.

"Let us learn to bear ourselves manfully as they did; to meet bravely all our foes, even the last great foe, and so make even him our friend; and to stand shoulder to shoulder with all good men and true in life's battle. Especially let us stand up for our God and our flag."

Take Care There!

To-night the last two games in the Central Bowling tournament are to be rolled. They will be between the Fanwoods and the Mondays on the former's alleys. The latter have won two already from the Fanwoods, and if they win the other two to-night, the Crescents will be tied for second place.

A Westfield bowler told a PRESS reporter this morning that some of the members of the Fanwood team would stay away to night and let the games be forfeited. A large number of the Crescents will be present this evening, and keep their eye on the ball.

On the Tennis Court.

Yesterday afternoon the second match for the Tennis Championship of the High School, was played on the court of Mr. Smith, on Central ave. The Seniors were represented by Messrs Patterson and Simmonds. While Messrs Rockwell and Smith appeared for the Juniors. The Seniors won the first set by a score of 6 to 1. The second set was won by the Juniors, score 6 to 1. The Seniors then won the third set which gave them the match, by the same score, 6 to 1. The seniors lost the first match Tuesday by default. The final match is being played this afternoon.

Mr. Hibits Denies the Statement.

Mr. Finton Hibbits, denies the statement published in another paper to the effect that a young man recently employed by him, threatened to kill him with a knife. Mr. Hibbits says that the man was taken sick while in his employ, some time since, but he never threatened to take his life, except to outsiders. The man is now boarding with a family in North Plainfield, and being treated by a physician.

To-Night's Programme at Reform Hall.

The programme for the regular Thursday evening meeting of the Reform Club, to-night, will include instrumental music by Miss Smith, readings by Mrs. Opdyke, songs by Miss Glen and a recitation by Miss E. Smith. The question to be discussed is "Does pride, extravagance and fashion separate more families than the drink habit?"

—To-morrow will be sentence day in the Somerset county Courts, when all prisoners who have either pleaded guilty or been convicted will be arraigned for sentence.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Sr., of Sycamore avenue, Washington Park, left to day for Washington, D. C.

The funeral of the late Dr. F. A. Kinch, who died at Westfield on Sunday, took place from his late residence yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Cadwell officiating. Interment was made in the family plot in Fairview cemetery.

The death is announced of Martin B. Westerfield which occurred at his home on New street, this morning, aged 46 years and 8 months. The funeral will take place from the house on Saturday at 10 o'clock A. M. Interment in Fairview cemetery, Westfield.

Ex-Mayor Cooley, Counselor Reed and Messrs Clinton VanVliet, Howard Emerson, M. A. Haven, C. P. Rogers, Chas. R. Thiers, L. M. French and James Jackson are the committee in charge of the promenade concert and dance of the Plainfield Crescent League, next Tuesday evening, in the French building on Somerset street. Is promises to be an enjoyable affair.

Another of the series of subscription musicales was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Runkle, last evening. The appointments were exquisite in every way. Miss May and Miss Haines were the piano soloists. They were heartily encored, as was also every artist on the programme. The Mendelssohn Quartette and Mrs Clark were the vocalists. There were besides, the usual violin and 'cello soli.

A Pretty Home Wedding.

There was a houseful of relatives, kindred and friends, yesterday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. L. Prescott. They were gathered to witness the marriage of her daughter, Miss Emma U. King, to Mr. Theodore Hardy. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. Cornelius Schenck.

The parlor mantel was banked with apple blossoms, and potted plants and palms formed a back ground for the couple. The bride's gown was of white gloriosa trimmed with silver lace. She carried a magnificent boquet of lilies of the valley. Her maid was her cousin, Miss Lillian A. Force, and the groomsman was Mr. G. W. Moreton. The ushers were Mr. Will Williams and Mr. John Force. The presents were very many indeed. Miss Amy Colgate, of Brooklyn, played the Mendelssohn bridal march.

The happy couple looked unusually young and gratified, and the affair throughout was one of the most charming home weddings ever seen. A wedding supper was served that bountifully satisfied the tastes and appetites of all. Mr. and Mrs. Hardy left amid a shower of rice, and the well wishes of their friends, for Washington.

After the ceremony and congratulations, the guests had a merry dance on the spacious lawn. Prof. Jerry Blair led the orchestra in good old Southern style. So merry a wedding has not been enjoyed in this city for many months.

Unity Lodge Anniversary.

Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., celebrated its seventh anniversary in the new lodge room in the Hand building, last evening, followed by a dance in Amphion Hall. The evening's programme consisted of parlor magic, selected readings, topical and sentimental songs, recitations, ventriloquism, the whole concluding with Mr. Foster's amusing farce, entitled "A Dollar for a Kiss." The entertainment was interspersed with piano selections by Miss Anna Fryer. The attendance was large.

His Sanity Questioned.

James Sherlock was committed to the city jail last evening, pending an examination as to his sanity. The man came from Ireland one year ago last Monday, and at times since his arrival here he has shown signs of mental derangement. He is but 22 years old and unusually large and strong looking for his age.

The Works Yet Closed.

The Shackelton car-heating works at Bound Brook remained closed yesterday. Some of the late employees called at Mr. Shackelton's house in the morning to interview him, but he was not at home. The men are enjoying themselves about town in all ways, but their feeling is very bitter against Shackleton. So far no trouble has taken place.

NOW THEY'RE OFF!

The Crescent League's Ball Nine Strike Their Proper Gait.

The judgment of the managers of the Crescent nine in opening earlier than usual in the season, is proven. They have already found out what stuff their team was made of, and by next Saturday will have all the weeds pulled out. Whereas the teams of Rahway, Somerville, Perth Amboy and other places in the State, start in next Saturday stiff and green.

The celebrated Columbia College team came to Plainfield, yesterday, and 300 people gazed in pity and pride on the visitors as the Crescents proceeded to roll their field with them. Livingston could not play, so Martin was put in the pitcher's box, and Gillis the new fielder played short. Martin opened the game by striking out the first three of the collegians. His drop was the most effective ever pitched on the grounds. It fooled every one of the Columbias, and every one of them struck out.

Gillis proved himself just what the Crescents have always needed—a batter. His first two hits were way out in deep centre, but Snedeker was waiting by the fence to pull them down. So when Gillis came to the bat for the last time he was bound nobody should get the ball. He "soaked" it over the fence into Richmond street. Then the same crank who had been complaining that the Crescents could not bat, got up and left because, he said, "the game is too onesided." He probably wants Gillis discharged now, for making a home run.

Everybody hit the ball yesterday except Lee, and the only error that cost anything was Jones' first passed ball of the season. It let the only college man to first that got there up to the fifth inning. There were no brilliant plays, but it was an unusually interesting game because of the Crescents' lively batting and spirited base running. The score was:

Another Lunatic at Large.

At four o'clock yesterday morning Officers Flanagan and Cooney responded to a call from the electric light station, and when they arrived there Andrew Nolan, the night fireman, told the officers that only a few minutes before a man bareheaded and in his shirt sleeves had run by the station as though escaping after a robbery. The man carried a bundle under his arm and he was seen climbing the railroad bank. Later he was seen sitting on the trestle work back of Mr. John A. Thickstun's coal yard, at Madison avenue and Third street, but notwithstanding the fact that a thorough search was made, the officers were obliged to return without their man.

The Battle Told in Song.

A member of the Olympic bowling team, has written and sent THE PRESS for publication the following licensed poetical tribute to the Crescents' victory.

In Plainfield City there are two clubs,
"Olympics" and "Crescents" by name.
Who each with the other did slightly differ,
With regard to their skill and fame.

The Olympics considered themselves Plainfield's bowlers,
Said they "We will not lose that name,"
But on April 19, with the Crescents they lost it,
And never to hold it again.

The Crescents they are a jolly good club,
Who thought it not best to boast.
Little thinking that in so short a time,
They'd have such a beautiful roast.

"Two games we should take," the Olympics said,
"And one we will surely win,"
But only some pointers in bowling they got,
And a few in the way to win tin.

So now the big race is ol over!
And the Olympics are out of the chase.
The Crescents by fine bowling have second,
While "Jay's quitters" have only sixth place.

Then hurrah for the Crescents, hurrah, boys!
The words though may strange to you seem.
But Plainfield's crack bowlers a e now boys,
Plainfield's big Crescent League Team.

THE FIRST ANSWER.

"Why is it That First-Class Entertainments in Music Hall are Not Better Patronized?"

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—You are good enough to say that the publication of the true answer to the above question may lead to the correction of the causes. It is not likely to do so. If by some means, it were possible to completely obliterate the present Music Hall and have an opportunity to rebuild, then we could talk about correction If I remember rightly, when Music Hall was built, it was claimed that Wallack's (now Palmer's) Theatre, in New York, was the model. This idea was evidently carried out for we have a great barn, cold, desolate and forbidding, quite too large for a New York theatre and too uncomfortable for people used to ordinary comforts to appreciate. I have always considered Palmer's the least attractive theatre in New York, not excepting the Bowery. Perhaps the mistake was in the choice of the model, but I think not, for even Palmer's theatre is furnished. What we wanted was a cosy, pretty little playhouse, on the pattern of the New York Lyceum, comfortably furnished with carpets, cushioned chairs and some display of decorative art. We wanted quality, but we got quantity, instead, and it don't fill the bill. We are too near the metropolis to appreciate the rustic simplicity and rural beauty of a barn as a substitute for a theatre. Plainfield's theatre-goers are mostly business men and they, as a class, prefer spending their evenings at home, rather than on the hard, uncomfortable seats at the draughty, cheerless atmosphere of our opera house.

No, the only way to make Music Hall draw a good house every time, is to tear it down, rebuild it on a scale to fit the town, make it cosy and comfortable, heat it and, above all, furnish it.

CRITIQUE.

The Amphion Hall Opening.

It has remained with the management of the above place, to be the first in the field to inaugurate a system of popular prices for a first-class entertainment There can be no doubt that Plainfield's amusement patrons have often been overtaxed in this regard. The array of well known talent to appear Monday evening, in a vaudeville entertainment in The Amphion, together with its new scenery and stage settings, should guarantee a succession of crowded houses.

The great Crowley, who created such a sensation last year with Haverly's minstrels, and caused so many discussions regarding the sex of this phenomenon, is to be one of the features. The Healys, the Sisters Coulson, Geyer & Lord, and the boxing dogs, "John L. Sullivan" and "Jake Kilrain," are too well known to need any comment. A score of other artists are to appear, and as the profits are to be devoted to one of the local organizations, the public should respond most generously.

Don't Hawk, Spit, Cough,

Suffer dizziness, indigestion, inflammation of the eyes, headache, lassitude, inability to perform mental work and indisposition for bodily labor, and annoy and disgust your friends and acquaintances with your nasal twang and offensive breath and constant efforts to clean your nose and throat, when Dr. Sage's "Catarrh Remedy" will promptly relieve you of discomfort and suffering, and your friends of the disgusting and needless inflictions of your loathesome disease?

Some Queries for North Plainfield's Committee.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—We desire to ask the Town Committee of North Plainfield Township the following questions through your most valuable paper.

Why are our public roads neglected so long, and why are our road overseers not allowed to go to work as soon as elected? Why do they not have more crushed stone to use on the roads, and why is there not a certain amount of money allotted to each district for crushed stone? Why are the sections of certain districts (which have been made good by private individuals and taxpayers at their own expense) allowed to go to ruin, when a small sum spent in repairs will keep them good for years?

Answers to the foregoing questions are earnestly requested and will be thankfully received by

SEVERAL TAXPAYERS.

—The "Silentias," who will play the Crescents next Saturday, are all deaf and dumb, but they can play.

OZONE SOAP!

THE FINEST LAUNDRY SOAP EVER PUT ON THE MARKET.

WASHES EASILY. LATHERS FREELY. SAVES LABOR.

All the Manufacturers' request is simply ONE TRIAL, or still better, a COMPARATIVE TEST with whatever other soap it may be; THEN OZONE SOAP ITSELF will convince every one of its great superiority. It will be found to keep the hands soft and smooth, even where THE MOST EXPENSIVE "Fancy" Soaps roughen and are otherwise deleterious to them, and of COURSE if it is easier on the skin than other Soap, it must be EASIER ON THE CLOTHES than other Soap.

Ask Your Grocer for OZONE SOAP and take No Other.

MAY DAY IN EUROPE

Several Cities Under Extra Military Protection.

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN PARIS.

Serious Trouble Looked for There Before the Day is Over.

The Banks, Public Buildings and the Residence of President Carnot Guarded. Anarchists Prepared to Sack the City. Berlin Troops in Readiness for a Hasty Summons—In Austria's Capital.

PARIS, May 1.—In addition to the regular garrison of Paris, which is being held in barracks to-day ready for action, eight cavalry regiments have been placed under the governor of the city. They were placed this morning on guard at the Palace of the Elysee, President Carnot's residence, the legislative chambers, and at other points where disorder is likely to occur.

The city is in great excitement but no disorders have yet occurred.

In the Faubourg St. James last night the police arrested three Italians who have been prominent in recent Anarchist movements.

When the police approached them the Anarchists drew knives, whereupon the police drew their swords.

A scuffle ensued, but the Anarchists were overpowered and locked up.

One of the Anarchists arrested had in his possession a manifesto, showing that he and his friends intended to devote themselves to sacking banks and shops in the riot which they had planned for to-day.

The force of watchmen at the banks is doubled to-day and a strong detachment of police is guarding the Labor Exchange.

According to a number of the morning papers the royalists are preparing to take advantage of any turn in affairs, growing out of revolutionary movements, which might redound to the advantage of their cause. These papers assert that the Duke de Luynes will be arrested for complicity in the plot of the Marquis de Mores and others of the royalist faction to proclaim the monarchy with the young Duke of Orleans as King. In their domiciliary visit to the residence of de Mores the police are said to have discovered documents containing evidence upon which the arrest is to be made. Meanwhile, M. Mondacq, private secretary to the Marquis, who was also arrested as a suspect in connection with the alleged royalist conspiracy, has been released from custody.

The report that Louise Michel, the famous female apostle of anarchism, had been arrested at Lyons is confirmed.

The expulsion from France of the Italian anarchist, Capriani, who was arrested for attempting to foment a revolutionary movement among the workmen, has been decided upon.

Vincennes has been garrisoned by two regiments of cavalry drawn from Fontainebleau and Melun.

La France (Republican) confirms the reports of the existence of a monarchist plot to overthrow the Republic.

Duke de Luynes has fled to Lausanne, Switzerland.

Excitement in Berlin.

BERLIN, May 1.—Excitement runs high in Berlin to-day but disorders are reported. Citizens are assured that the authorities can cope with the striking workman, though at least 25,000 men are now on strike in Germany. Regiments have been supplied with ball cartridges, and instructed to load with them. The police are kept in the stations. All labor demonstrations so far to-day have been peaceful.

In Austria's Capital.

VIENNA, May 1.—Strikes are constantly occurring in the Austrian textile factories, some of which are under military guard. During the course of a riot, commenced at Frankstadt by incendiaries, the strikers sacked the Bumbalcas linen factory and attacked the troops with clubs and stones. The junior partner of the firm was captured by the rioters, who compelled his ransom by his mother.

Police and Workmen Come Together.

THE HAGUE, May 1.—A meeting of 4,000 workingmen was held here last night to agitate in favor of an eight hour day. As the meeting was dispersing the crowd came into collision with the police, and in the fight which ensued several persons were severely hurt by blows from the officers botons.

The Eight Hour Move in Lisbon.

LISBON, May 1.—The workingmen have been summoned by their leaders to assemble in mass meeting on Sunday to formulate a demand for an eight hour day.

THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Labor's Great Struggle in Its Behalf Now Under Way.

REVIEWING THE SITUATION.

Encouraging Reports Received at the Headquarters of the Federation.

The Demands Granted in Many Places and But Few Stubborn Strikes Looked For—Fears of Riotous Trouble Proved Without Foundation—Miners' Demands to Follow the Carpenters' Victory.

NEW YORK, May 2.—At the main office of the American Federation in this city to-day, it was given out that reports from all over the country regarding the eight-hour struggle that was started in earnest yesterday, were very encouraging. In many places, it was said, the demand had been acceded to and that but comparatively few stubborn strike were inaugurated.

After the carpenters win, the miners are to make the fight, and so on, one trade at a time, until an eight-hour day is secured in all trades.

The framers in this city secured a complete victory within a few hours after presenting their demands. They asked for an eight-hour day at 40 cents an hour and all the principal bosses agreed to these terms.

The carpenters' strike will not begin until Monday, when work will be stopped in all shops where the eight-hour demand is not granted. As many of the largest contractors have already granted all that is asked of them the strike is not expected to be a large one. The carpenters will meet on Saturday night at Webster Hall, receive reports from every shop in the city, and listen to some speeches.

The plasterers, bricklayers and stonemasons and roofers have all made arrangements for work for the season and there will be no trouble in their ranks.

The heavy rain last night interfered somewhat with the demonstrations. The monster parade, however, took place, ending with a large mass meeting at Union Square, held under the auspices of the Central Labor Union, and the Socialist Labor party.

The parade started at seven o'clock. The route marched over was a short one and ended at Union Square.

Speeches were made from three stands in the square, and were in the English, German and Hebrew languages.

The carpenters of Brooklyn, numbering 2,575 men, will strike on Monday.

AT PHILADELPHIA.

Quiet Among the Carpenters—Roofers on Strike—Camden Hod Carriers Strike.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—The headquarters of the striking carpenters is quiet to-day. At a meeting last night it was announced that between 800 and 900 men had been granted the increase asked for, and confidence was expressed in the ultimate success of the movement.

About 150 roofers are on strike to-day for an increase from $2.75 to $3 per day.

About 100 hod carriers at Camden, N. J., struck for an increase from $2.50 to $2.70 per day. Some of the employers granted the increase and the men returned to work.

"The Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America are on top in this fight, and there is only one thing for us to do—stick together and await the result." That was the way in which Secretary Charles Thomson delivered himself this morning at the meeting of strikers, in Naval Post Hall, in which over 900 journeymen took part.

SITUATION AT BOSTON.

Indications Point to a Determined Stand by Both Sides.

BOSTON, May 2.—The prevailing strike among the carpenters in this city is quiet and uneventful as yet. All the signs, however, point to a determined struggle.

A few men are still at work, but will probably join the strikers after pay-day.

The employers, as far as known, are doing nothing.

Builders in the outlying districts who do not belong to the employers' organization are in many cases acceding eight hours work at nine hours pay.

Offers from city contractors to individual men are generally refused, the carpenters contending for recognition of their organization quite as much as for the eight-hour day.

Nine Hours, No Reduction in Pay.

LYNN, Mass., May 2.—Owing to the concessions made in the building and other trades, whereby the workmen were voluntarily, with a few exceptions, granted nine hours per day with no reduction on wages, there is no interruption of business in Lynn. The shoe and leather workers, owing to the complex nature of the business engaged in, have not yet made any formal demand for nine hours or eight hours, although they are still keeping up the eight-hour agitation.

Stone Cutters on Strike.

MONTPELIER, Vt., May 2.—All the journeymen stone cutters here and at Barre are on strike because of a disagreement on prices between the manufacturers and tools sharpeners. In the main, the cutters had adjusted their differences with the manufacturers as to price, and had not the sharpeners struck work would have proceeded. The manufacturers say they will fight it out.

Strike of Granite Cutters.

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 1.—The granite manufacturers at Millstone Point, Niantic, Gooton and New London have refused the demand of their employes for 9 hours as a day's work with no reduction in wages. Two hundred and fifty men are on strike in consequence.

Freestone Cutters' Troubles.

BOSTON, May 2.—A joint committee of arbitration has been appointed by the freestone contractors and the journeymen cutters, and this action, it is believed, will result in the settlement of all the freestone troubles.

Nine Hours at Rondout.

RONDOUT, N. Y., May 2.—The carpenters have started in on the nine hour system, and there is no dissatisfaction among the bosses and leading contractors.

M'CALLA'S DEFENCE.

Lieut. Mulligan and Paymaster Mudd Stand by Their Commander.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The defence in the McCalla trial opened by the introduction of various records and documents indicating the approval by the Naval Department of some of the Commander's acts, and showing Walker's bad character.

Lieutenant Mulligan testified that the blows struck by McCalla upon Walker with a sword were very light. The desired effect was produced, Walker becoming quiet after all other efforts to stop his obscene and abusive language had failed. Witness had heard the Articles of War read aboard the Enterprise.

Paymaster Mudd gave similar testimony.

In Mrs. Vandergrift's Defence.

MT. HOLLY, N. J., May 2.—In the trial of Mrs. Vandergrift for attempting to poison her son, young Norman continued his testimony. He said that he had been sick in the same way twice while attending college at Philadelphia, and when he was absent from his mother. This goes to show that the illness which gave rise to this trial was not an unusual one. The defence opened its case by proving that Mrs. Vandergrift was not in such bad financial condition as to furnish a motive for murder in order to gain a few thousand dollars. It was also proved that she suffered greatly from corns, and purchased croton oil for use on her feet.

Valuable Jewels Stolen.

EDINBURGH, May 2.—While the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh were attending the ceremonies of opening the Electric Exhibition, the jewels of the Duchess were stolen from their apartments in the Balmoral Hotel. The police believe that the robbery was the work of one or more of Billy Porter's gang, the work having been daring in conception and skilful in execution. The jewels are of enormous value and comprise some rare gems which the Duchess was wont to wear only on State occasions.

Failure of Old Shirt Manufacturers.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Fechheimer, Ran & Co., shirt manufacturers have failed, and their property has been seized by the Sheriff. The liabilities are estimated at $375,000, assets about $ 275,000. The house was an old one, with a reputation for solidity and conservatism, and the failure caused much surprise. The trouble is attributed to dull trade, though there are reports that members of the firm have been engaged in speculations in Wall street.

Her Body Blown to Atoms.

BUTLER, Pa., May 2.—By the explosion of a nitro-glycerine can, Mrs. Anne Edwards, aged 78 years, was blown to atoms here. It seems that the woman found the can in a brush pile and, not knowing the dangerous compound it contained, took it home and attempted to convert the can into something useful for the household when the explosion occurred with the fatal result.

Centenary of the First Cotton Mill.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 2.—The Legislature has appropriated $10,000 for the celebration of the centenary of Samuel Slater's erection of the first cotton mill in this country, at Pawtucket, in 1790 or 1791. The city of Pawtucket has also appropriated $10,000 for the purpose.

Buffalo Bakers Win.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 2.—The bakers' strike in this city is practically at an end. Of the twenty-five boss bakers, who, up to Wednesday night, had not conceded the ten-hour day, all but nine acceded to the employes' demand. The battle was won before it had hardly begun, the employes meeting with hardly any opposition from the bosses.

No Grievances, But Struck Anyway.

NORWICH, Conn., May 2.—The stonecutters struck in response to orders from the union to which they belong. Both the time and pay is satisfactory and there is plenty of work. They merely obeyed orders to keep step with the strikers of other places.

Milwaukee Carpenters.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 2.—The 2,000 carpenters of this city have only been working eight hours for many months past, and the only demand they make is that the bosses officially recognize the eight-hour system. There was no demonstration yesterday.

—At the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., held in their hall, last evening, several new members were elected. A delegation from the Pioneer Council, No. 58, of Bound Brook, were present. The Council will tender the members and their friends a reception on Wednesday evening, May 14, in their hall.

Death of Charles Aborn.

Mr. Charles Aborn, an old and respected resident of this city, died suddenly at his home on East Seventh street a little before one o'clock this morning, in the 79th year of his age. Mr. Aborn fell down a flight of stairs leading from his office at 94 Wall street, New York city, yesterday afternoon, receiving injuries which resulted in his death. He was a member of the Crescent Avenue church and leaves a wife and two sons. The funeral will take place from the house on Monday at noon. Interment will be made at Providence, R. I.

The City Should Have a Licensed Dog Catcher.

Dog catcher James Babbitt signifies his intention to give up his office. He says there is no money in the position for him, and besides that it interferes with his private business of chimney sweeping. He further says that as soon as he starts on his rounds, worthless curs are housed up and kept in seclusion until he again stops looking for them.

HOME OF THE Y. M. C. A.

THE BUILDING WE HAVE "OH'D FOR," COME AT LAST.

A Young Plainfield Architect Wins in the Competition of Designs—A Handsome Structure to be Erected at a Cost of $35,000, Exclusive of Ground and Interior Furnishing—Gymnasium, Swimming Bath and Bowling Alleys a Part of the Attractions to be Offered the Young Men and Boys.

At the home of Mr. C. W. McCutchen, on Rockview avenue, last evening, a gathering of representative men of wealth and judgment voted as an expression of their opinion that the erection of the long proposed Y. M. C. A., building should begin as soon as $35,000 shall have been subscribed. Up to that time the amount subscribed was $32,495.62. Upon the passage of the expression of opinion quoted above, $500 more was subscribed at once.

OH, FOR A Y. M. C. A. BUILDING.

On April 23, 1888, THE PRESS placed at the head of its local columns, this appeal: "Oh, for a Y. M. C. A. building." Day after day for over two years, the two thousand eyes of its one thousand subscribers, and the ten thousand eyes of its five thousand readers, have seen that appeal. Meetings have been held at the homes of Mr. Charles Potter, Mr. J. W. Jackson, and others, where ways, and means, and plans have been discussed; untiring canvassers have spent months in the solicitation of subscriptions; numerous locations have been considered and compared as to availability and publicity, yet at the same time as to cost; plans have been solicited that would give everything that could be desired to attract and gratify all sorts and conditions of young men, but within a certain limit of expense; and all this has at last culminated successfully and to the entire satisfaction of the Association and the people.

The exterior of the building as it will appear when finished, is pictured on the first page of this issue.

The building as designed is the Romanesque style, and is to be built of Lorillard brick with red sand stone trimmings. It will be erected on the lot purchased at $7,000, on Front street, opposite Peace. The lot may be called a corner one, as an open lane now runs along one side from Front street to the brook to which the lot also extends. This lane will eventually be made the continuation of Peace street into North Plainfield.

The first floor plan provides for the Secretary's offices at the left of the reception hall, and a library and reading room to the right. Back of the reception hall on the left, is located the members' room, so arranged that all may be used en suite. On the right, back of the library and stairs to second floor, is located the lecture room, which has a seating capacity of 150.

The second floor provides for a large assembly hall, with a seating capacity of about 500, including the gallery. The remainder of second floor is divided into offices to rent. In the third floor are located the class rooms, janitor's apartments, etc.

The gymnasium, which is almost a separate building, is back of the main building to the right. In the basement of this is located the locker and toilet rooms, plunge bath, and bowling alleys. The first floor is the gymnasium, which is provided with running track and visitors' gallery. The size of the main building is about 66x86, and the gymnasium, 40x60.

The architect was present last evening and thoroughly explained the exterior and interior plans, arrangements and construction. Before introducing him to the gathering, however, President Wm D. Murray gave a brief sketch of what had been done by the committee in charge of the project.

PRESIDENT MURRAY'S ADDRESS.

What he said was in effect as follows: When the Young Men's Christian Association decided to undertake a canvass for a building the following committee was appointed: Chas. W. McCutchen, Henry A. McGee, Edward St. John, H. O. Newman, David E. Titsworth, Charles T Kissam and Wm. D. Murray. As soon as the fund had reached a point which seemed to assure the erection of the building the committee selected six architects and asked them to compete for the design of the building, in accordance with conditions submitted to them.

The architects who were selected and who accepted the invitatation to enter the competition with each other were as follows: Fuller & Wheeler, of Albany, N. Y., who have built six or seven Y. M. C. A., buildings: DuFais & Canfield, of New York, who are building the Rochester, N. Y., building, said to be the best so far designed for association work; A. C. Barlow, of New York, who came to the committee highly recommended as having carefully studied the question of association architecture; Charles H. Smith, O. S. Teale and A. L. C. Marsh, all of Plainfield, as it was thought proper that our own townsmen should have an opportunity to be the designers of a building which will be in a certain sense a public building.

The plans of each architect were designated by a nom de plume and their authors were only known to the committee by these fictitious names. After a great many meetings and careful consideration of each design the committee, for various reasons, rejected all the plans, and paid each competitor the stipulated price. The two authors whose designs had most nearly satisfied the conditions of the competition, DuFais & Canfield and A. L. C. Marsh, were invited to enter a second competition, under modified conditions, and having submitted new designs, that of Mr. Marsh was unanimously selected as the design of the proposed building.

It was the unanimous opinion of the committee that the design selected, more than any other, combined the three features deemed to be essential in our Y. M. C. A., building: Proper interior arrangements, attractive and characteristic exterior and within the limit of cost.

THE PLAINFIELD BRED ARCHITECT.

Plainfield may be proud of the consummation of its particular desire for a home for the Y. M. C. A., because of another reason. Mr. A. L. C. Marsh, the successful architect who has won the competition over others more noted and experienced, is a Plainfield boy. He was bred and educated right here. His first work in this city was the Plainfield Bicycle Club house, and the homes of Mayor Cooley, of North Plainfield, and Dr. T. S. Davis. It was mentioned in THE PRESS a few days ago, that he had begun the erection of homes in this city for Mr. John M. Crane, Manager of the Union Mutual Life Insurance Co., in New York, and Mr. Wm. F. Arnold, Asst. Cashier of the City National bank, and Treasurer of the Crescent Avenue church. Besides this he is building a Summer residence at Little Silver for Mr. Walter A. Bass, Jr., of this city.

Although one of the youngest in the profession, Architect Marsh has probably more work on hand today than any of his compeers. He is associated with Mr. H. T. Kilburn, one of New York's best known and most successful architects in the country. Some of the buildings he has in process of erection are the Occident Club House, N. Y., costing between $150,000 and $200,000; the Park Presbyterian church, N. Y., $100,000; a private house at St. Louis, $60,000; Second German Baptist and Calvary churches, New York; a Presbyterian church, Bayonne City; a Baptist church, Gloversville, N. Y.; a Baptist church at Flushing, and many other buildings of more or less note. A few days ago, Mr. Marsh was elected a member of the Executive Committee and the Treasurer of the New York Sketch club, an organization of leading architects.

After the discussion of the plans and the expression of opinion that the committee make contracts at once for the erection of the building described by THE PRESS today, last night's gathering fell into the hands of a most hospitable hostess, who, assisted by Mrs. S. St. J. McCutchen, gilt-edged the evening's fruition.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Borough Counsel Charles A. Reed has returned from his trip to Indiana.

One of Police Captain Geo. W. Grant's daughters is confined to the house with an attack of whooping cough.

Mary Ann Nichols, an aged lady, died at her home, 114 Richmond street, yesterday afternoon, in the 89th year of her age.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley S. Miller will be at home to their friends, on Thursdays, May 15 and 22, at No. 70 East Fifth street.

Mr. Edward Milligan and family, of Brooklyn, N. Y., have returned to their Summer residence in Washington Valley, much to the pleasure of their many friends in this vicinity.

"The Mistakes of Moses" is the subject of Mr. H. L. Hastings' lecture, to be delivered in the First Baptist church, next Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. No admission fee will be charged. Those who heard Mr. Hastings on the "Inspiration of the Bible," recently, will be anxious to hear him again, while those who have heard how unfortunate they were in missing that lecture will not lose another opportunity.

A Desperate Female.

Rosa Droads, the Hungarian woman, who created a disturbance in Schorb's Hotel, on East Front street, Wednesday evening, and who was arrested for her trouble, left the city yesterday afternoon for New York. The woman accepted nine dollars, for three weeks work, although she claimed that $20 was due her—wages for the entire month. Captain Grant says the woman is the most desperate of any that he has ever been called upon to arrest.

Death of Eliza C. Johnson.

At her home on Park avenue, yesterday afternoon, occurred the death of Mrs. Eliza C. Johnson, wife of Mr. John S. Johnson, in the 75th year of her age. Mrs. Johnson had been complaining for some time past, but nothing serious was anticipated by those who were with her daily. Her death was sudden and unexpected. She was the mother of Mr. J. Wesley Johnson of LaGrande avenue, from whose residence the funeral will take place on Sunday at 2:30 o'clock P. M. Interment will be made at Samptown.

The Moonlight Run Postponed.

Owing to the rain storm, last evening, the moonlight run of the Plainfield Bicycle club, over the new county road to Westfield, which was arranged for that time has been postponed until Monday evening next. The start will be made from the club house on Sycamore street at 8 o'clock, P. M.

In the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, you need have no fear of arsenical poison, this medicine being entirely free from all dangerous drugs. Its powerful effects are due to the skillful combination of the best ingredients, and hence no ill results ever follow its use.

Stranded at Somerville.

The People's Theatre company, which filled a week's engagement in this city, week before last, struck a snag at Somerville, where the company played last week, as the following from the Somerville Messenger will attest:

"The People's Theatre Co., which was at Armory Hall last week, got stranded, and three of their trunks are now under attachment. Landlord Smalley wanted his board money, and as it was not forthcoming he took steps to secure payment. Mr. Smalley was paid, but the manager of the hall has the claim on the baggage for what is due him."

Yet There Isn't Ten Ton in Plainfield.

The Plainfield ice dealers must be a pretty slow lot. Even such buckwheat towns as Flemington, are all stocked with ice even from Canada. The New York papers advertise "Ice, finest quality, 20 inches thick. Parties having ice houses holding upward of one thousand tons can arrange to have them filled on easy terms."

The Reform Club Meeting Postponed.

A very interesting programme had been prepared for the meeting of the Reform Club last evening, but owing to inclement weather, it was deemed advisable to postone the exercises until Thursday evening of next week, when a large audience will no doubt be present.

COLORED SOCIETY WEDDING.

A Large Audience Witnessed the Ceremony in Mt. Olive Baptist Church Last Evening.

Perhaps the greatest society event in colored circles, which has taken place in this city for a long time was the marriage in Mt. Olive Baptist church, last evening, of Mr. John T. Corley of Montclair, N. J., and Mrs. Alice White of this city, both of whom originally came from Richmond, Va. The hour announced for the wedding was eight o'clock, and at that time the church was well filled with eager spectators, many of whom were white.

The ceremony was delayed for an hour, however, on account of the absence of John Scudder, who came in later accompanied by a mastiff dog. He was escorted to a seat on the porch. The delay was long and tedious, during which the ushers discussed the best method of disposing of the bride's ring in case the ceremony did not take place.

The bridal party arrived at nine o'clock, and were ushered into the parsonage where the Rev. Geo. H. Boswell, pastor of the Zion Baptist church of New York, was in waiting to fill out the marriage certificate. The wedding march, La Priere D' une Vierge," a la "The Maiden's Prayer," was played by Miss Laura Belle Robinson. The bride was charmingly attired in white cashmere, en traine and at her request the four bridesmaids also wore training dresses. The groomsmen, Messrs Arthur Venable, Ed. Washington, John Randolph and Chris. Maden were dressed in broadcloth with flesh-colored socks and shiny slippers. The ceremony was solemn and impressive and as the groom saluted his wife with a kiss, there was general commotion in the audience. A reception was tendered the newly wedded couple at the resdence of the Rev. Mr. Carey in North Plainfield, after the ceremony. Iced cream, candy and wine were served.

The bridesmaids were Miss C. B. Allen, in white albatros trimmed with white satin; Miss Daniels in white albatros and ribbon to match; Miss Adlue Burton, in cream colored satin and white lace, and Miss Peterson in white albatros and brocaded satin.

Will be Watched at the Hospital.

James Sherlock, the young man who was committed to the city jail on Wednesday evening, pending an examination as to his sanity, was examined by City Physician Andrew Manning and Dr. M B. Long, in the station house, yesterday afternoon. The man appeared to be perfectly rational, and showed no signs whatever of insanity. He admitted, however, that at times his head troubled him, and said that he could not remember what happened when he was so affected. Of the various questions which the doctors asked the alleged demented man, the subject of marriage seemed to strike the patient most forcibly.

Captain Grant took Sherlock to Muhlenberg Hospital, last evening, where he will be closely watched, and in case he becomes violent he will be committed to an insane asylum for treatment.

A Former Plainfielder Killed at Roseville.

Tuesday evening the East-bound train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, which leaves Roseville station at 10:50 o'clock, struck a man just before reaching the First street crossing at Roseville. The body was hurled to one side. The train was quickly brought to a standstill, and the train hands turned back and found between the track and the fence the man laying in a heap. He was dead.

In the man's pocket was a diary, in which was the name of George Terwilliger, the dead man. He spoke in it of his wife and children and of his mother who lived in Plainfield. Mrs. Terwilliger, the wife of the dead man, is a daughter of Mr. Joseph N. VanArsdale of this city.

Plainfield Wins It.

The final two games of the Central Bowling Tournament, were rolled on the Fanwood alleys against the Mondays of Westfield, last evening. The Fanwoods showed they could beat the Mondays by putting up a score of 886. The other game was won by the latter. The finish as below, finds the Crescent League's team in second place.

	WON.	LOST.	PERCENT.
Elisabeth Athletic Club	21	3	875
Crescent of Plainfield	15	9	625
Monday of Westfield	14	10	583
Fanwood of Fanwood	11	13	458

Robbers at Fanwood.

James Headley's barn at Fanwood was entered by thieves Wednesday night and his black mare, worth $150, was stolen. The thieves also carried off a set of harness, valued at $25, and a new sidebar buggy, the property of Stewart Headley, and which cost $100. County Detective Keron has not found trace of the thieves or the stolen property.

Dismissed the Complaint.

A man named Snyder went before Justice Hardy in North Plainfield on Wednesday and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Special Marshal Louis Conrad, charging him with unlawfully discharging fire arms. The accused appeared before Justice Hardy on Wednesday evening, and was discharged.

A SECOND ANSWER.

A Man of Experience Tells of Reasons Why Music Hall is Not Patronized.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I have heard so many different reasons since my return home regarding the cause of the lack of patronage of "Music Hall," that I feel (now that THE PRESS has solicited opinions) I can, without assuming too much, express my ideas however limited or inconsistent they may appear to many of your readers, or however weak from a literary standpoint to those appearing in your edition of yesterday, under the nom de plume of "Critique."

I fully agree with that very ably expressed opinion in almost every point taken. If I take the matter up from a selfish stand I could say nothing, for the good people of our little city, have never failed to tender me a most cordial welcome, and have always turned out (without one single exception) most liberally upon every occasion that I have appeared at Music Hall. Whether it was due to my individual popularity, (N. B. Please pardon seeming conceit) or to the fact that they hoped it was, (on each occasion) to be my last appearance in America—as my vocal rival, Patti, puts it—I am not prepared to say. However they have always been with me, I am proud to add, and in goodly numbers.

I must therefore be counted out as a performer, and express my opinion for the lack of patronage, as I take it, from a view in front of the footlights. I have attended two performances at Music Hall since my vacation began, and I find the most imperfect accoustics I have ever known in any place of amusement. On each occasion I occupied what was termed "choice" seats. My first impression was that I was growing a little hard of hearing, but I was speedily convinced I was wrong by a young lady who was sitting next to me chewing gum. She had the air of a Summervillian, and when her precious lips closed on that tuti-fruti, there was a vibration that told me plainly my hearing could not be affected.

To get to the point, Mr. Editor, we all know that when one goes to the theatre, he or she, as it may be, wants to hear what the actors have to say. If we don't, how are we to have the thread of the play, and the plot, if it has any? That very efficient janitor, Mr. Mattox, has hung wires, yards of yellow canton flannel, and tried every other device, but the voices that we longed for never came, and one has been compelled to leave Music Hall with the impression that he saw something, but didn't know what it was all about Then again, as "Critique" remarks, "We have a great barn, cold, desolate and forbidding." Why not tear out the interior; make the house more cosy and compact; put in a few elaborate private boxes and form them as a sounding board with the proscenium above; raise the dome a trifle higher, and put in two galleries so that a scale of prices may be adopted to suit every class and pocketbook. In fact make it the modern playhouse of today, instead of a relic of the past generation. Give the public a handsome foyer, with retiring rooms, smoking rooms etc., neatly furnished and carpeted. Make your lobby a miniature art gallery. Let the old place be reconstructed till it becomes inviting. Convert that dreary entrance that looks like a deserted bowling alley, into an attractive spot, with rows of lights, prettily frescoed and a waiting room spaced off, near the box office, where escorts may place their ladies while securing their tickets. Give the Plainfield public a proper theatre, with the proper attractions, and I earnestly believe there is no place with the same population in the entire country that would be better appreciated or patronized.

In the meantime the only remedy that I could suggest would be a portable ear-trumpet attached to each seat in the house, or to devote it exclusively to entertainments under the patronage of the deaf and dumb asylum.

Yours very truly,
GEORGE THATCHER.

Where Sidewalks are Needed.

The attention of the Street Commissioner is respectfully called to the wretched condition of the sidewalk on West Second street, between New and Liberty streets. There is, in fact, no made sidewalk on either side of the street, for the greater part of that distance, and in stormy weather the mud is almost ankle deep. The street is the main thoroughfare to and from the boulevard, and the property owners should be compelled to lay sidewalks without delay.

Fire Near Elizabeth.

At an early hour this morning a most disastrous fire occurred in Union Township, just outside of Elizabeth, which resulted in the total destruction of the barns and outbuildings belonging to ex-Congressman John Kean's father, together with the burning of three horses, eighteen head of cattle, a lot of chickens and farming utensils. The fire is thought to be of incendiary origin. The total loss will aggregate thousands of dollars, and is only partly covered by insurance.

Base Ball.

The first and second grammar classes of the Franklin School engaged in base ball practice on the Sixth street grounds Tuesday afternoon, playing six innings. Below is the score by innings:

EUROPE'S QUIET DAY

Few Rows to Disturb the Toilers' Jubilee.

OVERAWED BY THE SOLDIERY.

Nearly Five Hundred Arrests in Paris. But All on Petty Charges.

The Police Kept Busy Far Into the Night Dispersing the Crowds—The Demonstrations in London and Berlin Very Tame. No Call for the Kaiser's Soldiers—Reports from Other Places.

PARIS, May 2.—Great excitement and numerous arrests were the outcome of May Day in Paris. The police and soldiers were kept busy and long into the night were still dispersing crowds gathered in the streets.

The day was tame, however, compared with what was expected.

A row occurred in the Place de la Concord during the evening, but was quickly suppressed. A procession attempted to pass down the Rue de la Cirque toward the Elysee. The police barred the way and commanded the parade to stop, but the paraders defied them. The municipal guards then charged upon the mobs with bayonets, wounding many in the front ranks. The crowd then broke. A large number of arrests were made. The men arrested were released at midnight, they having been charged simply with refusing to move on.

At midnight an excited crowd thronged the boulevards, which are being patrolled by the police and military. A detachment of cavalry charged upon the crowd in the Place de Chateau d'Eau and effectually dispersed it. Several arrests were made. The total number of arrests during the day was nearly five hundred.

LITTLE DISPLAY IN LONDON.

The Celebration There Not Up to the Expected Proportions.

LONDON, May 2.—The promised May Day display of the workingmen here did not at all come up to expectations. The men declare, however, that they are reserving their forces for the great display on Sunday next, when they will turn out in force at the monster Hyde Park demonstration. Angry murmurs were heard on all sides, however, against the action of the authorities in massing a large force of police upon the scene of the demonstration, as well as the proclamation regulating the parades and restricting their route. This, they declare, will be resented on Sunday. The great displays of military in the other European capitals largely accounts for the quiet manner in which the day passed off.

In violation of the order of Postmaster-General Raikes, 1,500 postmen marched down Oxford street, headed by a band, to Memorial Hall, Farringdon street, where a noisy meeting was held.

Resolutions protesting against long hours; demanding sixpence an hour for a day of eight hours, and calling for the abolition of class grades, were adopted.

In consequence of this action, the Postmaster-General threatens to enforce the law providing that Government officials who disobey orders shall, if found guilty, be sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

Only a few hundred persons marched in the procession to Hyde Park, where it was expected a meeting would be held. On arriving at their destination, however, and attempting to organize a mass meeting, they were at once dispersed by the police.

In the Hackney district a meeting was also broken up.

A FIASCO IN BERLIN.

The Socialists Proposed Demonstration Did Not Materialize.

BERLIN, May 2.—As a Socialists demonstration yesterday's was a fiasco. Those who turned out were chiefly young men who were bent on nothing more serious than having a holiday and there was no meeting or other manifestation of any consequence.

Ten thousand men marched in procession. There was not the slightest sign of disorder and the utmost good feeling prevailed.

The various industrial occupations were followed as usual at Munster, Wiesbaden, Strasburg, Nuremburg, Stettin, Dortmund, Neukirchen, Spandau, and Zarsken.

At Leipzig and Halle the bulk of the workmen are at work.

A great many of the minor manufacturers in this city voluntarily granted their employes a holiday.

A workman hoisted the red flag on a telegraph pole, but was immediately arrested by the police.

Nothing Serious at Madrid.

MADRID, May 2.—Groups of striking workingmen visited the principal workshops during the day and endeavored to induce the men to stop work, which they declined to do as a rule. The strikers were finally persuaded by the authorities to desist from further attempts to hamper work. Small meetings were held in the streets at various points, but they were orderly. The anarchists held a mass meeting in the Music Hall, where the orators denounced the social system and the tyranny of the masters.

Workmen Call on President Floquet.

PARIS, May 2.—M. Floquet, President of the Chamber of Deputies, received a deputation of Socialists, who presented a memorial praying for an eight hour law. Reports from various cities and towns in the provinces show that while the streets were crowded there was nothing like disorder.

Quiet at Vienna.

VIENNA, May 2.—Society workingmen's meetings were held here, at all of which resolutions favoring an eight-hour day were adopted. There was no disturbance in any quarter of the city. Reports from all parts of the empire show that the utmost tranquility prevailed.

Brodie and Wife Make Up.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Steve Brodie and his wife have made up. Steve went to Albany on Wednesday, in pursuance of an invitation from his mother-in-law, and yesterday he sent his brother Dan a dispatch indicating that the domestic horizon was cloudless. Dan said last night that the jumper, accompanied by his wife, would sail for Europe probably on Tuesday.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Report of the Senate Committee on Meat Products.

FOUR MEASURES SUBMITTED.

Against Steamship Monopoly and Railroad Discrimination.

Provisions of the Cornell Eight-Hour Bill as Reported Favorably by Committee to the House—Postmasters Named by the President—Judiciary Measures Before the House.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Mr. Vest, from the Select Committee on Meat Products, in his report to the Senate, said that the committee had investigated the subject fully and had now reported four measures for the consideration of the Senate.

The first was a concurrent resolution asking the President to inaugurate diplomatic correspondence with Great Britain to bring about a repeal or modification of the existing quarantine regulation of the United Kingdom.

The second was one providing for a National Inspection law, requiring that all live cattle shall be inspected when exported; and also that cattle intended for exportation (or meat of which is intended for exportation) shall be subject to inspection at the place where killed.

The third was one intended to prohibit the monopoly now practiced as to the storage capacity of steamships carrying cattle to foreign countries. The evidence had been shown that in New York steamships belonging to foreign nations were leased, sometimes for a number of months in advance, to one person, and the result was that the shipper who was not in favor of the contractor had no opportunity of putting his cattle in the foreign market at all.

The fourth bill was one intended to prevent existing discrimination on all railroads belonging to the Trunk Lines Association, and that embraced all the roads running from Chicago east, under which no mileage is given to any of the improved cattle cars carrying live cattle from the West to the East. The judgment of the committee was that there was an unjust discrimination against live cattle, and the committee had reported a bill amending the Inter-State Commerce Act so as to prohibit that abuse.

THE EIGHT-HOUR BILL.

Provisions of the Measure Reported Favorably to the House.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Congressman Cornell's Eight-Hour bill, which was reported favorably by the House Committee on Labor, provides that eight hours shall constitute a day's work for all laborers, workmen and mechanics now employed, or may hereafter be employed, by or on behalf of the Government of the United States, except in cases of extraordinary emergency which may arise in time of war or where it may be necessary to work more than eight hours for the protection of property or human life, but in all such cases the laborers so employed, and working to exceed eight hours per calendar day, shall be paid on the basis of eight hours as constituting a day's labor—eight hours in twenty-four, six days a week.

Section two provided that any and all contracts that may be hereafter made by the government with any corporation, person or persons for the performance of any work, or the furnishing, on any material manufactured in the United States, shall be deemed and considered as made on the basis of eight hours constituting a day's work, and it shall be unlawful for any corporation, person or persons to require or permit any laborer, workman or mechanic to work more than eight hours per calender day in doing such work on manufacturing such material, except in the cases and upon the conditions made in the first section.

Presidential Postmasters Named.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The President has sent the following postmaster nominations to the Senate:

Pennsylvania—W. L Yarrington, Carbondale.

New York—B. T. Hickley, Camden; C. H. Rowe, Dansville.

New Jersey—W. B. Singleton, Toms River.

New Hampshire—H. Robinson, Concord.

Massachusetts—A. M. Bears, Middleborough; C. Manser, Everett.

Maine—W. Stackpole, Saco.

Connecticut—C. H. Emily, Moodus; G. W. Smith, New Hartford.

Cost of Proposed Pension Legislation.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—In a letter to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Secretary of the Interior estimates that it will require $88,806,752 annually to give a service pension to every survivor of the late war not now on the rolls; $6,642,817 annually to increase the pensions of those now on the rolls to $8 a month; $9,776,768 to the widows of the deceased soldiers, a total annual expenditure of $100,236,337.

Work in the House.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—In accordance with the resolution of Mr. McKinley, adopted yesterday, the House to-day continued the discussion of bills reported from the Judiciary Committee. The important measures are: Senate bill, relating to trusts; House bill, relating to copyrights; House bill, relating to bankruptcy.

Postmaster Nomanation Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The Senate in secret session confirmed the nomination of H. G. Robinson, as postmaster at Concord, N. H.

Supposed Cause of a Bank Failure.

CAMDEN, N. J., May 2.—The suspension of the Gloucester City National Bank yesterday is supposed to be due to the failure of the Bank of America Wednesday in Philadelphia, with which it had dealings. No statement of the Banks' affairs could be secured, the officials declining to made any statement.

Lyons' Bail Forfeited.

BOSTON, May 2.—Lyons, arrested here for breaking jail in Connecticut, failed to answer in court and his $3,000 bail was forfeited.

A Big Mortgage Issued.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 2.—The G. H. Hammond Beef Co., of Chicago, and the Central Trust Co., have issued to Alexander Harvey of New York, a mortgage of $1,645,600 on all their property in all cities from Albany to Chicago. The Hammond Company are incorporated under the laws of Great Britain and the mortgage calls for £340,000 equivalent to $1,645,600 American money. The mortgage will be divided and sold to English capitalists.

The Season Begun at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 2.—The season was fairly begun yesterday by the opening of the Casino Club and one of the summer hotels. The License Commissioners have refused all applications for retail liquor licenses on Bath road, because of general petitions to that effect by property owners.

Editor Walker's Body Found.

BROOKLYN, May 2.—The family of the missing associate editor of the Cosmopolitan, Mr. E. D. Walker, have received word that Mr. Walker's body had been found in the Roanoke river at Weldon, N. C. Mr. Walker was drowned while on a fishing trip.

Palmer's Neck Not Broken.

CONCORD, N. H., May 2.—An autopsy on the body of James Palmer, hanged here yesterday, discloses the fact that the neck was not broken and that death was caused by strangulation.

The Land Purchase Bill.

LONDON, May 2.—The Land Purchase bill passed its second reading in the House of Commons last night by a vote of 348 to 268.

M'CALLA TESTIFIES

The Enterprise Commander in His Own Defence.

ASSUMES ALL RESPONSIBILITY.

The Crew an Average One With Many Tough Characters.

About 66 per Cent. of Them Aliens. During the Voyage 63 Men Deserted. The Punishments Inflicted Necessary to Keep the Men Within Bounds—The Antwerp Affair Explained.

BROOKLYN, May 3.—Commander McCalla, testifying in his own defence before the Court-Martial said he desired to assume all responsibility concerning anything occurring on the Enterprise. The crew, he considered an average one. There were many tough characters who had never before been on a cruise. During the entire cruise 63 men deserted. About 66 per cent. of the crew were aliens.

McCalla assumed the responsibility for Fitzgerelds punishment (Jacob's ladder). The ironing of Walker and Hennesy had been done under his direction.

The marching of the men up and down the spar deck was to sober them. He denied depriving the men of their hammocks. The ironing of the men at Rouen, he said, was necessary. Their punishment consisted of extra duty and deprivation of liberty for from one to three months. The chaining of the men at Rouen and at Villafranche was for safe keeping and not for punishment.

He did not think there was anything in the story of men ironed at Naples.

He acknowledged omissions in the log book, but explained they were not intentional.

He knew of no instance where a member of his crew was maltreated by his orders.

In regard to the straight-jacketing of Sundblad, he said he thought the man crazy from alcoholism. He ordered two strait-jackets. They were intended for Walker and Sundblad. He did not intend to and did not maltreat Sundblad by so confining him.

As to Svaglich's incarceration at Stettin, he had no knowledge of it. It had never been reported to him. He gave Svaglich a bad character. He had deserted the steam launch.

Witness had known nothing of the strait-jacketing of Ross at Lisbon in December, 1888, until the sitting of the Court of Inquiry.

Commander McCalla then told how when the ship was at Antwerp he had come on deck and found it deserted. The officer of the deck was asleep in the pilot house, and the other men were absent from their posts. He had confined some of the men and suspended the officers of the deck. He investigated the matter thoroughly but not until five days later did he know that the quartermaster had received permission of the officer of the deck to leave his post. He then ordered the quartermaster released.

CHARGED WITH PERJURY.

Wholesale Arrest of Witnesses in the Recent Frost Divorce Case at Oswego, N.Y.

OSWEGO, N. Y., May 3.—At the recent divorce trial of Edgar E. Frost against his wife, Mattie J. Frost, the answer to the complaint being a suit for a cross-bill, a large number of witnesses were sworn.

Their testimony being in direct contradiction on all material points, it was clearly apparent that perjury had been introduced by one side or the other, and the jury disagreed.

Yesterday. George A. Glynn, Mary Kanoupe, Mrs. Rosa Cole, Jennie Wilson, Ada Mosier and Crawford Brosser, witnesses for the defence, were arrested for perjury and held for the grand jury.

The arrests created a great sensation.

William A. Poucher, counsel for the defence said that warrants would be issued for E. E. Frost, the plaintiff; B. C. Frost, his brother; Frank Thorpe and Mrs. Sweetland, witnesses for the plaintiff on the same charges.

Great interest is felt here in the outcome of the affair.

The Delago Railroad Dispute.

LISBON, May 3.—United States Minister Loring has received from the Government at Washington a reply to his communication concerning the Delago Railroad dispute, accepting the principle laid down by Portugal, but proposing that some impartial nation first decide whether the case is a proper one for arbitration. If this question is decided affirmatively the same nation is to be asked to decide the terms of settlement.

A Damage Suit Compromised.

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., May 3.—The case of Wm. H. Nexes of Lebanon against the Norwich & New York Transportation Company, in a suit to recover $40,000 damages for injuries received while travelling on one of their steamers, and which has created intense interest, has been withdrawn by the defendants paying the plaintiff several thousand dollars. The case was assigned for trial next week in the New York courts.

Boulanger's Friends Insist on His Return.

LONDON, May 3.—The correspondent of the "Standard" in Paris asserts that the friends of General Boulanger have insisted that he return and threatened to abandon him if he does not do so.

Guilty of Murder in the First Degree.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—John McManus who has been on trial for the murder of Eugene McGinnes has been found guilty of murder in the first degree.

RIOTING ABROAD.

Troops Called Out to Restore Order in Turcoing.

PARIS, May 3.—A dispatch from Turcoing says that 20,000 strikers are parading the streets and committing every species of excess. The cavalry charged upon and dispersed a number of groups and made twenty arrests.

The number of strikers at Turcoing is estimated at 40,000. The streets and factories are guarded by troops.

The total number of persons arrested in Paris during the day and night Thursday was 300. Of this number only 150 were detained over night.

At Croix the strikers attacked Holden's factory, intending to plunder it. They succeeded in shattering the windows, when the troops compelled them to desist. They then proceeded to the telegraph office and wrecked the interior.

Police Powerless at Barcelona.

BARCELONA, May 3.—The strikers were very riotous throughout the day and greatly obstructed business. The civil guard unable to quell the disorders, a state of siege has been declared. At ten o'clock last night the rioters set fire to a tool hut in the streets. The guards charged upon the mob and drove them away, wounding several. Another mob attacked the printing office (where the proclamation declaring the siege was being printed) with such violence as to compel the inmates to flee for safety.

Strikers in Prague.

PRAGUE, May 2.—Six hundred employees on the State railway have struck.

A GRAND RECEPTION.

Stanley Entertained by the Emin Relief Committee in London.

LONDON, May 3.—Mr. Stanley was entertained at a reception last night by the Emin Relief Committee.

The Prince of Wales presided. Among those present were the Princess of Wales and her daughter, Princess Victoria, the Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh, Prince Christian, Princess Albert Victor and George of Wales, the Duke of Fife, the Lord Mayor and a host of other notable persons.

The Prince of Wales welcomed Mr. Stanley in the name of the people of England whom, he said, were glad to accord their hearty greeting to the illustrious traveler.

Mr. Stanley essayed to speak, but his voice was drowned for several minutes by the cheers of the company. When quiet was restored he said his position was a difficult one in addressing those assembled, the committee hampering his freedom in regard to what he should say. He defended the route he had chosen and paid high tribute to the devotion and courage of his associates, of whom he could have dispensed with none. When Emin was relieved for the second time, he said, his so-called subjects had revolted against him four times. Relief therefore came at a very critcal period.

Won't Visit Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—President Harrison about six months ago promised to visit Philadelphia, on Memorial Day (May 30) of this year, as the guest of Meade Post, No. 1 of the Grand Army of the Republic, the oldest G. A. R. organization on the Atlantic coast. Then it was determined to dedicate the Garfield monument at Cleveland on the same day. The President felt that duty required him to be present at the dedication, but at the same time he felt bound by his Philadelphia engagement. After considerable correspondence it has been concluded to release the President that he may attend the dedication of the memorial to the martyred President.

Senate Conformations.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The Senate in secret session confirmed the following nominations: F. D. Durrier, Naval Officer for Boston and Charleston, Mass.; Rev. D. R. Powell of Vermont, Post Chaplain; J. D. Hopkins, Collector of Customs, Frenchmans Bay, Me.; G. M. Warren Collector of Customs, Castine, Me.; and the following postmasters: Massachusetts—I. P. Carpenter, Foxborough; L. M. Keith, Bridgewarter. New Hampseire—L. B. Nutting, Wilton. New York—G. W. Cooper, Riverhead; Benjamin Norton, Belmont.

Another Bank Suspends.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—The Merchants Bank of Philadelphia has suspended. A meeting of the stockholders has been called to arrange the difficulty. The statement of the connection with the Bank of America is denied by the cashier, but the main bank with its branches at Pleasantville, Mullica Hill, and Egg Aarbor City have all been ordered closed.

Death of an Old Buffalo Resident.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 3.—The death, yesterday, of Joseph Salter removed Buffalo's oldest inhabitant, in point of years. He was born in Atsion, N. J., in 1796. He was appointed teller in the first government branch bank here in October, 1829. When Millard Fillmore was Comptroller of the State Mr. Salter was tendered the office of Bank Superintendent, but declined it.

A Pittsburg Man Suicides in Chicago.

PITTSBURG, May 3.—W. W. Rankin, who fatally shot himself in Lincoln Park, Chicago, Thursday afternoon, was a well-to-do wagon-maker of this city. He left home last Tuesday with $500 in his possession and his friends could not find him. He had been suffering from dementia caused by the grip. He leaves a wife and one child, who live on Lincoln avenue.

The Customs Administration Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The Customs Administration bill passed the Senate yesterday afternoon by a vote of 35 to 18.

THE WAR CONTINUES

Wage-Earners Struggling Hard for Their Demands.

MANY MEN OUT IN CHICAGO.

The Situation in the Windy City Grows Worse Instead of Better.

Moulders Inclined to Be Riotous—Not a Pleasant Outlook—Philadelphia Bosses Yielding to the Men—The Situation Unchanged at Boston—Review of the Labor Field To-Day.

CHICAGO, May 3.—The labor situation here has grown to an alarming proportion. The iron molders and their helpers in most of the large manufacturing establishments of the city, including the McCormick Harvesting Machine Works on the "Black Road" the scene of so much turbulence and rioting four years ago, who went out on strike for the eight-hour day and a uniform rate of wages, yesterday, have made no effort as yet to procure a meeting with the employers. About noon a number of non-union molders who were being conveyed in a wagon to McCormick's Harvester Works were attacked by strikers at Blue Island avenue and 32d street. The windows of the buss were broken and several of of the occupants were more or less injured.

The men employed at the Goodwillie box factory struck for eight hours and their demands were acceded to.

The men at the Cooper Lumber Company's yards were also victorious. The firm agreed to grant the eight hour day.

Four hundred men employed by Demma & Durkas furniture factory struck for eight hours.

Seven hundred men employed by the Chicago Cottage Organ Company are also affected by the strike fever and refuse to work until granted the eight hour day.

Trouble is brewing in the lumber yards, and the prospect is that unless granted eight hours and more pay the lumber-shovers—several thousand men—will quit work.

All of the factories and shops along the Black Road are closed to-day and business on that celebrated thoroughfare is at a complete standstill.

So many of the employes at the McCormick factory quit work that it was found impossible to keep the works running, and the steam was shut off. The works will not be started again until the troubles with the men have been adjusted. There is no change in the carpenters' strike.

NO CHANGE AT BOSTON.

About 1,200 at Work To-Day Under the Eight-Hour System.

BOSTON, May 3.—There is absolutely no change in the labor situation in this city, so far as the carpenters are concerned.

At is estimated that 1,200 are at work to-day under the eight-hour system, which has been adopted by many firms outside the Builders' Associatition.

The building laborers held a meeting last night and voted to give the mason builders until next Wednesday to comply with their demand for 25 cents per hour. If this is not granted they will probably strike on the following day.

It Cambridge the striking employes of John P. Squire & Co. held a large meeting and were addressed by a number of labor men. A long letter was received from General Master Workman Powderly, who counselled forbearance, patience and temperance on the part of the men who were bound to win in the end.

SITUATION AT PHILADELPHIA.

The Strikers Firm and the Bosses Slowly Giving Way.

PHILADELPHIA, May. 3.—The third day of the carpenters strike finds more bosses willing to grant the demands of the workmen. It was a big victory for the strikers when the journeymen bricklayers came into line and issued orders that none of its members should set the door or window frames on any job of which the boss had refused to pay the advanced rate.

There are nearly 7,000 carpenters in the city, and nearly all of them are identified with three organizations.

About three 3,000 men are out.

Can't Afford the Wages.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 3.—The closeing this evening of the Springfield Cigar Manufacturing Company's factory will throw a large number of hands out of employment. They formerly operated a non-union shop and since resuming union prices claim they have not been able to raise their jobbing rates proportionately.

Strikers Win in Indianapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 3.—Three hundred employes constructing a street railway struck for an advance of wages from $1.25 to $1.50 per day. After remaining out two hours the demand was acceded. The journeymen plumbers to the number of about 200 struck to-day for nine hours.

Granite Cutters' Troubles.

QUINCY, Mass., May 3.—Five firms, employing about 40 men to-day signed the granite cutters' bill of prices. The granite manufacturers' committee held a secret meeting and seriously discussed the situation, but arrived at no definite understanding.

Etta Harris' Case Again Postponed.

BOSTON, May 3.—The celebrated case of Etta W. Harris, alias "Dr." Lndgate, came up by continuance in the Superior Court, but was again postponed until Monday.

—Mayor Place of North Plainfield, last evening made a special request to the Borough councilmen, for them to be on hand promptly at 8 o'clock, on meeting nights. He said the Plainfield Council was in the habit of meeting about nine o'clock at night, and by so doing became a laughing stock.

Yet Plainfield Has a Democrat President of Its Council.

(From the Elizabeth Journal.)

Senator McPherson claims to be the man who first renominated Grover Cleveland for president in 1892, and Plainfield is the place he made famous by the speech in which he did this perfunctory work for Mr. Cleveland. But if Mr. Cleveland's chances are no better in the rest of the country than they are in Plainfield, he will never get nearer the presidential chair than Senator McPherson's speech did to the probabilities in 1892.

Wreck on the Central Railroad.

Two loaded coal trains, going East, run together on the New Jersey Central Railroad near the North Branch station, early yesterday, wrecking the caboose and several cars on the forward train. The caboose was so badly broken up that the wreckage was piled up in a heap and burned. So far as known, no one was injured. Travel was delayed only a short time.

FUN AHEAD.

There Has Been Nothing Like It in Plainfield Before—Nor Since.

There is one feature in the approaching meet of the New Jersey Division of the League of American Wheelmen, which will interest all our citizens, and that is the amateur minstrel show and Vaudeville entertainment at Stillman Music Hall, on the evening of May 30, Decoration Day.

The term amateur is apt to be misleading, as it often implies want of practice and preparation. But this entertainment given by members of the Hudson County Wheelmen, not only approaches but fully reaches the perfection of professional minstrelsy.

The members have acted and sung together for years, not only in entertainments of the class under consideration, but they have produced all of Gilbert and Sullivan's operas, at a cost of thousands of dollars and have sung them to crowded and appreciative houses.

But for the quintessence of melody and for the high-water mark of first-class fun, their minstrel and Vaudeville entertainment not only "takes the cake": it walks off with the entire production of French's Mills.

The troupe is under the charge of the genial Dr. Johnson, who will be remembered as the individual who played the part of the young-man-not-afraid-of-his-bicycle, and his attempts to ride the same, at an entertainment given at the Crescent Rink, a few years ago by the Plainfield Bicycle Club.

The doctor is a man who can play many parts, any, in the approaching show, he will appear as a beautiful and dashing blond danseuse.

The Schumann Male Quartette will assist, and the orchestra will be from the Metropolitan Theatre, New York.

The entire performance will be without reproach, and carking care will cease to cark those who are fortunate enough to secure seats.

The clubs which are preparing to attend the meet are sending in their orders for blocks of seats, and it behooves all who do not wish to "get left" to do the same. The Elizabeth Wheelmen will order 100 seats and the Hudson County as many more, as other fellow's sisters and cousins will accompany them.

The varied uniforms of the visiting clubs will add to the brightness of the house, and, taken all in all, the occasion will be one to be observed and remembered by our citizens.

The matter is in the charge of a sub-committee of our own "boys," consisting of Mr. John M. Crane, Mr. A L. C. Marsh and Mr. T. S. Burr. They hope to be able to induce the solemcholly Thatcher to speak a piece in his inimitable style.

Another Victim of That Mad Dog.

A young handsome and valuable bull terrier, belonging to Mr. W. P. Smith of Netherwood, was shot at 9:30 this morning because the animal lay on the ground in spasms, biting so much of the fence as was within reach of his chain. Mr. Smith decided there should be no question as to the safety of his neighbors, and had the dog killed.

A week ago last Sunday night, when the mad dog THE PRESS told of was running around Netherwood, Mr. Smith heard dogs on his premises yelping and growling. The next morning the dog spoken of, was found to be bitten on the shoulder and legs. He was at once tied up and kept tied. About nine days after he showed symptoms of sickness and unsteadiness on his legs, and as this morning spasms set in, he was shot.

Other dogs about Netherwood, besides those told of in these columns, were undoubtedly bitten. Yet some of them may be running at large now. Mr. Smith's example of care for the safety of others, might be followed by many with credit to them and good results to the community.

The Big Meet in Plainfield.

A meeting of the various committees arranging for the N. J. Division League of American Wheelmen's 7th annual meet to be held in this city on May 30 and 31, was held last night at the Club House of the Plainfield Bicycle Club.

Among those present were Chief Consul Dr G. Carleton Brown of Elizabeth; Vice Consul Dr. H. A. Benedict of Jersey City; Secretary-Treasurer George C. Pennell; Captain F. C Gilbert and A. F. Bellinger of Elizabeth; Robt. V. Whitehead of Trenton; H. P. Stoney of Englewood; Theodore F. Merscles of Jersey City; and Townsend Rushmore, A. L. C. Marsh, Stanton M. Smith, F. L. C. Martin, T. S. Burr and J. E. Erickson of this city. The prospects of a grand meet are very apparent, and a gigantic time is predicted for all who participate.

A Warning to Certain North Plainfielders.

There seems to be a few boys and young men who are evil disposed, and disturb the religious services of Warren Mission in North Plainfield. Last Tuesday night four or five of these disturbers of the peace assembled outside the Mission, and created considerable disturbance, and greatly annoyed those assembled within the building.

The borough authorities have been notified, and they propose to cause the arrest of any person who disturbs the meetings held in that Mission. The offence of disturbing religious meetings is an indictable one, and a few of these young persons may find themselves in Somerset County jail ere many hours have passed. They are known and are being watched.

—Messrs C. Schepflin & Co, the clothiers, shut down at noon today, thus giving their employees a half-holiday.

THE SIZE OF IT.

Secret consultations among those "indignant," but eminently respectable citizens, continue. It is possible therefore that the wide, wide World will soon reverberate with the echoes of their pronunciamento. At the Council meeting of next Monday evening, probably, "Our Citizens Committee" may be heard from.

All of this is "on all fours"—as the Corporation Counsel might say—with the tale of the three tailors of Tooley street. Something the English Parliament did failed to meet the approval of the tailors, and they met—just as indignant in their mind, and preposterous in their position, as the Plainfield Art Gallery politicians.

The three tailors of Tooley street then issued a proclamation, thus beginning: "We, the Citizens of London."

TOOK POISON TWICE.

Emma Day, the Summit Firebug, Determined to End Her Life.

Emma Day and her sister created a sensation about a year ago by confessing to a series of incendiary acts committed in Summit and in this city. They were dubbed the "Summit firebugs," and columns were writt n about their fire-raising exploits, their fights with the constable, and their attempts to destroy the jail in which they were confined. One of the girls worked in the American Laundry on Front street.

Emma was released from jail recently. Giving the name "Fannie Wilson, aged nineteen, of Parsippany, Morris county," she applied at the Second Precinct Police Station in Newark Thursday night for shelter, and attempted to commit suicide in the station by drinking a quantity of laudanum. Lieut. Edwards had her sent to St. Michael's Hospital, where her life was saved by the prompt use of emetics. She was discharged from the hospital yesterday afternoon.

Within fifteen minutes the girl had purchased another bottle of laudanum and drank most of the contents. She was taken to the Second Precinct Station, and a reporter who happened to be present recognized her as Emma Day, of fire-raising notoriety. She will probably die.

Almost Bit His Hand Off.

Benjamin, a young son of Mr. Ellis Eddy of Muhlenberg place, met with a painful accident on Thursday afternoon, which nearly resulted in the loss of his left hand. The boy was putting a bridle on a horse when the animal bit his hand, terribly lacerating the flesh. Dr. E. W. Hedges, the attending physician, was obliged to sew up the wound, taking ten stitches in the flesh.

A Fine Team.

BOROUGH COUNCIL MEETING.

A Session Noted for its Wrangling—Ring Rule Accused—Grove Street to be Macadamized, and the Borough Left Without a Marshal.

The Borough Council met in regular session, last evening, with Mayor Place in the chair. Previous to the meeting a caucus was held in Councilman Smalley's office and on account of that it was 8:30 o'clock when the Council was called to order. The minutes were read, corrected and adopted, after which the regular order of business was taken up by the presentation of a communication from Samuel Moore, agreeing to cart stone from either Wilson's or Nevius' crusher for 19 cents a ton. Referred to the Street Committee.

A communication was received from Warren Engine Company, No. 1, asking Council to reconsider the resolution reducing the salary of the Chief Engineer. Referred to the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee.

A petition was received from property owners on Emily street and Mercer avenue asking to have those thoroughfares macadamized, and agreeing to pay a total of $645 towards the expense. Referred to the Street Committee.

Sundry petitions for peddler and cartmen's licenses were received and referred.

Claims were presented, referred and ordered paid as follows: P. Kelleher, $6.25; P. T. B. Nevius, $34 89; N. Y. and N. J. Globe Gaslight Co, $260.67; Job Coddington, $2.75.

Mr. Sebring, from the Fire, Water and Lamps Committee, submitted a report in which the committee recommended the purchase of from 300 to 500 feet of hemp hose; also the removal of the cells from the engine house. The committee also urged the necessity of having the fire department horses stabled near the engine house. The financial statement showed the department to be credited with about $1,400. The report was sent back to the committee for correction.

The bond of Collector H. N. Spencer was returned by the Law and Ordinance Committee as correct, and ordered filed.

Mr. Hegeman, from the Street Committee, recommended the laying of a cross-walk at the intersection of Westervelt and Brook avenues. The committee also recommended granting the Grove street petition, and to accept the bid of P. T. B. Nevius to furnish stone at 77½ cents per ton, at the crusher; the streets East of Somerset street have been scraped, and Craig place is being graded. The total expenditures amount to $205.-68, leaving a balance of $98 72.

Mr. Emmons moved to table the report, but the motion was lost, and the report was received and recommendations adopted. Mr. Emmons stated as his objections, because the Grove street petition was not the first one presented, and besides it was not the best one received.

The Committee on Printing, Stationary and Supplies, reported that the bid of James Hardy, of $40, for building a cabinet in the Council chamber had been accepted. The report was filed.

Upon resolution adopted the Council contributed $25 toward defraying the Memorial Day expenses.

A resolution by Mr. Smalley, authorizing the Street Committee to purchase stone in quantities not exceeding in all 5,000 tons, at 77½ cents per ton, was adopted.

Mr. Hegeman presented a resolution, providing for the macadamizing of Grove street, from Green Brook to the middle of Green Brook road, the property-owners along said street agreeing to pay $760 of the total cost.

Mr. Emmons objected to the resolution. He thought the committee stepped too far in ignoring the Willow avenue petition, presented last year, in which, he said, 50 per cent. of the total cost had been pledged. He said that the Council was organized on the "scratch-my-back-and-I'll-scratch-yours" plan. After a few personalities were indulged in, the resolution was adopted, Mr. Emmons voting "no."

Mr. Smalley introduced a resolution appointing Geo. Becker regular marshal, at a salary of $450 per annum. The resolution was seconded by Mr. Hegeman.

Mr. Emmons moved to amend the resolution by substituting the name of Thos. McDonald. Mr. Buckle seconded the amendment.

The License and Marshal Committee, through its chairman, stated the objections to re-appointing Mr. McDonald. The objections were that he was too far advanced in years to fill the position, and besides his eye-sight is poor, and his hearing impaired. The committee had nothing else against him.

A vote was taken on the amendment, and it was carried, Messrs Hegeman and Smalley voting "no." Mr. Sebring asked to be excused from voting but his request was not granted.

The vote on the resolution as amended was a tie, and was as follows: Ayes—Messrs Emmons, Buckle, Needham. Nays—Messrs Hegeman, Sebring, Smalley. Mayor Place cast the deciding vote in the negative and the borough is thus left without a regular marshal.

Upon resolution adopted the Street Committee was authorized and empowered to negotiate a loan of $800 for street work.

Mr. Smalley presented a resolution appointing Geo. Becker a special marshal. The resolution was adopted.

Council then adjourned.

Should your children be taken with the croup or whooping-cough in the night, they may die if not relieved at once. How important then to keep a bottle Hires' Cough Cure handy. Instant relief sure.

Washingtonville Whispers.

A sociable was held at the chapel, last evening, in which the members and friends of the Sunday school united in having a good sociable time. Credit is due the committee in charge of the evening's pleasantries, for the success of the affair.

The grounds around the chapel are being further beautified by the arrangements of the terraces and lawns, the building of roads and paths, and the setting out of flower beds and shrubbery.

Mrs. John Willis died at her home this morning, from consumption of which she was a long sufferer.

Mr. E. W. Milligan and family have again taken up their residence in their beautiful Summer home.

The disciples of the piscatorial art may be seen daily with rod and reel wending their way to the Passaic River to filch from its placid bosom the gamy bass or other members of the finny tribe. Each fisherman claims great luck, but also claim that the largest fish dropped off the hook just as he got it to the brink.

Equestrian Casualties.

This morning was a large morning for horseback riding, yet two of Plainfield's equestrians got all they wanted in a very brief space of time. As the first passed Richmond street on Putnam avenue, two dogs sprung out at his horse. The result was the rider went off, and the horse stepped on the inside of the fallen man's left leg above the knee.

Drs. Endicott, Murray and Allis happened to all arrive from different directions, and the man was taken into an adjoining house and cared for. About fifteen minutes after his fall, and while the crowd still stood around, another rider approached. Just a few feet from where the first causalty occurred, the second man was thrown into the gutter, but he was not much hurt.

Dunellen News.

The late cantata and fair for the benefit of the Presbyterian church organ fund netted about $150.

Messrs John P. Stelle and son have purchased land from the Rev. John A. Todd on Main street, opposite the depot park, where they intend to erect livery and exchange stables.

There was a general row among a lot of the brick yard employes on Wednesday afternoon. Some of the men employed there are making themselves obnoxious to the community in which they live, and the authorities are now determined to put a stop to such disgraceful proceedings.

Can This be the Case?

Complaint is made against the janitor of one of the public schools in this city, who, it is alleged, noticed one of the school boys riding around in a delivery wagon, on Thursday afternoon, and he jerked the boy from the wagon, tearing his clothes, and returned him to school. The boy had remained away at the morning session, ostensibly to accompany his mother into town to purchase a new hat.

The janitor it is said, had been sent to the boy's home to inquire the cause of the latter's absence from school, and he was on his way back to the school when he saw the boy in the wagon.

To Break Up Jumping on Trains.

The New Jersey Central Railroad authorities are determined to break up the nuisance of jumping on and off of coal and freight trains by tramps and others. The company has detectives out all along the line, and some wholesale arrests may be expected at any time.

The men watch their chance at the various stations where the trains stop for water, and in some instances as many as a dozen or fifteen men and boys board a single train. The tramps are in the majority, and the brakemen are therefore powerless to eject them.

Wait a Minute!

The Central Times says:

The street railway project may be making progress, but the fact has not materialized to any extent. The objection to the road by property holders along proposed routes, is discouraging to those who are desirous of pushing the undertaking.

Now just wait a minute, brother! Don't act in haste, or you may spend years in a too late repentance. Probably the property owners along the routes, like THE PRESS, would like to look a little deeper into this street railway "project," as you call it.

Two More Great Bargain Weeks in Shoes.

OUR new goods are coming in so fast, and so many of them, we can readily see we will not have room for them. We have gone all through the stock bought of Mr. Randolph, and have concluded to sell off all that stock at a great reduction THIS WEEK AND NEXT. We have marked them all down something like this:

We have a few Ladies' shoes left in E. C. Burt's and McComber's; sizes 2½, 3, 3½ and 4, A wide, marked down from $5 00, $6.00 and $7 00, to $1.50.

LADIES' KID SHOES,	$1.00.	Former price,	$2 00.
" " "	$1.50.	"	"	$2 50.
" " "	$2 00.	"	"	$3.50.
GENT'S	"	80c.	"	"	$1.50.
"	"	$2 00.	"	"	$3.50.
"	"	$3.50.	"	"	$5 00.
"	"	$3.50.	"	"	$6.00.

We have the above shoes in all sizes with the exception of McComber's and Burt's. This will be the greatest sale for BARGAIN SEEKERS that PLAINFIELD EVER SAW!

While you are here, look at our SLIPPERS and TIES for Ladies; also our $2.50 and $3.00 SHOES, made especially for us. This sale will commence

Wednesday, April 23, and Continue Until May 3.

TRY US ON REPAIRING.—We don't promise to make old shoes new, but we can and do make them almost as good as new, and give them a new lease of life. Many people do not have shoes repaired because they have a mistaken idea they look botchy and clumsy; but such is not the case with us, for we put in the finest leather that can be bought, and done by one of the best shoemakers in the State.

BALLOT REFORM.

Gov. Hill's Memorandum Filed With His Approval of the Saxton Measure.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 3.—In his memorandum, filed with his approval, of the amended Saxton Ballot Reform bill, Gov. Hill says, in part:

"The people of the State are to be congratulated on having at last secured the enactment of a reasonable and constitutional electoral reform law. The bill received the unanimous support of each branch of the Legislature, and apparently reflects faithfully the demands of public sentiment.

"It is not claimed that it is a perfect measure. It must be conceded that it contains many cumbrous and unnecessary provisions which might more wisely be eliminated, but as the result of the harmonization of many conflicting views, it presents, as a whole, a fairly acceptable measure, capable of effecting some substantial and practical reform.

"A reform law, however, no matter how excellent, cannot enforce itself. To make it a success it needs the support and encouragement of both the political parties which have united in its enactment. Without the aid of a friendly and intelligent public sentiment in its favor it will fail to secure the purity and independence in our elections so confidently predicted by its friends, and so earnestly desired by every good citizen. In the interest of an honorable compromise of diverse opinions and with a sincere desire to agree upon a bill which should accomplish something towards the purification of our elections, even though it shall not be wholly satisfactory, I have felt constrained to yield my views as to several provisions which I must still deem imperfect, and which I firmly believe will be so regarded when the defects shall be more fully disclosed in the practical operation of the new system."

The court adjourned until May 5 when the decisions will be rendered. The court will then take another recess until May 19, when further decisions will be rendered and the court will then adjourn for the term.

Vacation for Postoffice Employes.

New Haven Masons.

Difficulties About Settled.

More Judgments Against ex-Gov. Cornell.

PREVENTS A STRIKE

Mr. Powderly Advises a Union to Use Moderation.

A VICTORY FOR CARPENTERS.

Nearly Three Hundred New York Employers Grant the Demand.

Chicago's Toilers Quiet—No Change in Boston—A Big Strike of Miners in the Tioga Coal Region—An Advance Asked for in McKeesport—Slate Cutters Strike at Pittsburg for an Increase in Wages.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The Union carpenters began their campaign for eight hours this morning. The strike committee have their headquarters at 145 Eight street.

It was announced this forenoon that 296 employers had decided to concede the eight-hour rule, and that only 15 had decided to hold out against it.

The housesmiths' unions of this city and Brooklyn did not strike. They have made an agreement with their employers, and thousands of men went to work this morning instead of taking a forced holiday.

A joint meeting of the two unions was held in Webster Hall, East Eleventh street, the agreement was accepted and General Master Workman T. V. Powderly made a speech full of good common sense.

Mr. Powderly said: "I advise you to use moderation. No trade can expect to get everything it wants at once. As I understand it you you have made great progress, as this is the first agreement that has ever been entered into. You now stand on firm ground and can see both sides.

"Employers have rights which you must respect. Some time ago I organized an assembly of blacksmiths, who only earned $2.10 a day. They wanted to strike immediately for fifty cents, which they had been ten years in losing. This is frequently the case, and it is always a mistake to try and get back in a month what has taken ten years to lose."

In conclusion Mr. Powderly urged the men to stand by their union and to be sober and industrious. He retired amid cheers.

His words had a good effect, for the objectionable part of the agreement was reconsidered and the entire document unanimously adopted. It will remain in force until May 1, 1891.

BIG STRIKE OF MINERS.

Some 1,600 Men Already Out and 1,200 More Expected to Quit Work.

ELMIRA, N. Y., May 5.—One of the biggest strikes in the history of the Tioga coal region is now on, having commenced at Arnot. The miners have for months been preparing for the battle, and unless the operators accede to their demands this will be a long and stubborn one.

Some 1,600 men have already gone out, and by to-night 1,200 more will probably quit work. One year ago the miners and mine laborers at Morris Run, Fall Brook, Antrim and Arnot were compelled to accept a reduction of wages. Recently, the miners demanded a return to the old scale, an increase of about 11 per cent. on the wages now in force.

This demand is far less than has recently been wanted and is now being paid to the soft coal miners of Western Pennsylvania and Ohio. The Arnot men taking the lead appointed a committee who waited on Superintendent Dodson, and failing to receive a satisfactory answer they quit work. The 250 miners at Fallbrook followed the example of the Arnot men.

At Morris Run a committee waited on Superintendent W. S. Nearing and gave him until this afternoon to reply to their demands. If he refuses to treat with them they will at once quit work. The similar act on the part of Antrim miners is expected. At all four places the best of order prevails.

Coke Workers Threaten to Strike.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., May 5.—A monster strike is threatened in the coke regions, which, if it occurs, will affect at least 3,000 coke workers. It is the outcome of the Frick Coke Company shutting down the Valley Coke Works, stating as the cause that the miners were not complying with the terms of the agreement in filling wagons. The lock-out affects about 300 men. The Knights of Labor officials conferred on the matter, and an immense strike is imminent if the Frick Company refuse to adjust the grievances.

Chicago's Toilers Quiet.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Developments in the labor situation are very meagre. The meetings that have been held, however, are enthusiastic, and there seems to be no abatement of earnestness on the part of the men. If something unexpected does not occur to-day every cooper employed about the packing houses at the stock yards, with perhaps the exception of the houses operated by Armour & Co. and Swift & Co., will go out on strike.

Ten Per Cent. Advance.

MCKEESPORT, Pa., May 5.—The employes of the National Tube Works held a mass-meeting yesterday. Over 2,000 men were present. By a vote it was decided to ask for an advance of 10 per cent. or the present pay for nine hours work. A committee of 18 was appointed to confer with the firm to-day.

Slate Cutters and Polishers Strike.

PITTSBURG, May 5.—The slate cutters, stone polishers and marbleized polishers of Pittsburg went out on a strike this morning for an increase in wages averaging 25 cents per day. They number 50

KILLED HIS BROTHER.

A Family Quarrel Winds Up in a Terrible Tragedy.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., May 5.—Frederick Hale, aged 28, living near Hinsdale, killed his brother Henry, aged 42, during a family quarrel, and is in jail here.

Henry's horse had cut its foot while plowing, and Fred and his father were talking the matter over, when Henry, thinking they were blaming him, took up a whiffletree and started to attack the father. The old man secured a weapon, and Fred interfered, trying to pacify Henry, but the latter grew more enraged and seized an axe, with which he attacked Fred.

Fred succeeded in getting possession of the whiffletree, and struck his brother two terrible blows on the head. Henry staggered into the house where he fell to the floor unconscious.

Fred secured a physician but Henry did not regain consciousness and died at 2 o'clock a. m. Fred has been arrested. Henry had a terrible temper and was ungovernable when aroused.

BALTIMORE'S TRAGEDY.

Blood Stains Found on Young Blaney's Clothes When Arrested.

BALTIMORE, May 5.—There is considerable excitement over the murder of Mrs. Blaney, aged 70, and her daughter, Caroline Blaney, aged 45, living at 1035 Greenmount Ave., who were found dead in bed, their skulls crushed and their bodies terribly mutilated. The house had been ransacked from top to bottom.

Mrs. Blaney sold some property recently for which she received $1,500 in cash. The coroner has found $900 concealed in the old woman's bed.

A grandson of the old lady, Mr. Blaney, who has an unsavory reputation, has been arrested on suspicion.

His pantaloons were removed at the Central Police Station, and when he was asked to explain the presence of the blood spots he said his nose had been bleeding. But some of the spots were in the rear part of the pantaloons, and there was a large spot at the bottom of one leg that looked as if it had been dipped in blood. There were also small pieces of hair sticking to the bloody spots and other parts of the trousers.

Inspector Byrnes Didn't Apologize.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Recollections by Mrs. Biddulph Martin (Victoria Woodhull), her husband and her brother-in-law of their interview on Saturday with Inspector Byrnes were published at great length in several newspapers yesterday. They do not agree with the Inspector's own recollections of what occurred. He is described by the family as having made an abject apology, and as having disavowed any responsibility for a published article about the Claflin sisters to which his name was appended. Inspector Byrnes says that he took good care to have a witness present at the interview, that he made no apology, that he stood by the printed article, and that he invited the sisters to sue him if they wanted to.

Twenty-Two Buildings Burned.

GILBOA, N. Y. May 5.—A fire broke out in the Arcade, a large wooden building in this village, early in the morning, and flames quickly spread to adjoining buildings, which were soon enveloped in flames. There being no means of extinguishing fire the whole village was at the mercy of the flames. The entire business portion of the town was destroyed, 22 buildings in all. Not a store is left in the town and most of the stocks were destroyed. The loss is estimated at from $150,000 to $175,000. There is only a light insurance, estimated at about $50,000.

The Behring Sea Catch.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—A dispatch from Ottawa says it has been learned from an authoritative source that Her Majesty's Government will not seriously complain of any reasonable efforts made by the American government to protect the breeding seals when once inside the sea from the destructive attacks that have been made upon them during the past few years. The general opinion among the sealing community is that the Behring Sea catch will be a good one, and that ordinary circumspection alone will be necessary to prevent loss or trouble at the hands of the revenue cutter officers.

Stabbed While Looking In.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 5.—John Shuflinski was murdered by John Strack at Geddes early in the morning. Shuflinski, a Pole, 19 years of age, was refused admission to a ball, so he gazed at the dancers through a window until Strack, who was under the influence of liquor, stopped his gazing by plunging a knife in his side.

Killed by a Hurricane.

WILSPOINT, Tex., May 5.—A hurricane struck here yesterday afternoon and every house in town is more or less damaged. Two persons were killed outright and several injured. The killed are: Mrs. Bowen, caught under a falling wall and crushed to death; a negro girl, 14 years old, daughter of Tom Mitchell.

His Last Day in Prison.

NEW YORK, May 5.—This is the last day in prison for Lawyer Joseph Meeks, the referee in the Flack divorce case, and the only one of the three convicted conspirators who concluded to serve the term of imprisonment imposed by the court rather than to take his chances on an appeal. He will be released from the Tombs to-morrow.

Gilbert Sentenced to Life Imprisonment.

OXFORD, N. Y., May 5.—The case of William H. G. Gilbert, indicted for the murder of Brundage H. Welton, has ended in a verdict of murder in the second degree and a sentence to Auburn for life.

To Begin To-Morrow and Extend Through the Week.

DEMOCRATS WANT MORE TIME.

An Effort Being Made to Limit the Discussion to Ten Days.

The Admission of Wyoming and the Silver Bill the Leading Issues in the Senate—Senator Beck's Death—Preparation for the Funeral—A Decrease in the Monthly Treasury Statement.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The great Tariff debate opens in the House this week. It is to begin to-morrow, if nothing occurs to interfere, and it will extend through the week at least. No limit has been set upon the general debate yet, but an effort will be made during the week to pass a resolution placing a limit upon it and that limit will be short.

The Republicans talk about settling it in one week and the Democrats ask two weeks. An effort is being made to bring about a compromise on ten days, but with what success remains to be seen. The leaders of the Republican side have consulted among themselves; they have consulted with the Speaker, they have consulted with the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee but always with the same result. The matter now rests in the hands of the Committee on Rules and a resolution will doubtless be reported from that committee at an early day.

The only other important business to be considered in the House is the business which may come up under suspension of the rules. The Republicans are anxious to call up the River and Harbor bill, and they claim that they have pledged the two-thirds vote necessary to take it up, but the Speaker has not said that he will recognize a member of the committee to make the motion to take up the bill, and so its fate is still a problem. What other business may be called up under suspension is a matter of speculation and of no certainty.

Mr. Carlisle will not formally announce the death of Senator Beck until after consultation with Speaker Reed, and the House will probably not adjourn until late this afternoon.

WORK OF THE SENATE.

The Admission of Wyoming and the Silver Bill the Leading Issues.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The Senate business is pretty well mapped out for the week, although several important changes in the programme may take place. The bill for the admission of Wyoming to the Union is down for consideration to-day, and the Jones Silver bill for Wednesday.

If the Jones bill should be taken up as per programme and the Wyoming bill should not have been disposed of, the latter will likely be taken up in the morning hour each day while the Jones bill is considered after 2 o'clock.

The consideration of the Jones bill may be postponed if there seems any probability that the Republican caucus can come to an agreement, but as matters now stand the Senate will go into the silver debate without any action binding the Republican members. And if this condition remains unchanged it is altogether likely that the Senate will pass a measure which will be in substance a free coinage bill; or, rather, a bill for the free purchase of bullion.

The formal announcement of Senator Beck's death was made by Senator Blackburn and the Senate adjourned.

One day during the week will be given over to the funeral of the late Senator Beck.

How the Surplus Can be Used.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The Secretary of the Treasury, in an interview, says "there is no disposition on the part of the administration of the treasury to hoard money, and the so-called surplus, which is the excess of the receipts over the expenditures, can be used under the present law only in the redemption of the bonded debt of the United States, which is being done as rapidly as the bonds can be judiciously purchased. The surplus on the first instant amounted to only $35,930,623 (exclusive of fractional silver coin), of which $31,648,898 was on deposit in national banks, performing the duty of a circulating medium. It is the policy and purpose of the department to withdraw a large portion of this deposit and invest it in United States bonds as rapidly as it can be done without danger of decreasing the actual circulation."

Treasury Statement.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The Treasury Department monthly statement of changes in the circulation during April, just issued, shows a net decrease during the month amounting to $499,721.

QUAY WON'T RESIGN.

He Once Thought of Withdrawing from the National Committee.

BEAVER, Pa., May 5.—In an interview Senator Quay again pronounced the rumors of his resignation as Chairman of the Republican National Executive Committee as without foundation.

"The report," said he, "is purely newspaper business. I knew nothing of it, except when I heard the rumor immediately succeeding the call for the National Executive Committee a week ago. Immediately after the election of 1888 I thought of resigning for the reason that the duties of chairman are laborious and exacting, and interfere with my Senatorial work. Objections were made, however, and the idea was abandoned."

WAS KIDNAPPING INTENDED?

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN NORTH PLAINFIELD.

Ernest Huegel and His Brother Come Out From New York With the Alleged Intention of Kidnapping one of Gustav Sutterlin's children—Both Men Arrested After a Desperate Struggle.

A romantic story was brought to light in North Plainfield, yesterday afternoon, which is likely to cause trouble of a very serious nature. It is alleged that Ernest Huegel and his brother, Reinhardt, two Germans, came out from New York yesterday with the avowed determination to kidnap Gustav Sutterlin's six-year-old daughter, but the men were foiled in the attempt, and both of them now occupy cells in the borough lockup.

The facts in the case are these: Some time prior to 1884, Huegel, who is a nephew of Sutterlin, and was then an ployee of the latter, went to New York, where, it is said, he joined Mrs. Sutterlin and the two were subsequently married. In due course of time Mr. Sutterlin secured a divorce from his wife, and he was awarded the custody of the children. On the 18th of November, 1884, Huegel and Mrs. Sutterlin came to Plainfield and went to Sutterlin's home on Green Brook road. While there, it is claimed, Huegel assaulted Mr. Sutterlin and the woman ran off with the child. At the time Justice McLaughlin issued a warrant for Huegel's arrest, but the man escaped and did not return again until yesterday.

About three years ago Mr. Sutterlin again succeeded in getting possession of his child, but whether by fair or foul means is not known.

Yesterday the two men went to a house on Steiner place, directly adjoining Mr. Sutterlin's premises, and as soon as their presence was noticed Mr. Sutterlin notified the borough officials. The old warrant was procured, and Special Marshal George Becker was deputized to serve it. When the officer arrived at the house, and stated his mission, a desperate fight ensued. The two men set upon him, but he bravely held his own, and with the assistance of Special Marshal Pangborn and others who happened to be near by, the two men were safely lodged in the borough lockup. Last evening the prisoners were served in their cells with additional warrants, charging them with resisting the officers.

The men will have a hearing before Justice Hardy this afternoon.

A New Band of Mercy.

A Band of Mercy has been organized in the Peace street meeting house of Friends under the title of the "Plainfield Friends' First Day School Band of Mercy," and by the election of Aaron M. Powell as President, Nathan Harper Vice President, Ella U. Osborne Secretary, Robinson Pound Treasurer, and an Executive Committee of twenty one. The first meeting was held yesterday and developed earnest interest.

Bands of Mercy originated in Massachusetts, and have spread throughout the United States until now many thousands, both young and old, are recorded as active members, The pledge is simple but effective, reading thus—"I will try to be kind to all harmless living creatures, and try to protect them from cruel usage," which bespeaks practical christianity, encouraging as it does the spirit and practice of kindness to not only the dumb creation, but to all human beings. "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy."

The Reform Hall Meeting.

A goodly concourse met in Reform Hall last evening, President Harper occupied the chair, music was rendered by the regular choir under the leadership of Mr. King, and Brother E. Lanphere invoked the divine blessing.

The Rev. Dr. Rodman, the expected speaker for the evening, being prevented from attending, the President threw the meeting open for general remarks, which elicited several very practical and highly interesting testimonials on behalf of total abstinence, some of them being from men who had experienced the evils of liquor drinking and boldly proclaimed the beneficial results gained by taking and keeping the Reform Hall pledge.

"The Mistakes of Moses."

That will be the subject of Mr. H. L. Hasting's lecture under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., at the First Baptist church, to-morrow evening. Mr. Hastings is spoken of as a very superior lecturer—able, ready, sharp and humorous. The power of his voice is remarkable and in his finest passages his utterances are so powerful, vigorous and clear as to please and interest all of his hearers. In manner and matter he is equally good. Admission to the lecture is free, and all are welcomed.

A Charitable Act.

At the suggestion of Mr. Bauersachs, quite a respectable collection was taken at the 9:30 o'clock meeting at Reform Hall, yesterday, also at Mr. Cleaver's morning service. The object was to assist a family who have been severely afflicted by sickness, with the head of the family unable to work at his regular business.

At a recent meeting of the Y. W. C. T. U., the following officers were elected for the year beginning May 20:

Superintendent—Mrs. Wm. Taylor.
Vice President—Miss Grace Lewis.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

James McNally, an Employee at Pond's Meets With a Horrible Accident at Dunellen, Early Yesterday Morning.

Word was received at Muhlenberg Hospital, about three o'clock yesterday morning, stating that a man had been hurt by the cars at Dunellen, and asking that the patient be admitted to the Hospital for treatment. Soon after the man was brought down in a wagon, and he was recognized as one James McNally, an employee at the Pond Machine Tool Company's works. The man presented a horrible spectacle, the flesh being literally torn from his right leg, from the hip down and the bone being badly crushed. The patient lingered along in great agony until eleven o'clock yesterday, when he died. Nine physicians held a consultation at the hospital during the morning but the man was too weak from shock and loss of blood to even take stimulants.

McNally told the hospital authorities that he had been to Cranford during the day, and missing the last train home he boarded a coal train, and that while attempting to alight from the train at Dunellen, he was thrown under the cars. He was 32 years of age, and leaves a wife in the Old Country.

Mr. C. E. Tyler, the late able teacher of the Berean class, was at Warren Mission chapel, yesterday afternoon, and spoke a few cheering words to the class and school. He extended his hand and heart to all, and blessed the mission in his usual eloquent and highly appreciative style.

James Evans, aged 27 years, and until recently an employee at the Potter Press works, died at his home, No. 2 Spooner avenue, on Saturday afternoon, after a lingering illness from consumption. The funeral took place from the house, this afternoon at one o'clock, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck officiating. Interment was made at Lebanon, N. J.

The Alumni Association of Elmira College, for New York and vicinity, met at Clark's in 23d street, on Saturday last. An elaborate dinner was provided, where some twenty or more of the ladies met and welcomed the Rev. Dr. VanNorden, the newly elected President of the college. Miss Delano from the High school and Miss Flora Petrie represented Plainfield.

Another Mad Dog.

About noon yesterday a white bull dog, said to belong to man on Broadway, made his appearance on Cottage place, causing fear and consternation among the residents of that thoroughfare. The animal showed signs of the rabies, growling and snapping at everything he came in contact with. The brute bit two goats in that neighborhood, one of which, belonging to John Heffern, was afterward shot. The dog also tackled a calf, but did not bite it.

The supposed mad dog was followed to the corner of Front and Berckman streets by Special Officer Hope and John Peterson, where the latter shot the dog.

—The rain storm last evening interfered materially with the attendance at the various churches.

THE SHELVING GAVE WAY.

An Accident at the City Pharmacy Which Creates Considerable Excitement.

At twenty minutes before two o'clock yesterday morning, as night-watchman Benj. Wright was making his rounds along West Front street, he noticed that the interior of the City Pharmacy was filled with smoke. He hastily notified one of the clerks who boards on the opposite side of the street, and the latter soon responded to the call.

Meanwhile Dr. Charles Thiers, who occupies rooms over the pharmacy, was awakened by a stifling odor in his rooms, and he also gave an alarm. Mr. L. W. Randolph, the proprietor, and Chief Doane of the Fire Department were soon on the spot, and a hurried examination disclosed the fact that the shelving in the passage way leading from the store to the cellar had fallen down with a crash, breaking a number of vessels containing acids. The smoke arising from the acids filled the store, and led the night watchman to belive the place was on fire.

A generous application of marble dust by the proprietor, soon allayed all fears, and in an hour's time the building was free from smoke.

Gately and His Men Shut Out.

Hundreds were present on the grounds of the Crescent League, Saturday afternoon, to see the home team stand up against their old pitcher Gately and the rest of a picked nine from the New York College of Deaf Mutes.

Some cranks had thought the Crescents should have engaged Gately this year. But Saturday changed their minds. This year's Crescents are traveling too hot a pace for men like Gately. That crack pitcher was knocked out of the box Saturday in just three innings. Six safe hits, one of which was a home run, was the total. Another pitcher was substituted in the fourth inning, but he did not fare much better.

Want of space postpones publication of the detailed score until to-morrow. The score by innings was:

Crescents	1	5	3	5	4	0	0	0	*	—18

Run a Needle in His Finger.

Mr. Michael J. Coyne, the tailor, in Mr. A. C. Horton's store on West Front street, met with a mishap on Saturday afternoon, which will deprive him of the use of his left hand for some time to come. He was working on a Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine when a No. 8 needle pierced the nail and third finger of the hand, breaking the needle into three distinct parts. Dr. Probasco succeeded in removing the broken pieces, after which he dressed the wound.

Prizes were awarded to the successful competitors in the various branches of the school work.

Fined Five Dollars and Costs.

Newton Honeyman appeared before Justice Hardy, in North Plainfield, on Saturday evening, to answer a charge of assaulting a lad named Drake. He was fined five dollars and costs. It appears that Mr. Honeyman was driving a spirited stallion along Craig place, on Friday afternoon, when the boy threw stones at him, which led to the alleged assault.

Emma Day Did Not Die.

Emma Day, the young Summit firebug who twice attempted suicide by swallowing laudanum in Newark last week, was committed to jail Saturday night for sixty days in order to give her a chance to realize her position. She is evidently demented, and an examination of her mental state will be held.

Killed at Bound Brook.

An unknown colored man was struck and instantly killed by a fast freight train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad at the main crossing in Bound Brook on Saturday night. The man was walking on the track, and his body was literally cut to pieces.

Says the House is Poorly Constructed.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—"Why is Music Hall not better patronized?" This question is easily answered. It is because of the badly designed plan on which the building is constructed. Any one setting a few seats back from the stage hears the actors as though they spoke with their mouths full of mush, and as it is not every one that can get a reserved seat and a great many persons are undecided about going to an entertainment until the last moment, and then perhaps reason like the writer, that it is too late to get a reserved seat and knowing the utter impossibility of hearing, hence they stay at home. When the association fills up the "hole in the wall" in the front of the building and lowers the ceiling from six to eight feet and covers the same with half-inch Norway pine the hall will be better patronized.

The "Amphion" Opening To-night.

The Australian Folly Troupe open at Amphion Hall, to-night, and promise a performance of rare excellence, at popular prices. Seats are selling rapidly at Shaw's pharmacy, and we would advise those intending to witness the initial performance in the new hall to secure places at once. The Sisters Coulson will make their last appearance in America, this week, as they sail for Europe at the conclusion of their engagement here to fill a season in London at the Aquarium. The great Crowley shortly goes to Australia, so it will be a last opportunity to see this astonishingly clever performer.

Geyer and Lord, The Healey's, Professor Binke, Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, Vera Nobrega, will be at their best to-night. The Boxing Dogs promise much merriment, and as they spar for points only, there is no danger of a "knock out" to cause interference by Captain Grant.

Still a Patient at the Hospital.

James Sherlock, the young man who was last week committed to Muhlenberg Hospital, pending an investigation regarding his sanity, is still a patient there under lock and key. The man has been closely watched and his actions carefully noted, but the attendants have found him apparently rational at all times. Unless other symptoms are shown within a few days, the man will be discharged from that institution.

The Royal Hungarian Government Wine of Budapest, Hungary.

There are no vineyards on the face of the Globe which produce finer grades of wines than do those of Hungary, and Hungarian Wines are becoming fast the leading wines of this country, as in Europe.

The Red Wines of Hungary (Clarets) are famed throughout the World for their marvelous bouquet and strength-giving properties. No French claret, even of the highest quality, can be compared with any of the better grades of Hungarian clarets. The same can be said of the White Hungarian Wines in comparison with Rhine Wines or Haut Sauternes of France.

Little needs to be said in praise of the World-famed Tokay, "The King of Wines," which virtually has no rival. This wine is particularly recommended by the medical faculty, of both hemispheres, as invaluable in impaired digestion, in sustaining the sick and aged, and restoring the convalescent to health and vigor.

This recognition on the part of physicians has created a demand and built up an increasing trade in them, inducing some unscrupulous persons, with more of the commercial instinct than of integrity, to substitute other and inferior products for Hungarian Wines. These facts have come to the notice of the Hungarian Government, and in order to overcome this falsification, and protect its great industry, which is also its great pride, has established at Budapest (the seat of government) immense Government Wine Cellars, for the inspection, selection, storage, bottling and certification of the higher grades of wine grown in that country.

The thus certified wines are shipped exclusively in bottles, and as a proof of their purity, the Government Coat of Arms is impressed on each cap, and a Protection Label so placed around the neck of each bottle that it must be destroyed when the cap is removed.

Mr. E. P. Thorn, No. 17 Park avenue, has been appointed exclusive agent for these wines for Plainfield.

We Need Andy More in Plainfield.

(From the Hunterdon Democrat.)

Bound Brook is another dog-cursed town. They beat Dudley's famous "blocks of five" for they roam the streets in packs of twenty, as we learn from The Chronicle, and that is a paper that will not lie. Its editor is a Mason and its staff a Reed that falsehood cannot shake or swerve from the straight ways. Last week, on Wednesday, the eye of The Chronicler fell upon twelve vagrant and mangy curs on Main street that were chasing and barking at horses as they passed along. In despair the writer cries out: "Let something be done to lessen the danger to human life by these curs." Flemington can help Bound Brook out. It can send Anderson J. Closson with his gun. His record as a dog catcher has not been broken this season. Will you take him—and furnish the powder and shot? We think he'll go, for he admits that he "is a frail man and prone to wander!"

Does This Apply to Plainfield?

Postmaster-General Wanamaker has ordered a general record made of the amount of mail handled in post offices and in the railway mail service for seven days, beginning this morning at six o'clock.

—At the present time there is great demand for small houses in this city.

—In the gentle Springtime people should be on their guard against traveling swindlers who swarm out into the country as soon as the warm weather comes, with all the fakes and traps for catching the unwary that can be thought of, and more too. Buy nothing whatever, from such persons, but patronize the home dealers.

No Change in Boston.

BOSTON, May 5.—There is no change in the carpenters' strike in this city, though the men see in it nothing to lower their confidence of success but rather a few things to increase that confidence.

5,000 at Cronin's Funeral.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Fully 5,000 people attended the ceremony of placing the body of the late Dr. Cronin in its last resting place at Calvary Cemetery. The floral display was magnificent and the exercises were touching. It was the first anniversary of his murder.

A MONSTER MEETING

Half a Million London Toilers in Hyde Park.

NO DISTURBANCE REPORTED.

Michael Davitt and John Burns Among the Speakers.

Eight Hours the Theme—Trades Union Men and Socialists Together—150 Bands of Music in the Procession—No Interference by the Police—A French Socialist Makes a Fiery Speech.

LONDON, May 5.—Yesterday should become a memorable one in the history of demonstrations on the part of the laboring classes of England, for it has never been equalled since the days of the monster outpourings of the people which characterized the reform movement of 1867.

The most moderate estimate of the number of people taking part in the Hyde Park meetings yesterday is half a million, of which two hundred thousand came in the procession and three hundred thousand gathered at will. This is a very conservative calculation, however, and some observers accustomed to gauge large crowds do not hesitate to assert that fully one million people participated in the demonstration. There were 150 bands of music in the processions.

A Three-Headed Affair.

The affair was a three-headed one, the largest number of men being under the leadership of the Trades Council—a distinctively non-Socialistic body. A somewhat less numerous contingent acknowledged the leadership of the Central Committee, which leans strongly toward Socialism, while a third and relatively small division was under the control of the out and out Socialistic organization known as the Social Democratic Federation. All possibility of strife or friction among the various bodies had been avoided by careful previous arrangements, and for once people of all shades of opinion on the labor question joined in a common movement.

Passing the Aristocratic Quarter.

In passing Westminster Abbey and Buckingham Palace the bands banged wildly as if in defiance of those aristocratic precincts; and it is probable that many a shudder was thus caused which could not have been produced by clubs and stones. When all the marchers had reached the park the scene was an imposing one. The plainness of garb characterizing the assemblage as a whole was largely offset by the gay banners and by the surprising prevalence of personal decorations in the shape of bright ribbons, rosettes, etc., some being the badges of the unions, others impromptu embellishments.

Few Violent Speeches.

The best speakers were those furnished by the Central Committee, including the more noted of the moderate Socialistic leaders. La Fargue, a Frenchman, whose chief claim to distinction is based on his distant relationship to the late Karl Marx, was one of the few speakers who indulged in violent language. He declared that France was ruled by a syndicate of sweaters and swindlers who should be swept away. He admitted that the English people possessed more power than the French to bring about reform peaceably.

The speakers included Mr. Davitt, Mr. Cunninghame Graham, John Burns, Thomas Mann, Benjamin Tillet, Mrs. Aveling and Annie Besant.

The Police Did Not Interfere.

Groups of men continued to arrive long after darkness had put an end to the speaking. The day was an orderly one, despite the thronged condition of the streets. The police did not intefere in any way with the processions or meetings, except to put a veto upon an attempt to lead an elephant through the streets as part of the turnout. The only arrests were those of thieves, who were out in great force, their prey being naturally the spectators on the sidewalks rather than the humble mechanics in the streets.

Altogether the demonstration was a creditable one to the great eight-hour movement.

An American Burglar in Demand.

PARIS, May 5.—Billy Porter, the distinguished American burglar, whose term of imprisonment in France will soon expire, is "wanted" for an exhibition of his skill in Munich some time since, performed in a manner which, at the time, was the envy of all his professional rivals. He is working hard to avoid an enforced trip to German soil on his release. His counsel express confidence that they can relieve him from the dreaded visit, but counsel are naturally sanguine in such cases, particularly when their clients are provided with the sinews of war, or law, and the Bavarian authorities will probably secure him a long residence in that country.

Germany's Call on the Reichstag.

LONDON, May 5.—A dispatch from Berlin says the Government has decided to call upon the Reichstag at its approaching session for a supplementary credit grant of four million marks. The demand is made necessary by reason of extraordinary expenditures in connection with the prosecution by Major Wissman of German interests in East Africa.

Social Revolution at Barcelona.

MADRID, May 5.—The industrial situation in Spain has rapidly assumed a most threatening aspect. The latest advices from Barcelona say the position in that country is one which presents many of the sinister phases of social revolution.

The Outlook is Threatening.

PARIS, May 5.—The Mayor of Roubaix has asked for re-enforcements, and 800 dragoons were sent there. Cavalry are patrolling the streets. Though no outbreak has yet occurred the outlook is threatening.

A White Teacher Weds an Indian.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—Miss Sensabaugh, a teacher in the Educational Home here, was married to one of the pupils, a fool-blooded Indian, who took the name of Alexander Ransom when he became a pupil. The bridegroom is of the Mohawk tribe, 27 years old, and has learned the harness maker's trade during his five years in the Home.

LYNCHED BY A MOB

A Young Negro's Desperate Fight for His Life.

HE WAS RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

Five Hundred Shots Fired Into His Cell Before He Was Killed.

He Had Been Sentenced to Death for Assault but Was Respited—A Governor Held Responsible by the Lynchers. A Notice Pasted on a Tree that Wives and Daughters Will be Protected.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 6.—Will Leaphart, the young negro convicted of criminally assaulting Miss Rosa Cannon, a white girl of 16, and sentenced to be hanged on April 11; but who obtained a respite, was lynched at 2 a. m.

The accounts indicate that the lynchers succeeded in entering the cell after shooting Leaphart once, and then were almost compelled to continue the shooting on account of his desperate resistance.

A witness of the occurrence says that the men went directly to the jail, after securing the keys, unlocked the main door and entered door after door until Leaphart's cell was reached. This they could not open with the keys. Leaphart watched the mob, and, realizing that he would be killed, seized a strong iron rod and awaited the attack. As the lynchers shot through the grating of his cell, he fought like a maniac, wounding one of the party. Some 500 shots were poured into the cell, and the man was literally riddled with bullets, which were picked up afterward in the room by handfuls.

Pasted on a tree in front of the jail was the following:

"Governor Richardson and Judge Wallace are responsible for lynch law in Lexington County. Our wives and daughters must and shall be protected at any and every hazard."

In the cell with Leaphart was another prisoner named Forster, a bogus detective, who got the first wound in the fray, being shot through the arm. Forster shouted out: "Gentlemen, if you don't want to kill us both, for God's sake let me out."

Eighty-Year-Old Joseph Sheetz Believed to Have Committed Suicide.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—Joseph Sheetz, aged 80 years, a member of the Germantown Poor Board and a trustee and sexton of the Dunkard Church there, died in the morning from the effects of of an overdose of opium, taken, it is believed, with suicidal intent. Three weeks ago, Sheetz, who was a widower, married Miss Mamie Johnstone, 27 years old, and the marriage caused a great stir, for the reason that several other women claimed that the venerable groom was engaged to them. After the marriage Sheetz expressed himself to several persons as being very unhappy, and more than once spoke of ending his troubles by committing suicide.

CRUELTY TO CHILDREN.

Boys and Girls Whipped, Choked and Pinched at a State Home.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 6.—The legislative joint committee appointed by the General Assembly to investigate the charges preferred against the management of the State Home at Elmhurst, has commenced taking testimony.

Mrs. Welcome H. Foster, a former nurse, testified at length to the cruel treatment of the boys, Eddie Young, Daniel Cook and others by Superintendent Healy, and said that she had been ordered to stifle the cries of the tortured youngsters by placing her hands over their mouths, and by choking them. Mrs. Foster also testified that the milk provided for the children was skimmed before being served and the cream sent to Superintendent Healy's table.

Miss Hastings, a former teacher, testified to cruel whipping, choking and pinching of girls.

Mrs. Hastings, also formerly employed in the Home, testified to cruel treatment of boys.

GOV. HILL'S VIEWS.

He Sends a Message to the Legislature About Contested Election Cases.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 6. — Governor Hill sent a message to the Legislature suggesting that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the people of the State for the transfer from the Legislature to the courts of the power of deciding contested election cases. He also recommends action to bring the subject before Congress, with a view to securing ultimately a similar amendment to the Federal Constitution.

He declares that four out of every five contested election cases in Legislatures and Congress are decided on purely partisan grounds, greatly to the scandal of justice.

He cites as a precedent the action of the British Parliament in voluntarily renouncing in 1868 in favor of the courts the right it had claimed for three centuries of deciding such cases for itself.

The Vandergrift Poisoning Case.

MT. HOLLY, N. J., May 6. — In the trial of Mrs. Vandergrift for attempting to poison her son, the defendant testified that the croton oil she bought was all used on her corns. She denied the damaging statements made by Dr. Hull on the witness stand. H. S. Haines, a real estate expert, testified that Mrs. Vandergrift's property was worth over $30,000. The defence then rested its case. The arguments will be heard to-morrow.

A committee was appointed to secure this end.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The River and Harbor Bill Put Back Another Month.

FUNERAL OF SENATOR BECK.

Services Held in the Senate Chamber To-Day and the Body Taken to Kentucky.

The Republican Caucus Decide on Twelve Days' Talk for the Tariff Bill—The National Committee Meeting Postponed. An Opinion that Congress Will Adjourn About the Middle of July.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The interruption to the proceedings of Congress resulting from the death of Senator Beck is likely to strike deeper than was expected. It puts back the River and Harbor bill from immediate consideration, and may result in its being permanently shelved. This bill will now have to wait at least another month for its chance, and all the indications are against it.

The Senate Silver bill is also much disarranged by Mr. Beck's death, but there is believed to be a probability that the Senate will talk silver while the House talks tariff, and that both measures may be brought to a head about the same time.

SENATOR BECK'S FUNERAL.

Services To-Day in the Senate Chamber. The Body Taken to Kentucky.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The Committee of Arrangements of the two Houses of Congress for the funeral of Senator Beck met the pall-bearers, at the house of Hon. W. C. P. Breckenridge, 213 East Capitol street, at 9:30 a. m. The honorary pall-bearers on the part of the Senate were Messrs. Morrill, Sherman, Allison, Hale, McPherson, Vest, Pugh and Gibson. At 10 o'clock the body was taken to the marble room of the Senate and the remains were viewed by the public until 11:30 o'clock. The public passed through the reception room to the east door of the marble room, and passed out through the west door of the Senate lobby.

After the two Houses assembled in the Senate Chamber the body was taken there by the pall-bearers and the Committee of Arrangements.

The doors of the Senate wing of the Capitol were open to the public at 10:15 a. m. The diplomatic gallery was reserved until 12 o'clock for the diplomatic corps. The families of the President and Vice-President used the reserved seats in the east gallery. The reserved galleries were occupied by the actual members of families of Senators, members of the House of Representatives and of Justices of the Supreme Court and members of the Cabinet. The reporters' gallery was occupied exclusively by the members of the press.

At 1 o'clock, upon the announcement of the presiding officer, the clergy conducted the funeral ceremonies, Dr. Butler, Chaplain of the Senate, and Rev. Mr. Butler, an ex-Chaplain of the Senate and a personal friend of the deceased Senator, officiating.

As soon as the ceremonies were concluded the funeral procession formed and marched to the Baltimore & Potomac station in the following order: The clergy, the Committee of Arrangements, the hearse, the family and relatives, the Senate, the House of Representatives, officers of the Senate and House and the invited guests.

Twelve Days for Tariff Debate.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—A caucus of Republican members of the House was held last evening. It was agreed to postpone consideration of the River and Harbor bill until the Tariff bill has been disposed of. Several propositions concerning the time to be alloted for debate and voting on the Tariff bill were put forward. It was decided finally to allow four days for general debate, beginning to-morrow, and eight days for considering and voting on the amendments. This will bring the bill to a vote on May 20. Night sessions will be held on the four days of general debate.

Committee Meeting Postponed.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Republican Committee called at Washington to-morrow, has been postponed until the 12th inst., to suit the convenience of some of the members who could not come before the latter date.

Outsiders Paying Liberally That Which is Free to Plainfield's People.

At the Board of Education meeting, last evening, President Kirkner and Trustees Murray, Hurlbut, Babcock and Probasco were present. Besides the business transacted as published elsewhere, the Board received from Principal Goodrich $479, the amount of tuition fees paid by those attending the public schools in Plainfield, but living outside the district.

The total amount for the year will be about $1,800, of which $1,100 is from scholars in the High School alone. This latter amount pays the salary of two teachers, and is so much clear gain. The outside pupils are only admitted where there is room, and there is no more cost or expense than if they stayed away.

An Exciting Runaway.

A team of black horres owned by one of the livery men in this city, ran away on Park avenue yesterday afternoon, but the driver got them under control when near the Park Avenue Baptist church. The horses were attached to a heavy coach in which were seated Mr. Thomas Burns and a young son of the late Chas. Aborn. The occupants report having had a most thrilling experience.

McVoy in the chair, and further completed the arrangements for the Memorial Day observances. On the Sunday preceding Decoration Day the Posts will attend divine services in the M. E. church, and the Rev. C. B. Mitchell will probably deliver the sermon.

It was also decided to change the time for holding the exercises in Music Hall to the forenoon. The Rev. Mr. Stewart of Easton will deliver the oration.

Additional members were added to the joint detail, and further arrangements will be made from time to time.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Dudley S. Miller returned from their wedding trip last evening.

Cards are out for a fete champetre on the lawns of the Hyde residence, May 17, in honor of young Mr. Hyde. The affair will probably be the most elaborate of its kind ever known in this vicinity.

Twenty-eight years ago yesterday, occurred the Battle of Williamsburg, and among the 200 New Jersey Second Brigade prisoners captured on that day, was Mr. Albert Runyon of this city.

The funeral of the late Martin V. B. Westerfield, who died on Thursday, took place from his late home on New street, Saturday morning at ten o'clock, the Rev. E. M. Rodman officiating. Interment was made in Fairview cemetery, at Westfield.

The wife of Samuel B. Underhill, died very unexpectedly, this morning, at their home on East Fifth street, corner of Sycamore. She was well yesterday, and full of anxiety about the illness of her daughter, Mrs Osborne, and full of consideration for the slight indisposition of her husband. Death is reported to be due to rheumatism of the heart. Besides her husband, the immediate relatives who survive her are three children: Mrs. Theodore Osborne, Mrs. John Christiani and Mr. Frank Underhill.

Mr. J. Augustus Hinchman, one of the best known Summer resort habitues and correspondents, is already at Netherwood for the season. Mr. Hinchman is a connoisseur of the most expert type when it comes to hotels, their service and their cuisine. He knows by experience every factor and environment necessary to the thorough success of a Summer resort and the utmost gratification of its guests. Mr. Hinchman says there is no place like Netherwood, and shows his impatience by taking up his residence there, already, at Woodside Cottage, where he awaits the opening of the Hotel on the 15th.

A Worthy Work Among the Young.

Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in Warren Mission took place the closing exercises of the Industrial school for the Summer months.

After a piano solo by Miss Florence Randolph, and a song by the school, the primer match was contested by three little girls—their knowledge of dressmaking, shirt making and sewing in general, showed how carefully they had been instructed. Miss Kittie Glen sang two solos in an acceptable manner. Miss Lilian Force and Miss Randolph rendered an instrumental duett.

The report of the year's work read by the Secretary, Miss Murray, showed the school to be in a most prosperous condition under Mrs. S. St. John McCutchen as Superintendent, and an efficient corps of teachers. After the distribution of prizes for the best piece of work from the various departments, an abundance of iced cream and cake were served. This school is a most worthy charity, and it is hoped when it is re-opened in the Fall, the difficulty it has had in securing teachers for the classes will be met by others interesting themselves in the good work.

The Twentieth Annual Commencement.

Preparations for the High School commencement exercises, are already under way. The date is Thursday evening, June 26. They will be held in Music Hall. School Trustee J. L. Hurlbut is to secure the speaker for the occasion. He has in view, President Gates of Rutgers College. The graduating class will number about twenty, but only half will deliver essays in public. Ingomar at Music Hall.

Much credit is due Wm. R. Mattox for his enterprise in inducing Marie Hubert Frohman to return here May 8, on which occasion the beautiful and romantic drama of Ingomar, will be the attraction with Marie Hubert Frohman as Parthenia. The story of the play is too well-known to require extended explanation but the version to be seen here, is entirely new and bright, many of the gloomy old-time and prosy situations being entirely elimimated thus lending additional interest to the production here. Of Marie Hubert Frohman's Parthenia too much cannot be said in the way of praise. Her impersonation of the sweet, gentle or loving maiden sacrificing self for parental love only to conquer the Barbarian by her magnetic power stands out more prominent than any character in her repertoire and an unusually fine performance will be seen. Everyone is supposed to be familiar with the story of "Ingomar" and those who have not yet seen the play should not omit being at Music Hall, next Thursday evening.

The Opening at Amphion Hall.

The performances being given this week at Amphion Hall are for the benefit of "Perseverance Lodge" Knghts of Pythias, and this worthy organization should receive most liberal patronage. The entertainment last night was a decided success. To see the Boxing Dogs, Sullivan and Kilrain, is worth the price of admission alone. Miss Healey's "buck" dancing took the house by storm. The handsome Coulson Sisters, received a triple encore. Without particularizing the entire entertainment was a go from start to finish. This evening Master Clifford Dunn will make his first appearance in conjunction with the other artists. Every amusement patron should respond heartily for the noble "Knights."

Failed to Pay Alimony.

Yesterday forenoon Vice Chancellor Green heard motions in the Chancellor's chambers in Newark. Among the motions made was one by Messrs Jackson & Codington of this city, to commit for contempt Wm. H. Stryker, the divorced husband of Mrs. Matilda Stryker, of this city, for failure to pay to her $3 per week alimony, as he was directed to do by the Chancellor, in 1887. Leonard Kalisch appeared for the defendant, and stated that his client was unable to pay alimony, as he now had another wife and three children. Decision was reserved.

The Grand Jurors from this city are Messrs J. G. Miller, S. C. Baker and J. Fred MacDonald.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

A LONG AND TEDIOUS SESSION.

But Little Business of Great Importance Transacted—The Usual Raft of Petitions and Communications Sent in—The Main Kick Last Evening Was on Adopting the Minutes of the Previous Meeting, Some of the Councilmen Changing Their Vote on the Resolution Ordering Morrison's Illegal Claim Paid—Many Other Matters Considered.

It is safe to say that the Council of 1890, as at present constructed, is at odds among its own members. Not a meeting has yet been held, where everything has been harmonious, and the meeting last evening was no exception to the rule. Before the minutes of the last meeting had been approved, some of the Councilmen expressed their desire to change their vote on the resolution which at the last meeting ordered the payment of an illegal claim of Thos. W. Morrison's. The chair declared that it was perfectly proper for a member to change his vote, and so ruled. Whereupon Mr. Newhall appealed from the chairman's decision. Of course the decision of the chair was sustained, Messrs Dunham, Johnston, Newhall and Rushmore voting in the negative. The minutes were finally adopted.

Peace and quiet was once more restored, when Mr. Hetfield was called to the chair, the President being obliged to take a seat in the circle on account of a severe cold.

Mr. Dunham then moved to change his vote on a certain liquor ordinance already gone into effect. The whole matter was out of order and the chair so declared it.

A communication was received from the Mayor nominating Chas. F. Glaentzer, P. Kelly and James Babbitt, the latter to serve as dog catcher. These nominations as special policemen were all confirmed.

The quarterly report of the City Physician was received and filed. Chief Doane of the Fire Department, reported as follows:

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN: I would respectfully report the apparatus of this department in good working order, and would recommend that the Committee on Fire and Buildings be authorized to have plans drawn by an architect for the remodeling of the engine and truck houses on West Second street, the cost of plans and superintendence not to exceed $100, the committee to receive from responsible builders, bids for doing the labor and furnishing the necessary material for the same, and submit them to the Council at its next meeting.

I would also recommend that the committee, with your Committee on Streets, be authorized to purchase five horses with suitable carts and harness, to be placed in the above named houses, the horses to be used in the day time to work on the streets of the city.

Respectfully submitted,
THADDEUS O. DOANE,
Chief P. F. D.

The Assessor communicated to Council the necessity of surveying in front of and numbering houses on certain new streets within the city limits. The matter was referred to the Street Committee. Likewise a communication from Noah W. Pike, calling attention to the property accumulated on his premises by the late Street Commissioner, with a request that the same be removed, and a casual reminder that the rent for the land for the year 1890 was yet due.

Messrs E. C. Mulford and others residing in the neighborhood of East Fourth and Richmond streets, petitioned the Council for better police protection. Referred.

Petitions were presented for crosswalks as follows, and they were referred to the Street Committee with power: One on the Northwesterly side of North avenue, at its intersection with Park Avenue; three on Grant avenne, at its intersection with South avenue, Third and Fourth streets, and one at Ninth street and Second place.

Mr. E. C. Mulford and others petitioned the Council to accept a portion of Kensington avenue, now laid out between La Grande and Putnam avenues. Referred to the Street Committee.

Messrs J. T. Vail, J. W. Johnson, S. A. Ginna and other Broadway property owners sent in a remonstrance against the establishment of a street railway system on that thoroughfare. Referred.

Mr. James McGinley asked for permission to raise the roof on a frame building owned by him at Third and Church streets. Referred.

A petition by Ellen Mullen to erect a two-story frame dwelling house on Fifth street, was referred with power.

The trustees of the Seventh Day Baptist church, petitioned Council for privilege to remove the church building to the lot at Madison avenue and Fifth street. Referred with power.

A petition was received from the street laborers, calling attention to the delay they experience in getting their pay, and asking that the pay roll be made out semi-monthly. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. J. M. Williams communicated to Council his proposition to repair the town clock for $60. The matter was referred.

The semi-annual report of the Corporation Counsel was ordered on file; and the monthly statements of the Treasurer and Collector were referred to the Finance Committee. The latter report showed the total collections for April to be $1,778.42.

The name of Geo. A. Hallock, as a duly elected member of Alert Hose Co., was presented by the Board of Engineers. Referred to the Fire and Building Committee.

Several applicatians for hack, cartmen and sprinkler's licenses, were presented, referred and subsequently granted.

Mr. C. Potter, Jr., asked the Council to adopt an ordinance compelling the laying of sidewalks on West Sixth street, between Division street and Central avenue. Referred to the Street Committee.

CLAIMS.

The usual batch of poor claims, bills for police services and for work on the streets were sent in and referred to the proper committees for certification. Later they were sent to the Auditing Committee. The other claims presented were as follows:

Fire Department—T. O. Doane, $42 00; Jno. Hetfield, 24 50; Pope & Hubbard, 33; Geo. Frazee 5; Geo. Conover, 41 66; B. F. Randolph, 2642; C. R. Hope, 5; C. F. Glaentzer, 5; American Saintas Co., Limited, 3 45; J. E. Waters, 6 25; F. B. Fine, 13 33; D. A. Woodhouse M'f'g Co., 15 32; A. M. Griffin, 28 74; Plainfield Gas Light Co., 18 23.

Miscellaneous—Plainfield Electric Light Co., $675 17; Rudolph Hering, 360; Alex. Titsworth, 38 50; John Johnson, 125; J. O. Nodyne, 106; R. A. Meeker, 90; V. W. Nash, 107 69; R. A. Meeker, 90; Plainfield Gas Co., 5 85; Andrew Manning, 91 25; Times, 34 90; T. W. Morrison, 38 60; Schwed Bros., 43 75; C. A. Marsh, 187 50.

Mr. Newhall, from the Street Committee, appointed to take into consideration the removal of the freight house, reported progress.

The same gentleman submitted report No. 3 of Engineer Hering. This with the two previous reports were referred to the Water Board. He also offered a resolution which prevailed, requesting the Fire and Building Committee and the Chief of the Fire Department to locate hydrants, and report the locations to the Council.

The Finance Committee reported back sundry bids from safe manufacturers, stating that a safe had been purchased from the Marvin company for $90 delivered.

Upon resolution adopted the Treasurer was authorized to borrow $300 from the general fund, for temporary use of the poor fund.

Mr. Rushmore introduced two ordinances, one defining the duties of the City Physician, and the other repealing certain ordinances, both of which were read twice and ordered engrossed and advertised.

NEW BUSINESS.

Under this heading Mr. Newhall introduced an ordinance, amending the sidewalk ordinance so as to make it obligatory for property owners to curb in front of their land. The ordinance was adopted on its second reading, and ordered engrossed and advertised.

A resolution by Mr. Rushmore, authorizing the clerk to provide a desk and desk room in the Street Commissioner's office for Engineer Hering, was amended so as to only allow the engineer the use of the room, he to furnish his own desk. The resolution was adopted as amended.

A communication was received from Messrs Emmons Bros., offering to dispose of certain land owned by them for $1,350. The land referred to is in a direct line with Orchard place, over which it is intended to pass, in laying out that thoroughfare as far East as New street.

Mr. Smith introduced an ordinance to open up Orchard place frem its present eastern terminus to New street; also one changing the grade on Belvidere avenue, both of which were adopted on the second reading, ordered engrossed and duly advertised.

The rules were suspended so as to allow the Water Board to report as correct the claim of Engineer Hering.

Mr. Rushmore called up the claim of the heirs of the late George P. Suydam for damages resulting to a valuable horse by breaking through a culvert on South Second street. He read a letter from the Corporation Counsel with reference to the matter, and the claim was finally compromised for $150.

Mr. Jenkins again called attention to the urgent necessity of immediate repairs to the New street sewer outlet. The matter was discussed at some length and referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. Newhall called up the tax ordinance and it was adopted on its final passage.

Mr. Gallup offered a resolution adopting the latter part of Chief Doane's report with reference to the Second street engine house. The resolution was adopted.

The Auditing Committee reported on the claims sent in during the evening, and they were ordered paid by warrant.

Council adjourned at 11 o'clock to meet again in special session on Monday evening next, when the license applications of Frank E. Miller and Frank Linke will be considered.

Election of Officers.

The annual meeting for the election of officers of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of the Trinity Reformed church, took place in the church yesterday afternoon, and resulted as follows, both the president and secretary being re-elected:

President—Mrs. Chas. P. Leggett.
1st Vice Pres—Mrs. Craig A. Marsh.
2d Vice Pres—Mrs. W. H. VanDeventer.
3d Vice Pres—Mrs. A. Swalm.
Treasurer—Mrs. W. J. E. Soe.
Secretary—Mrs. C. Frank French.

The society is in a good healthy condition, and much good work has already been accomplished.

An Early Closing Movement.

The furniture dealers will inaugurate the early closing movement. Beginning with this evening, all the furniture stores in this city will close at seven o'clock sharp, except on Saturday evenings.

North Plainfield's Health Board.

A regular meeting of the above-named board was held at the residence of Dr. J. H. Carman, last evening, with President T. L. Murphy in the chair. All the other members were present. Among the business transacted was the adoption of the scavenger ordinance.

Complaint was made to the Board to the effect that some of the practicing physicians have neglected to report certain cases of a contagious nature.

Health Inspector Bauersachs sent in his resignation, but action was deferred for a month.

The Secretary was requested to ask a co-op eration of the Health Board in abating the nuisance of permitting cesspools to empty in Green Brook. One case in particular was brought to the notice of the Board, where the water has become so polluted that cows will not drink it.

Two applications for scavenger's licenses were received and will be granted.

The Bi's Were Treated to Cream.

The moonlight run to Westfield, over the new county road, taken last night by 24 of the members of the Plainfield Bicycle club, led by Captain Martin, was thoroughly enjoyed by the participants. About a mile before reaching Westfield the party was joined by several members of the Union County Wheelmen of Westfield who escorted the Plainfielders about, taking them to the end of the new road, about 1½ miles beyond Westfield. On returning to Westfield one of the members of the Plainfield Bicycle club—Mr. Frederick Decker a resident of Westfield—did himself proud by treating the "boys" to a spread which he had arranged for them. The distance of the run was about 15 miles.

Only One More Flag Wanted.

The Board of Education has received a communication from Franklin Council, Junior Order of United American Mechanics, of this city, expressing that organization's desire to present an American flag to one of the public schools.

The Board accepted the offer with sincere appreciation of the liberality and commendability of the gift. The Secretary was instructed to inform the Council that either Bryant or Franklin school would float the flag from its roof.

IN A RUSSIAN TOMB

Capt. Schmidt Taken to the Czar's Mysterious Prison.

THERE IS NO ESCAPE BUT DEATH

Bitter Feeling Against Germany for Trying to Buy the Plans of Cronstadt.

Englishmen Discover Something About Colonization—Anarchists Explode a Bomb at Barcelona—Boulanger's Friends to Test Public Opinion—Bradlaugh and John Burns to Debate.

LONDON, May 6.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that Capt. Schmidt of the Russian Navy has been taken to Schlusselberg, the prison near Lake Ladoda, and it is doubtful whether he will ever be seen alive. The crime for which he has been removed to this living tomb was that he was discovered preparing a plan of the fortresses at Cronstadt for the German Government.

The military and police authorities are very much exercised over the discovery, and are doing their utmost to hush the matter up. The importance of the discovery is attested by the fact that Schmidt was hustled off to Schlusselberg, from which there is no escape but death, and the very valuable military information which he possesses is as useless as though he were dead.

It is whispered in diplomatic circles that the traitorous captain is now undergoing all the horrors of the torture chamber in the famous prison where he is confined, and it is seldom that a prisoner ever leaves this mysterious place alive. The horrors of the Spanish Inquisition, it is said, were in a measure mild compared with some of the tortures inflicted on those unfortunate Russians who have offended against the State and been discovered.

The latest news concerning the discovery is that the military attache of the German Legation is implicated, and the fact that Germany was the intending purchaser of the key to Russia has made the feeling against the Administration very bitter and very strong.

NO ROOM IN AMERICA.

The British Committee on Colonization Discover a Few Facts.

LONDON, May 6.—A select committee of the House of Commons on colonization has made the astounding discovery that only about 100,000 square miles of land suitable for settlement by emigrants remains in the United States. It came like a revelation to Englishmen, most of whom have been clinging to the belief that America was only half settled as well as only partially civilized.

The committee also announce that in Australia there are 500,000 square miles and in Manitoba 400,000 suitable for colonizing purposes.

The records show that since 1815 12,500,000 people have left the United Kingdom, and of these 9,000,000 since 1853, of which 7,000,000 were of British and Irish origin. Two-thirds of these emigrants went to the United States, whose population, if it increased in the same ratio as in the past 100 years would be at the end of another 100 years 1,000,000,000, or about 500 persons per square mile of the habitable portion of the country.

The total emigration had amounted to about one-half the excess of births over deaths in this country. This array of figures has convinced the committee that emigration from British Isles is no longer as desirable as formerly, and the committee will recommend in their report, that stimulated and assisted emigration be discontinued, except to Australia.

ANARCHISTS AT WORK.

A Dynamite Bomb Wrecks a Club House at Barcelona.

BARCELONA, May 6.—A dynamite bomb exploded near the Merchants and Facors' Club. The door and windows of the building were wrecked. It is known to be the work of anarchists, but as yet the police have been unable to discover the perpetrator of the outrage.

Boulanger's Friends to Make a Test.

PARIS, May 6.—In order to test the state of popular opinion in regard to Gen. Boulanger, M. Laguerre intends to resign and recontest his seat in the Chamber of Deputies, to which he was elected as an advanced Boulangist and an intimate personal friend of the General.

Bradlaugh and Burns to Debate.

LONDON, May 5.—Charles Bradlaugh having accepted the invitation of John Burns to debate the eight-hour question, the discussion will shortly take place in some large hall, which is sure to be filled to overflowing.

The King Fired the First Shot.

ROME, May 6.—The King and Queen, as well as all the members of the Cabinet, attended the opening ceremonies of the international rifle contests here. The King fired the five opening shots.

Home Rule for Ireland.

LONDON, May 6.—The Opposition intend to move in the House of Commons that the committee on the Irish Land Purchase bill be instructed to raise the question of home rule for Ireland.

Libel Damages for Davitt.

LONDON, May 6.—The Spectator has paid Mr. Michael Davitt the sum of £2500 with costs in confession of its recent libellous utterances against him.

Mayor Cleveland Sworn In.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 6.—Mayor Cleveland was sworn in for the sixth time as the chief executive of this city. This is the Mayor's third consecutive term, three of his terms having been served during the war. The Republicans have begun proceedings for a recount of the vote by which he was elected.

A Legacy for the Poor.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 6.—Several years ago Philip Maret died and among other legacies, left $130,000, the interest of which was to go to the city of New Haven upon the death of his daughter. The fund thus created was to be expended in the cause of the poor. The daughter is dead and it seems possible that the bequest will be refused by the city Government, as, under the conditions of the legacy, the funds would be entirely under the control of the ruling political party.

Opened by Cardinal Gibbons.

MANIACS IN A FIRE

An Insane Asylum Near Montreal Burned.

ONE HUNDRED INMATES PERISH.

The Poor Unfortunates Refused to be Rescued by the Firemen.

Several Nurses Among the Victims—A Terrible Sight Witnessed by Spectators. Lunatics Escape to the Woods—The Fire Discovered by an Inmate from Vermont—Loss Over a Million Dollars.

MONTREAL, May 7.—A calamity of a peculiarly appalling nature occurred at Longue Pointe, nine miles east of Montreal, in the destruction by fire of the insane asylum at that place.

A long line of gaunt towers and a mass of blazing debris are all that is left of the institution, and the terrible sights that were witnessed during the destruction of the building will never be forgotten by the spectators, though to the lunatics it was a time of supreme glee and in their delight they disported themselves amid the flames and waved their arms in turbulent satisfaction at the ruin that was wrought. Not until the walls tumbled about their heads were their maniacal screams silenced.

The Horror of the Situation.

The fire broke out at 11:30 a. m., and 20 minutes later a telegram was received in Montreal imploring assistance. The Mayor at once ordered engines to be dispatched. One engine and two reels were soon started, and they were quickly on the spot, but they might as well have remained home, for in five minutes they had exhausted the water supply.

The fire started in the second ward on the women's side of the upper story, and its spread was hastened by longitudinal ventilating shafts connected with the towers. The flames soon appeared through the roof in the center of each tower. When the firemen arrived one tower had fallen, and flames were spreading out everywhere. Streams were laid on, and while they lasted some good work was done, but that was for a very brief space, and then the horror of the situation was revealed.

Rescuing the Inmates.

At the windows the maniacs could be seen peering through the bars, grinning and jabbering until they were enveloped in the flames and compelled to release their hold and drop back into the cauldron. When the firemen found they were powerless to save the building they turned their attention to the inmates and burst in the doors with axes. Chief Bennett says it was such a sight as no firemen ever before witnessed. In the hall he entered there were 25 patients, and at his approach they huddled and clasped themselves together like a pack of beasts. He seized the nearest, "But," said the chief, "I could no more separate the crowd than I could separate the parts of one body." He tugged at them until the fire darted into their garments and enfolded them in a shroud of flame.

Four Nuns Perish.

One of the Tertiary nuns, Sœur Marie, had been asleep in the sick infirmary on the fifth floor and to her rescue hurried three others. They seized their companion and bore her in a blanket to the staircase, but there they were met by a sheet of flame and all four perished. Their names were: Sœurs Marie, Demouris, Egilbert and Lumiene. None of them was over 20 years of age. All came from parishes below Quebec. The Sisters worked heroically.

Dazed With Horror.

To add to the horrors of the scene, the rain was pouring down in torrents, and the frightened inmates, dazed with horror, were huddled around in groups, shuddering and moaning. The Sisters and men connected with the asylum worked like heroes to rescue the inmates from their terrible position. Many a Sister lost all thought of herself, but, filled with a noble heroism, rushed to the cells of the inmates and literally dragged out the inmates, who, in many cases, made frantic by the flames, refused to move.

The Death Roll.

The number of dead is now purely a matter of conjecture and is not likely to ever be ascertained, since no other record is kept than the asylum books, and these were destroyed in the fire. Taking into consideration all the evidence from firemen, half-sane inmates, the Sisters in charge, by-standers and personal observation, it is a conservative estimate to say that 100 victims met their death in the flames, although some assert that the number is 200.

Discovered by a Vermonter.

The fire was first discovered by J. A. McKenna of Burlington, Vt., who only entered the asylum in the morning for treatment for loss of memory. He was one of the first to notice the outbreak.

He was sitting in his room after being examined, and felt the plaster on the wall growing warm. He sprang to his feet and ran out, shouting "fire." He became confused, and after being nearly smothered with smoke gained the door.

Hundreds Still Missing.

Hundreds who escaped from their keepers to the woods are still missing. Those who were removed in safety are now in the various institutions throughout the city. Seven nuns are reported missing. The Government, it is understood, will take steps toward rebuilding the asylum at once.

The Burned Asylum.

The St. Jean de Dieu Asylum, commonly called Longue Pointe, was founded in 1873. The building consisted of the main edifice and of four smaller buildings connected by wings and had a frontage of 630 feet. The principal building was six stories high, other portions of the building five.

The Sisters of Providence spent in founding and organizing this institution $1,132,000 of which sum $700,000 was spent in buildings.

There were 164 trained nurses employed in various departments of the institution.

FAVOR HORSE RACING.

The New Jersey Senate Passes a Bill Legalizing Poolselling.

TRENTON, N. J., May 7.—The sensation of the day here was the passage by the Senate of the Racetrack bill, in a very much amended shape. The bill now permits winter horse racing.

The bill also provides that racing may be carried on on any track during 55 days in each year, and legalizes poolselling and furthermore requires all racetrack associations to pay to the State an annual tax of 5 per cent. of the gross receipts.

The bill is entirely new in its provisions. Legalizing poolselling is considered to be quite an extreme step for the New Jersey Senate to take.

The bill now goes back to the House, where it originated, for a concurrence in the amendments. There will be a big fight over it there. It passed the Senate by a vote of 11 to 2, Bue and Martin voting in the negative.

His New Haven Wife Has Filed a Petition for Divorce.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 7.—Mrs. Yan Phon Lee, the young New Haven girl who in 1887 married Yan Phou Lee shortly after his graduation from Yale, has filed a petition for a divorce alleging adultry.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

ELIZABETHPORT, N. J., May 7. — The Singer Sewing Machine Works here, covering two acres of ground, were almost wholly destroyed by fire last night, together with a considerable amount of the railroad property adjoining. The works employed about 3,000 hands.

The loss is heavy, but is covered by insurance. Owing to muddy roads two fire engines became stalled and their absence greatly diminished the effectiveness of the fire department.

A Novel Breach of Promise Suit.

BARNSTABLE, Mass., May 7.—In the Superior Court has begun the breach of promise suit for $50,000 damages brought by Mrs. Eliza B. Dolliver against William M. Atkins, both of Provincetown. Foul Play Suspected.

RONDOUT, N. Y., May 7. — The body of Harris Levine, a young Jewish peddler, which was found in the Hudson River off Milton, was brought here for burial. Only a small sum of money was taken from his clothes when the body was found. A large wallet containing bank bills and packages containing jewelry and dry goods valued at $200, which he had when he left here on March 10, are missing. Foul play is suspected.

Had to Pay $3,000.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 7. — The cases for damages against Elbridge Turner, brought by James and Eliza Quigley, were settled in the Supreme Court by Turner paying $3,000 and costs. The suits were brought in consequence of Quigley's falling into a ditch dug by Turner, also for malicious slander and for an assault upon Mrs. Quigley by Turner.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., May 7.—James Davis, aged 53, an engineer on the Lucy Furnace Railroad, was shot and fatally wounded by his friend William Say. Fought Twenty-Six Rounds.

NEW ORLEANS, May 7.—After 26 rounds of terrific fighting before the Audubon Club, Tommy Morgan, of Chicago, fell like a log under the right-hand smashing administered by Tommy Miller, of Indianapolis. This fight was for a purse of $600 and was witnessed by about 1,000 people.

M'KINLEY AND MILLS

They Lead Off To-Day in the Debate on the Tariff Bill.

SILVER DISCUSSED BY SENATORS.

A Strong Sentiment in Favor of Uniting on the Jones Bill.

No Conclusion Reached by the Senate Committee on the Pension Dependent Bill — Secretary Tracy's House Sold. Speaker Reed Will Fill the Vacant Committee Places.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The tariff debate commenced in the House to-day, Mr. McKinley, chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, opened the debate for the Republicans, and Mr. Mills will reply on behalf of the minority of the committee.

The debate will be closed for the Democrats by ex-Speaker Carlisle. Mr. McKinley will make the concluding speech.

Besides the speeches of Mr. McKinley and Mr. Mills to-day, Mr. Burrows and Mr. McMillin will address the House this evening. Mr. Baynes' is the next speech on the programme, and Mr. Flower will follow him. The other members of the committee will follow in their order, Democrats and Republicans alternating.

Mr. McKenna has notified Chairman McKinley that he will not address the House in favor of his minority report on sugar during the debate.

SENATORS TALK SILVER.

A Strong Sentiment in Favor of Uniting on the Jones Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Another meeting of the Senate Republican Caucus Silver Committee was held in the room of the Committee on Finance. Nine of the thirteen members of the committee were present, the absentees being Senators Price, Manderson, McMillan and Mitchell. The committee was in session several hours without coming to any conclusion.

There developed a strong sentiment in favor of uniting on the Jones bill, the measure now on on the Senate calendar. The House caucus bill differs from this in only one particular. The committee will hold another meeting in the near future. In the meantime the Senate will take up the bill for the admission of Wyoming into the Union.

The Dependent Pension Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The Senate Committee on Pensions held a meeting to consider the substitute adopted by the House for the Senate Dependent Pension bill. No conclusion was reached and the committee postponed action until Tuesday of next week. The committee will likely report a disagreement and ask a conference with the House.

Secretary Tracy's House Sold.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The house of Secretary Tracy in this city, in which his wife met her death, in the fire which almost destroyed it, was sold for $30,700. It cost him, with improvements, $75,000.

GERMANY FOR PEACE.

Kaiser William Opens the Reichstag in an Able Address.

BERLIN, May 7.—The usual scenes were enacted at the opening of the Reichstag. Kaiser William delivered an able address. He declared that the efforts to maintain the peace of Europe are being persevered in and will be continued. The Emperor expressed his confidence in his ability to command the confidence of the great powers in Germany's desire to maintain pacific relations with all the world.

Speaking further, he said that in the cultivation of defensive alliances, and in the perfection of her military resources, Germany performs a duty which aims to secure continental peace. To accomplish this the government will ask for a new military credit.

The Emperor then announced that the government will introduce into the Reichstag industrial legislation looking to the amelioration of the condition of the working class.

It is stated that the main features of the new labor bill to be introduced by the government are the prohibition of Sunday holiday manifestations, Sunday labor and employment of children under 13 years of age. Women will not be allowed to perform night work under the provisions of the bill, nor will they be allowed to work after 5:30 p. m. on Saturdays.

Several Stores Robbed.

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 7.—Several stores here were robbed last night, the total value of the goods stolen being about $15,000. There is no clue to the thieves.

Capital Punishment.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 7.—The Curtis bill to abolish the death penalty was killed by the Senate Committee tabling it indefinitely.

There was a debate Monday evening at the Young Men's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., Subject: "Resolved that the East offers better advantages to a young man than the West." Messrs C. Angleman, A. Serrell and G. Fuller formed the affirmative side, and Messrs W. Crawford, J. Thatcher and W. Boyd the negative. After the arguments the two judges and umpire adjourned and subsequently returned an answer in favor of the negative.

An Accident at Amphion Hall.

An accident which fortunately terminated without fatal results, occurred at Amphion Hall, during the performance by the Australian Folly Company, last evening. The Coulson Sisters had just made their concluding bow before the footlights and were leaving the stage, when one of the scenes fell with a crash, tearing down a portion of the ceiling.

THE PUREST WATER IN THE COUNTRY.

Millions of Gallons of it Pumped in Plainfield, Yet Not a Drop is Missing.

From seven o'clock in the morning, until six o'clock at night, for many days past, big steam pumps have been at work on the ten six-inch driven wells of the Water Works company, yet the supply below has not lowered a drop. Two and one-half millions of gallons have been pumped out every ten hours, but the level in the test tubes remained the same.

During Saturday noon, photographer Langhorne took pictures of the streams of water as they were thrown out of the earth by the pumps. It was a beautiful sight—the water glistened like steel in the sunlight. Large troughs for the purpose of measuring the quantity pumped, first receive the water which then overflows the sides like folds of silver silk. One picture shows Contractor Moore's son James Moore II, sitting on the edge of the fall.

The test of the ten wells being entirely satisfactory—in fact beyond all expectation—the pumping is now stopped and the additional ten wells provided in the contract will be driven at once. When these are completed, the supply will be more than sufficient for the demand if the city contained ten times its present population. Some experienced men who have viewed the test, even claim that there is enough of the purest water in the country, below Plainfield, to supply New York

A Great Musical Event.

Every seat in Music Hall is preempted for Thursday evening of next week, upon the occasion of the last of the three subscription concerts of the Plainfield Choral Society. It will be the finest—it might be termed, grandest—musical event ever known in this city. The chorus of this season in this city, is absolutely one of the best in the State.

Handel's glorious oratorio, The Messiah, is to be rendered as the closing concert. The soloists will be of the best: Mrs. Gerrit Smith, soprano; Miss Marion Weed, who scored such a success at the concert of January 2, contralto; Mr. Wm. Rieger, tenor, and Mr. Dempsey basso. There will be the regular rehearsal of the chorus next Monday evening; an extra one on Tuesday; and on Wednesday afternoon, probably, there will be a rehearsal with the orchestra in St. Mark's chapel, corner Eighth street and Second avenue, New York city.

Quick Work by the North Plainfield Firemen.

The members of Warren Engine Company, No. 1, of North Plainfield, made a trial "run" to the Grand View avenue well at eight o'clock, last evening, arriving there and getting water through three lengths of hose in 9½ minutes actual time. The well is located nearly half a mile away from the engine house, and taking this fact into consideration the time is considered very fast.

At precisely eight o'clock an alarm was sounded in the engine house, and in 2½ minutes thereafter the driver arrived with his horses, from the stable over a block away. Six minutes in all were required to reach the well, and in just 9½ minutes from the time the alarm was sounded, water passed through the nozzle. In connection with this, it must be stated that the water in the boiler was cold when the engine left the house.

The reports on the various branches showed the Union to be in a prosperous condition.

Deceased was a well known expert trap shot, and recently won the championship of Connecticut at inanimate targets. He was well known among the members of the Middlesex Gun Club, on whose grounds he has won many a hotly contested fight at the traps, and had many warm friends throughout New Jersey.

PLAINFIELD'S INVESTMENTS.

The Assessed Valuation, Capitalized Stock and Gross Receipts of Its Corporations.

The following figures will undoubtedly prove of general interest to the readers of THE PRESS. They represent the gross receipts a year, assessed valuation or capital stock of such incorporated companies as are doing business in the city of Plainfield.

The gross receipts last year of the Plainfield Electric Light company, were $12,434.14.

The gross receipts of the Plainfield Gas Light company were $10,000, and by Daniel M. Runkle, lessee, $18,642.25. The Plainfield Gas Light company paid $2,000 dividends in excess of the regular four per cent.

The Music Hall Association of Plainfield, however, with an issued capital stock of $40,000, has never paid a dividend of one cent, but keeps on declaring a slight deficit each year. This is not the fault of the management. All sorts and conditions of entertainments are offered, and at all prices. But the Board of Directors, will neither make such alterations and improvements as are unquestionably necessary, nor lease the Hall to anyone who will.

The capital stock of the Netherwood Hotel company, is $7,000. This represents a balance subscribed by the residents of Netherwood to create a personal interest among them, in addition to the $60,000 paid by Mr. F. E. Miller for the property and the Hotel furnishings.

The issued capital stock of the Plainfield Land and Improvement company, is $45,000; that of the Plainfield Lumber company, is $5,000, and that of the Plainfield District Telegraph and Fire Alarm company, is $25,000.

The Times Printing and Publishing company is capitalized at $9,000.

The Carrabelle Land and Lumber company, made up of Plainfield capitalists, has an issued stock of $240,000. Its property consists of valuable pine lumber lands in the South.

The New Jersey Telephone company which supplies this city with its valuable and efficient service, is capitalized at $500,000.

The property of the Central Railroad of New Jersey in this city, is described and valued as follows:

Land outside main stem, Netherwood depot grounds, 2.754 acres	$1,830 00
Land outside main stem, excess between Berckman and Richmond streets, north of main stem, 4.340 acres	8,500 00
Land outside main stem, Plainfield depot grounds, 2.583 acres	45,000 00
Land outside main stem, Evona depot grounds, 1.380 acres	1,035 00
Land outside main stem, Grant avenue depot grounds, 2.892 acres	2,892 00
Sidings outside main stem, 3,867 feet	4,447 00
One stub switch	45 00
Freight house	1,000 00
Two flag houses	80 00
Two water tanks and stand pipes	2,000 00
Tool house	75 00
Total value	$66,874 00

The lands owned by the Roselle and South Plainfield Railway company, at South Plainfield are 4.59 acres, valued at $668.

A Scottish Birthday Sociable.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bowden gave a sociable last evening, at their home 10 Spooner avenue, where a large party of their friends met to celebrate the birthday of the host.

It was quite a Scottish gathering, about twenty-five of the party hailing from the "Land O'Cakes." After a capital "Tea and Tilt" was done full justice to by the company, an excellent programme of songs, recitations, etc., was rendered by several members of the party. Many of the songs sung bringing back to those present recollections of the old country.

So thoroughly did the party enjoy themselves that it did not break up until the "Wee short 'our ayont the twal." The presents were many and appropriate.

A New Orchestra Engaged.

There will be an entire change of orchestra at Amphion Hall, to-night. The "band" has been such a detriment to the entertainments in progress there for the benefit of the Knights of Pythias, that the latter have wisely concluded to dispense with their services, and have secured for the rest of the week thoroughly competent musicians, who arrived from New York, this morning.

Dangerous Trifling.

It is not only foolish, but dangerous, to trifle with indigestion or liver derangement. Take the proper remedy as soon as possible, and avoid all danger incident to delay. HAMBURG FIGS are a specific for these affections. 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

Mr. Hastings on "The Mistakes of Moses."

There was a large audience in the First Baptist church, last evening, to hear Mr. H. L. Hastings tell of the mistakes of those who tell so much of the mistakes of Moses. Mr. E. L. Bonny introduced the speaker, the Rev. Mr. Schenck made the opening prayer, and the Rev. Dr. Yerkes pronounced the benediction. Mr. Hastings said in part:

There has been no theme more interesting to the average skeptic in recent years, than "The Mistakes of Moses." They have been the song of the drunkard, and the scoff of the scorner; and the conclusion has been very logically drawn that if Moses was mistaken in everything, or most things which he said, then the religion which grew out of his teachings was a mistake, and the Gospel which was based on that religion was a mistake; and therefore men are left without God and without hope in the World.

There is one question which occurs to me, and that is, why The Mistakes of Moses? Just as if nobody else ever made mistakes. Why not the mistakes of Pharaoh? Why not the mistakes of Nebuchadnezzar? Why not the mistakes of Alexander? Why not the mistakes of Napoleon? Most men make some mistakes. There were a good many millions of people in the time of Moses, and probably all of them made mistakes.

We have all made mistakes ourselves. But let me say to you one thing, my friends, when you have been dead three thousand years, nobody will care ten cents about your mistakes; and the only man whose mistakes are of sufficient importance to have a value in the market—the only man whose mistakes a man can earn from two to five hundred dollars a night talking about—is Moses. It is not because Moses claimed to be a prophet of God; Joe Smith claimed that! Nobody will pay anything to hear about his mistakes. Mohammed claimed to be a prophet of God. Nobody could make his living out of his mistakes. But Moses' mistakes have had a very appreciable pecuniary value in the skeptical market of the 19th century. Why is this?

You go back 2,000 years and take your stand where you can survey the history of humanity, and the most eminent and prominent man you have in the whole waste of past ages, is Moses. You know more about him; he is more prominent, more influential today, than any other man of all the countless myriads who lived from the time the first man lived until a prophet like unto Moses arose upon the earth. That is the reason people are interested in the Mistakes of Moses. They say he made mistakes in his early life! He might have lived in splendor and died in State! He might have had a pyramid for a sepulchre and an obelisk for a monument; and he might have lain today in the British Museum beside the old Pharaoh himself, with a lot of wise men with their spectacles around him pulling open his mummy cloth and picking into the inscription to try to find who he was anyway.

Nobody has any great trouble to find out who Moses was. The last we saw of him he was on the Mount of Transfiguration the Glory of the Son of God. The next view we shall have of him will be when they sing the song of Moses, the servant of God; and we may find out then that he made no mistakes, who esteemed the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt—for he had respect unto the recompense of the reward.

An Ex-Chancellor Accused of Getting $15,000 Fees From the Lee Estate.

Hot words passed between ex-Chancellor Runyon and Counsellor Garret Berry, in the Chancery Chambers, in Jersey City, yesterday. Mr. Berry applied to Chancellor McGill for $1,500 counsel fees in the Frazee Lee will case. Ex-Chancellor Runyon, who appeared on behalf of J. H. Jackson, the proponent, opposed the application.

He claimed that the parties whom Mr. Berry represented entered the suit as caveators without having one cent interest in the matter. They went into the suit, the ex-Chancellor said, for the purpose of making money out of it. He also claimed that the amount of the fee asked was excessive. Lawyer Berry denied the motive imputed and said the remarks came with very bad grace from the ex-Chancellor, who out of the estate of $200,000 got something like $15,000 in counsel fees. Chancellor McGill took the papers.

Big Fire at Elizabethport.

The Singer Sewing Machine factory at Elizabethport, was partly destroyed by fire about one o'clock this morning. The fire started on the second floor of the main building, and succeeded in burning almost all of the interior of the main building, including the offices and store rooms. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

A New Club House for Westfield.

Westfield people are planning to build a large and handsome brick club-house, with library, bowling alley, tennis-lawn, billiard room and ball grounds. Capt. Coger, N. B. Gardner, W. G. Delemater, F. Lent and Postmaster Whittaker have charge of the preliminary arrangements.

—Health Inspector Bauersachs of the Borough has been instructed by the Health Board to make a special investigation of Green and Stony brooks, to ascertain who, if any, empty their cesspools into either of the brooks.

By loosening and dissolving the mucus, and by soothing and healing the affected parts, Hires' Cough Cure gives prompt relief. Perfectly harmless. 25 cents.

An Evening With Orientals.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—We study about the great East, the orient, the land of the rising sun. In the various Chautauqua Circles of our city, one of the subjects has been, Greece and the East. We all feel posted as to geography, facts, etc., and now the enterprising ladies of the First Congregational church are preparing an evening's entertainment which will bring to us some of the natives of this orient, and in their native dress, we can see them, hear them, talk to them, and learn more of themselves, their customs and what they think of us.

On Thursday evening, May 8, five ladies and gentlemen of rank of the East, will appear at the First Congregational church and a varied programme will delight all who attend. There will be music—not only the music of the Eastern voices, but also a trio with organ, piano and violin. At the close of the intellectual feast, refreshments will be served, and a reception to the Eastern guests will follow. We urge a large attendance. The admission, twenty-five cents, which includes everything, is so small as to put this pleasure within reach of all. Young people will enjoy it, and the Congregational entertainments are always successful. THE COMMITTEE.

The Press and Mr. Sherwood.

The following press notices of the distinguished pianist who will appear at Seminary Hall, next Tuesday evening, will be of interest to music lovers:

Berlin (Germany) Royal Prussian Anzeiger (Translated).—"He can stand side by side with the best living pianists."

Berlin Post (Translated).—"We must honor Mr. Sherwood as one of the most eminent pianists of the present age."

N. Y. Times.—"He plays with the taste and finish that distinguish him as a musical scholar of the first rank. His characteristic was a refinement and manly sentiment which appealed to the best musical taste of his audience, and his freedom from any pretense, and the thorough character of his performance commended him to his hearers from the first."

Evening Transcript (Boston).—"Exquisitely sympathetic rendering of the Schumann Concerto, an altogether exceptional and memorable performance. It is rarely, indeed, that such perfect rapport and blending of piano and orchestra are achieved. Mr. Sherwood took the concerto in his most poetic manner, and Mr. Theodore Thomas followed him in every delicate, light and fleeting shading of his mood."

THE PRESS Said it Was Rumored, and Says so Yet.

From the Westfield Standard.

Fanwood bowlers are justly indignant over an article in a recent issue of a Plainfield paper insinuating that because of an ill-feeling towards the Crescent Club of Plainfield, some of the Fanwood men intended to give the Monday Nights the game Thursday evening and thus enable them to tie the Crescents for second place.

Fanwood bowlers claim that they never entertained such an idea for a moment, and indeed, the result of Thursday evening's game proves their assertion to be true. Had there been any object in so doing, they could have won both games on that evening.

Send Your Real Name, it Will Not be Known.

"A subscriber who subscribes herself Lillie," sends a most interesting contribution to the symposium of general public interest that THE PRESS has been publishing in reply to the query: "Why is not Music Hall better patronized?" But such are the nature of the reasons "Lillie" gives, that she must send her real name in confidence before the communication can be published.

THE STRIKE IS OFF

Chicago Carpenters Reach an Amicable Agreement.

AN EIGHT-HOUR-DAY GRANTED.

The Hammers to Ring To-Morrow and Only Union Men to be Employed.

Dr. Lyman Abbott a Believer in the Eight-Hour Movement—New York Carpenters Have Only a Few Men Out—No Change in the Boston Strike—Granite Cutters Determined.

CHICAGO, May 7.—The great carpenters' strike is settled. The necessary papers have been signed and ratified by both sides concerned in the arbitration. A last report will be made to-day to the judicial umpires, and to-morrow morning scores of buildings that for four weeks have been practically deserted will echo with the sounds of hammer and saw in the hands of fully 4,000 journeymen carpenters.

The two arbitration committees of the new Boss Carpenters' Association and the strikers met at the Grand Pacific Hotel with Judges Driggs, McConnell and Tuley, and after a session of three hours' length settled the last detail. The journeymen achieved an almost sweeping victory. They made concessions on but two points, and every journeyman carpenter throughout the city is jubilant over the result. The only disappointment was that the stubbornness of the old association has left its members wholly out of the final deal.

Pay is fixed at 35 cents an hour until August 1, after that date it will be 37½ cents.

The men are given an eight-hour day, over-time is rated as time and a half, and Sunday time is rated as double time.

Each contractor is allowed to retain his present apprentices and to take one new apprentice each year, and the Association agrees to employ none but union men and foremen and to sublet no contracts from the old Carpenters and Builders' Association.

THE CHURCH AND LABOR.

Dr. Lyman Abbott a Thorough Believer in the Eight-Hour Movement.

NEW YORK, May 7.—At the spring meeting of the New York and Brooklyn Association of Congregational Churches Dr. Lyman Abbott of Plymouth church said:

"I am a thorough believer in the eight-hour movement. Under the present system a man becomes a bit of machinery. Eight hours is as long as any man should be a drudge. Any system which makes a man work twelve hours a day is dishonest, because it is grinding a man's body for his labor. That labor is a commodity and should be hired for what you can get it for is also dishonest."

Speaking of Socialism, Dr. Abbott said the church has been shirking its duty in respect to this subject. It is a subject which has compelled the attention of the Emperor of Germany and the Pope of Rome; and it is one which cannot be passed by as outside the sphere of the ministry.

BOSTON'S STRIKE.

The Carpenters Say They Are Not Weakening and Will Win the Fight.

BOSTON, May 7.—The carpenters' strike situation remains unchanged. The men are encouraged by the news from New York, Chicago and other cities and weakening is not expected.

The chairman of the striking carpenters' picket committee says that the ranks of the strikers are constantly receiving accessions, that not one of them has gone back to work except for the eight-hour day, and that very few non-union carpenters are coming to work in Boston.

Many strikers are inclined to think, now that the Carpenters' Builders' Association has assumed a belligerent attitude, that nine hours' pay should have been demanded for eight hours' work, and are urging the executive committee to make the demand now. The committee is repressing this sentiment as far as possible, believing that it would not command public sympathy.

Knights at War With a Union.

LYNN, Mass., May 7.—Walking delegates of the K. of L. ordered out all the Knights employed in B. T. Patten's shoe factory, because of the firm's refusal to discharge an International man. From 65 to 70 operatives, chiefly cutters and stitchers, are out. A bitter struggle is promised now that war is declared in the heart of the Knights of Labor shoe district against the International Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, which has gained a foothold in this city.

Determined Granite Cutters.

WESTERLY, R. I., May 7.—There are no new developments relating to the Granite Cutter's strike in this city. The men remain silent and determined and among themselves there are no differences. A few of the strikers have left for other cities where they expect to find immediate employment.

Trouble Expected at Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 7.—There is trouble between the management and employes of the Iron Works Mill here on account of the weavers being unable to make 52 cents a day on eight looms. Several weavers have been discharged and trouble is anticipated.

Only Four Firms Hold Out.

NEW YORK, May 7.—There are but four of the large firms now holding out against the carpenters. At the strikers' headquarters at Clarendon Hall it was confidently asserted that all the men would be at work this week.

Molders Strike Against a Reduction.

SUNBURY, Pa., May 7.—The employes of the Sunbury Nail Mill struck against a reduction of 20 per cent. on the 13½ per cent. card rate for ten-penny nails. The men are all out.

30,000 Miners to Strike.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 7.—There now seems to be no prospect of a settlement of the coal miners' difficulties and a general strike of 30,000 miners is an immediate prospect.

Cholera in Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., May 7.—Sporadic cholera has broken out in this city. There are a number ill with the disease, and one case has proved fatal. The disease was caused by garbage from New York city being used to fill in the railroad bed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The Board of Health is charged with criminal negligence in allowing the garbage to be used for the purpose. It is feared that an epidemic may follow.

A Child Suffocated in a Trunk.

EASTHAMPTON, Mass., May 7. — The two-year-old child of Mrs. Sarah Mulholland was suffocated in a trunk. The child was put to bed soon after dinner and the mother left the house. When she returned shortly after, the child's dead body was found lying across the corner of the trunk with the head inside.

Preparing the McCalla Report.

NEW YORK, May 7.—The Naval Court in the McCalla case will meet each day with closed doors until they have prepared their report. This will be forwarded to the Secretary of the Navy for his approval.

Less Time for Graduating.

BOSTON, May 7—The overseers of Harvard College spent two hours debating on the subject of amending the rules so as to shorten the time required for graduation. No action was taken.

MINERS TO STRIKE

Waiting for the Word to Demand Eight Hours.

OVER 300,000 MEN MAY GO OUT.

The Federation of Labor to Take Charge of the Battle.

The Beginning of a Fierce Fight—The Mine Bosses Strongly Opposed to a Reduction of Hours—The Amalgamated Iron and Steel Workers to Make the Demand After the Miners.

PITTSBURG, May 8.—As all the great carpenters' strikes are virtually at an end, it is rumored that the American Federation of Labor has decided to call out the coal miners of the country on May 13 or 15 for an eight-hour day.

This means that nearly 300,000 men will abandon the coal mines of this country at the signal given by the Executive Committee of the Federation of Labor. It also means the beginning of the longest and fiercest fight which the Federation expects to make during the entire struggle and the one for which the most extensive preparation has been made.

The miners' National organization of to-day represents the amalgamation of four previously distinct National bodies, and, under the title of the United Mine-Workers of America, it is numerically one of the strongest trades in the Federation. At the last report made to the Federated Trades the miners were 200,000 strong, and since that time, acting under the knowledge that they would be the second trade ordered out in the eight-hour movement, their organization has been increased and strengthened by every exertion possible.

It is believed that the demand for an eight-hour day will meet with more opposition from mine bosses than would a demand for increased wages, and the reason given out for such a belief is, in view of the recent disclosures made by Labor Commissioner Merriweather, easily understood. It is said that with the system of compelling miners to buy their supplies from the "company store" established at every mine an increase of wages can be granted without costing the employer a cent—in fact, just as easily as taking the money out of one pocket to put it in another. This result is reached by the simple system of advancing the prices charged the miners for their supplies to a scale equal to the advance in wages. Under such a sagacious system at the end of the month the miner whose wages have been increased has no more money than he had under the old scale by which he was paid.

It is now positively decided by the Federation that the miners' strike will be followed by that of the iron moulders, or Amalgamated Iron and Steel Workers, as the National order is known, and that trade is also making vigorous preparations for its share in the conflict. This information is not received as a wild rumor, but comes from a source that cannot be questioned.

NARROW ESCAPES.

Sixteen Passengers in the Water and One Man Drowned.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 8.—Architect E. W. Wells was drowned and over a dozen others had very narrow escapes last evening. About 6 o'clock the ball game ended, and all the people in attendance flocked down Front street on the island to the landing of the naptha yacht ferry to be transported to this city. Sixteen passengers, two of them ladies, crowded into the yacht Gertrude and started across the river. When three-fourths of the way over a lady's dress caught in the pulley block through which the tiller rope ran and the yacht became unmanageable and upset.

E. W. Wells and David Brooks of the Wheeling Mining and Manufacturing Company; William English, secretary of the baseball association, and William McLaughlin, a business man, was swept under a barge. The three last named were rescued in an unconscious condition, but were resuscitated. Architect Wells was drowned. The other occupants of the yacht were rescued.

The Trade Union Fight at Lynn.

LYNN, Mass., May 8.—The fight between the two labor organizations here has wrought the shoe operatives of Lynn to a pitch of excitement not before witnessed here for years. The Boot and Shoemakers' International Union has advertised for twenty-seven shoemakers to take the place of the Knights of Labor called out of B. G. Patten & Co.'s factory because of the employment therein of a union man.

THE THOMAS-FAY WEDDING.

The Famous Musical Conductor Married Last Night in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 8.—About 100 of the elite of Chicago and other cities were present at the wedding last evening of Miss Rose Fay, grand-daughter of the late Rt. Rev. John Henry Hopkins, first Episcopal Bishop of Vermont, and Theodore Thomas, the world-renowned composer and conductor.

The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock in the chapel of the Church of the Ascension, which had been converted into a bower of white roses and lilies. Fathers Larrabee and Upjohn officiated. The music was furnished by Clarence Eddy, who performed five selections, chosen by Mr. Thomas himself.

After the ceremony there was a reception at the residence of the bride's brother, for which several hundred invitations were issued. At an early hour the happy couple left for Cincinnati, where Mr. Thomas is to conduct the May Musical Festival.

CRUELTY AT A STATE HOME.

More Damaging Testimony Against Superintendent Healy of Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 8.—In the investigation at the State Home, after some general testimony about the whipping of children, Miss Emma J. Carr, a former teacher, gave evidence in regard to Harry Phare, who died and was buried without a prayer the same night. When the boy became ill Superintendent Healy said to her all that he needed was "a dose of cayenne pepper to get up his gumption."

Healy told her not to whip any of the children when anyone was around, but to take them to the cellar, see that the windows were closed, and, if they attempted to cry, choke them.

Mrs. Elizabeth Chase, a philanthropist of Valley Falls, through whose instrumentality the Home was established, testified, and blamed the Board of Education for the condition of things.

Methodist Bishops in Conference.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church met at the rooms of the Methodist Missionary Society. Bishop Thomas Bowman, of St. Louis, presided, and Bishop E. G. Andrews acted as secretary. The object of the conference is to fix the various dates for the district conferences, which are to take place in the fall, and to apportion the work among themselves.

Big Cracker Business Sold.

BOSTON, May 8.—The F. A. Kennedy Company, extensive cracker bakers of Cambridge and Chicago, have sold out their business. It is presumed the sale has been made to a syndicate and includes other bakeries, but nothing aside from the fact that the firm has sold out would be communicated by a member of the company who was interviewed. It is said the firm received $1,500,000 for the business.

Tammany's Chief Cannot Live.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Cablegrams from Germany are to the effect that Richard Croker has not long to live. The best information as to the nature of the disease from which he is now sufferng indicates that it is either cancer of the liver or cirrhosis of the liver, and late advices were to the effect that the physicians are not able as yet to determine which it is.

A Child Burned to Death.

READING, Pa., May 8.—Nelson Hatch, residing near Douglassville, was fishing and his wife visited a neighbor leaving the three-year-old son, James, alone in the house. During their absence the house was burned and the child perished in the flames. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the explosion of an oil lamp.

The pattern shop and boiler house of Finch & Co., and the screw works of Brock & Ross were also burned. The loss will be about $160,000; insurance partial.

Victory for New York Carpenters.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The strike of the organized carpenters of this city for the eight hours' work day and $3.50 wages was practically ended this morning by the announcement that the only two prominent employers, Hermann & Sons of West Thirty-fourth street and Hedden & Son of Newark, N. J., had acceded to the demands af the men and would sign the contract.

A Million for Benevolence.

PHILADELPHIA, May 8.—The will of the late George S. Pepper, president of the Academy of Fine Arts, disposes of an estate valued at $2,000,000. Numerous devises are made to relatives, but a bulk sum of $1,967,000 is divided among public institutions, who are further to receive a portion of the residuary estate.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Party Leaders Discussing the Tariff Question.

M'KINLEY AND MILLS CHEERED.

The Consideration of the Silver Bill Begun in the Senate.

Two Remarkable Bills Introduced by Senator Plumb—The House Reverses Its Action on Maryland's War Claims. Residents of the District of Columbia Want a Representative in Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Both Mr. McKinley, who opened the tariff debate, and Mr. Mills, who followed him, on the other side, were at their best. Each paid to the other close attention, and each enjoyed, upon the motion of the other, unlimited time in delivering his views. Otherwise, under the rule, each would have been limited to an hour.

Mr. McKinley said that the bill was an American bill, drawn by Americans, for Americans. The sentiments were applauded by the Republicans.

Mr. Mills spoke with force and feeling. His voice was clear and strong, and his delivery full of action. The striking passages of the speech evoked applause from the Democratic side.

The debate was continued by Mr. O'Donnell, of Michigan, who directed his remarks especially to the clause which places sugar on the free list. Mr. Stewart, of Georgia, said that the power exercised by the Government in fixing the tariff was tyranical. Mr. Post, of Illinois, spoke in favor of the bill and Mr. Ellis, of Kentucky, against it.

General debate is to close on Saturday at 5 o'clock.

LABOR VOLUNTEERS.

Two Remarkable Bills Introduced in the United States Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Senator Plumb introduced the following remarkable bills by request of the Wage Workers' Political Alliance of Washington:

That the President shall forthwith issue a call addressed to all of the citizens of the Republic over 21 years of age, inviting them to volunteer to serve in the grand army of labor of this Republic for not less than one day, under the following conditions:

First, the hours of labor shall not exceed four hours per day for more than five days in each week, nor for more than six successive weeks with an intermission of two weeks; second the rate of wages shall be $4 a day, payable weekly, exclusively in greenbacks. An executive department of labor shall be established for the purpose of enabling the President to rapidly commission and assign said volunteers to duty in the public service where their abilities will reflect credit upon themselves, and it is distinctly provided that their tenure of office shall be exclusively at the pleasure of the volunteers and not as heretofore at the pleasure of some spoilsman. The necessary appropriation to carry out these provisions is made and in case there is not sufficient money in the Treasury for the purpose the Secretary of the Treasury shall cause more money to be printed.

A second bill directs the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture to establish and operate a public farm in each county in the United States.

Novel Exhibition Features.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Thomas Jones, the man who was discharged from the navy yard last winter for aiding John Wilkes Booth to escape, and the skiff used in ferrying both across the Potomac will be two of the attractions at the Atlanta, Ga., Exposition next fall. Jones and those interested believe there will be a barrel of money for them at the exposition, and if the opening there comes up to their expectations, a tour of the Southern States will be made and Jones and his boat be placed on exhibition in the principal cities South.

Suspicion of Foul Play.

Death of Mr. John Spencer.

Readers of THE PRESS will perhaps be surprised to hear of the death of Mr. John Spencer, which occurred at his home in Scotch Plains, last evening, his death resulting from natural causes. Mr. Spencer was a man about sixty years of age, and leaves a family to mourn his loss.

He had for many years past been a resident of Scotch Plains. During February of the present year, he became implicated in some unpleasant financial transactions in which several persons in this city were interested. On the 24th of February he suddenly left his home, and since that time his whereabouts have been a mystery, except to the members of his immediate family. It has since been ascertained, however, that he only remained away from home a month, when he returned and has since been kept in seclusion. The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

When Mr. Spencer was compelled to flee, he is supposed to have gone to the home of his uncle, Mr. John Wilcox, at New Providence. He returned home soon after, where for the past few weeks Dr. Westcott has been treating him for Brights disease of the kidney of which he died.

J., after which a local union of all the societies will be formed and officers elected for the ensuing year. Members of Endeavor Societies are invited to be present.

A dry, hacking cough keeps the bronchial tubes in a state of constant irritation, which, if not speedily removed, may lead to bronchitis. No prompter remedy can be had than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is both an anodyne and expectorant.

The Score in Detail.

This is the first opportunity since Saturday last to publish the detailed score of the ball match. For the information of all interested, it is given below. As in the case of all other local news, these scores are first published exclusively in THE PRESS.

The Star and the Drama of To-night.

It is Marie Hubert Frohman's own version of "Ingomar," that will be given at Music Hall, this evening; and it is a version of the drama of "Two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one," that is the most interesting and satisfactory of all. When this talented star made her first appearance in this city a few weeks ago, THE PRESS had reason to say: "She is a remarkably good reader, and her equally commendable interpretation of pathetic, tragic and light comedy parts, cannot be excelled by any woman on the boards today."

The performance this evening will include in its cast some very good people, and the demands of the play for a large company of fifty or a hundred, will be filled. If everybody who should appreciate fine acting is present, the house will be packed.

Amphion Hall's New Orchestra, a Hit!

There was a large attendance at Amphion Hall, last night, and the new orchestra put the finishing touch on what proves to be one of the very best vaudeville entertainments ever given in Plainfield. John Carney, who made his appearance last night, was warmly received by his brother "Knights" and the audience in general. Many other changes are to be given in the performance to-night, and the new afterpiece, "Razor Jim," which made so emphatic a success last evening, will be repeated at the request of several patrons. A local quartette is announced for to-morrow evening.

The admission to the matinee, Saturday, will be twenty-five cents and children ten cents, to any and all seats. There will be no reserved places. The rule, "first come, first served," will be observed.

C. L. S. C. Graduates.

The Chautauquan for May prints a list of the graduates of the Class of 1889 of the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle. It numbers 3,799 names, bringing the sum total of graduates in the eight classes up to 21,921, distributed thus: 1882, 1,600; 1883, 1,275; 1884, 1,436; 1885, 1,294; 1886, 4,048; 1887, 4,495; 1888, 3,974; 1889, 3,799. The list of foreign graduates is unusually large this year. In '82 there were 5 foreign graduates; in '83, 11; in '84, 1; in '85, 3; in '86, 1; in '87, 6; in '88, 1; in '89, 15, not including 3 in British Columbia and 1 in Newfoundland. To these foreign graduates should be added the Class of '82 in the Japanese Literary and Scientific Circle which numbered over one hundred.

Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

THE ASYLUM HORROR

The Number of Victims Who Perished is Unknown,

ANOTHER STARTLING FEATURE.

Several Men Cremated Who Were Thought to Have Escaped.

The Building Characterized as a Death Trap and a Disgrace—Weeping Relatives Seeking for Tidings of Some Member of Their Family — The Coroner Looking for Material to Hold an Inquest.

MONTREAL, May 8.—As the full details of the Longue Pointe Asylum fire become known the horror is intensified and the person is derided who asserts that the number of the dead does not exceed 60.

It is known by the last report to the Quebec Government that there were 1,780 inmates instead of 1,300. This much is certain, no one will ever know the number of victims. From the best information it seems likely that there are 150 dead.

The coroner with the Hon. Premier Mercier, Judge Dugas, Senator Thibadeau and the two Crown Ministers have arrived at the scene, and if enough material can be found an inquest will be held.

Searching for Relatives.

It is now known that many of the wards were blocked and that in cases where the firemen did not break in the doors many rooms full of persons perished miserably. The sight of the unceasing wretches yesterday was bad enough but there was a sadder spectacle later in the weeping relatives seeking in vain for tidings of some member of their family.

A Death Trap.

Fire Commissioner Perry characterizes the building as a death trap, and as a disgrace, and according to the law of chances the disaster must have come sooner or later.

A Startling Report.

The startling feature of the latest report is that a large number of men have perished, all of whom were thought to have escaped, but it is absolutely impossible to add any names to the list of the dead. It will be weeks before the nuns will vouchsafe any information and when they do it will probably be of the most meagre kind.

At present the patients are confined in convents, outhouses and in the exhibition buildings in the neighborhood.

A MYSTERY SOLVED.

The Remains of a Child Who Disappeared Three Years Ago Found.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 8.—The parents of little Annie Uulrich of Freeland have for three years mourned her disappearance. On Decoration Day, 1887, when she with other children were watching the parade of veterans, she suddenly disappeared. Though search was continued for weeks no trace of her could be found.

The mystery was solved yesterday. Alvin Bohrback, while crossing the mountains at Upper Lehigh, found among the rocks the bleached bones of a child, a few bits of clothing remaining to afford a clew to its identity. The parents of the missing child were informed and hastened to the spot, and the mother's quick eye and keen memory served to identify the remains of a pair of red stockings and new shoes as those worn by her child. The remains were brought home this afternoon and will receive interment.

The child is supposed to have wandered voluntarily from the town and to have died from exposure on the mountain side.

The Chinamen Sent Back to Canada.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 8.—United States Commissioner Fitzgerald has given his judgment in the case of the three Chinamen recently arrested for smuggling, and held for coming into the country in violation of the Exclusion law. He decides that they must be sent back to Canada, whence they came and they will be conveyed across the river by a Deputy United States Marshal.

Mr. Chamberlain's Advice.

LONDON, May 8.—Mr. Chamberlain addressed the Oxford University League last night. He urged the Gladstonians to favor the Government's Land Purchase bill for Ireland and allow the question of local government to be discussed later. He would not embarrass the Government, he said, nor would he join a party which was drifting toward the principles of the Chicago convention.

Editor O'Brien's Marriage.

LONDON, May 8.—The marriage of Wm. O'Brien the Irish leader, with Mlle. Radalovich, will take place during the last week of June. The Irish party have agreed to subscribe £3 each to purchase silver candelabra as a wedding present.

Minister Phelps' Dinner.

BERLIN, May 8.—Mr. William Walter Phelps, United States Minister here, gave a dinner last night in honor of Mr. Charles Emory Smith, the recently appointed American Minister to Russia. A large number of diplomats and other prominent persons were present.

German Ironmasters Coming to America.

BERLIN, May 8.—The Association of German Ironmasters has accepted the invitation of the American Institute of Mining Engineers to visit the industrial districts of the United States. Over 100 ironmasters have signified their intention to take part in the excursion.

Victoria Will Lead a Single Life.

LONDON, May 8.—A dispatch from Vienna says that Princess Victoria, sister of the German Emperor, has asked an increase of her allowance, in order to establish her own household in London, as she does not intend to marry.

Reserve Officers in Training.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 8.—The Russian Minister of War has called out all the reserve officers for six weeks' training to keep them in practice with the latest war tactics.

President of the Reichstag.

BERLIN, May 8.—Herr Von Levetzow was unanimously re-elected President of the Reichstag.

Debating the Silver Question.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—An effort was made to postpone consideration of the Silver bill until next week, on account of the absence of Senator Jones, who was to make the opening speech, but when the bill came up as unfinished business, Mr. Vest insisted on its consideration, and, under the rules, there was nothing to do but to take up the bill and debate it. The debate will be prolonged until Mr. Jones returns and the Senate Republicans have another opportunity to caucus.

District Columbia People Restless.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The people of the District of Columbia are working for representation in Congress. At a well-attended meeting the subject was discussed and endorsed. Dr. Reyburn, President of the Citizens' Committee of 100, announced that a bill had been framed by the committee which would soon be presented in Congress to give the people of Washington representation in Congress—a Senator and a Representative.

Action Reversed on War Claims.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The House Committee on War Claims reversed its action in reporting adversely the bill introduced in the House by Mr. McComas appropriating $251,500 to reimburse the towns of Hagerstown, Frederick and Middletown, Maryland, for a refund of ransoms levied and exacted by General Early in July, 1864.

Death of M. Catacazy.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—A dispatch from Paris says M. Catacazy, formerly Minister of Russia, who made himself so obnoxious to our Government that he had to be recalled, has died at St. Germain.

ANOTHER HOLOCAUST

Thirteen Idiots Perish in a County Poorhouse.

SEVERAL LUNATICS ESCAPE.

One of the Inmates Fires Her Clothes and is Burned to Death.

Brave Attempt at Rescue—The Unfortunates Shrieked, Cursed and Prayed—A Sheriff's Posse Hunting for the Maniacs Who Are at Large — The Building Destroyed—Names of Those Who Perished

NORWICH, N. Y., May 9.—Eleven lives were lost by the midnight fire which destroyed the Chenango County Poorhouse at Preston, six miles from here.

On a smaller scale the horrors attending the Montreal asylum fire were re-enacted.

The keeper was awakened by a pauper, and attempted to release the idiots, but was driven back by the fire. He ran through the other buildings in his night clothes, rousing the inmates and turning them out doors.

All of the wards were crowded with patients and a scene of confusion and panic followed. The keepers and nurses worked with a will, and after much difficulty succeeded in removing the unfortunates with the exception of the eleven who lost their lives.

Shrieked, Cursed and Prayed.

In the violent ward the crazy inmates acted as if they would tear each other to pieces in their efforts to escape. They shrieked, cursed and prayed. As soon as the doors were opened they scampered out of the building. Some were laughing as only maniacs can, and all attempts to restrain them were in vain. The majority of the violent ones made directly for the woods, and for hours afterward they could be heard screaming and yelling in the adjacent forests. Some of the patients were badly burned. Those in the poor wards were all saved without trouble, as that portion of the building was furthest removed from the wing where the fire started. The lunatics in the woods kept up a screaming, which added to the confusion, and several times the more docile patients, huddled on the lawn, were on the verge of a panic.

Scenes at the Fire.

The scene at the burning was indescribable, and the horrors of Longue Point were re-enacted on a smaller scale. Demented and terror-stricken inmates wandered around the burning piles in a hopeless manner. The great wooden buildings lit up the hills for miles around. A bucket brigade was formed of the citizens of Preston, and about 100 labored to save the smaller buildings in the rear, with success. The stables and farm buildings were saved. The large milk house was burned.

Origin of the Fire a Mystery.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. In the afternoon Deborah Dibble, one of the women in the idiot ward, who was allowed to smoke her old clay pipe, put it in her pocket while lighted and set fire to her clothes.

The attendants hastened to her aid, but when they got the fire out she had died from its effects.

Her terrible death had its effect on the other idiots, and it is supposed that one of them got some matches and was playing with them when the fire at night was started.

At 11:30 p. m. the night keeper passed through the ward on a tour of inspection and everything was all right.

The Victims.

Those who are known to be dead are ATWOOD, ARTILLA, Norwich.
AUSTIN, ALMENDA, county.
BENEDICT, ADELIA, county.
BAILEY, SARAH, Columbus.
DANIELS, MARY, Preston.
DIBBLE, DEBORAH, Bainbridge.
GALLAGHER, SARAH, Norwich.
GRAY, LAURA, Green.
MILLS, SARAH, Afton.
WARREN, LUCY, county.
Three unknown persons.

The two churches and one hotel were turned into temporary quarters, and the rescued were transferred to these quarters as rapidly as possible.

A special messenger arrived for Sheriff Kenney, who immediately left for the scene, after swearing in a large number of deputies, who scoured the country for the missing persons.

The losses will aggregate $30,000 on which there is an insurance of $14,000.

Set on Fire by a Lunatic.

MONTREAL, May 9.—The authorities investigating the Longue Pointe Asylum fire believe that it was started by an incendiary, and that it was the work of one of the crazy patients. The fire originated in a bath-room. There were no fires near the spot, and the only explanation is that the fire was started by one of the inmates. Lunatics are being arrested all over the island of Montreal. Ten were picked up in the streets to-day.

Hon. H. G. Fisher Dies Suddenly.

HUNTINGTON, Pa., May 9.—Hon. H. G. Fisher, of this place, died suddenly at Puxsutawney Jefferson County. Mr. Fisher was one of the most prominent men in Central Pennsylvania. In 1876 he was elected to the State Senate, and in 1878 he was elected to Congress over W. S. Stenger, Democrat, being the first Republican ever sent from this district. He was re-elected to Congress in 1880.

It Was a Clandestine Union.

CINCINNATI, May 9. — Shortly after midnight William Bandy, a nephew of ex-Governor Foraker, was married in Covington, Ky., to Miss Leedom, daughter of John P. Leedom, late Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives. It was an elopement, and the story goes that the lovers met only four days ago in a stage-coach in Adams

GODFREY WHIPS CARDIFF.

The Colored Pugilist Awarded the Fight in the Sixteenth Round.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 9.—At the Gladstone Athletic Club rooms last night George Godfrey, the colored pugilist of Boston, whipped Patsy Cardiff, the Peoria giant in the 16th round.

There were 1,200 people present. The $1,200 trophy was awarded to Godfrey. Godfrey weighed 172 pounds and Cardiff 176.

Cardiff was remarkably clever in dodging to avoid punishment. His left eye was completely closed duging the struggle.

Godfrey used aggressive tactics, standing right up to his man. Neither received any body punishment.

In the 16th round the men came together at the word of time and clinched near the ropes, when suddenly Cardiff fell to the floor upon his face. He was seized with nausea, and suffering from exhaustion. This closed the fight and the purse was awarded to Godfrey.

CRAZED BY WHISKEY.

Four Patients Indulge in a Riot in the Jersey City Hospital.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 9.—Four patients in the Jersey City Hospital created a riot in that institution last night.

The men were all suffering from alcoholism, but were kept in the main ward of the hospital. They were first placed in straitjackets, but they tore these to pieces, and the attendants in the hospital then tied them to the beds.

Two of the patients burst their bands and a general riot ensued. They grabbed up the portable pieces of furniture, and when the hospital attendants attempted to quell the disturbance the prisoners flung the missiles at them and tore around the wards like maniacs.

They threw the bedclothes out of the windows, upset the beds of some of the other patients, and for a time were in complete control of the institution. The hospital attendants were compelled to send for assistance to subdue the infuriated men and restore order.

The disturbance in the hospital will hasten the contemplated building of a separate ward for patients suffering from alcoholism.

Olney Arnold, of Pawtucket; Member of Board of Education, Perry D. Smith, of Gloster.

Judge Hilton Sued for Libel.

NEW YORK, May 9.—City Editor J. F. Graham of the World has brought suit against Henry Hilton for $50,000 damages for libel. The alleged libel was contained in a letter written by Mr Hilton to the District Attorney urging that suit be brought against the World on account of its attack upon Mr. Hilton. In this letter the editors and proprietors of the paper were refered to as miscreants, liars, wretches, blackmailers and skunks.

Delaware Prohibitionists.

WILMINGTON, Del., May 9. — Thirty-nine delegates were present at the Prohibition State Convention at Dover. William T. Kellum, of Dover, was nominated for Governor; Daniel M. Green, a local preacher and Grand Army man of Newport, this county, was nominated for Congress. A platform of 20 sections was adopted, a State Central Committee appointed and $100 raised for the campaign fund.

Verdict for the Widower.

BARNSTABLE, Mass., May 9.—The $50,000 breach of promise suit brought by Eliza B. Dolliver, aged 68, against W. A. Atkins, both of Provincetown, ended in a verdict for the 72-year-old defendant. Mr. Atkins testified that he had known the plaintiff since childhood, that he had never proposed marriage to her, and that he had treated her only as courteously as any gentleman would treat a lady.

Work of an Incendiary.

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 9.—An incendiary applied the torch to the elegantly furnished residence and large barn of William Gant, of North Huntington Township. Both buildings with their contents were destroyed. Mr. and Mrs. Gant were absent at the time. Loss, $15,000; insurance, $10,000. There is no clue to the incendiary.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Speaker Reed Waiting to Fill Committee Vacancies.

CARLISLE MAY BE PROMOTED.

Great Pressure in Favor of Mr. Mutchler for Mr. Randall's Place.

The House Committee Agree on a Federal Election Bill—The Senate Deadlocked on the Silver Question—Candidates for the Consular Service—Buying the Mt. McGregor Cottage.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Speaker still refrains from filling the vacancies in the committees on Rules and Appropriations caused by the death of Mr. Randall. It is understood that he will not act in the matter until the Kentucky Legislature has elected a successor to Senator Beck and it is decided whether Mr. Carlisle is to remain in the House or be promoted to the Senate. In the latter case there would be a Democratic vacancy in the Committee on Ways and Means and the contests among Democratic aspirants would be still further complicated.

In the event of Mr. Carlisle's retirement from the House his place on the Committee on Appropriations would be given to one of three men—Mr. Wilson, of Virginia; Mr. Springer, of Illinois, or Mr. Outhwaite, of Ohio. Representative Outhwaite has been pressed for Mr. Randall's place on the Committee on Appropriations, but there is also great pressure in favor of Mr. Mutchler, of Pennsylvania. The entire Pennsylvania delegation is said to have recommended him for the place, and it is claimed that the Democrats of the committee also favor him.

It is among the probabilities that he will be designated for the place, especially if Mr. Carlisle should be elected to the Senate and Representative Outhwaite named to succeed him on the Ways and Means Committee. The general impression is that Representative Blount, of Georgia, will take Mr. Randall's place upon the Committee on Rules, and if Mr. Carlisle's place should become vacant it will probably be awarded to Mr. Springer, of Illinois.

NATIONAL ELECTION BILL.

The New Measure to Create Double the Number of Supervisors Required.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Representative Rowell (Illinois) introduced in the House his National Election bill which he was instructed by the House Committee on Elections to prepare for presentation to the committee.

The committee instructed Mr. Rowell and Mr. Lodge (Mass.) to prepare bills embodying the theories of each concerning a Federal Election law. Mr. Rowell's bill does not propose a new Federal Election law, but aims to improve the present system of Federal supervision of elections, as provided for in the Supervisors' law of 1871. Mr. Rowell took the Hoar bill as a basis, but he makes the provisions of his bill more radical. The bill changes the present method of appointing Federal Supervisors of Elections.

By the bill there are to be appointed and commissioned double the number of supervisors required, so as to have a sufficient number of supervisors ready for duty in case their services are required. The number of supervisors serving at each election is increased from two to three.

Under the present law, it is claimed, supervisors of elections have little if any power in the country districts; while those in the cities have power to count the ballots and make any investigation and inspection that they may see fit.

The Consular Service.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The small army of candidates for Consulates and their political backers here are beginning to grumble at the alleged delay of President Harrison in acting upon the list of recomendations which Secretary Blaine sent to the White House nearly three weeks ago. The list numbers 32 names. The President informed a gentleman who called upon him to ascertain why he has not acted in the matter, that "he made the appointments in the Consular Service and that he intended to take his own time about it."

The Pennsylvania Governorship.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Ex-Lieutenant-Governor Black, of York, is in this city on private business. In talking of politics of Pennsylvania he said: "I am only a candidate for Governor in this way: If the nomination should come to me unanimously, as a matter of duty to my party I should be inclined to accept, but I shall not attempt to secure any delegates before the convention meets. I do not think there should be a struggle for the Democratic nomination."

The Mt. McGregor Property.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Mr. Hiscock introduced in the Senate a bill authorizing the President to purchase the property at Mt. McGregor on which General Grant died, at an appraised price not to exceed $150,000, for the establishment there of a home for soldiers and sailors suffering from consumption or other pulmonary complaints.

The Silver Question.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Republican Senatorial caucus was quite largely attended. The silver question was again the subject of discussion, and again no agreement was reached. The silver men refused to accept and support a bill containing a clause which will permit the redemption of purchase notes in bullion under any conditions

Last Performances at the Amphion.

The Healeys presented a new act at this place of amusement, last evening, that seemed to catch the audience. While Miss Healey's wonderful "buck" dancing was missed in the new specialty, other comicalities took its place and made it a decided feature. Geyer and Lord were also seen to advantage in a fresh skit. There was no little disappointment at Our Jack Carney's non-appearance, but he is looked for to-night and promises the "Patter of that Shingle" by request. Other new songs, acts, etc. will be given.

There remains but two more evenings in which to see this really worthy performance, and those who wish to assist the noble "Knights" should turn out en masse. Matinee to-morrow at 2 o'clock for the especial benefit of ladies and children.

This is the Case Every Day.

The only items of news in Policeman Carey's paper, the news, last night, were the following which the people will recognize as stolen from The Press of the day before.

The coming garden party at Mrs. Hyde's; the announced marriage of President Moffett's daughter; the subjects for competition in prize essays at the High School; the causes of Rainfield people in the present term of Court; the day fixed for Commencement; the sheriff's sale of the Park House; the committee engaged in perfecting the project of a club house for Westfield; and the suit of the deserted Mrs Stryker. This all, however, is merely the record of an everyday occurrence of sneak news thievery.

In Other Hands.

ANNUAL MEETING.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION EAT A NEW ENGLAND SUPPER

And Listen to the Reports of Their Committees, a Grand Address From President Murray, View the Building Plans and Elect Officers for the Ensuing Year.

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A., of this city, was held at the rooms last evening. There was a fair attendance, about fifty being seated at the New England supper served by the Ladies 9. After its completion there was a gathering in the reading room, where Vice President D. E. Titsworth opened the meeting with scripture reading and prayer.

Mr. James R. Joy read the minutes of the previous meeting, and also the report of the Building Committee, as published in THE PRESS of last Friday. Annexed to the report was the following resolution adopted at a meeting of the Board of Directors, all of which was approved by the vote of the association:

Resolved, That the report of the committee be received, and that we desire to express our appreciation of the labors performed by them and the difficulties they had to encounter, and we hereby adopt and approve the recommendation in the selection of plans and authorize said committee to make contracts with responsible parties for the erection of the building at a cost not to exceed $35,000—when valid subscriptions for $35,000 towards lot and building shall have been secured and the consent of all conditional subscribers shall have been obtained.

Mr. J. W. Gavett reported for the reception committee its work for the year, and particularly mentioned the service of the Ladies 9 in preparing numerous suppers for the gratification of the Association's guests. On motion of Mr. George Cornwell, seconded by Mr. Wm. Thompson, the thanks of the Association were extended especially to the Ladies 9.

Mr. C. E. Boss presented the following report, and it was moved by Mr. H. R. Munger that it be published in full:

MR. C. E. BOSS' REPORT.

The Educational Committee have the pleasure of presenting the report of another prosperous year. The opportunities for work have come, gone and only results remain.

The educational work has been mainly mechanical drawing and shorthand. The instructors in mechanical drawing have been Mr. A. J. Gavett, civil engineer, and Mr. C. J. Robertson, draughtsman, and Mr. J. A. Robinson, instructor in shorthand.

The phenomenal success of the drawing class of a year ago has been repeated during the past year. The new departure of shorthand claims an equal share in interest and valuable work done.

Mechanical drawing began its work October, 1889, and has just closed. In this branch there has been two classes, one taking the advance and the other beginning work. These classes have had an average attendance of nearly twenty. Three members have attended every session and a number of others have missed but one. The attendance has been excellent. The instruction in these classes has been practical and thorough. The method followed has been to explain every part of a machine while the drawing was being made, so that instruction in mechanics has been given as well as the work shown by the drawings. One young man said the drawing class has been a practical benefit to me in reading, drawings and in shop work.

The attending difficulties and the need of a continued application for success, made the Shorthand class one of serious thought and grave doubt. But its results have proven its position. The first Saturday evening in December the class was started with 31 members and has continued until the present time with an average attendance of 20, thus proving the demand for such a class and its application. There are a number of reports from this class showing their estimate of the work: "It will aid me to get a position;" "It has taught me new words of the English language;" "It will prove useful in the future," etc. All this goes to prove the hold this work has upon its members.

Your Committee also planned to have a course of evening talks. The first was given by Mr. C. L. McBride of Reynolds' pharmacy, entitled "An evening in Chemistry." This evening proved by attendance and interest the good of these evening talks. The next was to have been by a Doctor, but owing to the general demand for doctors at that time, the lecture was given up. True assistance is, aiding so that one can help himself.

The drawing makes a better workman, commanding better pay, enabling him to do more for his fellow-men.

The shorthand training is sought after makes a better clerk, gives better pay and a chance for positions beyond the reach but for this aid.

It is plain that the men in these classes have been interested and that they believe they have been benefited, and that they appreciate the work of the Y. M. C. A. in their behalf. Every week during the past Winter an average of 40 young men have been in our rooms to attend our classes and have received proffered advantages of a Christian Association. The final and best result is that some of the men who have been attending our educational classes are attending the meetings of prayer and it is hoped will find that wisdom which is above all other.

Respectfully submitted,
CHAS. E. BOSS,
Chairman Educational Committee.
Plainfield, May 8, 1890.

Messrs G. R. Cornwell, A. C. LaBoyteaux, and S. Cahoone read the annual reports of the committees on membership, invitation, and boy's work respectively. Mr. E. St. John presented the items of receipts and disbursements for the year, and reported the Association out of debt and paying its way. In the absence of President Murray in Albany, Mr. Joy read the following which was also requested to be published:

PRESIDENT MURRAY'S REPORT

To the members of the Young Men's Christian Association of Plainfield, New Jersey.

In rendering to you an account of the trust confided to us a year ago, we call attention to the fact that it is generally true that a Young Men's Christian Association while engaged in a building canvass neglects its regular work. But we believe that our association during the past year has been an exception to the general rule. While a great deal of time and energy has been devoted to the building effort, the regular work of the Association has gone steadily on. The work has been done by nine committees composed of sixty-three men, who, under the able supervision of our devoted secretary, Mr. J. H. Manning, have brought whatever of success we have achieved.

We still believe that the most important work of the Association is that of leading young men into the Kingdom of God. It is a sad but true fact that young men, as a class, do not attend the services of God's house. It is to reach this class in this condition that the Young Men's Christian Association has been organized in the twelve hundred places in which it now exists in our country. The class to which it devotes its attention—young men between the ages of eighteen and thirty-one—contains one fourth of the male population of the land and nearly one half the voters. To cope with such a multitude nine thousand men have given their lives to the work, and over $1,500,000 are expended each year. So we say again our most important work is to lead these young men to the Lord Jesus Christ. In endeavoring to do our part of this we have conducted during the year a young men's Gospel meeting, every Sunday afternoon at 4:15. The average attendance has been 34. Our two outposts have been continued every Sunday evening at Washingtonville and Mt. Pleasant, with encouraging results. At the former place the people have recently dedicated a beautiful new chapel, largely the gift of one of our generous citizens. The friends at Mt. Pleasant would be happy to have such a friend arise in their behalf. Our Bible Training Class, now in its fifth year, has continued its good work. The class has visited Somerville and Rahway, and exhibited the methods of such a class, and as a result a Training Class has been organized in the former place. We have recently started a class in Prof. Harper's Inductive Studies on the Life of Christ, and also an Evangelistic Bible Class. The Ladies Training Class has been held regularly every week, and its members have undertaken to furnish the tea for the Evangelistic Bible Class every Sunday evening. Four members of the Association spent a delightful two weeks at D. L. Moody's Summer Bible School at Northfield, Mass., last Summer. We hope to send a delegation this Summer and the secretary would be glad to give information about the plans, expense, etc. The result of all our religious work has been increased vigor in the spiritual lives of those who have taken part in it as well as conversions at both outposts and the rooms.

Another important part of our work is that in which we touch the young man's social nature. We have tried to have a congenial place always open where young men may find a safe resort. We believe in all kinds of honest amusements and pure social enjoyments, not only as a means to bring young men under the influence of Christians in the Association, but because these things are good for us. Our accommodations have been so limited, however, that the Reception Committee have not been able to carry out all their plans. Several pleasant receptions have been given with profit, and the rooms have been the resort of many, some of whom might otherwise have fallen by the way. We are indebted to the Camera Club for an attractive reception. In all our social work good service has been rendered by our ladies committee. In their work they have exemplified the spirit of John the Baptist, in that they done all for the association and nothing for self. We have appreciated their devotion.

Besides our own use of the rooms they have been found useful by other organizations. The Board of Managers of the Children's Home, The Law and Order League, Choral society, King's Daughters, Lutheran church, and the pastors of the city have used our rooms on several occasions.

Our educational work has been in special branches, the night sessions of the Public school providing for all who desired to study the regular English branches. Mr. Andrew Gavett has taught each week a class in Mechanical Drawing, Mr. Robinson one on Stenography and Mr. Embury one twice a week in Singing. Some talks on special subjects have also been given. One class for whom we have always labored and shall always be glad to labor, is the boys—young men from twelve to sixteen years old. This work has been carried on during the year. The boys have been organized into a Young Men's Auxiliary and have held weekly meetings. The character of their meeting have been religious, business, literary and social. Besides their regular work they have added to the building fund the proceeds of entertainments given by them. Two of their representatives were sent to the State Convention.

The Building Committee has not been idle. During the year a lot on Front street opposite Peace street has been purchased for $7,000 cash. A competition was had between six architects and the plans submitted by Mr. A. L. C. Marsh have been adopted as the plans of the proposed building. A great many meetings of the committee have been held in the interest of the fund. The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union has assisted in increasing the fund by soliciting subscriptions and giving entertainments. At a conference held on May 1 a resolution was adopted that if the building could be built for $35,000 it would be wise to begin its erection when that amount was subscribed towards the whole fund. That sum is practically subscribed and we hope soon to begin operations.

Among the other committees, not already referred to is the Invitation committee, whose duty it is to distribute invitations to our Young Men's meeting. It is a very important work but it has been found difficult to get men with consecration enough to do it. The Ways and Means, Rooms, and Bulletin Committees have done whatever has been necessary in their department.

The Treasurer's report shows that we have received during the year $4,329.01 and have expended $4,194.67. We believe that our work warrants the continued support which the people of this city have given us for the past twenty-two years and when we ask, as we do ask, for a more liberal allowance this year, it is not in the spirit of a supplicant, but rather as one who invites you to make a paying investment.

Under what, for lack of a better term, might be called "general usefulness," we would mention the attendance of sixteen of our members at the State Convention. Two members assisted at a conference in the interest of work for young men at Cranbury, and one took part in the District Conventions at Pennington and Vineland. Situations have been secured for twelve men; visits have been made to the sick; boarding places secured for strangers and letters of introduction given to young men leaving town.

As we look over our work it is good to bear in mind that we are a part of the State work. We have in New Jersey, as nearly every State has, a State organization, managed by an executive committee of twenty-four members. This committee employs a secretary who gives all his time to the work, and uses it in advising with and helping local associations, organizing new ones and generally in increasing the efficiency of work for the young men of the State. Our association contributes this year towards the $3,500 needed for this work, the sum of $100. All who are interested in the local work ought to be interested in the State work.

All our efforts have been to lead young men into a higher and better life. We have striven to occupy towards young men the relation which Elisha bore towards the Shunammite's son. Coming into the house he found the young man dead, and we read that the prophet "put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands," and life came. So we try to touch the young man upon all points, believing that no temptation has taken him but such as is common to man, and sympathizing with him in these temptations we have stretched out the hand of Christian fellowship, saying "Brother."

Our work is a hard work, but we know that "in due season we shall reap if we faint not," and some day we shall hear the Master say, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

WM. D. MURRAY,
President.

During a recess that followed, Architect A. L. C. Marsh explained the plans of the new building as already set forth in these columns. The amount subscribed to date is now $3,418 62, so work will begin in a few weeks. Upon reassembling the meeting listened to the report of a committee appointed to nominate a board of directors to include representatives of all the churches of the city. The following officers were then elected:

A dry, hacking cough keeps the bronchial tubes in a state of constant irritation, which, if not speedily removed, may lead to bronchitis. No prompter remedy can be had than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which is both an anodyne and expectorant.

Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H.

THE KAISER'S ORDER

A Special Commissioner Sent to Ex-Chancellor Bismarck.

THE PRINCE CALLED TO ACCOUNT.

He Will Have to Explain Stories Published in His Favorite Papers.

An Inhuman Mother Sentenced to Penal Servitude — Taxation of Foreigners in France — Minister Lincoln's Leave of Absence—Attitude of the Italian Senate. Strange Disappearance of a Preacher.

BERLIN, May 9.—Emperor William has sent Herr von Rucher on a special mission to Prince Bismarck, with a view of clearing the atmosphere and inducing the ex-Chancellor to withdraw the lenience he is said to have given to certain persons and publications, who are misusing both his name and the Emperor's.

Considerable correspondence has passed between the Kaiser and the ex-Chancellor on the subject, and from the fact that it is positively said that the Emperor has made his special commissioner the bearer of a threat to resort to compulsory methods in case of Bismarck's refusal to comply with the Imperial requests, it is assumed that the Prince has doggedly adhered to his purpose of publicly expressing himself on political topics in his own way.

It is said that Count Herbert Bismarck and his mother have instigated the publication of all the statements attributed to Prince Bismarck which immediately appeared in the Hamburger Nachrichten and other journals.

Reliable reports say that, while the Emperor is winning favor with the working classes, the aristocracy is ranging itself on the side of Prince Bismarck, and that some propositions to do special honor to that statesman are prompted by a desire to reflect upon the sovereign who virtually deposed him. The upper classes feel that the Kaiser's liberal policy is endangering their power and prestige, and deep expressions are heard of discontent with the Imperial programme.

Prince Bismarck replying to an address from the Political and Economic Society makes renewed references to his dismissal from the Chancellorship.

The members of the Prussian Oberhaus will place in the chamber a marble bust of Prince Bismarck.

Bismarck to Visit England.

AN INHUMAN MOTHER.

Sent to Penal Servitude for Life for Murdering Her Child.

PARIS, May 9.—An inhuman brute in the guise of a woman, one Josephine Hengell, has just been sentenced to penal servitude for life for the murder of her 8-year-old daughter.

The poor child appears to have been the victim of ill-usuage during the entire term of its brief existence.

Crippled by the kicks and blows of the mother it was compelled to lie abed, where it was frequently drenched with luke-water.

After tying its hands and feet, Josephine actually attempted to crucify the child, but was finally successful in an effort to strangle it.

The woman narrowly escaped lynching. On her trial she seemed entirely indifferent to her fate, except that she expressed a wish that her punishment might be death rather than imprisonment.

Strange Disappearance of a Preacher.

MONTREAL, May 9.—The Rev. Louis Martin, a French-Canadian Methodist preacher, has disappeared mysteriously, leaving a wife and two children behind. He was formerly a Catholic priest at St. Louis, Wis., where he met his present wife, ran away with her and came on to Canada and married. He has been most bitter in the denunciation of the Roman Catholic Church and the priesthood.

Gen. Butler's Property Attached.

Butler of Lowell and Eben Moody Boynton of West Newbury, formerly copartners under the firm name of the Pentucket Navigation Company, and is returnable at Salem on the first Monday in July in the Superior Court.

Chicago Coopers Return to Work.

CHICAGO, May 8.—The coopers' strike at the packing houses came to an end last night, when at a meeting the men by a unanimous vote decided to go back to work at the old scale of wages and hours. This action was taken because of the failure of the men employed by Armour & Morris to go out.

MRS. VANDERGRIFT GUILTY.

The Jury Agree on a Verdict After Being Out Twenty Hours.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., May 9.—The conviction of Mrs. Carrie Vandegrift for the attempted murder of her son Frank C. Norman, was a surprise, as most people were looking for acquittal or a disagreement. It meets popular approval, however, as there is no doubt of her guilt, although it was impossible to prove the fact clearly the evidence against her being circumstantial.

When it was announced that the jury was ready to report Mrs. Vandegrift was brought in to the court room. She faced the jury with apparent unconcern. Not even when the foreman said, during the most profound silence, "Guilty, as she stands charged in the indictment," did she show any emotion. She was at once taken back to jail, while her counsel moved for a new trial.

It is not thought that Judge Garrison will grant a new trial, as he said in the charge that the case had been tried very fairly. The jury were out about 20 hours.

Dastardly Attempt to Wreck a Train.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 9.—An attempt was made to wreck the Chicago and Toledo Express on the Lake Shore road about a quarter of a mile east of Dunkirk. A piece of iron was placed in the frog and the engine and forward trucks of the forward car were thrown from the track. The train carried a large number of passengers who were badly shaken up, but no one was injured. The train had not gotten under full headway else the accident might have been much more serious.

A Seven-Year-Old Hero.

LYNN, Mass., May 9.—As Robert, the 7-year-old son of William J. McCann, was crossing the Eastern Railroad track near the Central station with his sister, aged 5, the shouts of bystanders warned him of the approach of an eastbound passenger train. He paused to push his little sister out of danger and succeeded in saving her from injury, but was himself struck, hurled 75 feet and instantly killed.

It is asserted his affidavit is false. Leaphart, it will be recalled, was lynched a few days ago.

A MYSTERY SOLVED

The Missing Preacher Abandons His Family.

BACK IN THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.

He Asks the Cardinal to Treat Him as a Prodigal Son.

The Methodists to Care for His Family. He Obtained Money from the Young Men's Christian Association—To Visit New York Where He Has Friends in the Priesthood.

MONTREAL, May 10.—The ex-priest Martin has assumed the role of the prodigal son. He has renounced Protestantism and returned to his first love, and without a word of farewell he has deserted his fair young wife and little ones.

The mystery of his disappearance is thus explained by an official statement of the Vicar-General on behalf of Archbishop Fabre, in which he says:

"For several months Mr. Martin, regretting what he believed to be the greatest error of his life, was thinking of re-entering the Church which he had abandoned in an hour of weakness. He applied to the Cardinal Archbishop of Quebec in the month of April last, saying among other things:

"'I return to the fold of the best faith in the world. I apply to you as the prodigal son did to his father. I venture to hope that your Eminence will treat me as the father of the prodigal son treated his returning boy.'

"Rev. Mr. Martin was naturally placed in communication with the Archbishop of Montreal, and persevering always in his resolution to re-enter the pale of the Church he announced that he would leave Montreal for ever to go and shut himself up in a place of penance far from this country. Still he regretted having to abandon his wife and children. Before leaving he begged the Archbishop to find a home for his children. He himself asked that some religieuses be sent to his wife and announce to her his departure, and tell her that if she was willing she and her children would be looked after.

"The religieuses went to the house on Monday afternoon, as reported yesterday, but as Mr. Martin was not yet gone, they could not fulfill their mission. Before sending them a second time it was better that the departure of Mr. Martin should be ascertained, and that is what Sergeant Ganthier was asked to do."

Mrs. Martin, who is of delicate frame and quite incapable of doing any hard work, will probably be taken care of by the Methodists. She said she had no idea as to her husband's pecuniary position, as he never confided with her in regard to money matters, but she believed he had obtained some money from the Young Men's Christian Association, where he had classes since February.

Mrs. Martin says her husband will probably go to New York, where he has many friends in the priesthood.

SHOT HER LOVER.

A Young Woman Fatally Wounds Her Intended Husband.

WINTERPORT, Me., May 10.—Percy Rich, a young man of this place, while out driving with a Miss Mason, of Frankfort, to whom he was engaged, reproved her for some action when she became enraged, and drawing a revolver fired two or three shots at her companion. One of the shots entered his mouth, passing through the upper lip and through the base of his head, nearly entering the brain in its course. The girl then fired again at close range.

The victim was rendered unconscious from the effects of the shots.

The horse, becoming frightened, dashed away and the occupants narrowly escaped being thrown out.

The animal finally stopped on reaching Winterport, and the unconscious young man was removed to his home and medical assistance summoned.

The young lady is said to be nearly crazy from the effects of the terrible strain on the nerves. She expresses great contrition for the shocking deed.

BANGOR, Me., May 10.—A special from Frankfort says that Lida Mason, the woman who shot Percy Rich, left town in a carriage some time during last night, no effort being made to detain her. It is thought she drove to Brooks and took the train to Boston.

Saved by a Newfoundland Dog.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 10.—Mary Gardiner, a bright and pretty, but wayward girl, was brought here from Clyde at the instance of her mother, who lives in this city. In the police court she was sentenced to the House of Refuge for Women at Hudson. On her way to the court house from the police station she jumped into the canal in an attempt to commit suicide, but was seized as she was about to sink by a big Newfoundland dog, whose master plunged into the water and rescued her. The girl will be taken to Hudson to-day.

The Cronin Convicts Foiled.

JOLIET, Ill., May 10.—It transpires that the "underground" mail scheme to benefit the Cronin convicts was devised by Harry Meyers, the Manhattan Bank robber now doing time for attempted murder. He informed Burke how the necessary money was to be secured and put up the job, in accordance with which Burke wrote to his Chicago friends for $50 for "inside use." Meyers is now strung up by the wrists in solitary confinement.

Extra session Rumor.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 10.—It is rumored that Gov. Hill contemplates calling an extra session to consider rapid transit.

KILLED BY A DETECTIVE.

A Man and Wife Shot Dead by a Rochester Officer.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 10.—At about 7 o'clock last evening Detective Lynch shot and killed two of his neigbors, Samuel Stoddard and his wife. Stoddard was a hard customer. Lynch accused Stoddard of hacking his back fence with an axe.

Stoddard, who was drunk, became abusive and called Lynch hard names. Lynch took hold of Stoddard, who attempted to hit Lynch with an axe which he had in his hands, whereupon the detective drew a revolver and fired. Mrs. Stoddard was standing just behind her husband and the bullet struck her, killing her instantly. A second shot killed Stoddard. Lynch surrendered to the police. He claims that he acted purely in self defence.

DEATH BEFORE DISHONOR.

Keller Merriam Killed Himself When His Wife Accused Him.

FRANKLIN, Pa., May 10.—Keller Merriam has been suspected by his wife for several months of being unduly familiar with the wife of a neighbor. Yesterday she went through her husband's pockets and found evidence of his guilt in the shape of a package of love-letters written to her husband by the woman.

She confronted him with these and he confessed. She then threatened to expose his misdeeds, and he, rather than face his neighbors, secured a revolver and sent a bullet into his brain.

His partner in crime is said to be the wife of a merchant, and after his death she tried to force her way into the room where he lay, but was prevented by her husband. The wronged merchant will sue for a divorce. Merriam leaves a wife and five children.

An Inhuman Father.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 10.—Frank S. Hunt, a railroad employe, was arrested here on the charge of incest with his 19-year-old daughter. The evidence submitted showed this to be an aggravated and frequent occurring case, the girl and her mother being silenced through fear. The evidence also showed that at one time Hunt became enraged and struck his daughter with a bed slat, breaking her leg. The girl was left without surgical attendance for a week. Hunt was unable to procure bail and was locked up.

She Left a Pathetic Letter.

OSWEGO, N. Y., May 10.—Alice J. Brown, 38 years old, unmarried and a stranger here, died last night in childbirth. She had been a school teacher in Kentucky, and left a pathetic letter addressed to "Papa, Ernest and others," and directed to Miss Lizzie Brown, 106 West Embargo street, Rome, N. Y. The body was taken there by A. C. Davis of this city who claims to be an old acquaintance.

Sanitary Convention.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., May 10.—The fourth annual sanitary convention is in session here, Secretary of Internal affairs Thomas J. Stewart presiding. Hon. Samuel T. Davis reviewed the work of the State Board of Health and predicted that with the co-operation of local boards and a strict adherence to sanitary laws old age would be the only cause of death a century hence.

A Loving Cup for Mr. Blaine.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Tiffany & Co. have been commissioned by the delegates from South and Central America and Mexico to the recent Pan American Conference to make a solid silver "loving cup" of artistic design, for presentation to Secretary Blaine as a mark of the personal esteem of the donors.

Pennsylvania Company's Contribution.

PITTSBURG, May 10.—The Pennsylvania Company has contributed a large sum, said to be $275,000, to the World's Fair Committee of Chicago. The vouchers for the amount were made out at the general office of the company in this city yesterday, and the World's Fair Committee notified that the money could be drawn upon at any time.

Three Thousand Miners on Strike.

ELMIRA, N. Y., May 10.—Three thousand miners are now on a strike in the semi-bituminous coal fields of Tioga County. The 1,000 miners at Antrim went out on a strike last night. The miners ask for a restoration of their pay to that of a year ago, current in April amounting to from five to ten per cent. all around.

Big Shoe Factory Insolvent.

WASHINGTON, N. J., May 10.—Steps are being taken to wind up the affairs of the Washington Shoe Company which is said to be hopelessly insolvent, and application has been made to the Chancellor for the appointment of a receiver. The total liabilities of the company are from $50,000 to $75,000, and the assets but $25,000.

Tile Makers Refuse to Compromise.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The tile makers struck May 1 for $4.00 per day instead of $3.50. A dozen of the leading employers met last night and offered the men $3.75 per day. This was positively rejected by the men. The employers say they cannot afford to pay more, and will make no further concessions

Archer Indicted.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 10.—Ex-State Treasurer Archer was indicted by the Anne Arundel Grand Jury. The indictment covers ten pages. It is for malfeasance and contains four counts.

Two Pugilists Horribly Punished.

CINCINNATI, O., May 10.—Pat Burke and Jack Duffy fought 107 rounds eight miles from this city. The battle resulted in a draw. Both men were horribly punished. Burke may lose an eye

WASHINGTON TOPICS

A Report Made to Secretary Tracy in the McCalla Case.

SPECULATING ON THE VERDICT.

It is Believed in Naval Circles that He Has Been Found Guilty.

Canned Goods Packers Before the Ways and Means Committee—Senator Wolcott's Marriage—The Pension Appropriation Bill Passed—The Bill Pensioning Mrs. Parnell Passed in the House.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The findings of the McCalla court-martial were received by Secretary Tracy. They will not be made public until the Secretary and the President have had an opportunity of examining the testimony in detail, a process that may consume several weeks. Capt. McCalla will himself be kept in ignorance of the Secretary's conclusions until the formal announcement is made.

There is but one opinion at the Navy Department with regard to the case. Capt. McCalla will undoubtedly be found guilty and it is believed the sentence imposed will be a suspension of from one to two years. It is rumored at the Navy Department that Capt. McCalla's counsel have concentrated their efforts on securing for the captain a suspension which shall not involve a loss of rank, so that he may retain his number on the registry list and may thus receive future promotion without prejudice.

CANNED GOODS PACKERS.

Arranging for a Hearing Before the Ways and Means Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The National Convention of Canned Goods Packers now holding its annual session in Baltimore, sent a large delegation here to try and arrange for a hearing before the Ways and Means Committee to secure a reduction of duty as proposed by the McKinley bill on tin-plate.

The delegation representing the sentiment of the convention is not only opposed to the duty as fixed by the McKinley measure, but it is asking for an actual reduction on the present duty.

The national association embraces the State associations of New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia and Western States.

It has but very slight hope, however, of obtaining any concession, as the Ways and Means Committee takes the ground that its proposed increase of duty is so slight that it will not be seriously felt, while it will build up an industry that will give employment to thirty-five thousand persons and will add to the volume of business of the country twenty-three million dollars.

Senator Wolcott's Marriage.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Senator Ed Wolcott of Colorado admits that he is to marry Mrs. Bass, the widow of Grover Cleveland's old law partner. The wedding will be in Buffalo next Wednesday and will be the most brilliant in the history of the city. Congressman John Sanford of New York will be the best man and over a dozen Senators, among them Cameron, Plumb and Teller, will attend the weding. Ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland will also be present.

Passed the Pension Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The Senate, after a long discussion, passed the Pension Appropriation bill with an amendment increasing the number of pension agents by two, passed the Military Academy bill, and took up the Army Appropriation bill.

The Bothersome Silver Question.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Those who have been in close consultation with the President since the discussion of the Silver question began, express the belief that the President will approve almost any measure on this subject that Congress will send to him.

Naval Board of Visitors.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The Speaker announced in the House the appointment of Messrs. Boutelle of Maine, Wallace of New York and Rusk of Maryland, as members of the Board of Visitors to the United States Naval Academy.

Senator Edmunds Better.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Dr. Lincoln reports Senator Edmunds somewhat better. The weather is warmer, and an improvement is reported in his condition as a result.

Mrs. Parnell's Pension.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The pension bill of Mrs. Delia T. S. Parnell, passed the House with an amendment making the rate of pension $50 per month.

Warring Chinese Factions.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 10.—Chinatown's two warring factions met last night and the result was a riot. The trouble was caused by Ah Lung, a member of the Ah How faction, brushing against Wong Ki Lung, of the Wong Chee faction. Wong Ki Lung drew a revolver and shot Ah Lung dead. This caused a general fusillade, fully forty shots being fired from the windows and the Chinese in the streets. The riot was quelled by the police, who arrested 100 Chinamen.

Etta Harris Found Guilty.

BOSTON, May 10.—In the criminal malpractice case of Etta W. Harris, alias Dr. Ludgate, which has been on trial in the Superior Criminal Court, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty in one count.

A Plainfielder's Invention.

Mr. Wm. H. Warner of West Front street, has secured United States letters patent for the manufacture of Ironolithic Stone for building purposes.

In many parts of the country, good sand for the making of artificial stone, is difficult to obtain. Mr. Warner uses pulverized and fine crushed iron slag, which contains carbonaceous and silicious matter and many other desirable elements in greater or less proportions, which when thoroughly mixed with other earthy matter form a stone which is not disintegrated by frost, and will stand a tensile and breaking strain equal, if not greater, than natural stone itself. Expert granite cutters, after the severest tests, say the Ironolithic is next to the Quincy granite. Samples can be seen at 31½ West Front street.

A LANDLORD AND TENANT CASE.

Bullock & Co., Secures Two Judgments Against Mr. Wilson Fiske for Rent—An Appeal Taken in Each Case.

The case of Bullock & Co., vs. Wilson Fiske, on contract, for recovery of rent alleged to be due plaintiffs from defendant came up before J. Oakley Nodyne and a twelve men jury on Wednesday last at ten o'clock A. M. The case had been adjourned twice at the request of defendant's counsel, but when the hour arrived for trial neither the defendant or his counsel put in an appearance.

The facts in the case are these:—On or about the 4th of October, 1889, defendant leased from Bullock & Co., their property situate at No. 51 Kensington avenue, this city, for the term of one year at the yearly rental of $564, payable monthly in advance. The landlords agreed to make necessary repairs, which they did, costing them about $300. Mr. Fiske took possession of the premises and paid the landlords the sum of $47 in full for one month's rent. When the next month's rent fell due Bullock & Co. made their demand for the same but Mr. Fiske refused to pay, on the ground that the repairs were not completed. An extensive correspondence between the parties was the outgrowth of this refusal which continued for over five months, when Bullock & Co., placed the matter in the hands of their attorney, Mr. Wm. A. Coddington of this city.

Suit was at once instituted against Mr. Fiske to recover the rent for the five months of which Mr. Fiske was in default. Mr. Fiske engaged the services of Counselor Wm. K. McClure to defend him. That case was tried before Justice Nodyne and a jury, and after the entire day was consumed in taking the evidence of witnesses, the attorneys summed up the case and left it for the jury to decide. After a few minutes deliberation the jury rendered a verdict in favor of Bullock & Co., for the full amount of their claim together with interest and costs of suit.

The defendant through his Counsel appealed the case, Since the above case was tried, two more months rent became due, and the defendant also neglected to settle, but has continued to occupy and enjoy the use of the house and lot All the mechanics who repaired the house testified that the house was in a good tenantable condition, and this jury like the first, rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for the full amount of their claim with interest and costs of suit. This case, it is reported, will also be appealed.

Thursday Evening in Reform Hall.

The meeting under the auspices of the Reform Club last Thursday evening, proved to be an interesting and well attended affair. Mrs. King, Miss Hawkins and Miss Alice Smith ably rendered the choir music. A song by Miss Glen was enthusiastically received, as was likewise a most admirable recitation by Miss E. Smith. The subsequent introduction of the selected topic for discussion—"Does pride, extravagance and fashion separate more families than the drink habit," produced a lively response in which several participated. The President announced as the question for Thursday evening next—"Which exerts the greatest influence for good, pledge signing or the prohibition of the liquor traffic?" and solicited a full attendance.

ASKING THE COURTS FOR $2,000 DAMAGES.

Mrs. Lissignolo Suing Her Late Tenant, Ex-Councilman Warry Watson.

In getting off the train from Trenton, yesterday morning at Elizabeth, Judge VanSyckel slipped on a banana peeling and strained his back. It grew so much more painful as time went on, that Court was adjourned until Monday when the Lissignolo-Watson suit will again come up at 10:30 A. M. Those who have the time should go down to Elizabeth then. They will be right in the heart of a very entertaining case. The majority of people think Mrs. Lissignolo should be awarded damages, but then Counselor Craig A. Marsh is for the defence and that makes all the difference in the result. Some of the facts and rumors of the case are as follows:

It is a suit brought by Augusta C. Lissignolo against G. Warren Watson, who leased her furnished house on East Front street and occupied it nineteen months. It was handsomely fitted up, and in the stable were several carriages and three horses. These were also included in the lease. A pet monkey was left on the premises with the understanding that it should be cared for. The plaintiff alleges that the animal was put in the barn, where it died from cold and neglect. Its value is inserted as an item in her claim. All her poultry were likewise left on the premises, and for taking care of them Watson had the eggs.

Mrs. Lissignolo declared that when she resumed charge of the house she found it in a filthy condition. Large holes, she avers, had been made in two of her valuable paintings, making them of little value. They were exhibited to the Court and jury. One, a landscape, was imported from Germany. Mr. Julian Scott, the artist of this city, testified under oath that it was worth $250. Mrs. Annie Griffin, also a painter of note, testified for the defense that the painting was worth $100. She set no value on the other picture, but Col. Scott judged it to be worth $25. The defense claimed the paintings were insecurely hung on the wall, and one day the cord broke and they fell against a lot of statuary, which caused the damage.

The plaintiff alleged that her carriages were nearly ruined and one of her horses was crippled by defendant, Watson. She estimated the entire damage to her property to be not less than $2,000. For this amount she had brought suit.

Mrs. Lissignolo caused a laugh in the court-room by a reply which she made to City Attorney Marsh, who is counsel for the defense. She testified that the mantels in her house when she regained possession were decorated with a lot of empty beer bottles.

"Was there anything strange about this?" asked Mr. Marsh.

"Yes," quickly retorted Mrs. Lissignolo. "It was decidedly strange to find them empty."

Mr. G. Warren Watson, the defendant, is a New Yorker, formerly of this city where his term as Councilman has just expired. His family became wealthy in Tweed's time. The elder Watson was a friend of the Tammany chieftain.

Mr. Watson denied in toto the charges that he was careless and reckless in using Mrs. Lissignolo's property. He said the carriages were in bad condition when he leased them, and produced, to substantiate his testimony, ex-Chief of Police Chase, of this city, whom Watson hired to repair some of the vehicles.

Mad Dogs on the Increase.

Owners of dogs cannot be too careful about letting the animals run at large unmuzzled. Dog catcher Babbitt was called to a house on East Fifth street, yesterday, to shoot a dog which had been acting strangely, and later in the day he shot and killed a Newfoundland dog owned by ex-Senator Robert L. Livingston. This dog showed marked signs of the rabies, frothing at the mouth and snapping at everything in its way. Babbitt routed the dog from under a stoop, and the brute came near biting him before he had a chance to shoot.

A valuable St. Bernard dog owned by Mr. A. H. Streull of Prospect avenue, acted strangely this morning, and the animal was promptly shot.

Dog-catcher Babbitt also shot a hound dog belonging to him, this morning, deciding not to run any risk.

Middlesex Gun Club.

An important meeting of the members of the Middlesex Gun Club, was held at Force's Hotel, last evening. It was there and then decided to lease the interests of the the club in their buildings for a term of years to Mr. Charles Smith of this city, (otherwise known as "Dutchey" in shooting circles), with certain proper restrictions and reservations. By this action the club has taken new impetus, and lovers of trap shooting may expect new life and lively times on the Middlesex Gun Club grounds after this. The dues of members were also reduced from 50 cents to 25 cents a month from May 1, 1890.

Broke His Arm in Two Places.

Willie, the ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Coriell of West Fifth street met with a painful accident on Thursday afternoon. The boy was playing leap-frog with some of his companions, when he slipped and fell, sustaining a compound fracture of the left arm near the elbow. Dr. J. T. Fritts set the broken bones.

—The "Young Arlingtons" defeated the "Dutch Potatoes," this morning, in seven innings by a score of 8 to 4. The batteries were H. Mattis and L. Doyle, G. Mattis and T. Conneely.

STATE CHARITIES AID ASSOCIATION.

Its Next Stated Meeting to be Held in This City, to Examine Plainfield's Poor Relief System.

Wednesday night the annual meeting of the State Charities Aid Association was supposed to be held in the Arcade building, Elizabeth. As with the exception of the secretary and one vice president, no officers were present, and no reports from committees were sent in, those in the room resolved themselves into a sort of experience meeting, to which several contributed their ideas and their experience as to outdoor relief and the desirability of establishing a Charity Organization Society such as that which according to the Elizabeth Hearld, one gentleman from Plainfield said works so admirably in this city and serves pretty effectually to put down mendicancy.

The next stated meeting will be held in this city in November. At that meeting the Plainfield poor relief system already alluded to will be examined into, and the day for holding the annual meeting will also be constitutionally changed to some other day than Wednesday, as on that evening the Presbyterians and other religious bodies hold their weekly prayer meetings.

Last Chance to Assist Lodge 74.

To-night the Australian Folly Troupe closes its week's engagement at Amphion Hall, and it will be the final opportunity for the friends of Perseverance Lodge 74, Knights of Pythias, to come forward and respond to the appeal of this worthy organization. They are offering good goods in return for small profits, and have deserved more encouragement than they have received.

The performance this evening promises to be the best of the week. Many new acts will be given and several fresh faces will appear. Our fun-loving public should not miss the opportunity—not only to benefit the Knights, but to enjoy an evening of excellent vaudeville amusement.

Somerville's Grand Stand Stops the Trains.

The grand stand which formerly stood on the old West End base ball grounds at Somerville, was removed to the new grounds last Friday. When it reached the Hamilton street railroad crossing it was found that the telegraph wires would not permit it to cross the tracks. When this difficulty had been removed, one of the wagons broke down on the track, and for a little while blocked all trains.

THIRTY PERISHED.

The Sheriff's Posse Still Searching for the Missing Poorhouse Maniacs.

NORWICH, N. Y., May 10.—Later reports from the scene of the poorhouse fire at Preston indicate that at least thirty people perished in the flames.

The records were all destroyed, and it is impossible to give all the names of those who are still missing.

The coroner is holding an inquest over the remains of the thirteen partially burned dead bodies.

The two little churches and hotel at Preston are still being occupied by the paupers and lunatics. The ball room at the hotel has been converted into a dormitory. The bedding from the asylum has been removed thither, and the beds are arranged as closely as possible upon the floor.

The female patients occupy these, and the effects of the excitement through which they passed were apparent in many cases. Some of them appear dazed, and others gibber in a manner that would curdle one's blood.

The male lunatics are housed in the Universalist Church, and the majority of them are lounging on the bare benches. They are quiet and seem less excited than the women. The male paupers are placed in the Baptist Church and are making the best of their condition.

Sheriff Kinney and his deputies are still scouring the country for the missing insane. Two women almost naked were found shivering in a barn twenty miles from the scene of the disaster. Two maniacs were captured at Church Hill after a long and desperate fight. They had armed themselves with pickaxes and the sheriff was obliged to shoot one of them before they could be secured.

The State Board of Charities say that provision has been made for all the insane at the Binghampton institution, where they will be taken at once.

Director-General of the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, May 10.—Among the names now being mentioned for director-general of the World's Fair, are H. B. Sone, until recently one of the vice-presidents of the Burlington road, and J. W. Rickman, who directed the International Maritime Exposition at Boston last year.

SHERIFFS ARRESTED

Conflict Between Federal and State Courts.

IT ALMOST RESULTED IN A RIOT.

An Attempt to Rescue Prisoners from a United States Marshal.

Passengers on a Train Called on for Assistance — Women and Children Rush Excitingly from the Cars—The Marshal to be Arrested by Order of a State Judge.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., May 12.—A difficulty arose between the officers of the United States District Court in this State and the officers of the Circuit Court of Summers County which almost resulted in a riot. United States Marshal White, under due process of court, had ordered his deputy, S. W. Wiley, to go to Summers County and arrest Charles Abbott, Henderson Farley and Dick Price for illicit distilling. The arrests were made and the deputy was putting his prisoners on the train when Sheriff Kessler and his deputy, of Summers County, intercepted the United States officer with an order from the State Circuit Court demanding the prisoners. The United States deputy having a number of other prisoners and fearing their escape if trouble arose, surrendered the demanded men. He reported the circumstances to the United States Court, and an order for the arrest of the sheriff and deputy for contempt was issued.

Marshal White went to Hinton to execute the order, and was informed by Judge Campbell that he should not arrest State officers, but that the United States officer would himself be arrested. The United States Marshal did not heed the State Court, but marched the sheriff and deputy to the train.

Just as the train was about to pull out the clerk of the State Court attempted to arrest Marshal White and demanded the release of the sheriff. The United States Marshall called on the passengers for assistance and declared his intention to hold his prisoner or die in the attempt. The wildest excitement prevailed. Women and children rushed from the car and men took sides, some with the State and some with the United States officer. The conductor pulled the bell cord and the train started.

After going several miles the conflict ended in favor of United States officers, who brought their prisoners to the court room of the United States Court. Judge Jackson fined the sheriff and deputies. Judge Campbell declares that the matter shall not end, but whenever the United States Marshal enters Summers County he will place him under arrest.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

A Locomotive Engineer and Fireman Blown Into a Shapeless Mass.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 12.—Shortly after 2 o'clock Lehigh Valley switch engine No. 261 was drawing a train of frieght cars from the Tifft Farm into this city. The engine was in charge of Engineer George Pearl and Fireman Henry O'Connor, and was going at a moderate rate of speed, and when near the bridge over the Buffalo Creek without a moment's warning exploded.

The shock of the explosion was terrific, being heard with distinctness two miles away. Fireman O'Connor's body was blown 100 feet in the air and fell a shapeless mass. The body of the engineer was found after some search where it had fallen, about 150 feet east of the wreck. He was dead when found, and the remains were terribly mangled.

Both men had homes in Buffalo, and each leaves a family. The cause of the explosion seems to be a mystery, and may never be determined. The engine is said to have been an old one, but in good condition. The engineer, Pearl, seems to have been a comparatively new man, and little is known about him in the yards.

Looking After Contract Labor.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 12.—Government Inspector Layton is now in Latrobe, Pa., to look up 107 Italians who were passed through Castle Garden about two weeks ago, and who went to work in the Pennsylvania coke regions. Mr. Layton says the bartering in foreign labor is still being actively carried on, despite the efforts of the authorities to stop the practice. The evil is one extremely hard to prevent for the padrones' labor is readily accepted by greedy contractors, and with their influence the slave owner, for that he virtually is, can, if necessary, bring his men over one on each ship and in a short time have a sufficient gang to be serviceable.

Thirty Lives Lost at Preston.

NORWICH, N. Y., May 12.—Notwithstanding the mysterious reticence of the coroner and the keepers and the superintendent of the burned Chenango County Poorhouse at Preston, persons in a position to know say that at least 30 patients perished in the flames. It is said that not one inmate out of the 20 in the bed-ridden ward escaped.

Convention of Railway Conductors.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 12.—Delegates to the general convention of the Order of Railway Conductors, which begins its session at the City Hall to-morrow afternoon, began to arrive this morning and there are already at least 200 representatives of the order in the city from all parts of the country. The convention will probably last a week or 10 days.

Detective Lynch Exonerated.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 12.—A coroner's jury exonerated Detective Lynch from all blame in shooting Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stoddard.

SWEPT BY FLAMES.

The Business Portion of Ellicotville, N. Y., in Ashes.

ELLICOTVILLE, N. Y., May 12.—Nearly a quarter of the business portion of Ellicotville lies in ashes. The buildings burned were the Crawford House and livery stables, D. F. MacMahon's dwelling, J. W. and D. P. MacMahon's dry goods store, F. E. Snyder's jewelry store, E. L. Reed's dental rooms, M. W. Brooks' grocery store, Galloway & Perkins' harness shop, F. Kirnan's grocery store, E. Oyer's saloon, George Bentley's dwelling, the barrel factory and stock of Charles Hartley's blacksmith shop, MacMahon's barns and agricultural implement warehouse and Mrs. Harmon's barns.

The fire started in D. F. MacMahon's dwelling at 11 a. m. and soon spread to the other buildings. There is absolutely no protection against fire here. Bucket brigades were formed and did considerable good, but could not prevent the spread of the flames, and for a time it seemed as though the entire village was doomed. The Salamanca fire department was wired for but it was necessary to get the Salamanca board together for their consent before the fire department could respond. At 11:36 the first stream was turned on, and the flames were quickly under control.

LIVELY SUNDAY MILL.

Four Hundred Spectators See Nelson and Cornell Fight Sixteen Rounds.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 12.—A fight which had been projected for some time came off at daybreak yesterday morning in Douglass, Mass., just over the State line.

The contestants were Jimmy Nelson, of New London, and Christopher Cornell, of Pascoag, and the stake was $500, $300 of which went to the winner. The 400 spectators witnessed one of the pluckiest combats ever fought hereabouts in this class, and the fight was very close.

Cornell forced the fighting from the start and appeared to be a sure winner up to the last round. Nelson had been holding back, however, and occasionally dropping to escape punishment. When the time arrived, Nelson finished his man with a half dozen blows delivered with the utmost rapidity, knocking Cornell out in the sixteenth round.

Boss Carpenters at War.

CHICAGO, May 12.—A committee appointed by the Carpenters' and Builders' Association to take charge of the employment of new men has sent out circulars to different cities inviting workmen to come to Chicago. The secretary is preparing a revised list of members for the use of architects and material men, who have joined hands with the master carpenters in the efforts to defeat the new Boss Carpenters' Association. The members of the latter are relying on the union of the journeymen to pull them through.

Miss Cusack's Disappearance.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 12.—Miss Cusack, known as the "Nun of Kenmure," came to this city last winter and several Presbyterian ministers arranged lectures for her and she had many profitable entertainments. She left here rather unexpectedly, and before going took supscriptions for her book on "Reasons for Leaving the Catholic Church," and collected a handsome sum. The book was to be delivered in January, but up to date has not come to hand.

Mayor Carroll's Son Arrested.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Raymond Carroll, son of the mayor of Rochester, was held in the police court for trial in $300 bail on the charge of assaulting Judith Torey, with whom he is said to have been living for some time. Miss Torey says Carroll squandered $15,000 of her money in gambling, and then got drunk and blackened her eye. She inherited $20,000 from her father, a New Orleans lawyer.

Alleged Incendiaries Arrested.

BOSTON, May 12.—Frank E. Gillis, whose photograph shop on Charles street was burned in January, and again in March, was arrested yesterday, together with David Punch, John McDermott, W. J. Murphy and Charles H. Ring, charged with conspiracy to cause the fires. Punch formerly ran an ink factory, which was burned last October. He and Gillis were traveling with a photograph car when arrested.

The Jackson-Smith Fight.

CHICAGO, May 12.—Peter Jackson will endeavor to-night at Battery D, a public hall in this city, owned by Parson Davies, to put Edward Smith, of Denver, to sleep in less than ten rounds. William Muldoon is Smith's manager and trainer and has the Denver man in excellent trim. Muldoon says Smith is a beauty bright and he would not be surprised to see Jackson knocked out.

The Mayor Closed the Saloons.

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 12.—Mayor Kraft's orders for the closing of saloons Sundays were enforced yesterday for the first time. With the exception of a few side doors on the back streets, no saloons were open. It was the quietest and most orderly Sunday experienced here for years.

Mrs. Vandergrift Has the Blues.

MT. HOLLY, N. J., May 12.—Mrs. Carrie Vandergrift has been in a depressed condition of mind since she was convicted of attempting to poison her son Frank C. Norman. Young Norman is still loyal to his mother and claims that her conviction is an unjust one.

Anti-Delamater Delegate.

EMPORIUM, Pa., May 12.—Minnick, anti Delamater delegate, was elected over McNarney, Delamater's man. Minnick's first choice is Stone and his second Hastings. There was a strong feeling shown for Hastings during the day.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Senate Discussing the Silver Question To-day.

TALKING ABOUT ADJOURNMENT.

Debate on the Tariff Bill by Sections the Order of the House.

Official Report of the Department of Agriculture—The Meeting of the National Executive Committee Postponed Indefinitely—Carlisle in the Lead for the Kentucky Senatorship.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The Senate began in earnest to-day the discussion of the Silver bill. Mr. Jones, of Nevada, who has been absent from the city for several days, is in his seat and will take charge of the bill.

The present intention is to push the debate to a conclusion this week if possible; but several amendments to the bill will be proposed and as each will be discussed at some length it is a matter of doubt whether the discussion will be concluded within that time or not.

The Republicans are anxious to get the silver measure out of the way to prepare for the coming of the Tariff bill; for the question of adjournment has been discussed informally in the Committee of Finance and the Committee on Appropriations and it has been determined that the suggestion of Speaker Reed that an adjournment be had by the middle of July is a good one.

The bills for the admission of Wyoming and Idaho are to be considered also in the near future, but they cannot be taken up before the Silver bill is out of the way, and that will be another reason for pushing the silver debate to a conclusion. The Military Academy Appropriation bill is still on the calendar, but it can be passed during the morning hour without debate.

Debate on the Tariff bill by sections will be the order of the House for the entire week. The vote on the final passage of the bill will not be taken until the week following. In the consideration of the bill by sections, amendments will be offered and the debate will be governed by the five minute rule.

AGRICULTURAL REPORT.

Official Returns About the Condition of Crops and Farm Labor.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The Department of Agriculture official report of the condition of winter grain on May 1st, makes a reduction of one point in wheat, the average being 80. The rye average is maintained, being 93.5; barley 84.6.

Areas in which the roots were not too severely frozen have improved during the past month; in others the injury is shown to be greater than appearances indicated. Some correspondents state that it is too early yet to know the amount of vitality and ultimate degree of development of the plant.

The averages of condition for the States of principal production are as follows: New York, 91; Pennsylvania, 96; Ohio, 82; Michigan, 73, Indiana, 76; Illinois, 64; Missouri, 82; Kansas, 92; California, 82; Oregon, 95. The Southern States producing wheat: Maryland, 98; Virginia, 95; North Carolina, 80; Georgia, 65; Texas, 67; Tennessee, 82.

The condition of mowing lands averages 92.9, and that of pasture, 93, indicating a good prospect for medium productiveness.

The reported progress of spring plowing and planting indicates an average state of forwardness of farm work, though there are local inequalities in the record. It is relatively late in the Ohio valley, in the Southwest and on the Pacific coast. It is earlier than usual in the Northwest and on the Atlantic coast south of Delaware. It is an average in the Middle States and New England.

An investigation of the wages of farm labor has been made. The monthly rate of wages has not declined. Compared with the last previous report, that of May, 1888, the average for the country is unchanged, though slight local fluctuations are reported. A scarcely appreciable increase appears in the Eastern and Middle States, and there is some increase in Virginia. There is a slight reduction of the rates of the Pacific coast region, which are still relatively high. Throughout the central areas North and South, the averages are practically the same as two years ago. It is evident that the depression in prices of corn and oats and other products has not affected the wages of agricultural labor.

Sunday Ball-Playing in Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—An effort is being made to start Sunday baseball playing in Washington. Manager Sullivan of the Washington club thinks Sunday would not affect the week-day attendance at the games, and is looking about for a field just across the long bridge of the Virginia shore. President Young, of the League, an old resident of Washington, however, has given the scheme a setback, by coming out flat footed against Sunday ball playing. He thinks it demoralizing and injurious to the welfare of the game.

Trouble at a Wrestling Match.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 12.—A wrestling match for $500 a side between Bibby and Cattanach, at the Pawtucket Rink Saturday night, broke up amid great excitement; the police charging upon the disorderly crowd with their clubs. Each man had won one fall. The referee left without announcing a decision.

A Cook Hangs Himself.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 12.—Arthur Bohlman, who came here two weeks ago as chief cook for Reeder's Hotel, hanged himself yesterday. No cause for the suicide is known.

A Flat Contradiction.

Some one has told you that your catarrh is incurable. It is not so. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure it. It is pleasant to use it and it always does its work thoroughly. We have yet to hear of a case in which it did not accomplish a cure when faithfully used. Catarrh is a disease which it is dangerous to neglect. A certain remedy is at your command. Avail yourself of it before the complaint assumes a more serious form. All druggists.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Robert E. Connolely of East Third street, returned to Patchogue, L. I., yesterday, where he will remain indefinitely.

Miss Ida A. Pearce, daughter of Hon. H. O. Pearce of Haverville, Mass., is visiting Mrs. Eugene Everit at her home on LaGrand avenue.

The many friends of Mr. David M. Demarest of Crescent avenue, will be glad to learn that his condition is today slightly improved.

Mr. Wm. B. Proctor, U. S. N., of the U. S. S. Eagre, U. S. S. Cost Survey, of Brooklyn, N. Y., spent Sunday with friends on West Front street.

Mr. Frank A. Morell, late of the City Hotel, has gone to White Plains, New York, where he will open a road house. Mr. Morell made many warm friends during his stay in this city. He has been succeeded by Mr. George VanDoren of Trenton.

At the residence of her sister, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, on West Seventh street, on Saturday, occurred the death of Mrs. Margaret W. Jenner, aged eighty-two years. The funeral will take place from the house, No. 72 West Seventh street, to-morrow at twelve o'clock, noon.

The Baptist Pastors' Association in New York city, recently, listened to a paper on "The Place and the authority of the Elder," by the Rev. D. J. Yerkes, pastor of the First Baptist church of Plainfield. It was announced that the Baptist Conference of today would be held in the Peddie Memorial church at Newark.

James R. Boss of Smyrna, N. Y., father of Principal Boss of the North Plainfield school, died suddenly on Thursday of heart failure, at the age of 71 years. He was a zealous Republican and active in all public affairs. He served the town as Bonding Commissioner in connection with its issue of bonds for railroad purposes and in other public trusts. He leaves only one son, Prof. Charles E. Boss of the Borough.

Ex-Councilman C. M. Goddard of East Ninth street, started for Boston, Mass., last evening, to accept a lucrative position as electrical inspector of the New England Ins. Exchange, with main office in Boston. Mr. Goddard was the successful one out of a dozen or more competitors for the office, and his ability as an electrician, specially qualifies him for the position. By his departure from the city Plainfield loses a good citizen, but what is Plainfield's loss is Boston's gain. THE PRESS bespeaks success for him in his new undertaking.

Entertained by the Plainfield Bicycle Club.

The last issue of the Bicycling World and Bulletin contained the following item:

"On Sunday, May 4, Messrs Colgate, Stoney and Demarest, of the Englewood, N. J., Wheelmen, according to arrangement, started from Englewood for a ride to Plainfield via. Springfield and Westfield, retnrning via Elizabeth and Newark, which would have been most enjoyable had it not been for the uncertain weather that proved to be just stormy enough to spoil the roads. The party arrived at Milburn in a pouring rain where they were obliged to seek shelter on the piazza of the hotel and wait for the shower to pass over. They then left for Plainfield, eleven miles distant, where they met just outside the city limits Mr. A. L. C. Marsh of the Plainfield Bicycle Club, who escorted them to the club house of the Plainfield Bicycle Club (which, by the way, is a "model" in every sense of the word) and after a refreshing bath a chat at the cozy grate fire with one or two of the members who happened in, the party adjourned to Laing's Hotel and had dinner, after which they were met by Capt. Martin, who escorted them through the city and on their way back as far as Elizabeth, where he reluctantly left them, as he had an engagement with his best girl that could not be postponed. Distance, 79 miles."

An Exciting Runaway.

An exciting runaway occurred on West Second street, about four o'clock, yesterday, which fortunately did but little damage. The horse belonged to a Perth Amboy liveryman, and was left standing in front of a house, while the driver was making a call. The animal broke the bridle and thus freed, he ran along West Second street to Plainfield avenue, thence to Front street and along that thoroughfare to Seguine's livery stable, where he was captured.

St. Mary's Church.

The regular devotions for the month of May will be held in St. Mary's church Wednesday at 8 o'clock, P. M., and will be held every Wednesday evening during the month at the same hour.

On Thursday next, (Ascension Day), Masses will be celebrated at half-past five and eight o'clock in the morning.

The most perfect rules of chemistry are observed in compounding Hires' Cough Cure. Absolutely free from poisons, but certains in its effects to eradicate a cold and to stop a cough.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The First Anniversary Service in the M. E. Church Last Evening.

The first anniversary service of the Epworth League of the M. E. church took place in that edifice, last evening, the church being densely filled with an appreciative and interested audience. Mr. Walter McGee presided and beside him on the platform were the officers of the League.

The programme included the singing of anthems by the choir, prayer, responsive reading, and a five minute address of welcome by Master Frank Martin. Miss Morrison also gave a recitation on the "History of Methodism," and Miss Keitling gave an address on "The Aims and Methods of the Epworth League." Offerings for the general expenses of the League were taken up by six young ladies.

A sketch of the local chapter was given by Master Geo. M. Rittenhouse, and after a hymn was sung, the Rev. C. B. Mitchell pronounced the benediction.

Bitten by a Gila Monster.

According to a newspaper despatch from Tucson, Walter L. Vail of Los Angeles, son of Mr. Mahlon Vail of this city, was bitten by a Gila monster on the middle right finger. It required several minutes to dislodge the reptile. A doctor went and brought Vail to his home for treatment. He is suffering great pain, and his tongue is so swollen that he cannot articulate. Physicians say that he is in a very precarious condition.

The bite of the Gila monster is not usually believed to be fatal. All the cases of death so far reported from it are said to be of intemperate persons. This case is said to be important, as Vail is not addicted to the use of spirits, and the absence of alcohol will enable the physicians to determine the full effect of the poison of the Gila monster.

The Boys Efforts.

The Rev. Charles B. Mitchell will lecture at Reform Hall, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. The lecture will be illustrated with sixty selected pictures illustrating the Paris Exposition and a double interest will accrue from the fact that Mr. Mitchell has himself seen everything represented by these views.

The Young Men's Auxiliary have taken this means of aiding the Building Fund, and it is hoped that the citizens of Plainfield will aid them in their efforts to increase the same. Tickets of admission twenty-five cents. Reserved seats thirty-five cents. Tickets for sale at drug stores.

Interesting Exercises at Reform Hall.

At Reform Hall last evening President Harper occupied the chair, Mr. Vanderbeek led the choir, with Mr. George Rogers as accompanist, and Mr. Nicholson conducted the devotional services. Two very practical, earnest and interesting addresses were delivered by Messrs Boice and Nicholson on behalf of total abstinence from liquor drinking, and the close relationship between temperance and religion. They were listened to with undivided attention. At the close of the meeting the President gave notice that the Rev. Dr. Rodman was expected to be the speaker next Sunday evening.

Slightly off Her Base.

A colored woman named Rosa Knutt, who was employed as a domestic in a family on Somerset street, became slightly demented yesterday and attempted to dance a reel and jig on the sidewalk in front of her employer's home. A crowd soon gathered about her and evidently enjoyed the proceedings. The woman was arrested and locked up, and subsquently she was taken to her rooms on Manning avenue. She is said to be subject to fits.

And It's Not Good Beer Weather, Either.

One of the North Plainfield beer bottlers reports that his business is steadily increasing, since the liquor licenses were granted to the hotels and saloons in this city. He says that at the present time his weekly sales of beer alone average about eighty kegs, and he is but one of the several bottlers in the borough. At this rate fully enough beer is consumed in this city and North Plainfield every week to float a good-sized ship.

A Lost Child.

A three year old son of Mr. L. Bray of West Third street, wandered away from home, about ten o'clock on Saturday morning, and four hours later the little one was found on Berckman street by Mr. Michael Callahan, gardener for Mr. Wm. V. Stout. The child was placed in the care of Matron Lynch at the station house, and subsequently he was restored to his parents, none the worse from his trip.

Speaks Well of This Church Choir.

A correspondent writes to THE PRESS, advising all admirers of good music to attend the First Presbyterian church, next Sunday evening. "I say it without fear of contradiction." The correspondent writes, "That they have the most perfect sweet voiced soprano to be found in any choir in this locality, and their alto can't be beaten. This is the opinion of one who heard the music last evening."

The proprietors of Salvation Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain, will pay a large reward if any certificate published by them is not found genuine.

Tom, Dick and Harry appear again with their Grandmother's recipes for Coughs, etc., but the people know Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup too well.

CRESCENTS WIN AGAIN.

The Most Satisfactory Game of the Season, Played Last Saturday.

The Rutgers College team that defeated the Crescents last season by a score of 19 to 5, were defeated in return, on Saturday, by a score of 7 to 3. Still they had no reason to be ashamed. It will be understood that they had to play a particularly good game to keep the score where it was, when it is remembered that the Crescents had defeated the Columbia College team of New York, only two weeks' before, by a score of 13 to 1.

It was an enjoyable game all the way through. There were many safe hits and much lively base running. The play on both sides was often brilliant, and as Mr. Frank Bowman proved himself one of the best umpires ever on the grounds, the large crowd present were thoroughly satisfied with the afternoon's exhibition.

The Rutgers boys seemed to hit Livingston oftener than was expected, but on the other hand every man on the Crescents, excepting Walker, hit Lockett. A strange feature of this is that last Saturday Walker made four safe hits and four runs. McMurray was back in right field and captured a hard fly besides making two hits. The errors on both sides were not noticeable nor costly. The score was as follows:

Shoot Him on the Spot.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Is there no way that pedestrians can be protected from the dangerous brute in the shape of a large dog which can be met almost any evening on Washington Avenue, near the bridge. Both on Saturday night and last evening the brute took possession of the avenue at that point, and kept up a continual growling and snapping at everyone who passed. The dog is said to be owned by a family who recently moved into North Plainfield from this city, and is known to be of a most vicious nature. Timid people are afraid to pass along that thoroughfare at night, for fear of coming in contact with the worthless cur. Cannot the owner of the dog be prosecuted for tolerating such a nuisance?

RABIES.

In Recognition of His Faithful Services.

The annual report of the President of the Y. M. C. A., as published Friday evening, omitted to mention the name of Mr. C. J. Robertson, draughtsman at Scott's Press Works, who has taught the advanced classes in mechanical drawing since last October.

As these classes have been conducted this season without a cent of expense to the association except for lighting the class room, it is only fair that Mr. Robertsen's valuable services should have this recognition.

A Grocery Clerk Bitten by a Dog.

John Johnson, a clerk employed by J. F MacDonald, was bitten on the foot by a dog owned by Mr. P. J. Loizeaux of Chatham street, North Plainfield, on Saturday. The young man called at the house as usual to get his order, when the dog sprang upon him, biting him on the foot. It is said that the mongrel has since been treated to a dose of strychnine.

Will Have a Hearing To-Morrow.

Michael Sweeny, Sr., appeared before City Judge Codington this morning to answer to a complaint of using foul and abusive language, preferred by one Thos. Lyons of West Second street. The complainant did not come forward to press the charge, and Sweeny was allowed to go on his own recognizance to appear for trial to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

Fell Through a Show Window.

About four o'clock yesterday morning some unknown person broke out one of the panes of glass on the Second street side of Mr. Jesse Hetfield's meat and vegetable market at Park avenue and Second street. The man was evidently drunk, and staggered up against the glass. The fellow made his escape before the police arrived.

Closed a Week's Engagement.

The Australian Folly Company closed a week's engagement in Amphion Hall on Saturday evening. The company played to good-sized audiences, and Perseverance Lodge, K. of P., under whose auspices the show was given, will come out about even, from a financial point of view.

PLAINFIELD'S POSTAL RECEIPTS.

A Record of All Mail Matter Handled for a Week Closing Today.

Few persons have any idea of the magnitude of the business transacted in the Plainfield postoffice. In accordance with a general order sent out by the postoffice authorities at Washington, every postmaster in the United States was obliged to keep a record of all mail matter handled, together with the receipts, etc., for the week beginning at six o'clock A. M., on Monday, May 5, and closing at six o'clock on the morning of May 12.

During that time Postmaster E. R. Pope reports that in all 21,709 individual pieces of mail matter was handled in the Plainfield office. Of this number, 15,039 were letters, 2,544 were postal cards and the balance was made up of packages, etc. The total weight was 955 lbs 5 oz., and the total amount of money received for postage was $381.06. During the week 207 money orders were issued and paid, and 128 registered letters were received and sent out, all of which speaks well for the Plainfield office.

Fighting the Ice Men in Trenton.

"A movement is on foot to get cheaper ice in this city," says the Trenton True American. The large consumers, such as butchers, saloon men, etc., say they cannot afford to pay such exorbitant prices. A meeting has been called for to-morrow night for the purpose of forming a co-operative company to fight the ice combine and to get a supply of ice on their own account. They claim that, even in Princeton, only $10 a ton is charged, while there the large consumers have to pay $15 a ton and families are charged $20. It is said that the new project has already 40 signers who have taken 150 shares. They propose to have the ice shipped there from New York in refrigerator cars every day. They will have their own wagons and will furnish the ice to large consumers not higher than fifty cents a hundred and to small consumers at about fifty or seventy cents a hundred.

"For Goodness Sake Don't Say I Told You."

Bonnie Kate Castleton, who has not been near Plainfield for some years, is to be here again Wednesday evening. This is a treat the whole city should appreciate and patronize.

The skit she will appear in with her jolly company, called "A Paper Doll" is pure nonsense, but it is bright and full of good light music. Miss Castleton has made the discovery that farce comedies succeed better with small companies, in which every one has something to do, than with carloads of actors who rush about doing nothing and obtaining no hold on the audience. Farce writers generally would do well to keep this little principle in mind and managers its sequence, that small companies must be made up of individual artists.

Kate Castleton has a good farce, a good company, a good face and a good figure.

Family Gathering at Bound Brook.

Between fifty and sixty persons from this city and Somerville were present at the 70th birthday celebration of Mrs. Rebecca Fenner of Somerville, held at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. George Wortman, at Bound Brook, on Saturday. All of Mrs. Fenner's sons and daughters were present, together with about twenty-five grandchildren. Among those in attendance from here were Mr. H. V. Middlesworth and family and Mr. H. J. Martin and family of North Plainfield. The entire day was passed in various social ways, the guests departing for their homes at night fall.

An Effort to Overcome Its Uselessness.

A bigoted Plainfield paper says that: "During the entire year of 1789, when no license prevailed, the arrests for intoxication were only fifty-one." This is valuable information from an antediluvian standpoint. We have often beguiled our leisure hours wondering whether the arrests in 1789 were fifty or fifty-one. It would also be interesting to know how many persons were sober during the same period. As far as we can find out, fifty-one was a pretty fair percentage of the population in 1789. If the paper quoted continues its prehistoric research, it may yet be of some use to the community.

He Can Play Any Part as Well.

Actors and actresses think they are great if they get recalls. But few, not excepting the most eminent and popular stars, receive an encore in the middle of an act, so that an instance is worthy of record. Frank Mordaunt has been recalled in the third act of "The Henrietta" at Proctor's New York theatre at every performance, for intense and brilliant acting in the broker's office scene.

He plays the part that Wm. H. Crane, Stuart Robson's old associate, used to, and it must be confessed that he outshines his predecessor. His impersonation is a triumph of art that is a tribute to this capable actor.

A Contemporary's First Mistake.

It has not been for lack of observation but for lack of space, that THE PRESS has not before spoken of the change in the shape of the Elizabeth Journal. It is the first mistake ever known in the history of that illiberally edited but, by all odds, best newspaper in the county. Its contents are not now so easily recognized, and the most of its advertisers will object to positions on half its pages.

—The taking of testimony in the Lissignolo-Watson case was resumed at Elizabeth today.

Beautiful Exterior Decorations.

One of the prettiest houses in the city today is that situated at the corner of Seventh street and Park avenue, and owned and occupied by Mrs. C. H. Penfield. The house has been handsomely repainted by Messrs Marsh & Ayres. The wood-work has been painted in a variety of colors and the brick has also been handsomely penciled. The workmanship is a credit to the contractors and Mrs. Penfield is very much pleased with the beautiful appearance of her home.

An Interesting and Profitable Meeting.

The four o'clock meeting at Reform Hall, yesterday, was not only interesting but profitable to those present. A brief talk by the leader on "The Power of Memory," was followed by lively testimony and spirited singing. The 9.15 o'clock as well as the four o'clock meetings are under the auspices of the Women's Temperance Aid Society. These meetings are free to all.

—The locomotive attached to the 10.22 o'clock train to New York on Saturday evening, drew up in this city without her headlight burning.

—Contractor Wood on Saturday completed his portion of the county road contract, and it is needless to say that the work is well done.

—A theatre party, comprising the members of the West End Literary Circle, went to New York on Saturday evening to witness the production of "The Old Homestead."

Vicar-General Keegan's Funeral.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 12.—The body of Vicar-General Keegan of the Roman Catholic diocese of this city, will be buried from the Church of the Assumption, York and Jay streets, to-morrow. At 10 o'clock Rev. Dr. May, the associate of the dead priest, will celebrate a solemn requiem mass, and Rev. Dr. William J O'Connell of St. Mary Star of the Sea will pronounce the panegyric. Bishop Loughlin, a majority of the Catholic clergy of both cities and a large number of public officials will be present at the ceremonies.

A Foul Murder.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 12.—In Eagle Creek, west of this city, boys found the head, trunk, hips and arms of an unknown white man in dissevered fragments, apparently cut apart with an axe, and the whole fastened down in a pool of water. The features were entirely eaten away by fish.

BEATING THE RECORD

Citizen Train Leaves Queenstown for New York.

A SUCCESS AS A GLOBE TROTTER.

London Papers Puzzled as to His Proper Classification.

Sarah Bernhart Seriously Ill — Several Persons Killed by the Collapse of a Building — Germans Resent a Turkish Outrage—British Interest in the American Silver Bill—Rothchild's Adiposity.

LONDON, May 12.—George Francis Train left Queenstown yesterday for New York on the steamer Etruria. A goodly company of admiring Americans were present to bid him bon voyage.

Citizen Train has consumed fifty-two days in his journey around the globe and is highly elated at his progress. He is confident that he will considerably lower the record.

He held a levee at the Hotel Victoria here before leaving for Queenstown, where he gave a vigorous and glowing account of the incidents and adventures attending his journey. He is in robust health and apparently has enjoyed his trip immensely. He has arranged for a special train to convey him from New York to his starting point, Tacoma, on the Puget Sound.

The papers this morning devote a good deal of space to Mr. Train, but seem quite puzzled as to his proper classification — whether among the geniuses or the cranks of America. The former rating is insisted upon by some writers who remember him as the brilliant inventor and orator of days gone by, and who remind us that we are indebted to him for our tram-car system, while less favorable comment is made by others who cannot convince themselves that the genial philosopher's expressions of Anarchistic sentiments should be condoned.

All agree, at least, that in his present enterprise he is likely to succeed in beating all previous records.

OCEAN RACING.

The City of Rome Defeats the Aurania by a Few Minutes.

LIVERPOOL, May 12.—The City of Rome, of the Anchor Line, has defeated the Aurania, of the White Star Line, in one of the closest ocean races ever known, and a vast amount of money has changed hands.

The Aurania left New York Saturday, April 30, at 4 p. m., and the City of Rome an hour later. The vessels kept each other in sight all the way across, the Aurania being always about five knots astern.

At Rowhead the City of Rome was 10 minutes ahead. As they approached the Mercy the City was fifteen minutes ahead.

The City of Rome landed in Liverpool, 12 minutes ahead of her rival.

Germans Resent an Outrage.

LONDON, May 12.—A dispatch says that foreigners in Constantinople have been warned to keep in the European quarter, the military and populace being exasperated at the disappearances of four Turkish soldiers who committed an indescribable outrage upon a German tailor. The German Ambassador threatened to demand his passports unless the perpetrators were suitably punished. Accordingly the soldiers mysteriously disappeared. The regiment to which the soldiers were attached became mutinous in consequence and has been sent to the interior.

Trying American Cotton Seed.

LONDON, May 12.—It is stated that experiments are being made with American cotton seed in Turkestan and the Russian Government is prepared to enter upon its cultivation on a large scale should the results prove favorable. In lower Russia, too, the cultivators have been ordered to plant the seed and report the results to the Minister of the Interior.

Foreign Interest in the Silver Bill.

LONDON, May 12.—At a banquet to be given Wednesday by advocates of bimetallism, Mr. Henry Chaplin, M. P., president of the Board of Agriculture, will make a speech expressing the strong interest taken by the Royal Currency Commission in the action of the American Congress upon the silver question.

Rothchild's Adiosity.

LONDON, May 12.—Excessive fatness has seized upon Baron Rothschild, the London head of the great banking house. His excessive increase in bulk has alarmed himself and friends, and he has called upon the uniquely famous Dr. Schweninger, who will come to London to treat the millionaire.

Several Persons Killed.

PARIS, May 12.—Portions of the works connected with extensive rebuilding operations at the Alsaises Fort, near Namur, collapsed, burying twenty persons in the debris. Five dead bodies and twelve injured persons have been extricated from the ruins.

Dock Men Strike.

HAMBURG, May 12.—Seven hundred men employed at the Hamburg-American steamer docks here have gone on strike.

CORPORATION NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

J. B. COWARD, City Clerk.

Plainfield, N. J., May 5, 1890.

AN ORDINANCE.

An Ordinance for the laying out and opening of Orchard place, from its present Easterly terminus to the Westerly side of New street.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That a public street to be known as Orchard place be, and the same is hereby laid out and opened in said city, as hereinafter specified, the Common Council judging that the public good requires the same to be done.

Do you think it wrong to give presents?
I don't.
Cash ought to be encouraged.

I believe on a cash basis.
On that basis I am working.
No one can disagree with me.
All would be better off.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Murder and Suicide the Result of a Family Quarrel.

AN OLD MAN'S TERRIBLE ORDEAL

He Feared Arrest as an Accessory to the Killing of His Son.

He Takes Poison Enough to Kill Three Men—The Son in Jail for the Murder of His Brother Says He is Ready to Die. His Mother a Gibberish Idiot from Abuse and Her Daughter Prostrated.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., May 13.—The murder of Henry Hale by his brother Frederick, a week ago, is now followed by the suicide of the father, William D. Hale, in the little town of Hinsdale.

It was only nine days ago that Frederick Hale was arrested for killing his brother Henry by pounding him over the head with a whiffle tree, the details of which have already been printed. Frederick was arrested and taken to the Pittsfield jail. He was to have been tried yesterday. The father, an old man of 70 years, was to have been the principal witness. Rather than face the ordeal he killed himself. He feared arrest as an accessory to the killing of his son.

Nervous and Depressed.

He was in Pittsfield on Saturday, accompanied by his daughter Alice, and both of them testified at the inquest. It was observed that he was nervous and greatly depressed, and he drove rapidly home, a distance of ten miles. In the evening he found that the horse he had driven to Pittsfield was sick, and he sent his daughter Alice two miles to Hinsdale village for medicine for it. She returned within an hour with a mixture of chloroform and laudanum. Mr. Hale had a quantity of aconite in the house, which he kept to give his horses when they were sick. The horse grew worse and a veterinary surgeon from Pittsfield was called, who prescribed for it, but it died before morning.

There was considerable chloroform and laudanum left in the bottle, and Mr. Hale had a quantity of aconite left. It appears, from the autopsy which was made by Medical Examiner Paddock of Pittsfield, that Mr. Hale had taken a tremendous dose of the chloroform and laudanum, also a quantity of aconite, probably enough to kill three men.

Mr. Hale told his daughter Alice to be ready to start for Pittsfield for the trial of his son Frederick. The alarm clock was set for 4 o'clock in the morning, and when it sounded Mr. Hale got up and did his work about the barn, while his daughter Alice got breakfast. He had backed out the carriage and prepared to start on his journey. When he went into the house he spoke of feeling ill. His daughter asked him what was the matter. He put his hand an his stomach, and said: "Oh, something terrible is going to happen!" Then he began to have violent paroxysms of pain, and the daughter sent at once to the village of Hinsdale for a physician. He grew rapidly worse, and when Dr. Collins arrived he was in the greatest agony, and died at 10 o'clock. His daughter heard him say:

"I'd rather kill myself than to be shut up in prison and have a rope put round my neck and be strung up for killing my son."

The Mother a Gibbering Idiot.

The mother and daughter are so prostrated by the double tragedy that they can hardly be considered in their right minds. Mrs. Hale has been cruelly treated by her husband for the last 30 years. The result is that she has for the last 10 years been almost in a state of insanity, and is now a gibbering idiot, and has to be cared for by kind neighbors. The daughter, Alice, is suffering from nervous prostration, from which it is not expected she will ever fully recover. Frederick, who is in jail awaiting his trial, is the most wretched member of the family. When it was announced to him that his father had committed suicide, he said:

"This is tough. I am ready to die. My father and brother are dead through my crime. I have nothing to live for."

The county is at fever heat over the double tragedy, and the result of the trial of Frederick is awaited with intense interest.

8,000 MEN ON STRIKE.

Only the Puddlers and Rollers at Work in the National Tube Works.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 13.—Four thousand men struck for 10 per cent. increase in the McKeesport Tube Works.

All the finishing departments of the mills are closed, and only the puddlers and rollers are at work. The men had decided on Saturday to refuse to work unless the company granted the demand for an increase in wages approximating ten per cent. General Manager Converse was called upon by a committee. He told the foreman plainly that the advance would not be granted, and that the men who failed to report for duty would be dismissed.

Conferences are being held with a view of fixing up the trouble. A large number of the men are not members of trades organizations. A few are Knights of Labor. The puddlers and rollers are members of the Amalgamated Association, which has no grievance. There was no disorder to-day.

Disappeared with $10,000.

WARREN, Pa., May 13.—The wildest excitement prevails over the disappearance of C. L. N. Kenneth, of the Pennsylvania Gas Company's office. $10,000 of the company's money has disappeared also. Numbers of large bills are unpaid. It is hoped he will return to make matters right. He is a son of Henry Kenneth, of Youngstown.

WAYLAID AND MURDERED.

A Prominent Citizen of Thurman, N. Y., Riddled with Buckshot.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., May 13.—Leander Pasco, a prominent citizen of the town of Thurman, Warren County, was waylaid and murdered. When the news of the murder reached here, District Attorney Patterson and Coroner F. B. Streeter drove to the scene of the tragedy to hold an inquest, and several witnesses were examined.

The dead man's back was riddled with buckshot. Two heavily loaded barrels were fired at him. The murderer took up a position at one side of the road and as Pasco passed shot him down. Footprints show where the murderer concealed himself.

Pasco was a man about sixty years old and was known to have many enemies. As the body was not touched after the murder, the motive for the crime is supposed to be revenge.

CRUELTY TO THE BLIND.

Terrible Story of Bad Treatment in the Philadelphia Asylum.

PITTSBURG, May 13.—Stephen Moore, aged 21, died in St. Francis' Hospital last night. Moore's parents reside in Pittsburg and brought their son home from the Philadelphia Blind Asylum in a dying condition.

Moore had been an inmate of the asylum since 1885, and related to his attendants in the hospital a terrible story of bad treatment, poor clothing and worse food while in the blind asylum. Moore claimed that Principal King instructed the pupils in the institution in all sorts of vices, gave them liquor to drink, etc.

The attending physicians attribute Moore's death to bad treatment while in the asylum.

A GRAND JURY'S BIG JOB.

Discovery of a Statute for the Indictment of Persons Who Bet on Races.

ELIZABETH, N. J., May 13.—A big crowd of prominent citizens of Elizabeth were summoned before the Grand Jury to testify as to what they know about race tracks and pool selling. Doctors, merchants, lawyers and leading builders were in the gathering.

The jury, it is said, will not finish its labors in a month, and under an old statute, passed thirty-three years ago, can indict any person who bet on a race as well as the bookmakers.

It is said that some of the jurymen are favorable to the latter course, and will insist that no discrimination be shown in the matter of the indictments, but that the statute be enforced to the letter. Should this be done fully 3,000 persons who attend the races can be indicted.

Mammoth Engines on Trial.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Trainmen, from engineers to brakemen, on the New York Central Railroad, are in a state of mind over the introduction of two mammoth engines, Nos. 563 and 585, which can haul 15 sleepers each, or twice the regular number, and which are designed to run 50 miles an hour. If they are successful, the road will be equipped with such engines. The trainmen say they will throw half the present force out of work.

A Wife-Beater's Deed.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., May 13.—Charles Flood, aged 35, is a notorious wife-beater. While drunk he attacked his wife with an axe. His father-in-law, Patrick King, interfered to save his daughter. He picked up a shotgun, but before he could use it Flood knocked him down with the axe and cut five gashes in his head, which the doctors think will result in his death. Flood was overpowered by neighbors and taken to jail.

Bold Attempt to Rob a Bank.

KEYPORT, N. J., May 13.—Burglars made a bold attempt to rob the First National Bank of this place. The thieves first broke into a neighboring blacksmith's shop and secured the tools to do the work. While breaking in the rear door of the bank the burglars were frightened away by Night Marshal Smith. Former Superintendent of Police Walling, armed with a gun, chased the burglars for some distance, but they escaped in the darkness.

The Law Against Public Bars.

BOSTON, May 13.—Resolutions were introduced in both branches of the Legislature calling upon the Governor and the police authorities of the State to inforce the law against public bars.

The Jackson-Smith Fight Postponed.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 13.—The Jackson-Smith fight has been postponed on account of the bad condition of Jackson's hand.

Five Trainmen Killed.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 13.—One engineer, two firemen and two brakemen were killed by the collision of two freight trains on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad at a tunnel four miles from here. The accident was caused by a misunderstanding of running orders.

A Yale Freshman Missing.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 13.—Austin R. Mendenhall of Duluth, Minn., a member of the Yale Freshman class, has been missing since Thursday. He was in his usual spirits and was well supplied with money, and no cause for his departure is known.

Satinet Mills to Shut Down.

WORCESTER, Mass., May 13.—At a meeting of the Satinet Manufacturers' Association of New England held here it was voted to shut down the mills from 30 to 60 days, the time to be decided at a future meeting.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Debate on the Tariff Bill Lively in the House.

SUGAR MEN NOT RECONCILED.

Bills of Importance to Workingmen Before the Labor Committee.

The Clayton-Breckenridge Committee Return to Washington—Senator Quay Denies that He Will Resign—Mr. Ingalls Refutes the Charge of Plagiarism—German Chairman of the Caucus Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The House, in committee of the whole on the Tariff bill, agreed to a motion offered by Mr. McKinley that the general debate be limited to one minute. No one availed himself of the one minute and the clerk proceeded to read the bill by paragraphs and the struggle for amendments began.

There is every indication that the five-minute debate on details will continue to be quite interesting. The antagonisms already developed are of considerable moment, and they will increase as the merits of the bill are further discussed.

The skirmishes are lively and everybody is getting warmed up to the subject. So far the bill has been amended very little, but the important features have not yet been reached. The fight on the sugar clause has not yet come, and it will no doubt be a lively one. The Southern sugar men are not yet reconciled to the provision putting sugar on the free list.

LAWS FOR LABOR.

Bills of Importance to Workingmen Being Considered by the House Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The House Committee on Labor has under consideration several bills that are of importance to workingmen throughout the country. The two bills that carry with them the most interest are on the subject of convict labor; one measure prohibiting the sale of any goods manufactured by convict labor, and the other prohibiting convict labor from entering into competition with free labor.

Mr. Wade, the chairman of the committee, feels assured that both measures will be passed during the present session of Congress. Another bill before the same committee of hardly less interest is that which provides for the payment of all laborers, mechanics and others employed by the Government for all the time over eight hours a day they may have worked since the passage of the eight-hour law in 1868.

This bill carries with it an appropriation of $5,000,000, and it is very doubtful whether it will ever receive consideration at the hands of the House, although the Labor Committee will report it favorably at an early date. The opposition to the bill comes from the Committee on Rules, which has exclusive control of the time of the House, and which is opposed to assigning a date for its consideration because of the appropriation of $5,000,000 proposed by the bill.

Denies Being a Plagiarist.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Senator Ingalls made a statement concerning the allegation of plagiarism in his speech on the death of the late Representative Burns. Mr. Ingalls says that to his knowledge he has never had a copy of Massillon's sermons in his possession. When studying French, at school, he found in a book which he was reading a forcible article on the immortality of the soul. It so impressed him that he translated it, and the ideas contained in it he has used a hundred times (clothed in his own language) in speeches and letters. One of these occasions was the one referred to by the Kansas City paper which charges him with plagiarism.

The Clayton-Breckenridge Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Messrs. Lacey, Bergen and Maish, of the Congressional Committee that investigated the Clayton-Breckenridge contested election case, have returned to Washington from Arkansas. The committee has decided to hear a few more witnesses before closing the case. The testimony will be taken in this city. During the thirteen days that the committee was in Arkansas it examined about 1,100 witnesses.

Senator Gorman Selected.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—A caucus was held by the Democratic Senators to choose a successor to the late Senator Beck as chairman of the caucus. There was only one name suggested, that of Senator Gorman, and he was declared the unanimous choice of the caucus for chairman. No other business was transacted.

Quay Denies that He Will Resign.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Senator Quay is authority for the statement that there has been no interview with the President which decided him to resign from the National Republican Committee, and that he is not contemplating a resignation.

The Body Not in the Well.

CONTOCOOK, N. H., May 13.—The well on the late Perley Beck's place was searched by neighbors for the body of Calvin Beck, who Perley was suspected of having murdered years ago, but the body was not found.

A Railroad Company Indicted.

BOSTON, May 13.—It is understood that the grand jury has indicted the Old Colony Railroad Company for not complying with the law requiring weekly payment of wages.

—Judge McCormick of Elizabeth, has been appointed counsel for the township of Summit, and the people are greatly pleased. The local papers speak of the action of the Town Committee in securing his services as being worthy of the warmest commendation.

—Mr. J. W. VanSickle, the North avenue butcher, is erecting a handsome dwelling house on the lot on East Third street, near Washington street, recently purchased by him. The building when completed will be a valuable addition to the above thoroughfare.

—A couple of young men had quite a spirited argument on the sidewalk on West Front street, Saturday evening. One of them accused the other of unfair dealing and fraud about transactions in a certain line of business, and at one time it looked as though the difficulty would result in a free fight.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Thomas H. Kellar, (Tee Kay,) started for the East on a business trip today.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore French arrived in this city from Georgia, on a late train, last evening.

Jacob Pentz, the able writer for the gun in the American Field and Sportsman's Critic, was in our city Sunday last, and received graciously (?) by some of his friends here.

Mr. A. C. LaBoyteaux of East Sixth street, this city, delivered an address before a large audience at the Y. M. C. A. rooms in New Brunswick, on Sunday. Two boys stood up for prayers.

Ex-Collector L. E. Clark, Clerk of the Board of Education, is slowly recovering from a recent stroke of paralysis. His head has been perfectly clear at all times, the only trouble being entire helplessness. But life is steadily returning to the paralysed parts.

Fined for Jumping on Coal Trains.

As THE PRESS stated some time since, the Central Railroad authorities are determined to break up the dangerous practice of jumping on and off coal and freight trains, and to that end about twenty arrests have already been made along the main line.

Upon complaint of Detective J. M. C. Marsh of Westfield, Wm. Wilson, a one-legged peddler, was yesterday arraigned before the City Judge, charged with stealing rides on coal trains. He pleaded guilty to the charge, and was fined five dollars.

Meeting of the Joint Detail.

A meeting of the joint detail from Winfield Scott and Major Anderson Posts was held in Winfield Scott Post room, last evening, to further complete the Memorial Day arrangements, already published in THE PRESS.

As before stated the exercises will take place in Music Hall, during the forenoon, and not in the afternoon, as in former years. The detail in charge will spare no pains to make the celebration a grand success.

A Gypsy Camp on West Front Street.

A large caravan of gypsies pitched their tents on the vacant lot at the corner of Rock avenue and West Front street, yesterday afternoon, where they will hold forth for a week or more unless ordered away by the authorities.

The land upon which the gypsies are encamped, belongs to an insurance company, and last evening a representative of the company made a complaint to Captain Grant, against their remaining there.

Quick Work by the Council.

Last night's meeting of the City Council was probably the shortest session ever held since the city was incorporated. It required but about ten minutes to usher through two license applications and enrich the city treasury to the extent of $650.

—A regular meeting of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, was held last evening, when business of a routine nature was transacted.

A Flat Contradiction.

Some one has told you that your catarrh is incurable. It is not so. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure it. It is pleasant to use it and it always does its work thoroughly. We have yet to hear of a case in which it did not accomplish a cure when faithfully used. Catarrh is a disease which it is dangerous to neglect. A certain remedy is at your command. Avail yourself of it before the complaint assumes a more serious form. All druggists.

A Welcome Visitor.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of the Society of Christian Endeavor, of Trinity Reformed church, last evening, and about the time for the meeting to commence Mr. F. W. Morse, one of the founders of the Society, (between four and five years ago,) walked in and took a seat. The leader of the meeting, at the proper time, announced Mr. Morse's presence and gave the latter a hearty welcome in the name of the Society. Mr. Morse responded in his usual earnest and pleasing manner and congratulated the members upon the evidences he witnessed and heard on all sides of their steady growth in numbers and spirituality, closing his remarks by offering a prayer of thankagiving. After an hour of pleasant communion with God, and just before the meeting closed, the pastor, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, gave him a warm, cordial welcome, after which the meeting closed. Mr. Morse received a hearty hand-shake by nearly all present.

The Death Record.

Tillie, the sixteen-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Myers of No. 38 Harmony street, North Plainfield, died early on Sunday morning, from membraneous croup. On Friday last when the child became dangerously ill, Dr. Carmon assisted by Doctors Hedges and Murray performed an operation on the child's throat, inserting a tube into the windpipe. The operation was entirely successful, but the disease was too far advanced and the child died as above stated.

A young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Snedeker, died at her parents' residence, No. 70 West Sixth street, yesterday afternoon from broncho pneumonia.

An Insolent Tramp.

An insolent and dangerous looking tramp applied at a boarding house on South Second street, on Monday evening, and demanded something to eat. The fellow said he was a moulder at Pond's, but it is believed that he has no occupation. As it was after supper time the man's request was not complied with, and he became desperate. Mr. Frank McClusky, one of the occupants of the house, attempted to throw the tramp out, and in so doing the man turned and made a lunge at him with a knife, cutting through his coat sleeve and inflicting a slight wound on the wrist. The brute then made good his escape.

Where is Mrs. Tousley.

There is a leter in the Plainfield Post Office addressed "Mrs. W. S. Salter, Kansas City, Miss.," which contains a pension claim of the war of 1812, No. 31753, issued to Clarissa Tousley, widow of Bostwick Tousley, Corporal in the Vermont militia. This letter was sent from Plainfield to above address March 17, and finding no owner for it at Kansas City, was sent to the Dead Letter Office, and from there returned to this office May 6, to find Mrs. Tousley, who, however, is unknown to the Postmaster. The documents are valuable to the owner.

The Sir Knights and Their Guests.

The Rev. A. D. Jennings of Sing Sing, N. Y., will address the Sir Knights of Trinity Commandery No. 17, at Grace church, this city, Thursday evening next, Ascension Day. The Sir Knights will attend divine service on that occasion in full dress uniform. It is expected that large delegations from Cœur de Leon Commandery, No. 8, of New Brunswick, and St. John, No. 9 from Elizabeth, will also be present and participate.

Sawed Off His Hand.

Benjamin Gavin, a single man, aged 22 years, of Green Brook road, North Plainfield, while at work sawing wood with a circular saw, at half-past one o'clock this afternoon, accidentally caught his right hand in the saw, almost completely severing the hand from the arm. Doctors Boone and Field attended the injured man, and amputated the hand. The young man is a son of Mr. E. P. Gavin, and has of late been driving a milk wagon for his father.

Will Realize Over Fifty Dollars.

The ladies who had charge of the recent entertainment in the Congregational church, entitled "An Evening with Orientals," and of which Mrs. A. France was chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, report that the net proceeds will aggregate over $50. The entertainment consisted of music, songs, addresses, readings and the serving of refreshments, all of which were very enjoyable to those present.

To-Night's Lecture.

At Reform Hall, this evening, the Rev. Charles B. Mitchell, pastor of the M. E. church, will deliver a lecture on the "Paris Exposition," accompanied by 60 stereopticon views, showing the main features of the Exposition. The lecture is given under the auspices of the Young Men's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., and the proceeds will be devoted to the building fund.

THE OLD BOARD ELECTED.

Last Year's Financial Statement Shows a Balance in Favor of the Music Hall Association.

The annual meeting of the Music Hall Association was held last evening, and as usual only a minority of the capitalized stock was voted on. Out of 800 shares, only 278 votes were cast in person or by proxy, in the election of a board of directors.

For the first time in the history of the association, an opposition to the cut and dried—especially dried—board developed. But it was merely the forerunner of a coming change. There was present in case victory was possible, 191 votes for the opposition ticket; but only 79 votes were cast for it. This ticket included the following: E. R. Pope, J. W. Johnson, R. H Cook, O. T. Waring, R. M. Stelle, W. H. Voorhees, J. F. Hubbard, J. H. French, J. W. Murray, C. A. Marsh, A. T. Gallup.

The old board ticket as follows, received 199 votes, and was re-elected: W. R. Potts, W. J. Roome, W. E. Lowe, O. T. Waring, M. W. Tyler, L. V. F. Randolph, J. B. Dumont, B. A. Hegeman, J. W. Murray, C. A. Marsh, A. Gilbert.

A Plainfielder Injured at Newark.

At 5:15 o'clock on Saturday afternoon last, when a Central Railroad train for Elizabeth was at the East Ferry street station in Newark, a large stone came crashing through a window of one of the cars and struck a man named Chamberlain, of Plainfield, behind his left ear. The dastardly act was seen by the conductor, who sent one of his brakemen to catch the miscreant, while the train proceeded on to its destination. The brakeman succeeded in overtaking and capturing the ruffian, and he was turned over to Officer Wriggins, who took him to the Third Precinct Police Station. He gave his name as Jacob Kemp, and said he resided in Brooklyn. Yesterday morning when he was arraigned before Justice Rodrigo he admitted hurling the stone, and said he did so because the conductor had slapped his face. He was committed for trial in the Special Sessions.

A Rare Treat.

An opportunity to visit the Paris Exposition without any of the inconvenience of such a trip, will be afforded our citizens at Reform Hall this evening at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Charles B. Mitchell will conduct the party, and will with the aid of sixty selected stereopticon views both entertain and instruct his audience. The boys need to be encouraged and the building fund increased, and both can be accomplished by your attendance at the lecture this evening. Mr. Mitchell has himself seen everything represented by the pictures to be exhibited to-night. For particulars see adv.

A Word to the Wise is Sufficient.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—Will you kindly insert the following notice in your valuable paper:

LAW MAKERS, LAW BREAKERS.

Why is it that our Corporation Counsel is allowed to let his large dog run at large without a muzzle?

Yours, etc.,
JOHN M. SCHORB.

Awarded Damages, But Must Pay the Costs of Suit.

After a long and tedious suit, the jury in the Watson-Lissignolo case, yesterday, awarded the plaintiff, Mrs. A. Lissignolo, the sum of $50 damages. Her suit was for $2,000 against Mr. Watson for alleged abuse of furniture and property rented of her.

Mamma (to her little boy). "Now, Bennie, if you'll be good and go to sleep, mamma 'll give you one of Dr. Ayer's nice sugar-coated Cathartic Pills, next time you need medicine." Bennie, smiling sweetly, dropped off to sleep at once.

TWO MORE LICENSES GRANTED.

The City Council Grants the Applications of Frank E. Miller and Frank Linke.

The City Council met in special session last evening, to consider the liquor license applications of Messrs Frank E. Miller and Frank Linke, the former for a hotel and bar license at Netherwood in the building owned by him, and known as the Netherwood Hotel, and the latter for a wholesale license to sell in quantities ranging from one to five gallons at No. 43 West Front street.

President Moffett called the Council to order promptly at eight o'clock, and besides himself there were present Messrs Gallup, Hetfield, Johnston, Roberts, Smith and Spangenberg.

Upon motion of Mr. Hetfield the reading of the minutes of the last meeting was dispensed with.

The same Councilman moved to take up and grant Mr. F. E. Miller's application. The Clerk read the application and it was unanimously granted, all present voting aye.

The application of Mr. Frank Linke was next taken up, the License Committee having reported that it was in conformity with the ordinance. Mr. Smith moved to lay the application on the table until the next meeting. He explained his motion by stating that there are others conducting the same kind of business, and he wanted time to investigate the matter. The motion was not seconded, and the application was, upon motion of Mr. Hetfield, granted, by a vote of 6 to 1—Mr. Smith voting "No."

There being no further business to come up for consideration the Council then adjourned.

The Royal Arcanum in New Jersey.

The Grand Council of the Royal Arcanum in the State of New Jersey, assembled at Camden, today. The council consists of twenty-four officers, sixteen committeemen, seven past grand regents, the state medical examiner, and fifty-nine representatives from fifty-six councils, making a total membership of 106.

The business session will take up pretty much all of the day, ending with the election of the officers for the ensuing year. This evening a grand banquet will be tendered the visiting brethren by the Camden councils.

The work done during the past year in New Jersey exceeds that of any other State in the Union, proportionately, over a thousand members having been added to the membership, which is about double the increase made in any previous year.

The Shackleton Car Works Attached.

An attachment was placed on the Shackleton Car Heating Works of Bound Brook, by Sheriff Coddington of Somerville, and Deputy Sheriff Sebring of New Brunswick, last evening. The Lehigh Valley Railroad made an attachment for some freight bills due them. The employes, who have not received their pay, placed the case in the hands of lawyers John H. Frech of Somerville, and H. C. Suydam of Bound Brook, who levied on the Shackleton works in behalf of the employes. When the officers called at the works admittance was refused by the watchman, but after showing their papers they were admitted. Shackleton was not seen and the watchman said he was not at home. It is rumored that he sent word to all employes that he would pay them off in full today.

A Victim of Nicotine.

As a warning to any young reader of this paper who may be addicted to the use of cigarettes, we publish the following: "Terrence Hickey, of New Brunswick, mourns the loss of his son John, thirteen years old, whose death is due to the excessive use of cigarettes. Young Hickey was a confirmed cigarette smoker. He begged and borrowed money continually to supply his craving for cigarettes, and smoked from three to six packages daily. Hickey's system was impregnated with the poisonous nicotine. Lockjaw was the result, and he was taken to Wells Memorial Hospital four weeks ago. The boy lingered in the throes of the fatal malady until last Tuesday, when death ended his agony."

Bonnie Kate Will Sing and Dance.

Kate Castleton is the same fun maker as of old, and in her new skit, "A Paper Doll," which is to be given at Music Hall, Wednesday evening, she will still charm her audience. "A Paper Doll" has little more plot than the ordinary skit, but the part of Dolly Chirruped fits the star. From her entrance as the maid in a boarding house and through her accession to wealth and a father she has abundant opportunity to sing songs, new and old, and dance with her old time grace.

Lecture on Physical Culture.

Mr. William Blaikie, author of "How to get strong, sound bodies for our boys and girls," will deliver a lecture on "Physical Culture," in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church, on the evening of Tuesday, May 20. The lecture will be for the benefit of the Young Ladies' Mission Band of the Presbyterian church, and will doubtless be largely attended.

Tickets for the lecture can be procured at Shaw's and Reynolds' drug stores.

A Difficulty Surmounted.

It is often very difficult to tell what kind of a laxative to give to a very young child who is suffering from pain. The only medicine which is at the same time perfectly safe, effective, and pleasant to take, is HAMBURG FIGS. 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

Valuable Real Estate at Auction.

The advertised sale of valuable real estate owned by Mr. F. H. Martin, and consisting of a brick building on North avenue, three dwelling houses on West Third street, and two lots adjoining, took place at Force's Hotel on North avenue, yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. There was a fair attendance of moneyed men, but there were few bidders among them. The auctioneer, T. J. Gillies, first put up the brick building on North avenue, now occupied by the United States Express Co. The sale was made subject to adjournment and under these conditions: Ten per cent. cash down; forty per cent. when the deed is transferred, and the balance ty remain on bond and mortgage with approved security.

The first bid received was $8,000, and the final bid of $10,400 was made by City Judge W. R. Codington. The sale of this piece of property was adjourned on Mr. Codington's bid.

The next real estate offered was a house and lot at 252 West Third street. Only one bid of $1,500 was obtained, and the auctioneer declared the sale adjourned until a future date, due notice of which will be given by posters and in the papers.

Will Get Their Just Deserts.

Rheumatism is caused by an acid in the blood; therefore, external treatment affords no permanent relief. To eliminate the poison and make a thorough cure of the disease, nothing else is so efficient as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Give it a trial. Price $1. Worth $5 a bottle.

Rheumatism,

BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this testimony:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

"One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. GLADSTONE'S VIEWS

American Topics Discussed by the Liberal Leader.

STANLEY TALKS OF COWARDICE.

He Blames England for Allowing Germany to Take an Advantage.

Marquis De Leuville and Mrs. Frank Leslie—Hippolyte Recognized by France. Frightful Confession of a Midwife. Mr. Powderly's Articles Quoted in British Journals.

LONDON, May 13.—There was a notable gathering of free traders at the Cobden Club last evening, the occasion being the presentation of an address to Mr. Bayley Potter, Gladstonian member of Parliament for Rochdale. Mr. Potter for several years occupied the position of honorable treasurer of the club and is recognized as one of the highest authorities on tariff matters in England.

The address was presented by Mr. Gladstone, who in the course of his speech referred to the anti-Chinese legislation in the United States. Owing to the ambiguity of the legislation on the Chinese question, he said it was not altogether clear whether the American Government taxed Chinese who entered or barred them all out. Anyway, he thought that the Chinese were to be dreaded more for their virtues than their vices, which he did not believe to be nearly so extensive or flagrant as the grounds taken for their exclusion alleged.

Mr. Gladstone said the free traders must recognize with great disappointment how much ground they had lost within the last twenty-five years. Militarism, which was lying like a vampire over Europe, was responsible for most of the mischief, but not all, because free trade had receded in countries where militarism does not prevail—the United States and the British Colonies.

Mr. Potter declared it to be his conviction that the tariff question would again be the issue in the Presidential campaign in America in 1892, when the free traders, or tariff reformers, would in all probability be successful.

STANLEY'S COMPLAINT.

He Blames England for Not Taking an Aggressive Position Agaiast Germany.

LONDON, May 13.—Mr. Henry M. Stanley is giving way to an exhibition of ill-temper which discloses in his character an element of egotism which threatens to increase the number of his enemies if allowed to remain uncurbed.

Just now he is complaining of the cowardice of the public men and the press of England in not taking an aggressive position against Germany in Africa at his behest, and is inclined to belittle the intellectual qualities of those who do not agree with him in the matter of England's immediate domination of the lake and other desirable portions of the interior.

He admits, however, that there is plenty of room in Africa for both Germany and England, but thinks that an English railroad should be constructed at once to connect the lakes and place that region beyond the possibility of occupation by other powers. Such a railway, he asserts, would open the interior to trade, the value of which can scarcely be estimated. He expresses admiration for Major Wissmann, but is disinclined to speak of Emin, or his new expedition.

Throughout the interview in which Mr. Stanley expressed himself as above he referred to himself as an Engiishman.

Horrible Confession of a Midwife.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 13.—A professional midwife arrested at Vilna has confessed that for years past she has disposed of the infants born in her establishment by killing them and throwing their bodies in unused wells. Several persons highly connected have been arrested for complicity in her crimes.

Marquis De Leuville Again.

LONDON, May 13.—Mrs. Frank Leslie has arrived here and her coming aroused the Marquis De Leuville to activity. The presence of the lady in London was the signal for the Marquis to begin the circulation of reports that her visit had for its object her marriage to himself and the industry he has displayed in their dissemination provokes surprise and disgust.

Powderly Quoted Abroad.

LONDON, May 13.—Extracts from Mr. Powderly's article against unrestricted emigration to the United States are being published in the principal British and Continental journals with a view of deterring expatriation of a class which it is desirable to keep at home.

Emin Pasha's Demand.

CAIRO, May 13.—Emin Pasha has demanded from the Egyptian Government seven years' of his salary as Governor of the Equatorial province and an annual pension for life.

Believes Birchell Is Innocent.

TORONTO, Ont., May 13.—Neville Pickthall, who obtained so much notoriety in the Benwell tragedy, is here collecting evidence in favor of Birchell, whom he believes to be innocent.

Convicts Perish in a Fire.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 13.—The Alexander prison at Irkutsk, Siberia, has been destroyed by fire. Three convicts perished in the flames.

Hippolyte Recognized by France.

PARIS, May 13.—The French Government has recognized Hippolyte as President of the Haytian Republic.

Whiskey Nearly Killed the Child.

MONTCLAIR, N. J., May 13.—Harry Bush, the five-year-old son of Charles Bush found a bottle of whiskey and drank considerable of the contents. Half an hour later the child's mother found him lying on the floor apparently dead. Dr. J. S. Brown was called. The child is in a precarious condition.

Rumor of Another Cyclone.

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—There is a disjointed rumor here to the effect that there is another cyclone somewhere. The southwestern wires are working very badly, and no news can be gotten.

They Accept a Proposition for a Glove Contest for $3,000.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The Puritan Athletic Club's offer of a $3,000 trophy for a glove contest between Joe McAuliffe and Jake Kilrain has been accepted by both men.

Kilrain wrote his letter of acceptance to Frank Stevenson from Richburg, Miss. Jake wrote that he was well and would be glad to have a go with some one as soon as he was free. His term of imprisonment will expire May 22, and he intends to come North at once and go in training for the match.

Richard K. Fox has sent the following cablegram to the London Sporting Life: "Joe McAuliffe will fight Frank P. Slavin at Pelican Club, to a finish, for suitable purse and expenses. TO FREE ANARCHISTS

A New Scheme to Release the Haymarket Convicts.

GEN. BEN BUTLER THE COUNSEL

He Says They Are Held Without Due Process of Law.

Judge Gresham to be Applied to for a Writ of Habeas Corpus—The Claim is that the Prisoners Were Not Taken Before the Supreme Court to Have Their Sentences Affirmed.

CHICAGO, May 14.—Preparations have been made to attempt to secure the release from the penitentiary of the convicted Anarchists, Fielden, Schwab and Neebe, by a method heretofore not hinted at in the case. In a short time an application will be made to Judge Gresham for a writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that the prisoners are detained without due process of law.

The ground of the application is that after the sentence of death was passed upon the condemned Anarchists and Neebe was condemned to spend fifteen years in the penitentiary, the case was appealed to the Supreme Court, where the finding of the lower court with the sentence of death for Spies, Parsons, Lingg, Fisher, Engel, Schwab and Fielden was affirmed. The prisoners were not taken before the Supreme Court to hear the affirmation of their sentences, and their lawyers were not even notified to be present. The claim was made that this was a breech of their constitutional rights and that the Constitution even goes so far as to say that a sentence of death rendered in the absence of the prisoners was not due process of law. This action will be taken under the advice of Gen. Benjamin F. Butler, a regular associate counsel for the Anarchists.

"I have come fully to the conclusion," says the General, "that such action is erroneous in that it was an attempt to take his life without due process of law. I therefore advise very stromgly your taking a writ of error to have such procedure corrected by the judgment of the Supreme Court of the United States if any technical objections are made to the Circuit Court for a writ of habeas corpus for Fielden, because under that writ the facts as well as the law can be discussed, and forms are no consequence when they stand in the way of due course of justice. Of course the decisions of these questions relieve any of his fellows who are suffering from the same errors if decided as I believe they must be, to save the men whose lives have been taken without due process of law."

STRICT MARRIAGE LAW.

The New License Bill Passes the New Jersey House.

TRENTON, N. J., May 14.—The Marriage License bill passed the House and will probably pass the Senate. Assemblyman Woolman, who is the author of the bill, says the complaints have been so numerous against the present loose system of solemnizing marriages in Camden, both by his own constituents and by indignant parents and guardians from other States, that he felt it his duty to make the loose statutes in regard to marriage conform to the laws in vogue elsewhere. Heretofore no license was required, and the amount of perjury, he says, committed by the candidates for matrimony in Camden was simply astounding.

Among other things, the bill provides that from and after July 4, 1890, no persons in New Jersey shall be united in marriage until a license shall have been obtained from the clerk of the Orphans' Court in the county where the marriage shall be performed. If any preacher or magistrate marry any couple, black or white, without a license first having been obtained from the county clerk, such officer forfeits $100, to be recovered by action of debt.

The Whole Town Was Threatened.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 14.—The five buildings which were completely destroyed by fire at Ashley were as follows: S. E. Well's grocery, Blackwell's jewelry store, Union Hall, Dr. James's residence and office, Mr. Heninger's dwelling, and six or seven barns. The loss is about $60,000, partly covered by insurance. The wildest excitement prevailed and fully 10,000 people witnessed the destruction of the buildings. It was only by the most vigorous efforts that the flames were prevented from destroying the whole town.

Archer Escapes One Charge.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 14.—Judge Stewart delivered an opinion in the case of Stevenson Archer, ex-State Treasurer, in which it is held that Archer cannot be tried for embezzlement. The argument was on a demurrer to the indictment charging him with embezzling $132,000 from the State. The State will now have to rely upon the malfeasance case at Annapolis.

Mrs. Carnegie Performs the Ceremony.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Mrs. Andrew Carnegie performed the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new Music Hall which is to be built at 7th avenue and 57th street. The structure will cost $1,500,000, of which $500,000 is given by Mr. Carnegie. Several speeches were made.

No Advance in Coal.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The agents of the six coal companies met here, but adjourned without taking action on the proposed increase in prices. It was reported that proofs of cutting by one of the agents prevented an advance being ordered.

JUST ESCAPED LYNCHING.

The Assailant of a Child Chased by a Mob at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 14.—Mary Holden, a beautiful child of six years, was the victim of a brutal assault while returning home from school and Stephen McDermott, aged twenty-one, narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of an enraged mob.

He persuaded the child to go into the vault of Grace Church, into which he had forced an entrance. The child after recovering consciousness threatened to tell her parents. Then the man said he would prevent that by destroying her.

He was about to place her body in the furnace when her screams attracted the attention of soldiers returning to the garrison at Fort Adams, who broke in and rescued her.

The assailant escaped by an upper entrance. A mob was soon in pursuit, joined by several police in the neighborhood. An exciting chase ensued, resulting in his capture.

It was only at the point of the pistol that the police were enabled to prevent the prisoner being lynched.

In 1856 he was a candidate for Governor, but was defeated.

At the time of his death he was a trustee of Cornell College and president of the trustees of the Albany Medical College.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The World's Fair Commission Under Consideration.

MAY BE APPOINTED THIS WEEK.

Ex-President Cleveland Mentioned as the Member from New York.

The Finding in the McCalla Case to be Promulgated To-Day — Butterworth's Tariff Speech—Senator Brown to Resign on Account of Ill-Health—The Damrosch-Blaine Wedding.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The Presidents has eight commissioners-at-large to appoint as members of the Federal Commission which is to supervise the World's Fair. It is said that one of these commissioners-at-large will certainly come from New York, another from Indiana and the remainder from various sections of the country. The appointments are likely to be made this week. Four of the commissioners-at-large are to be Republicans and four Democrats. In case the New York member should be a Democrat, the names of Grover Cleveland and ex-Secretary William C. Whitney are mentioned.

Gen. Francis A. Walker, William A. Russel, of Massachusetts, and ex-Senator Cheney, of New Hampshire, are among the New England possibilities. From the South Henry Watterson, Patrick Walsh, of the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle; J. W. Spalding, of Alabama, and H. I. Kimball, of Atlanta Exposition fame, are under consideration. Philadelphia has a candidate in the person of Thomas Dolan. Cincinnati would be gratified by the choice of A. T. Goshorn, who was director-general of the Centenial Exposition. Chicago would like to have representation, and modestly suggests Colonel George R. Davis, who marshalled the Lake City's forces in the fight before Congress for the location of the fair.

THE M'CALLA CASE.

Belief That the Sentence Includes Suspension from Rank, Pay and Duty.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The findings, etc., of the court-martial in the case of Commander McCalla will be officially promulgated this afternoon.

There is good authority for the statement that the sentence is in the nature of a suspension from rank, pay and duty. It is positively known that the sentence is not dismissal, as many have predicted. As near as can be ascertained, the verdict is three years' suspension on half pay, and to retain his present number on the navy register during that period.

Naval officers generally anticipated a somewhat heavier sentence and many looked for dismissal, with a recommendation to mercy. It is expected that the Secretary in reviewing the case will express the dissatisfaction of the department at the verdict and will administer a severe reprimand to the accused.

Mr. Butterworth's Tariff Speech.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The tariff speech which Representative Ben Butterworth delivered in the House was a surprise to both Democrats and Republicans. His colleagues on both sides of the House have known for some time that the Ohio member was so devoted to the cause of reciprocity with Canada that it necessarily brought him in conflict with the views held by a majority of his party on the tariff question.

Senator Brown to Resign.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Senator Brown, Georgia's senior Senator, has failed to appear during this session. It is generally understood that Senator Brown will resign on account of continued ill-health. The present Governor of Georgia, Gen. John B. Gordon, will, it is said, succeed him.

Miss Blaine Licensed to Wed.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—A marriage license was issued to Mr. Walter Damrosch and Miss Margaret J. Blaine. The marriage ceremony will take place on Saturday.

The International Prison Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The United States will have no official representative at the International Prison Congress to be held at St. Petersburg.

The Lottery Company Offers $25,000,000.

NEW ORLEANS, May 14.—John A. Morris, for the Louisiana State Lottery Company, offered the State Legislature now in session at Baton Rouge $1,000,000 per annum for the extension of the charter of the company for 25 years, or $25,000,000 for the entire term. The question monopolizes political attention and will occupy the time of the Legislature until disposed of. The fight promises to be bitter and with the chances at present in favor of the lottery company.

Senator Wolcott Married.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 14.—Senator Edward Oliver Wolcott of Colorado and Mrs. Frances Metcalfe Bass of this city were married in St. Paul's Cathedral this forenoon. COMMITTED TO THE INSANE ASYLUM.

A Well-Known North Plainfielder Declared Insane and Judge Jimerson Sends Him to Trenton

Noah Drake, a well-known character about town, and a resident in North Plainfield Township, was today committed to the Insane Asylum at Trenton, it having been clearly established that he was of unsound mind and a dangerous person to roam at large. For a long time past Mr. Drake has been acting strangely and a few weeks ago he was committed to the Somerville Jail pending an examination as to his sanity. He was, however, soon released, and his strange actions have since resulted in his commitment to the asylum.

At the North Plainfield Township Committee meeting on Friday evening last, Overseer of the Poor, J. W. A. Bauersachs brought the matter before the committee, and it was then decided to send the demented man to the asylum. Dr. J. H. Carman made an examination of his mental condition, and it is said found it to be impaired. Judge Jimerson of Somerville sent down the commitment papers yesterday, and Special Marshal Coddington took Drake to Trenton this forenoon.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. A. J. Everett of Summit avenue, is visiting his brother, John F., at Orange, N. J.

The funeral will take place from the house, No. 24 Franklin place, this evening at seven o'clock, and interment will be made at Albany, New York, to-morrow.

One Way of Showing His Appreciation.

Mr. John M. Schorb is referred to the city ordinance on the subject of dogs from which he will learn that there is no law of this city which requires a dog to be muzzled when accompanied by its master.

The Corporation Counsel, it will be remembered, some time since successfully defended Mr. Schorb in a somewhat famous trial for damages alleged to have been caused by the bite of Mr. Schorb's dog. This probably convinced Mr. Schorb that the Corporation Counsel was good authority on law governing dogs and hence his communication in yesterday's PRESS.

Will Fly From Charlotte, North Carolina.

The members of the Plainfield Homing club are already actively engaged in making trial flys from New Brunswick, Monmouth Junction, and other near-by places. The club has not yet decided upon the places from where the flys will be made, but the longest fly will probably be made from Charlotte, North Carolina, a distance of about 525 miles.

An Extra Policeman for the Boulevard.

It is probable that at the next meeting of the city Council an extra day policeman will be appointed to patrol the streets in the vicinity of the boulevard. Residents of the Fourth Ward have long been asking for increased police protection, and it is no more than right that their demands should be considered

An Incipient Fire.

IVANHOE COUNCIL

Celebrates the Seventh Anniversary of Its Organization by Holding Appropriate Exercises in Music Hall.

Ivanhoe Council, No. 1074, American Legion of Honor, which was organized in this city seven years ago, celebrated its seventh anniversary in Music Hall, last evening. The stage was appropriately "set" for the occasion, and the audience was one of the largest that has yet assembled in the building. The ushers, members of the Council, exerted themselves to comfortably seat all who applied for admission, and in this respect they creditably acquitted themselves.

Commander George B. Titsworth, presided in his usual dignified style, and announced the numbers on the printed programme, the first of which was a piano and violin duett by Messrs Rogers and Conde, followed by an address by Judge J. Frank Fort of Newark, Supreme Counsel of the order. The Judge spoke of the lodge as a fraternal insurance company, and stated that the amount of good derived from it could hardly be estimated. He also alluded to the financial benefits.

Prof. Louis Boose followed with a cornet solo, which was heartily encored, and Mr. J. Leslie Gossin, well-known to Plainfielders, favored the audience with a recital, which was also heartily applauded.

The "hit" of the evening was the music rendered by the quartette composed of Messrs E. E. Runyon, M. C. VanArsdale, A. L. Titsworth and B. Gorton, all of which brought forth loud and prolonged applause, and the singers were obliged to respond to several encores.

Next came an address by the Supreme Treasurer, John M. Gwinnell of Newark, and that gentleman also took occasion to speak of the benefits derived from joining the order. He produced figures to substantiate his statements. The balance of the programme was as follows, and it is needless to say that each and every part was received with marked attention:

Violin and piano duett	Messrs Conde and Rogers.
Humorous recital	J. Leslie Gossin.
Quartette	Selected.
Address	By Grand Orator C. A. Church of Passaic.
Cornet solo	Prof. Louis Boose.
Patriotic recital	J. Leslie Gossin.

On the whole the entertainment was a pronounced success, and too much cannot be said in praise of those who had the undertaking in charge.

The present officers of Ivanhoe Council are:

Commander—Geo B. Titsworth.
Vice Commander—T. C. Smith.
Past Commander—Wm. H. Rogers.
Orator—A. L. Titsworth.
Secretary—G. E. Stillman.
Collector—F. D. Fuller.
Treasurer—L. A. Hummer.
Chaplain—J. A. Powlison.
Guide—B. B. Rogers.
Warden—B. B. Egel.
Sentry—C. F. Drake.
Medical Examiner—J. T. Fritts, M. D.

The American Legion of Honor was organized December 18, 1878, and is incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The order is firmly established in nearly every State and Territory of the United States, with a membership of 63,000, apportioned among 1,085 Subordinate Councils under the jurisdiction of 18 Grand Councils; since the date of organization more than fifteen million dollars have been paid to beneficiaries of deceased companions.

The Boys Help the Building.

Any of the audience who had visited the Paris Exposition had their experiences of that wonderful event recalled in a most delightful manner last evening, as they listened to the lecture of the Rev. C. B. Mitchell at Reform Hall. While those who were not so fortunate as to have been at the French Capitol last Summer, were enabled to look at many of the most prominent features of that exhibition, and to carry with them a fair idea of its extent and magnificence.

The audience listened with close attention to the remarks of Mr. Mitchell, as he related his own experiences and gave vivid descriptions of the great exhibit and its surroundings. There were sixty stereopticon views of the different buildings and interiors, the Eiffel Tower, fountains and statuary, and all these were described and explained in a most interesting way.

The next best thing to visiting the Exposition is listening to such a lecture, and there is very little doubt but that this was the verdict of all who were present last evening.

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

The monthly meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Congregational church will be held in the church parlor to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. All members are requested to be present to vote on the amendments to the Constitution laid over at the last meeting. The subject discussed will be the work in Japan. All interested are invited to be present.

The trial of Michael Sweeney, Sr., on a charge of using foul and obscene language, preferred by one Thomas Lyons, came up before Judge Codington, yesterday afternoon. The defendant pleaded non vult, and he was let off with a three dollar fine.

SUSTAINING THE WILL.

Judge McCormick Decides that the Moore Will Shall Stand.

In the Union County Court at Elizabeth, this morning, Judge McCormick rendered his decision in the famous Moore will case, by sustaining the will. Mr. John Moore, a son of the testator, who is contesting the will, will probably bring an ejectment suit, and take an appeal from Judge McCormick's decision. The will as drawn up, leaves the contestant the use of one-half of the large estate, and at such time as the executor may feel satisfied that the legatee would put the money to good use then he (the executor) could pay over to him the entire one-half of the estate.

The contest has been going on for several months.

The Dog Problem.

There is perhaps no season of the year when there is more danger arising from allowing dogs to run at large, than the present. Yet how few people in this city give this important matter any consideration whatever. The city is at present overrun with worthless curs, and at the rate they are now being gathered in by the dog-catcher, there is likely to be plenty of them left when Fall sets in.

In a city of this sort, where there is excellent police protection, there is no earthly use of allowing a hundred or more dangerous canines to run the streets, especially in hot weather. If each person who owns a dog, was obliged to take out a license for the brute, the dog population in this city would soon thin out. In North Plainfield the dog nuisance is even worse than it is here, and the Borough Council should lose no time in appointing a dog-catcher.

"Benjamin Gavin's Grit."

Under the above heading, a sensational writer in this morning's World has the following to say, all of which is of course pure rot:

"Benjamin Gavin, who operates a lonely sawmill on the Greenbrook road, near Plainfield, stumbled over a heavy log yesterday and fell against a rapidly revolving circular saw. His right forearm was severed from his body. He wrapped the mutilated member in a piece of paper, bound the mangled stump in rags filled with sawdust, walked to town, bore a physician's surgery unflinchingly, and was about to return to work when his brother appeared and persuaded him to go home."

Had Respect For His Fellow-Beings.

THE PRESS recently published an account of the ravages of a supposed rabid dog at Netherwood, where several valuable dogs were bitten by him. Among the owners of them was Mr. Alfred Cocks, who yesterday shot a valuable English setter which had been bitten by the mad dog. Although Mr. Cocks' animal showed no signs of madness, his owner thought best to kill him rather than run the risk of his having the rabies

The New Somerset Street Bridge.

The work on the new line bridge over Green Brook, on Somerset street, is progressing favorably. Some little delay has been occasioned from time to time in getting the material which is being used in the construction of the new bridge, but this has all been overcome, and the work will now be pushed rapidly forward to completion. The driveway on the West side of the bridge will probably be opened for travel the latter part of this week.

Return of The Favorites.

The favorite Primrose and West Minstrel company, will again appear at Music Hall, on Monday evening next. Among the new attractions added since the company last appeared here, is Mr. Lew Dockstader, the famons New York minstrel. Among the other new people in the company are the musical comedians, Swift and Chase, who will doubtless receive a hearty reception.

The Demanted Woman to be Sent Home.

Rosa Knutt, the colored woman who created some excitement in North Plainfield, on Sunday, by her peculiar actions, will be sent by the authorities to her home near Hackensack. The woman's mind is thought to be unbalanced, and she is not considered a safe person to be at large. Unpleasant domestic relations are said to have affected her reason.

Real Estate at Auction.

On to-morrow afternoon at four o'clock on the premises, Auctioneer T. J.. Gillies will offer for public sale, the building at No. 28 West Front street, now occupied by Mr. S. C. Peck. The property consists of a three-story brick building 24x90 feet together with lot about 80x300 feet, running back to the brook. Terms will be made known on day of sale.

City Court Proceedings.

Three young men, all of respectable parentage, and all employed at the Potter Press works, were arrested this morning for being drunk and fighting. One of them pleaded not guilty, and a hearing of his case was set down for Saturday. The other two pleaded guilty to their respective charges, and Judge Codington suspended sentence until Saturday.

Oh! ye who teach the ingenious youth of our great nation, let them learn the noble act of self-defense, as Salvation Oil is the specific for hurts.

Little Annie yesterday told us, in her way, what a good medicine Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is; it had cured her of a very severe cold.

The Marriage License Bill.

For the benefit of those persons, if any there be, who anticipate leaving town for matrimonial purposes, it may be well to acquaint them with the fact that the Marriage License bill introduced by Assemblyman Woolman, of Camden, passed the House at Trenton, yesterday morning. The bill provides that no marriage shall be performed unless the parties to the contract shall have first paid the Surrogate of the county and secured a certificate from him. A penalty of $100 is provided for any violation of the law, either by the contracting parties or the clergyman.

In advocating the measure, Mr. Woolman said that such a law as this was absolutely needed in Camden. The influx of couples from Pennsylvania where license was required had become a nuisance and a disgrace, while larger cities like Paterson only showed 700 marriages last year. The records in Camden showed that 4,452 marriages had been performed in that city in one year. A glance at the records showed that the first twenty-seven couples married were not of age. The bill passed by a vote of 33 to 7.

Kate Castleton To-Night at Music Hall.

Never before has anything in the comedy line been presented in this city, that will so thoroughly delight a Plainfield audience, as the production of "A Paper Doll," by Miss Kate Castleton and her company at Music Hall, this evening.

Unlike most of the stars Kate Castleton does not care to be the only figure in the eye of the audience, and accordingly she has surrounded herself with talented people with the view of giving the public an entertainment that is first-class in every particular. "A Paper Doll" is extremely funny, but the company is even better than the play. Every person in the cast is fit to be a star and the performance possesses an amount of go and dash that is truly refreshing. There is not a moment of dullness from first to last and the audience is kept in a state of hilarity throughout.

The Sherwood Recital.

The lecture-recital given by Mr. W. H. Sherwood, the celebrated pianist, at Seminary Hall, last evening, was well attended. Those who were present were well pleased as was evidenced by the encores the performer received. The programme was divided into five distinct parts, and before rendering a number Mr. Sherwood made interesting explanatory remarks regarding the same, which is something entirely new for Plainfielders. The music loving public of this city owe a vote of thanks to Mr. Dorsey W. Hyde, through whose efforts Mr. Sherwood was brought here.

No More Testimony Wanted.

The Union County Grand Jury is pushing ahead vigorously and, it is said, expects to get through with the Linden race-track and pool-selling matter today. Few, if any, more witnesses are to be examined on this subject. This will be welcome news to many staid citizens who have been on the ragged edge of suspense lest they should be called upon to confess that they patronized the tracks and were tempted to gamble by the allurements held out by the bookmakers.

Another County Road.

The board of chosen freeholders met Monday afternoon for the purpose of opening sealed proposals for the improvement of the county road from Rahway through Clark, Westfield and Summit townships to New Providence. The bids were examined and contracts awarded, after which the board adjourned until 2.30 yesterday afternoon, when the final meeting of the year was held, and the adjournment sine die declared.

Convention of the Exempt Firemen.

The fourth annual convention of the New Jersey State Exempt Firemen's Association, of which the Exempt Firemen's Association of this city is a part, is in session at New Brunswick today. The session will occupy the entire day. Delegates are present from this city and Scotch Plains. Last year the convention was held in this city, and it was an occasion to be long remembered.

Says He Will Have Revenge.

Samuel Hedden of North Plainfield, called at City Judge Codington's office yesterday afternoon, and requested the Judge to issue a warrant for the arrest of "Andy" Seguine, whom he charged with assault and battery. Mr. Hedden was evidently suffering from sea-sickness, and the Judge referred him to a justice of the peace.

—One young man appeared before His Honor, Judge Codington, this morning, and pleaded guilty to a charge of using foul and abusive language. He was fined three dollars.

—An accident at the electric light station about 9:30 o'clock last evening caused all of the street and incandescent lamps to go out, and for a time the city was in utter darkness.

—Mr. John M. Schorb was fined five dollars by City Judge Codington, yesterday afternoon, for disorderly conduct in resisting Special Officer James Babbitt in the discharge of his duty.

—The female operators in the telephone office in this city, have been granted an increase in their salary. The action on the part of the telephone company will be duly appreciated by the young ladies who are so attentive to their duties.

—A delegation from the Bound Brook Grand Army Post, was present at the meeting of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, of this city, last evening.

—Mr. Edward Tomlinson, Treasurer of the Young Men's Auxiliary, will be at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, this evening, after nine o'clock, to receive returns from tickets.

THE BANK RAID.

Bookkeeper Whitney Spent Last Night in the Albany Jail.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 14.—Having failed to secure the necessary bail Whitney, the embezzling bookkeeper of the Albany City National Bank, spent last night in jail. He was again taken to the bank to look over the books with U. S. District Attorney Alexander and one of the directors. There are no new developments up to this hour.

One of the directors of the bank said to a reporter to-day that the board of directors would prefer charges of collusion to defraud against the parties interested.

The books will not be straightened out for a week or ten days; until that time nothing positive can be stated.

One of the parties to overdraw an account is the female proprietor of a saloon and hotel where Whitney and the Goulds spent their money.

Cashier Brooks insists that the bank is all right, but good financiers heresay that while depositors may not lose a cent the bank has its death blow and its only hope is to reorganize.

United States Marshal Lucien Tuffs arrested William Gould, Jr., the senior member of the firm of Gould & Co., law-book publishers, upon a charge of fraudulent conspiracy to rob the Albany City National Bank in collusion with George P. Whitney.

TWO MEN KILLED.

Low Water Causes a Boiler Explosion on the Reading Railroad.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., May 14.—While a heavy freight train on the Reading road was nearing this city the boiler of the locomotive exploded. The track and ties were torn loose and big holes made in the ground.

It is thought that the water became low in the boiler at some time and that the crown sheet was burned.

Engineer Hoglegong and Fireman Charles Kauff were instantly killed and Conductor George C. Yeager was probably fatally injured.

The locomotive is almost a wreck, pieces of the boiler being thrown many yards from the scene, and the scalding water and steam drenched everything for a long distance.

A San Francisco dispatch says that 200 coolies, who bought tickets on the steamer China from Hong Kong to Mexico, were left in Hong Kong, as the captain refused to bring them when news came by cable of Windom's latest. The steamship refunded the money, amounting to over a thousand dollars, and the coolies remained in Hong Kong.

Navigation on the western division of the Erie Canal has been obstructed for the past few days by a series of accidents to canal boats. The boat Kittie Fillmore is reported at Lockport with four feet of water in her corn cargo. The boat Sarah is sunk at Brighton with a load of lumber for Albany. All are being raised.

A GENERAL'S CRIME

The Commander of the Canadian Militia in Disgrace.

CONVICTED OF LOOTING FURS.

The Whole Affair Ventilated in the Dominion Parliament.

Fourteen Persons Killed by an Explosion in an Italian Factory—Major Wissmann Captures Lindi—A Great Reception to Stanley in London—Labor Leader Burns Refuses to Debate with Bradlaugh.

OTTAWA, May 14.—It is probable that Gen. Sir Frederick D. Middleton, commander of the Canadian militia, will tender his resignation some time today.

The action of Parliament leaves no other course open to him. He has been convicted by a committee of members of Parliament of looting furs valued at $5,000 or $6,000 in the late Northwestern Rebellion.

The report of the committee was presented to the House and provoked a heated discussion. The Hon. E. Blake reviewed the whole affair. He said that such conduct on the part of a high official was unprecedented. It was during civil war, and the property in question belonged to a British subject, although for the time being he might have been a rebel. He pointed out the penalties which should be inflicted. In conclusion he denounced in unmeasured terms the general's conduct, and said the government should make him pay the whole value of the looted property and dismiss him from the service.

Sir Adolphe Caron, Minister of Militia, defended the general and said it was only an error of judgment. He tried to palliate the offence.

Sir John A. Macdonald agreed that it was an error of judgment, but said that the Government, in the face of everything, could not condone the offence.

The Hon. Wilfred Laurier said the Government had tarried long enough in giving justice to the half-breed settlers. He demanded that the case be concluded immediately.

The report, which is virtually the general's death-warrant as far as his future service is concerned, was adopted unanimously.

ENGLAND LECTURED.

Stanley Says that Germany Has a Monarch Who is Wide Awake.

LONDON, May 14.—The reception of Henry M. Stanley by the Lord Mayor and the Corporation of London, in the Guild hall was attended by 2,000 enthusiastic guests.

The Lord Mayor presented Mr. Stanley with a gold casket containing an address from the London Corporation, to which Mr. Stanley responded, thanking his entertainers for the honor conferred upon him. The Congo country might have belonged to England, he said, if Englishmen had listened to the lectures he delivered between 1878 and 1884. The consequence is that Belgium is reaping 100 per cent. of the benefits. England might have had East Africa, but her journalists see everything through an opaque glass and Germany to-day has the lion's share and cannot fail to win the Congo country in the long run.

The Germans, he said, have a monarch who is wide awake. Major Wissmann never heard of such things as the Quakerism, peace societies, anti-enterprise companies and namby-pamby journalism which are stops to every hearty endeavor in England.

He expressed hope that the Government would remember the services of his companions and not chill their young souls with the neglect which first warped poor Gordon after his heroic achievements in China.

FOURTEEN KILLED.

An Explosion in an Italian Factory Does Disastrous Work.

ROME, May 14.—A quantity of balistite, the new explosive, exploded at the factory for the manufacture of arms and munitions, at Avigliane, 14 miles west of Turin.

Fourteen persons were instantly killed and many others were injured, some of them fatally.

Burns Will Not Debate.

LONDON, May 14.—The great debate on the eight-hour question between Mr. Charles Bradlaugh and Mr. John Burns, the labor agitator, which was announced to take place as soon as a suitable hall could be secured, has been indefinitely postponed, owing to the withdrawal of Mr. Burns. Inasmuch as Mr. Burns was the challenging party much surprise has been caused by his action, for which no adequate reason is given.

Porters Deserting Emin Pasha.

LONDON, May 14.—A dispatch from Zanzibar says that news has reached there to the effect that the expedition under the command of Emin Pasha, which left Bagamayo on April 28, suffered a loss, by death and desertion, of one-fourth of the whole number of its porters during the first five days march from the coast.

Nine Soldiers Commit Suicide.

PARIS, May 14.—Advices from Kotonou state that during an exchange of prisoners nine soldiers of the King of Dahomy committed suicide by drowning themselves in the harbor rather than return to service. The Germans have abandoned their factory at Whydah. The King continues his hostile attitude.

He Was Not Arrested.

PARIS, May 14.—Mr. C. de Garmo, who was reported to have been arrested in connection with the Marie Gagnol murder, was not arrested at all. The newspaper "Le Paris" circulated the false statement. Mr. de Garmo is an American and represents a Philadelphia printing house. He threatens to sue "Le Paris" for libel.

Strikers Rioting in Hamburg.

HAMBURG, May 14.—The strikers resumed their rioting last night and were dispersed by the mounted police. The main street is now cordoned by police, and arrests are being made of all disorderly persons.

Wissmann Captures Another Town.

BERLIN, May 14.—Major Wissmann's expeditionary forces bombarded and captured the town of Lindy on the southern coast of Lake Nyasa.

A QUESTION.

Do you think it wrong to give presents?
I don't.
Cash ought to be encouraged.
Think of the time it takes to charge.
I believe on a cash basis.
On that basis I am working.
No one can disagree with me.
All would be better off.
Ready money is what tells.
You had better try it, if you have'nt.

A TRIPLE TRAGEDY

Brutal Murder of a Farmer, His Wife and Son.

THEIR THROATS HORRIBLY CUT.

The Apartments Where the Bodies Were Found Soaked With Blood.

Evidence of a Struggle With the Murderers—Their Object Was to Obtain Plunder—Searching Parties Organized but the Perpetrators of the Foul Deed Have Not Been Discovered.

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 15.—The hack driver of the stage line running between Washington and Brownsville, gave a graphic account of a terrible murder at Bentleysville, this county.

John Crouch, a farmer, his wife and son, Andrew, aged 35 years, living in the borough of Bentleysville, were found dead at their home, with their throats cut from ear to ear. The son's head was terribly bruised, showing evidence of a struggle with the murderers. All the bodies were cold, indicating that the bloody work had been committed during the fore part of the night. The spectacle presented was an awful one and the apartments of the house wherein the bodies were found was soaked and bespattered with the blood of the victims.

The appearance of the house showed that a thorough search of the premises had been made as though the object of the murderers was to obtain plunder, and there must have been several in the party.

The Crouch family were among the most respectable and well-to-do people of the community, and were usually supposed to have large sums of money about the house. In fact they were known to secrete large amounts in this way.

The knowledge of the discovery spread like lightning, and within a remarkably short space of time the wildest excitement prevailed in the neighborhood. Searching parties were organized and the adjacent district was scoured in an effort to discover the perpetrators, but up to this hour no clue or any knowledge of their whereabouts have been obtained.

THREE MEN KILLED.

Another Frightful Caisson Accident at the Louisville and Jeffersonville Bridge.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 15.—About 6 o'clock last evening, while workmen were engaged in the construction of the upper part of a caisson used in the excavation work for pier foundations of the Louisville and Jeffersonville bridge, the caisson while being shifted in the strong mid-river current, broke from its moorings.

The air chamber, fourteen feet below the surface, was filled with compressed air, and when the hawsers parted the buoyancy of the submerged position of the 28-foot caisson caused it to suddenly turn over, carrying with it the scaffold and eighteen workmen.

The following were killed: C. P. Mitchell, of Kansas City; Charles Sanders, and Joseph Waldon. The other workmen were rescued by boats.

Verdict in a Murder Case.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., May 15—The jury in the case of Parvel Kovacic and Kabola Barteck, on trial for the murder of a fellow countryman named Parvel Matashnuska at the Hibernia Mines in March last, returned a verdict finding Parvel Kovacic guilty of murder in the second degree, and Kabola Barteck guilty of manslaughter. The jury were out an hour and a half. Sentence was deferred till Monday. The murder was a very brutal one and it was thought the prisoners would certainly be convicted of murder in the first degree.

LIGHTNING'S FREAKS.

A Storm that Culminated in a Hurricane in the Coal Region.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 15.—The storm in the valley near Hazleton was the most destructive that ever visited this section of the State. The fruit trees are entirely ruined. Many of the trees were torn from their roots. Miles of fences were leveled to the ground. The storm came up about 7 o'clock and lasted two hours.

The lightning was terrific, and a strong west wind was blowing. The whole culminated in a hurricane, which did its worst damage in Conyngham township. In one orchard the electric current concentrated its force and tore up all the trees, leaving deep furrows in the earth. The barns of Charles Shulter and John Woodbury were struck by lighting and wrecked. Two horses were killed. J. Wardwell's house was cut in two by the current. All the inmates were parlyzed for some time.

Mr. Wardwell says: "I was sitting with my family in the kitchen when it shook the building. For five minutes not a person could move. We seemed to be pinned to the floor." Thomas Durkin's house was wrecked. Many people living in the path of the storm took shelter in their cellars, while the houses shook over their heads. Hundreds of farmers report that their crops are entirely ruined. In Foster township several cows were killed in the fields.

The Assembly will be in session probably two weeks.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Progress of the Silver Bill in the Senate.

FREE COINAGE NOW THE ISSUE.

The Windom Plan Likely to be Amended in that Direction.

Senator Edmunds Introduces His Bill for a National University—After the Office of Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate—The Transfer of the Fish Commission—Resignation of Paymaster Looker.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The silver debate in the Senate has now been running three days, and the drift so far is toward free coinage. The debate may, however, last a couple of weeks. Senator Sherman said to-day in answer to a request for his opinion on the situation: "The proposition for free coinage is so strongly pressed that it is very likely to pass the Senate. If not that, then the bill for the purchase of $4,500,000 a month and the issue of notes based thereon will pass."

In regard to the probable attitude of the President toward free coinage Mr. Sherman said he could not speak, as he had had no communication with him on the subject, but "free coinage," he added, "seemed to be the issue."

After the passage of the Silver bill by the Senate it will go to the House Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures. If it is not agreeable to the House managers an effort may be made to keep it there, but that can hardly succeed under the pressure that will be at once exerted in its favor and to get through.

The Committee on Rules will then have to say whether the bill shall have a day or not. Should the bill overcome all these hindrances, it will have to run the gauntlet of amendments certain to be offered, and finally it will have to withstand the scrutiny of the President. There can be no gainsaying the fact that silver is strong in the House and stronger in the Senate.

In the course of his speech for free coinage Senator Teller incidentally said that all the members of the Finance Committee are silver men. These members are Senators Morrill, Sherman, Jones, of Nevada, Allison, Aldrich and Hiscock, Republicans, and Voorhees, McPherson, Harris and Vance, Democrats.

THE UNIVERSITY BILL.

Provisons of the Measure Introduced in the Senate by Mr. Edmunds.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Mr. Edmunds introduced in the Senate a bill to establish the University of the United States. The bill provides that there shall be established in the city of Washington a corporation known as the "University of the United States." It is to consist of and be governed by a board of regents composed of the President of the United States, the Secretary of State, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of War, the Attorney General, the Secretary of the Navy and all the other members of the President's Cabinet, the Chief Justice of the United States and twelve citizens, no two of them residents of the same State, which shall be appointed by concurrent resolution of the two houses of Congress.

The regents are to be divided into three classes, to be elected for terms of three alternate years. The Board is to have full control of the university to be established, to endow fellowships, etc. The first meeting is to be held on call of the President. An annual report is to be sent to Congress. A sum not exceeding $500,000 is to be appropriated by the bill to procure necessary grounds and erect the necessary buildings for the university.

The sum of $5,000,000 is to be set aside as the principal of a perpetual fund, the income of which is to be used for the maintenance of the university. One section of the bill provides that "no special sectarian belief or doctrine shall be taught or promoted in said university, but this prohibition shall not be deemed to exclude the study and consideration of Christian theology."

No person otherwise eligible shall be excluded from the benefits of the act on account of race, color, citizenship or religious belief.

Transfer of the Fish Commission.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Senator Plumb from the Committee on Agriculture, favorably reported the bill to transfer the Fish Commission to the Department of Agriculture. This measure has for its object an increase in the efficiency of the Fish Commission by allying it with a distinctly scientific executive department in which, while its usefulness shall in no manner be circumscribed or impaired, it may be brought into proper relation with the Executive and Congress.

Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Silas M. Bailey, ex-State Treasurer, of Fayette County, Pa., is here to-day working up his boom to oust Cannady as Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. He has the active support of the Pennsylvania Senators and the entire House delegation.

Paymaster-General Looker Resigns.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Paymaster-General Thomas H. Looker has resigned the office of Chief of the Bureau of Provisions and Clothing on account of ill-health, and the Secretary of the Navy appointed Pay Inspector Stewart to the position.

Murdered His Neighbor.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., May 15.—Near Star Lake in the Adirondacks, at about 7 a. m., Henry Farney shot and instantly killed William Montrieff. They were neighbors and had had an angry dispute which led to the murder.

To the Friends of the Children's Home.

At our annual meeting held last Thursday, our treasurer's books revealed a sad and disheartening condition of things. We are not willing to believe our friends have lost faith in us or in the need of our work for the children. For some unknown reason the donations of money have been fewer and smaller than usual, while our family expenses have kept up to the usual average.

With a family of about twenty, we have not cash in hand to meet our bills for June. We make this frank statement to our creditors, the generous men and women of Plainfield, and ask you to advise us what to do.

At the present time our "available assets" are sixteen helpless children. Shall we assign them for your benefit and will you assume their care and support? There is not a paid officer on our board. Our ladies give their time and strength gladly and most cordially to the work. Will you share with us in it, and give us funds to carry it on?

For the Association,
N. E. KIMBALL,
President.

May 6, 1890.

Another Coal Train Jumper Arrested.

The good work of breaking up the dangerous practice of catching on coal and freight trains, is going forward with success, and before long the practice will be entirely abandoned for a time. One more unfortunate was arrested by Special Officer S. R. Hope, yesterday afternoon, for riding on a coal train. The man gave his name as "Mike" Haddock, and said that he had been granted the privilege of riding on the train by one of the trainmen.

This morning Judge Codington remanded the prisoner for a hearing, pending the arrival of the brakeman who Haddock said gave him permission to ride.

More Improvements on West Front Street.

Mr. H. Liefke has become the owner of the property wherein he conducts his bakery and confectionery business, at 27 West Front street, and is making quite extensive alterations which will be, when completed, a credit to that part of the city. The long one-story addition in the rear is to be made two stories high, the second floor of which will be divided into kitchen, dining room, bath room and bed rooms. Messrs Pierson & Gayle are the contractors, which is evidence enough that the work will be well done.

The loss is said to be very light.

Small Fire at Dunellen.

Carpet weaver Lowry's house at Dunellen had a narrow escape from total destruction by fire a few afternoons since. A fire started in his carpet weaving department in some unexplained manner, and was making rapid progress when some of the neighbors rushed in and extinguished the flames before any serious damage was done.

A Muzzle Would Suit Either.

If the writer of the anonymous communication addressed to THE PRESS with reference to the dog question will call at this office, either he or she can recover the manuscript. Otherwise it will be consigned to the waste basket. The author of the communication evidently owns a dangerous dog, and is either too mean or too poor to buy a muzzle for it.

THE TRUE FACTS IN THE CASE.

Additional Particulars Concerning The Peculiar and Almost Fatal Accident Which Happened to Walter L. Vail in the Far West.

The report of Mr. Walter Lenox Vail's accident having reached the newspapers, the following is a correct version of the circumstance: Mr. Vail while riding on one of his ranches in Prince county, Arizona, found a Gila Monster, and wishing to show it to a friend killed the creature, as he supposed, and tied it on the back of his saddle. When he put his hand behind him the reptile seized one of his fingers so tightly that help was required to loosen its hold.

Mr. Vail bound his finger above the wound, then cut it open and applied carbolic acid, making his way to the railroad station, twenty miles distant, where his doctor met him and accompained him to Tucson by rail. For a few hours Mr. Vail's condition was very alarming, and he suffered intensely, but the latest news reports him nearly, if not quite, recovered.

The Gila Monster is a reptile of the lizard family, peculiar to Arizona. Its bite is considered fatal. Except in a few localities it is seldom seen.

Mr. Vail is a son of Mr. Mahlon Vail, Esq., of this city. An account of the peculiar accident appeared in Monday's PRESS.

He Was Simply Doing His Duty.

Dog catcher James Babbitt was the cause of great excitement on North avenue, yesterday afternoon. The animal was taken to the pound.

Tramps are becoming so numerous in the Fourth Ward in the vicinity of Grant avenue, that it is not safe to leave females alone in the house during the day time. THE BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS.

Organizes for the Year by Re-Electing Mr. J. Frank Hubbard of this City, Director.

As stated in THE PRESS yesterday the old Board of Freeholders met and closed up its business on Tuesday afternoon, when Chief Engineer Dunham reported that South avenue as a county road had been completed and that the work on the same was well done and according to contract. He recommended that the work be received, which was adopted unanimously.

The books of the Collector were reported as correct, showing the receipts for the year to be $556,669.07; disbursements, $490,198.58, and the balance on hand, $66,470.49.

The committee on lunacy reported that during the year there had been confined in the asylum 156 patients—63 males and 97 females. The amount expended had been $27,566.05.

The committee on discharge of prisoners reported that during the year they had caused the discharge of 250 prisoners. In all cases they had first consulted the warden, and had acted under his advice.

The committee on jail inspection reported that the amount expended for that institution was $4.914.13. The average number of prisoners per day confined is 55, and the cost to feed each one 26 and 4-10th cents. The number of prisoners confined during the past year and up to date, 756; the number discharged 726, and the number in jail at present 67.

The committee in referring to the orderliness and the general neatness of the jail, said that it would compare favorably with any jail in the State. The committee also referred to Warden Dodd and his estimable wife in a complimentary manner.

THE NEW BOARD ORGANIZES.

The Board for 1890-91 organized yesterday and elected J. Frank Hubbard of this city, Director for two years. Charles E. Reed of Rahway, was re-elected Clerk at a salary of $300. E. M. Wood was re-elected County Collector, at a salary of $1,000, and his bond fixed at $20,000. He was also paid $500 for extra services in connection with the county roads. Dr. Frank W. Westcott of Fanwood, was elected County Physician for three years, and his salary fixed at $500 in addition to his actual disbursements or expenses.

F. A. Dunham of Plainfield, was re-elected County Engineer at the same compensation as last year, with the privilege of appointing inspectors at $2.50 per day.

Dennis C. Crane of Roselle, made an attack on the engineer, who he declared was not competent, and also alleged that he did not pay the inspectors the wages specified by the Board.

The Board, after hearing an explanation from Engineer Dunham, unanimously re-elected him.

The original Big Four will have an entirely new act, and among the new people in the company will be found Swift and Chase, versatile musical comedians. Primrose and West will have a full house.

A Well-Known Plainfielder Killed.

Mr. John W. Foster, proprietor of the Summit Hub and Carriage factory, and a man known to almost all of the old residents here, was struck by the Dover freight train about 2 o'clock yesterday morning near his home. His left arm was terribly lacerated, and he received serious internal injuries.

Wreck on the Central Railroad.

A wreck occurred on the New Jersey Central Railroad, at Lebanon, about two o'clock this morning, which resulted in piling up and splintering twenty loaded coal cars. No one was injured, and the passenger traffic over the road at that point was but little interfered with.

—The loss occasioned by the fire in Mr. James E. Martine's residence on Tuesday as told exclusively in THE PRESS yesterday, will amount to about $50, which claim the insurance companies have already adjusted.

THE EXEMPT FIREMEN.

Their Fourth Convention Held at New Brunswick. Yesterday.

The fourth annual convention of the State Exempt Firemen's Association opened at 11 o'clock yesterday, in Temperance Hall, New Brunswick. There were about one hundred delegates and others present including Messrs A. Saltzman, J. B. Gable, D. W. Littell and V. Utzinger of Plainfield.

President Stites of Morristown, called the meeting to order and the Rev. Dr. John Woodbridge led in prayer. Mayor VanCleef then made a short but excellent address.

The President's report showed that during '88 and '89 many experiments had been made by firemen with satisfactory results. Among them were the efficient discharge of nozzles of various forms; loss of pressure by friction in fire hose; effect of curves upon loss of pressure.

The treasurer's report showed $23.84 in the treasury. The reports of the Executive and other Committees were also read.

A communication was received from Warren Engine Company, of Plainfield, asking for relief. The company was formerly in two counties but now the city has taken charge and part of the members cannot serve, though willing, and not having served seven years cannot get exempt certificates. It was decided to refer to the Executive Committee.

An assessment of seven dollars was made on each organization to defray the expenses for the ensuing year.

The following officers were elected:

President—Richard M. Stites, Morristown; First Vice President, John Mc Kierman, Paterson; Second Vice President, J. N. Terill, New Brunswick; Secretary—Chas. H. Green, Morristown; Treasurer—Thos. Leather, Jersey City; Statistician—R. M. Stites.

Executive Committee—C. W. Biles, A. Saltzman, Thomas Taybourne, Joshua Brown, Wm. Exall, F. P. Budder.

Standing Committee—J. A. McCrellis, J. A. Brown, E. VanNatta, J. J. Spittel and Messrs Rouse and Martin.

Grand Commandery Knights Templar.

The Grand Commandery of New Jersey Knights Templar, held their annual meeting at Trenton on Tuesday. They adopted the revised ritual for the regulation of the order within the State and elected the following officers:

Grand Commander, L. L. Greer, Passaic Bridge.

Deputy Grand Commander, Jos. E. Fulper, Washington.

Grand Generalissimo, Wm. F. Muchmore, Morristown.

Grand Captain General, Warren Dobbs, Jersey City.

Grand Prelate, Thomas Godson, Newark.

Grand Senior Warden, James McCain. Trenton.

Grand Junior Warden, Edward Mills, Camden.

Grand Treasurer, F. G. Wiese, Bordentown.

Grand Recorder, Charles Bechtel, Trenton.

Grand Standard-Bearer, Robert Dingwell, Newark.

Grand Sword-Bearer, John Lilly, Lambertville.

Grand Warder, W. J. Lockwood, Paterson.

Grand Captain of Guards, Samuel G. Bennett, Trenton.

A Majority Favors the Revision.

The New York Independent of this week publishes returns from all but five of the Presbyteries of the Presbyterian church, showing that 133 have voted for revision, 69 against revision and 6 have declined to vote. Most of the Presbyteries not heard from are foreign; 2,332 ministers and elders have voted against revision and 3,334 ministers and elders have voted for revision. Twenty-seven of the Presbyteries cast a unanimous vote—12 against and 15 for revision.

President—T. O. Doane.
Vice President—H. M. Sherwin.
Treasurer—J. A. Hubbard.

Playing the Races is Expensive.

The Union County Grand Jury yesterday brought in nineteen indictments against the owners and book-makers at the Linden race track, and late in the afternoon Sheriff Glasby and a posse of six constables started for Linden armed with the necessary capiases to bring the accused persons into Court.

Somerset County Freeholders.

The newly-elected Board of Freeholders of Somerset county, met and organized yesterday by electing J. C. Staats, of Franklin, as Director; A. P. Sutphen, of Somerville, Clerk, and John R. Frech, Counsel. The fight for the Collectorship has not been decided.

Before the City Judge.

Officer Giesse last evening arrested James Smith, alias "Casey," for acting in a disorderly manner. The man gave the name of "Casey," he said, so that his employer would not "get on to him." He was fined five dollars.

Patrick Cahill was again brought up from South Second street, late last night, by Officers Flanagan and Cooney, and this morning he was charged with being "drunk and disorderly." He was fined $15, which amount he was obliged to draw from the Dime Savings Institution in order to pay his fine. Cahill told an officer that he was going straightway to "fill up again," and THE PRESS may have occasion again to record his doings tomorrow. The man has already paid about $100 into the city treasury for similar offences.

More Than Sustained the Award.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company met with a setback yesterday at Elizabeth in its appeal from the award of the Commissioners who appraised that part of the Stearns property which the company wanted for its roadbed. The land was valued by the Commission at $35,000. This sum included the damage to the rest of the property. In the appeal case the jury awarded yesterday the Stearns heirs $14,000 for the land, $20,000 damages, and $1,100 for the cost of a fence separating their property from the railroad, making in all $35,100. The company will also have to pay the costs of the suit.

A Commendable Showing.

During January and February of the present year the Fireman's Relief Association of this city has paid out more money for sick benefits than it has ever before paid out in any whole year since its organization. The association, however, has been able to meet all of its obligations, and this was partly due to the generous contribution made by Mr. Chas. D. Wadsworth of Central avenue and Sixth street, in recognition of the firemen's faithful services at the time his dwelling was damaged by fire several months ago.

No Such Thing.

Three of the moulders were discharged from The Pond Machine Tool Company's works, yesterday, and this gave rise to a report that a dozen or fifteen of the men had left the foundry because a colored foreman had been put over them. At the works today the report was denied.

To Visit Plainfield.

The following item among others appeared under the heading: "Life Among Brooklyn Wheelmen," in last Sunday's issue of the N. Y. Sporting Times:

Over 120 wheelmen will go to the Decoration Day road race from this club, and after the race will take dinner at Plainfield.

Rheumatism is caused by an acid in the blood; therefore, external treatment affords no permanent relief. To eliminate the poison and make a thorough cure of the disease, nothing else is so efficient as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Give it a trial. Price $1. Worth $5 a bottle.

—It is understood that a petition will be presented to the City Council in the near future, with a view of having Cutter's alley graded down to the established grade and having sidewalks laid on both sides of the alley from Front street through to Second street.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Congregational church, took place in the church parlors this afternoon

Mamma (to her little boy). "Now, Bennie, if you'll be good and go to sleep, mamma 'll give you one of Dr. Ayer's nice sugar-coated Cathartic Pills, next time you need medicine." Bennie, smiling sweetly, dropped off to sleep at once.

Catarrh

IS a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

BALFOUR SURPRISED

The Government Defeated on the Irish Agricultural Bill.

SHARP PARNELLITE TACTICS.

The Home Rulers Rushed a Division When the Tories Were Not Present.

Marshal von Moltke Makes a Dramatic Speech About War—Mrs. Frank Leslie Engaged—Madame Diss Debar Arrested in Rome—Temporal Power of the Holy See—A Young Girl Butchered.

LONDON, May 15.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Joseph F. Fox, Nationalist, moved the second reading of the Irish Agricultural Laborers' bill, proposing the use of the Church surplus to erect cottages for laborers.

After some discussion, Mr. T. W. Russell, Unionist, moved to adjourn. Not a single clause of the bill, he said, had been explained. Mr. Balfour commented on the silence of the Irish leaders, and supported Mr. Russell's motion.

A vote was taken and the motion was lost, 94 to 68. Mr. Parnell thereupon moved that the question of the second reading of the bill be put. The Speaker declined, it being obvious, he said, that the House desired to continue the debate.

Mr. Balfour said the Parnellites meanly desired to embarrass the Government and injure the Land Purchase bill. The second reading was then agreed to without a division, amid prolonged Irish cheers.

The defeat of the Government was due to a blunder of the Conservative whips, who notified the members of the Government party that their presence would be required at 4 o'clock. This became known to the Parnellites, who attended in full strength at noon and, after short speeches had been made, rushed a division before the Conservatives could be mustered.

GERMANY'S ARMY BILL.

Count Von Moltke Says the European Situation is One of Increasing Danger.

BERLIN, May 15.—The Reichstag discussed the new army bill, both Count von Moltke and Chancellor von Caprivi taking part in the debate.

Count von Moltke said that the present European situation was one of increasing delicacy and one which was growing more difficult of solution by reason of the intricate problems in State policy which it constantly presented. It was, Count von Moltke asserted, imperative that Germany should maintain a strong military system, as a strong government alone would be able to maintain peace. He said most of the great powers honestly desired the preservation of peace and that everybody hesitated to throw a spark into the powder barrel, yet the guarantee of the Empire could only be found in German strength and preparation.

In a highly dramatic way Marshal von Moltke said: "When the war, which for the past decade has hung over our heads like the sword of Damocles, breaks out at least its duration cannot be foreseen. The mightiest of the powers, armed as they have never been before, will be engaged. It may be a seven or it may be a 30 year's war. Woe to him who sets the match."

MRS. LESLIE ENGAGED.

The Marquis de Leuville Declares It and She Doesn't Deny It.

LONDON, May 15.—The Marquis de Leuville authorizes the statement that he and Mrs. Frank Leslie are engaged, and that the marriage will take place next month.

Mrs. Leslie was seen lunching at the Grosvenor Hotel with the Marquis. She took the reporter into a private room and told him that she did not deny the rumor. She said that for five years she had had a great regard for de Leuville, and time had not weakened that feeling. She added:

"You may draw your own conclusions, but I prefer not to discuss the matter at present. I shall go to Paris to-night and remain there till after the Marquis' trial. On my return the intentions of the Marquis and myself will be made public, and not till then."

The Plunger Out of Prison.

LONDON, May 15.—Jubilee Plunger Benson has been liberated from the prison at Nice in which he was incarcerated for forgery. He was escorted to his hotel by a crowd of friends who gave him a banquet, at which he announced his intention to reform. He will arrive in London at the end of the week and will write a book narrating his experience of prison life.

Temporal Power of the Pope.

VIENNA, May 15.—It is announced that His Holiness the Pope has addressed a circular letter to a hundred bishops of various countries, asking whether they consider the time opportune for proclaiming the dogma asserting the temporal power of the Holy See. Sixty-one bishops answered in the affirmative, but all the Italian prelates opposed the dogma. The Jesuits urge the Pope to proclaim the dogma without delay.

The Kaiser's Latest War Speech.

BERLIN, May 15.—The Kaiser in a speech at the banquet given in his honor at the castle at Konigsberg, last night, said: "I drink to the prosperity of East Prussia; may it be spared the horrors of war. Should, however, the duty be imposed upon me of defending the frontiers, the sword of East Prussia will deal with the enemy as it did in 1870."

A Young Girl Horribly Butchered.

LONDON, May 15.—Lubeck is excited over the mysterious murder of a young girl, a daughter of a prominent lawyer of that city named Peterson. The body was found in a horribly mutilated condition with evidences that the girl had been criminally assaulted before being butchered by some emulator of "Jack the Ripper."

Madame Diss Debar Arrested.

ROME, May 15.—Madame Diss Debar, who became notorious in New York through her alleged spiritualistic operations and subsequently imprisoned, a year or so ago, was arrested here for swindling a shop keeper and trying to obtain money from many prominent persons by false representations.

A PARODY ON JUSTICE.

Indignation Over the Result of the Coroner's Inquest into the Poorhouse Fire.

NORWICH, N. Y., May 15.—There is great dissatisfaction over the finding of the coroner's two inquests over the victims of the recent poorhouse fire at Preston. The people of the county are indignant and a mass meeting is talked of to take proper measures to punish those who are responsible for the great loss of life.

Gross negligence was shown, and the verdict rendered without censuring anybody is truly a parody on justice. The testimony taken shows that the terrible disaster was caused by old Deborah Dibble placing a pipe which she had been smoking in her pocket before it was thoroughly extinguished.

Two of the recent inmates, each nearly 100 years old, died yesterday in the little church at Preston, where they were temporarily located.

It is understood that the attention of the Attorney-General will be called to the manner in which the Board of Supervisors of 1887 evaded the law, after having their attention called to the same by the State Board.

The French State Convention.

MANCHESTER, N. H., May 15.—Big preparations are being made for the French State Convention to be held in this city June 24, 25 and 26. Its objects will be the consideration of French education, the methods of work of the various charitable societies, and the maintenance of the French language and the Catholic religion. On the 26th there will be a civil and military parade, sports, music, etc. Organizations will attend from other New England States and Montreal.

National Convention of Knights of Honor.

DETROIT, Mich., May 15.—The National Convention of the Knights of Honor is in session here. Prominent among the delegates are Judge A. R. Savage of Maine, who is presiding officer; Judge George S. Hallmark of Pensacola, Fla., and H. M. Curry of San Francisco. The convention will discuss the advisability of an assessment to make up for the drain on the treasury caused by the unusually large number of deaths during the year.

Hospital Patient Burned to Death.

MANCHESTER, N. H., May 15.—About 8 o'clock last night the L part of the new Eliot Hospital, located in the eastern part of the city, was destroyed by fire, causing a loss of $8,000. Mrs. Daniel S. Harriman was burned to death.

Murderer Jackson Arrested.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Jackson, the printer, who killed Minnie Murphy in Chris. Johnson's saloon, in this city, a few weeks ago, was arrested in Muskegon, Mich.

Assistant Banking Superintendent.

ALBANY, N.Y., May 15.—Cyrus Stewart of Gloversville was appointed Assistant Banking Superintendent by Superintendent Preston in place of Charles R. Hall.

Perry Rich May Die.

BANGOR, Me., May 15.—Perry Rich, who was shot by Lida Mason, is in a critical condition.

ENTOMBED IN A MINE

Twenty-five Men Buried by a Cave-in at Ashley, Pa.

BRAVE RESCUERS AT WORK.

A Desperate Effort Being Made to Reach the Unfortunate Men.

Two of the Victims Brought to the Surface—Heartrending Scenes at the Mouth of the Pit—The Rescuing Party Beaten Back By Coal Damp—Several Houses Shattered and Destroyed.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 16.—The citizens of Ashley, three miles from here, were thrown into the wildest excitement when a rumbling sound was heard all over town, followed a few seconds later by a perceptible shock like an earthquake. Persons rushed into the streets from the houses and stores. The cause was not ascertained for half an hour.

It was then found that an area of nearly a square mile just outside Ashley over the Baltimore vein, No. 4 slope, of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Company had sunk, occasioning the rumble and shock, and that 23 men were imprisoned in the mine.

The report spread quickly and the scene that followed was simply awful. Women whose husbands worked in the mine rushed out bare-headed, followed by their children and a great crowd of men and boys.

To the Rescue.

Division Superintenden Phillips, General Inside Superintendent Scott and other officials reached the scene within an hour or two, and after a hasty examination of plans it was decided to make an effort to work a way through and over the fallen roofs inside the mine, while at the same time gangs of men were set to work to dig down from the surface into some abandoned workings that connected with the chambers in the upper split and through which it was hoped the men could be reached. Little hope was entertained of being able for the present at least to reach them through the inside of the mine, for not only was it evident that the gangways were being blocked, but that they were still "working" for every moment fresh falls were to be expected.

Three Men Rescued.

The rescuers broke their way through the surface and reached the abandoned workings. Five men entered and travelled along some distance. They heard groans. Stooping down they found three men lying prostrate on the ground. They picked them up and carried them to the surface. When the rescuing party came in sight a mighty cheer went up, which was repeated again and again. The men rescued were John Allen, Robert Roberts and Anthony Frail. They were badly burned. Roberts is the least injured.

Heartrending Scenes.

The scene around the mouth of the pit is a heartrending one. Wives and mothers crowd close up to the dark opening and peer in as if their loved ones would dispel the darkness of the fatal depths, while the cries of the little ones calling for their fathers make the hearer sick with pity. The men who form the rescuing parties are strangers to fear and if it is within the bounds of possibility to reach the men inside they will be rescued alive or their bodies restored before long.

Had to Flee for Their Lives.

Nearly a score of houses are shattered and destroyed and the families were compelled to flee for their lives. The latest report from the scene of the disaster is to the effect that the rescuing party has penetrated to within sight of two dead bodies, but the gas is so thick that they were driven back to the surface. The place is full of black damp and further approach in the direction of the victims is impossible, even with safety lamps.

Very Little Hope for the Men.

At it looks now very little hope is entertained that any of the men will be rescued alive The cave-in is only a short distance from the point where the six miners, John Clark, Bernard Riley, John Green, Daniel Green Daniel Rawkins and William Price were imprisoned in like manner during the month of April 1879, and who subsisted on mule meat for six days, when they were reached by a rescuing party and found in good health and little the worse for their hazardous experience.

Names of the Imprisoned.

The following is a list of the men who are known to be imprisoned:

John Hanson, Anthony Frane, Michael Schalley, John Schalley, John Allen, Michael Henry, Charles James, Frank Gallagher, Robert Roberts, Harry Jones, Ellis Williams, Owen Williams, Daniel Sullivan, Thomas Williams, John Penning, Anthony Frale, Harry Perry and son, Owen Perry, Thomas Clauss, John James and four Hungarian laborers.

Suffocated by Gas.

WORCESTER, Mass., May 16.—Social circles were startled by the news that the wife and daughter of President Stanley Hall, of Clark University, were found dead in their beds in the morning, having been suffocated by illuminating gas which had escaped during the night. President Hall is out of town. The family have resided here about a year, and Dr. Hall longer. The cause of the accident was a leaking gas burner with an electric light attachment.

Elected Grand Master Workmen.

ATLANTA, May 16.—The Grand Lodge Ancient Order of United Workmen has elected G. E. Thomas, of Columbus, Ga., Grand Master Workmen.

CONTRACT LABOR.

A Pittsburg Jury Decides that the Glassworkers Did Not Violate the Law.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 16.—The case of the United States vs. the Chambers-McKee Glass Manufacturers and James Campbell and William Slicker, of the Glassworkers' Union was taken up in the United Sates Circuit Court.

The charge against the defendants was that 45 glassworkers had been brought here under contracts made in England and given work at the Chambers-McKee glass works at Jeannette. After a number of witnesses were examined the prosecution rested. The defence offered no testimony, and with only a very brief charge by Judge McKennon to the jury, the jury without leaving their seats rendered a verdict of not guilty.

THE CROUCH TRAGEDY.

A Negro Arrested on Suspicion of Being An Accomplice in the Murder.

PITTSBURG, May 16.—William West, colored, was arrested last night at Beaver Falls. He was accompanied by a white woman with whom he has been living for several years.

From circumstantial evidence and a partial confession made by the woman, it is believed that West was an accomplice in the murder of the Crouch family near Washington, Pa., on Tuesday night. West will be taken to Washington, at once. West was well acquainted with the Crouch family and admits being near the scene of the murder on the night in question, but disclaims all knowledge of the murder.

HASTENING THE WEDDING.

A Young Woman Becomes Jealous and Tries to Kill Herself.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 16.—Miss Mollie Westphal has been engaged to Thomas Rand for some time. Yesterday she saw him chatting to a woman friend on the street.

She went to her home and took a dose of laudanum. Her life was despaired of and Rand was sent for. Her father denounced him as a murderer.

After four hours Miss Westphal regained conciousness. At 10 o'clock last night she and Rand were married. The young woman is herself again.

Charges Against Public Officials.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 16.—The Grand Jury's report was handed to Judge Persing, and the Judge, after reading it, said: "This we will refer to the District Attorney who will draw up bills to be presented to the next Grand Jury against the persons named herein." The contentents of the presentment are not made public, but as the Grand Jury had been investigating charges of bribery and corruption against various officials, including the Alms house officials, it is supposed that they are the persons referred to.

Defrauded His Father.

RED BANK, N. J., May 16—Joseph Field, Jr., son of Joseph Field, the wealthiest man in Eastern Monmouth County, is accused of forging his father's name to checks, and has disappeared. A warrant for his arrest is out. Young Field, who is 18 years old, is very finely educated, and last winter published a magazine called the Angelus. He has been very wild, and is said to have defrauded his father out of several thousand dollars.

The Weavers' Strike Settled.

NEWBURG, N. Y., May 16.—F. F. Donovan, State Arbitrator, was in the city to assist in settling the weavers' strike at the Newburg Steam Mills. It was settled, however, without calling upon him. The weavers accept the company's terms of 20 cents per cut of cloth of 51 yards. The mill concedes all the other demands and promotes the leader of the strike to a foremanship, in order to see that the weavers are fairly treated.

Wrecked by Dynamite.

BARTOW, N. Y., May 16.—A terrible explosion occured at the Excelsior Dynamite Works in Bay Chester. The mixing house was blown up and completely demolished. One man in the mixing house got warning, and he managed to escape from the building just as the explosion occurred. He was knocked down by the force of the explosion and badly stunned. One of his ears was blown off. He is said to be otherwise not seriously injured.

Gen. Nelson Davis Dies Suddenly.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Nelson H. Davis, Brigadier General U. S. A., retired, died suddenly on Governor's Island, at 12:30 o'clock. He had just arrived on the island to visit friends, and was in apparently good health. On entering Gen. Tompkins' office he was stricken down by an apoplectic fit and expired.

Thirty New Methodist Ministers.

MADISON, N. J., May 16.—Thirty young men were graduated into the Methodist ministry from the Drew Theological Seminary. The exercises were held in Christ Church, which is adjacent to the college. President Henry A. Buetz, D. D., conferred the degrees.

No Opposition to Mr. Vaux.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—The Republican Convention in the Third Congressional District decided it inexpedient to nominate a candidate and adjourned. Next Tuesday's election will therefore be a walk over for Mr. Vaux, the Democratic nominee.

A Boatman Arrested for Murder.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 16.—George Watson, a boatman, was arrested here as an accomplice in the murder of canal boat Captain Abernethy, who was knocked down in front of a South street saloon in New York and died from the effects of the blow or the fall.

A Vote to be Taken on the Tariff Bill Next Wednesday—The Damrosch-Blaine Wedding the Coming Event—Men to Run the World's Fair—Chinamen to be Sent Home.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Secretary Tracy has promulgated the findings and sentence of the court-martial in the case of Commander McCalla.

The sentence of the court is: "To be suspended from rank and duty for a period of three years, and to retain his present number on the list of commanders, while so suspended." Secretary Tracy approved the sentence.

The pecuniary effect of the court-martial and the Secretary's orders is to place Commander McCalla on furlough or half pay, for three years, reducing his pay from $3,500 to about $1,400 a year.

THE TARIFF DEBATE.

The Previous Question to be Called on the Bill Next Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—There was some little excitement in the House when the Committee on Rules reported the resolution to call the previous question on the Tariff bill at noon next Wednesday, and also to order the reading of the bill and allow it to be open to amendment at any time or section.

The resolution also further provides that all amendments pending at noon on Wednesday would be considered as having failed. This rule brought the Democrats to their feet, and for some time lively words passed between the two sides. Mr. McKinley defended the rule and it was adopted.

Men to Run the World's Fair.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Twelve of the forty-two Governors have forwarded to the Secretary of the State the names of their commissioners for the World's Fair, and they are now coming in at the rate of three of four per day. There have been other appointments noticed in the newspaper of which no official information has been received at the department. The President has not yet taken up the appointment of eight commissioners at large, but he is inclined to name Warner Miller, of New York; Gen. Francis A. Walker, of Massachusetts; Thomas Dolan, of Philadelphia, and H. I. Kimball, of Georgia. All of these gentlemen are Republicans.

Two Reports to be Presented.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The House Committee on Pacific Railroads, by a vote of 7 to 4, ordered the joint Pacific Railroad Refunding Bill to be reported favorably. One member of the committee refused to commit himself on the bill. Mr. Dalzell of Pennsylvania, the chairman of the committee voted in the negative and will make the minority report. Mr. Miles of Connecticut will make the majority report.

Chinamen to Be Sent Back.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—As a result of correspondence between the Department of Justice and the Treasury Department it has been decided to send back to China the twenty-one Chinamen who were smuggled into this country from Mexico, and who are now in custody at San Diego. They will be transferred to San Francisco and placed on the first steamer sailing for China.

General Bailey's Chances.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Senator Quay is confident that a change will shortly take place in the office of Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, but is unable to indicate the exact time. He informed Gen. Bailey that his chances were good and told him to remain in Washington for a week or ten days and get acquainted with the Senators.

The Coming Event.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Walter Damrosch, of New York, who is to marry Miss Blaine to-morrow, is stopping at the Normandie. From the number of prominent society people who are arriving in Washington, the Damrosch-Blaine wedding promises to be the social event of the season.

Writ of Error in the Archer Case.

BALTIMORE, May 16.—The State's law officers are not satisfied with the ruling of Judge Stewart Tuesday in the Archer embezzlement case. In the criminal court Attorney-General Whyte sued out a writ of error in the case and the record was ordered removed to the Court of Appeals at once. It is understood that the case will be tried on the 17th of June. The grounds upon which the writ of error is asked are stated in a long petition filed to-day.

Children Smothered to Death.

BROOKLYN, May 16.—While a number of children were playing in an excavation for a cellar, at 7th avenue and 15th street, the embankment caved in upon them, and Arthur Taylor, aged 8 years, his brother John, aged 3, and Jersey Weaver, aged 3, were smothered to death before they could be extricated. Otto Bruner, aged 9, was taken out alive and will recover. The bank had been undermined by recent rains.

A Bell Boy Kills Another.

NEW YORK, May 16.—George W. Lytle, a bell boy in the Hotel Gladstone, at Broadway and 56th street, shot and killed another bell boy named Tura Mora while the help were at breakfast.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mrs. John Stiles and son of Clinton, Ill., are visiting the Misses Pangborn of West Fifth street.

Mr. John Taylor Johnston and daughters, and Mr. Herbert Johnston, are at their Summer home on West Front street.

Mr. Julian Scott of this city, is today attending the annual outing up the Hudson of the Artist's Aid Society, of New York.

A young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hill of Carlton avenue, died this morning from membraneous croup. The little one was three-and-a-half years of age.

Mr. Chas. Hawley left this city last Wednesday for Philadelphia, from which place he intends to proceed to Egg Harbor, and sail from there to his home in Hartford, Conn.

Mr. James H. Muir and family, drove over from Morristown, and were the guests of Mrs. M. F. VanArsdale at her home on Crescent avenue. Mrs. Van Arsdale is Mrs. Muir's mother.

Miss Lillian Fritts, daughter of Dr. J. T. Fritts, is recovering as steadily as possible from her recent accident while riding a "safety" bicycle. The machine slipped from under her, and her leg was broken by the sudden fall on it.

Mr. H. A. Lee, a member of the firm of Burger & Lee, manufacturers of tin cans, pails and boxes and decorators of tin plate, of Nos. 376 and 378 Greenwich street, New York city, together with his family, has taken up his residence at No. 5 West Seventh street, this city, for the Summer.

Mrs. George Taylor of South avenue, Netherwood, is expected to arrive in Europe with her three children in a day or two. They will be met by Mr. Taylor's brother at Liverpool. During his family's absence, Mr. Taylor—who can't be spared from the New York sugar market where he is one of its most active and shrewdest brokers—will live at Netherwood Hotel.

One of the best appointed turnouts that are seen on the roads in this vicinity, is the English trap with its high stepper and liveried groom, driven by Mr. Constantine Pantaleone Ralli of Roseneath, Netherwood. Mr. Ralli is manager for Brown Bros., whose banking houses are known throughout the civilized World. His engagement to Miss Anthony, daughter of James L. Anthony, of Netherwood, has already been announced.

THE MESSIAH OF HANDEL, AND THE TRIUMPH OF FITZHUGH.

Plainfield's Choral Society Render a Grand Work With Unprecedented Success—Those Who Subscribed the Fund for the Season's Concerts.

At no time, under whatever name it may have existed, has the Plainfield Choral Society achieved so great a success as last evening when the larger part of Handel's oratorio of the Messiah was given with the assistance of Mrs. Gerritt Smith, soprano, Miss Marion Weed, contralto, Mr. Charles H. Clark, tenor, Mr. J. C. Dempsey, bass, and an orchestra from the New York Philharmonic Society selected by Mr. Weiner.

A great deal of doubt had been expressed as to the ability of the society to produce so great a work, but that they had produced it to the satisfaction of the audience was shown by the round of applause that followed the first chorus. It may be that the success was partly due to this same expression of doubt, for each member seemed to feel that, so far as he or she was concerned, it should go. Never were rehearsals better attended, and never was there more thorough drill, owing to their indefatigable leader, Mr. E. J. Fitzhugh.

The attacks were excellent all the way through, with the exception, perhaps, of the chorus, "Glory to God," in which there was a slight hesitancy. "For unto us a child is born" received the most applause, and the sopranos deserve special mention for the sweetness and smoothness of their run. "His yoke is easy" is about the most difficult of all the choruses, and is seldom sung well. It was given without a break. "Lift up your heads," "Hallelujah," and "Worthy is the Lamb," with the "Amen" chorus, were grand.

The soloists all gave great satisfaction. Mrs. Smith was especially pleasing in "Rejoice greatly," and "I know that my Redeemer liveth." Miss Weed possesses a voice well suited to oratorio music, and her rendition of "He shall feed his flock" was exquisite, as was also "He was despised and neglected." As Mr. Rieger failed to make an appearance at the rehearsal, Wednesday morning, his place was supplied by Mr. Clark who is a favorite here, and who sang delightfully "Comfort ye," "Thy rebuke hath broken His heart," and "He that dwelleth." Mr. Dempsey possesses a very flexible voice which was well displayed in "Why do the nations rage" and "The trumpet shall sound," both of which solos were grand. The orchestra was exceedingly good. They accompanied well and the Pastoral Symphony was exquisite.

The society will have one more meeting before they separate for the Summer. A social gathering will be held next Monday evening in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church, at which Mr. Fitzhugh will be present. The officers will be elected for the coming year. There will be music and refreshments.

To Mr. E. J. Fitzhugh is due most of the credit of the society's success. He has been untiring in his labors—giving his time and effort without stint to the accomplishment of last night's most ambitious undertaking. He has contributed his services gratuitously to extra rehearsals, and has missed his evening train for New York very often because he has been so lost to all else by his personal interest and intense desire to achieve success. The result was an accomplishment that could not have been excelled, so far as the society was concerned, under any other living leader.

The board of managers and music committee of the season, deserve special mention again in view of last night's great success. They are:

President—Wm. Wallace Howland.
Vice President—Charles W. McCutchen.
Secretary—Nelson Runyon.
Treasurer—H. Otis Newman.

OPENING OF THE NETHERWOOD.

The New Decorations Greatly Admired—An Unequalled Staff in Charge.

The guests who sat down to the opening dinner at Hotel Netherwood, last evening, talked about nothing except the beautiful results that had been accomplished by the lots of money Mr. F. E. Miller, the owner, had expended during the Spring in wall decorations, new carpets, electric lights and other costly wars for the luxury and comfort of the season's two thousand guests.

The parlors' sidewalls and ceilings have been finished in a tone and style that blends perfectly with the carpets, hangings and upholstery; the halls are all handsomely decorated and carpeted anew; the dining room walls are likewise finished in remarkable taste, and its dome is lighted by electricity. The reading and other smaller rooms are also freshly colored. All the work of interior decoration has been done by Mr. W. S. Chase of this city.

In all departments of the Hotel, too, changes for the better have been made without regard to the additional cost. Of last year's staff but two remain—Isaiah, the bright little colored boy in buttons who is the first to meet the coming guest, and Miss Eaton who for three years past has presided over the linen room, a most important department, in so thorough a way that never a complaint has been made.

The chef is the renowned Charley Erkens. He is not excelled in this country, and the Netherwood was most fortunate in securing him from the grasp of the scores of hotels that have been after him. The head waiter is Edward Born, who will be recognized by many who have dined at high toned public occasions in New York. Mrs. Elting, the housekeeper, is another new comer who the guests will be thoroughly pleased with. Clerk Burpee presides at the desk and fills as near as is possible for any man to do, the place of the affable proprietor who is everywhere advancing his guests' gratification.

Ascension Day at Grace Church.

The Sir Knights of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, of this city, attended divine service at Grace church, last evening, upon invitation of the Rev. E. M. Rodman, the rector, and listened to an able address from the Rev. A. D. Jennings, of Sing Sing, N. Y. The church was well filled, the floral decorations fine, and the singing by the boy choir excellent. Mr. C. C. Howard presided at the organ and gave entire satisfaction and pleasure. A large delegation from Cœur de Leon Commandery, No. 8, of New Brunswick, arrived too late to attend service, but were socially entertained by the Sir Knights of Trinity Commandery at their asylum, afterward.

The altar of the church, pulpit and lectern, had been beautifully decorated with flowers.

The musical part of the service was rendered with heartiness. The preacher of the evening, the Rev. A. B. Jennings of Sing Sing, N. Y., the rector and the choir, marched down the side aisle singing the Hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers," and were joined at the door of the church by the Knights in full dress uniform.

The evening service was said by the rector and the sermon was preached by Mr. Jennings from the words: "In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost." This he said was the summary of the Christian faith, the belief in the triune God, and the Knights were the sworn defenders of this faith. As their ancestors had been instituted to rescue the Holy Sepulchre from the Turks and Saracens, so they were bound to emulate them in their zeal for the sacred cause of the Redeemer of the World. The sermon was listened to by the congregation with close attention and was greatly appreciated.

At the close of the service the Sir Knights and their guests marched to the City Hotel and partook of the bountiful repast which had been provided for them by the courteous proprietor, and enjoyed a social hour together around the festive board.

A Scared Editor.

A rugged farmer stalked into the sanctum with a big whip under his arm.

"Be you the editor?" he asked. "I am," was the half apprehensive reply.

"Here's two dollars—send me your paper for life," he said.

"You see," he went on, "our daughter was sick and liked to died; she drooped and grew weak and pale, had headaches, no appetite, back ached, feet and hands like ice, couldn't sleep, hacked with cough, and we thought she had consumption. No medicine helped her till we tried that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription mentioned in your paper, when she began to mend in no time and is now well and handsome as a rose—put me down as a life subscriber."

Now the editor is looking for another scare. The medicine has cured scores afflicted as was the farmer's daughter. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or price ($1.00) refunded.

Dunavan—Hutchison.

At the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. Hutchison, 133 East Front street, Trenton, yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, took place the marriage of Mr. Charles H. Dunavan, formerly of this city, to Miss Etta Hutchison, of Trenton, the Rev. Mr. White of that city, officiating. Only the most intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present from this city, New Brunswick and Trenton.

A reception followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Dunavan left on an extended wedding tour. Upon their return they will reside at New Brunswick.

—Primrose & West's modern minstrels will appear at Music Hall on Monday evening next.

PRIMROSE AND WEST AGAIN.

They Are Coming Next Monday Evening and Dockstader Accompanies Them.

THEIR FACES IN WHITE.

Primrose and West's famous minstrel company will appear at Music Hall, on Monday evening next, giving one of their always pleasing performances.

This company has enjoyed a most successful season since its last appearance here, and comes at this time with many new and brighter acts. The engagement of Lew Dockstader, formerly the proprietor of Dockstader's minstrels New York city, makes a valuable addition to the company.

The new crystal First Part with its gorgeous costumes and stage settings is a revelation in modern minstrelsy. Swift and Chase the funny musical comedians are another new feature of the show. New ballads by good vocalists and plenty of fun by thorough comedians is promised.

Barney Fagan's productions are greater than ever. Barber the Bicycle Wonder, and the Original Big Four in their new act are among the special features. The "Cremation Act" is mystifying as well as pleasing, being one of the best sketches of its kind seen in years. Reserved seats are now on sale.

Celebrating Their Second Anniversary.

The Second Anniversary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of Warren Union Mission, was held in the chapel last evening, and a good sized audience was present to show their appreciation of the society's endeavors and to listen to a well arranged programme, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, Scripture reading and addresses. The service opened with a hymn "Onward Christian Soldier," followed by a Scripture lesson by Mr. E. C. Pease, and prayer by Mr. Moon. After another hymn was sung, the reports of the several committees were read, all of which were very encouraging.

The Society was organized on Tuesday, May 1, 1888, with a membership of 44. Since then the membership has steadily increased, and today the Society is one of the largest in the State. The Social Committee reported that during the year seven sociables had been held, and the Treasurer reported the Society free from debt, with a balance of $12.59 in the treasury.

Another hymn, "Throw Out the Life Line," was sung, and Mr. James Adams of New York, followed with an address. He received the closest attention of the audience during the whole of his excellent remarks, which were convincing and logical.

Mr. M. M. Dunham, President of the Society, made some appropriate remarks in regard to the Mission and the Endeavor Society. He was followed by Mr. Pease, the present able and active Superintendent of the Mission Sunday school, in a few well chosen and earnest words, showing his appreciation of the responsible position he holds in the Mission, and expressing himself as with heart and hand in the good work which the Mission has accomplished. Mr. Moon also made an appropriate address. The closing prayer was offered by Mr. James Adams.

On the whole the entertainment was a pronounced success, and the Society is to be congratulated upon its prosperity and success in the good work in which it is engaged.

The platform was beautifully decorated with flowers, the same being arranged by the members of the Flower Committee.

The present officers are: President, M. Marvin Dunham; Vice President, John Allen; Secretary, Miss Maggie Codington; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Lillie Bird; Treasurer, Miss Lena Squier. Executive Committee—E. C. Pease, John Allen, Lillie Bird, Mrs. M. M. Dunham, Mamie Pizie, Lena Squier, M. M. Dunham, Maggie Codington, Emma Teller.

Burned by Electricity.

Mr. "Winnie" Philpitt, one of the engineers at the electric light station, was painfully injured while at work there last evening. He was in the act of transferring the "load" from one engine to another, when the blue flame shot out of the switch, burning his left arm and hand. The accident is said to have resulted from carelessness.

To the Friends of the G. A. R.

The Committee of Arrangements having in charge the matter of properly observing Memorial Day, are in need of money, and all friends of the soldiers and sailors who wish to respond may send their contributions to the Secretary, Mr. E. T. Dunn, 24 West Fourth street, who will promptly acknowledge the same.

A Hay Stack Burned.

A hay stack owned by Mr. Halsey Compton of West Front street, was set on fire and burned, between seven and eight o'clock last evening. The stack contained about one and one-half tons of hay.

THE PLAINFIELD CASINO.

Something That Those Who Read THE PRESS, Know All About.

Plainfield is to have a Casino on the plan of that at Newport. Several of the city's wealthiest men have already subscribed and a building site has been purchased. The subscribers will incorporate themselves into a select club in a few days. The Casino will contain all sorts of club accommodations and a private theatre.

The above from these columns of last Saturday, was republished in the Newark Journal. Thereupon a Plainfield paper displays its ignorance to the public, by copying it and asking, "Do you know anything about it?" Of course the Plainfield people know about it, because those who know anything at all, read THE PRESS.

The location purchased is at the corner of West Seventh street and Arlington avenue, formerly the Arnold estate. Two or three of the wealthiest and most progressive of the younger men of the city, hold the title. $6,200 was paid for the corner property, and $1,800 for a lot adjoining on Arlington avenue, which makes the property 25 feet deeper from Seventh street.

The club house to be erected will cost about $20,000. It will be provided with every convenience, accommodation, and luxury that might be desired. The assembly balls, which are now an established social event in this city, will be given in the Plainfield Casino's ball room. The papers on art, literature, etiquette and other ethics of cultured society, will be read before the Monday afternoon Club in the Casino's auditorium. The swell suppers of the future will be served from the Casino's cuisine; and in fact every public event among the high-breds of the city will achieve its success in the proposed building.

The members of the club, bachelors and benedicts, will find there all they may desire for the pleasure and recreation of themselves or the entertainment of their guests. Billiards and pool parlors, bowling alleys, card rooms, etc., will be provided. For the lady guests there will be tennis in Summer and badminton in Winter, besides regular reception evenings and periodical teas and dances.

Somerville's New Depot.

The new railroad station at Somerville is now an assured fact. Yesterday morning General Superintendent Olhausen, Division Superintendent Peddle, T. H. Grant, Architect Bodine of Asbury Park, and Contractor T. H. Prior of Trenton, went to that place and began at once to locate and stake out the grounds for the new building.

The new station will be of sandstone, procured from the quarries at Stockton, N. J. The dimensions are 90 by 32 feet. At the East end will be a circular tower eleven feet in diameter, which will contain the ticket and telegraph offices. The main waiting room will be 22x32 feet, with ceiling 18 feet in height; adjoining this are the women's waiting room and the smoking room, the former 15x16 and the latter 12x15. These rooms will have marble mantels and toilet rooms, and the interior will be finished in yellow pine. At the West end will be the baggage room, and port-cocheres will be placed at each end of the building. A large platform nearly encircles the building.

This Morning's Fire.

About ten o'clock this morning, fire was discovered in the barn owned by Mr. Dennis McBride, located on West Fourth street, near Hope chapel. The building was of frame and cost $200. The fire originated in some unaccountable manner, and when first discovered the interior of the building was all in a blaze. The firemen responded promptly to the alarm, but on account of the distance from the engine houses, and the rapid progress made by the flames, the building was doomed before any water was thrown on it.

The barn was totally destroyed, together with a closed carriage, a lot of harness, robes, hay, grain, etc., involving a loss of about $550. The building was insured in the German American company for $250, but there was no insurance on the contents.

Reckless Shooting.

While some of Mr. Abram L. Cadmus' men were at work unloading grain from a car in the yard at the Commercial Mills on South Second street, Wednesday afternoon, a bullet came whizzing through the car, narrowly escaping striking one of the men. The bullet is thought to have come from a revolver in the hand of some reckless shooter on the opposite side of the track.

A Great Game To-morrow.

The Crescents will have to play ball to-morrow to win. The Lee's team include such players as Bishop, last season's first baseman on the Somervilles, and their captain is Collins, brother to the Brooklyn fielder. The Crescents have not lost a game since the team was fully completed for the season, and they don't propose to lose to-morrow.

BURNED OR MURDERED.

A Man and Wife Arrested for the Death of Their Child.

READING, Pa., May 16.—A week ago Nelson Hatch's house at Douglassville was burned while Hatch and his wife were absent, they having locked up their dwelling after putting their son James to bed. It was given out that the child had been burned to death and the body was buried the next day.

The neighbors allege that there was undue haste in the interment of the body, and the couple have been arrested.

Hatch and his wife say that when they came home the house was on fire, that the door had been broken open and that when they carried the boy out he was dead, and the only mark on his body was a small abrasion on his mouth.

It is thought that a crime has been committed. The coroner is investigating. There is great excitement in the neighborhood.

AN UNPROVOKED CRIME.

A New York Lawyer Shot Down in His Office by a Young Spendthrift.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Alphonse J. Stephanie, the young man who walked into the office of Lawyer Clinton G. Reynolds at No. 61 Wall street shortly after noon and shot Mr. Reynolds in the left side with a revolver, is believed to be deranged.

The following is the ante-mortem statement made by Mr. Reynolds, who is considered by the hospital surgeons to be in a dying condition: "The shooting occurred in my office. Young Alphonse Stephanie shot me. I was pleading with him to be dutiful to his mother and to be kind and devoted to her, with tears in my eyes. I then told him that I had advised her to secure the assistance and protection of the courts. I had commenced an action against him and had obtained an injunction against him on the safe deposit vaults. When he heard this he rose and drew a revolver from his pocket and shot me. He said nothing. He shot me in the left side. There was nobody in my private office at the time."

Mr. Reynolds is 58 years old and lives at Orange, N. J.

Rheumatism is caused by an acid in the blood; therefore, external treatment affords no permanent relief. To eliminate the poison and make a thorough cure of the disease, nothing else is so efficient as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Give it a trial. Price $1. Worth $5 a bottle.

Catarrh

Is a blood disease. Until the poison is expelled from the system, there can be no cure for this loathsome and dangerous malady. Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"I was troubled with catarrh for over two years. I tried various remedies, and was treated by a number of physicians, but received no benefit until I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A few bottles of this medicine cured me of this troublesome complaint and completely restored my health."—Jesse M. Boggs, Holman's Mills, N. C.

"When Ayer's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."—Charles H. Maloney, 113 River st., Lowell, Mass.

A RISING IN BRAZIL

Loyal Troops Suppress a Revolutionary Disturbance.

A NUMBER OF PERSONS WOUNDED

Popular Discontent Over the New Banking Laws the Cause of the Outbreak.

Parnellites Tell About the Joke on the Conservatives—Miss Clara Ward's Marriage to Prince Chimay—Kemp Wins the Race for the Championship—The Czar's Daughter to be Married.

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 16.—A rising of the people against the Government took place at Porto Alegre, in the Province of Rio Grande du Sul. A portion of the troops fraternized with the people.

The outbreak was suppressed by the police and the troops who remained loyal. During the fighting a number of persons were wounded. The Governor of the Province has resigned. The primary cause of the disorders is alleged to have been popular discontent over the new banking laws instituted by Dr. Barboza, the Minister of Finance.

A JOKE ON THE TORIES.

How Parnellites Prevented the Summoning of Conservative Members.

DUBLIN, May 16. — The Freeman's Journal chuckles over the trick that was played upon the Conservatives while a division was impending in the House of Commons on Mr. Russell's motion to adjourn the debate on the Irish Agricultural Laborers' bill.

It appears that when the Conservative whips went to the telephone to summon a long list of members from the clubs for a hurried division they found the instruments in possession of Parnellite members, who held conversations over the wires with fictitious friends until the division bell rang, when of course it was too late for the whips to secure the aid of missing members. The stratagem of the Parnellites defeating the Government on the motion to adjourn, Mr. Balfour allowed the bill to go to second reading without a division.

On Trial for Intimidating Voters.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 16.—Large crowds are present at every session of the trial of Superintendent of Police Willard of Troy for intimidating voters at the last election. A man named Boughton swore that officers had pulled him out of the line. Policeman Ormsby was among these officers. The officers brought men there to vote who were not residents of the ward. In the witness' testimony it was brought out that the second ward of Troy under discussion in this case, is generally Republican by 200 or 300 majority.

THE GREAT HANDICAP.

Castaway II., a Despised Outsider Wins the Big Purse.

NEW YORK, May 16.—After months of speculation, suspense and castle building, the Brooklyn Handicap was won by a despised outsider in a manner that must have made the backers of the winter and post favorites heartily ashamed of themselves.

Castaway II., a speedy but inconsistent performer, got into the handicap with a light impost. He was carefully trained and his true form skilfully concealed from the public But finding a track to his liking he fairly romped away with the first big race of the season with odds of 20 to 1 against him.

Fifteen thousand or more people journeyed in the rain to Gravesend hopeful of whitnessing a great horse race. The majority backed their tips and opinions with their coin, and when it was all over came back to the city surprised, impoverished and disgruntled.

Sullivan to Fight McAuliffe.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Billy Madden, the manager of Joe McAuliffe, the big champion of the Pacific slope, had a talk with John L. Sullivan and the world's champion agreed to fight McAuliffe with small gloves to a finish at Virginia City, in Montana, in two months from now, for at least $5,000 a side, or for a bigger purse, which, it is understood, an athletic club of that place is willing to hang up for a battle between the two big fellows. Sullivan will know in a few days how things stand down in Mississippi, and he will then meet Madden and McAuliffe and sign articles.

Reddy Gallagher Too Ill to Fight.

NEW YORK, May 16.—A dispatch just received from San Francisco says the fight which was to have occurred at the rooms of the California Club between "Reddy" Gallagher and Billy McCarthy has been declared off because of Gallagher's illness. Bob Fitz Simmons, a new arrival from New Zealand, will be substituted for Gallagher and will fight McCarthy on May 29 for a purse of $1,250.

Severe Rain Storm.

UTICA, N. Y., May 16.—At North Brookfield a portion of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad track was washed away by the severe rain storm which has prevailed over this section for 24 hours. A coal train was passing at the time and several cars were wrecked, though no one was injured. Passenger traffic was delayed several hours on account of the washout.

Granite Cutters Reject the Offer.

WESTERLY, R. I., May 16.—On Wednesday the granite employers here met the Union Committee at which time they informed the cutters that they were willing to pay 29½ cents per hour for nine hours' work. At a meeting of the Union this proposition was voted down unanimously, the men holding firmly to their demand for 30 cents per hour.

New Trial for a Murderer.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 16.—Jacob Scheele, the New Canaan murderer, will be tried again next Tuesday. The State's Attorney has decided not to contest the case any further in the Supreme Court, and he expresses himself as being quite confident of convicting Scheele of the murder of Constable Dunker in New Canaan last winter.

Reformed Episcopal Church Council.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—In the annual council of the New York and Philadelphia Synod of the Reformed Episcopal Church, the action of the council in refusing to contribute to the Church Extension Fund was reconsidered and expunged from the record. Last year's resolution demanding the destruction of the liquor traffic was readopted. Adjourned sine die.

Senator Stanford's Brother Dead

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Josiah Stanford, brother of Senator Leland Stanford, died at Oakland last night of heart disease. He was born at Watervliet, N. Y., in 1817, and came to California in 1849. He amassed a fortune here in real estate and mercantile transactions. He had been ill for some time.

Release from the "Solitary."

JOLIET, Ill., May 16.—The Cronin prisoners, Burke and O'Sullivan, were released from punishment last night. They have been confined in the "solitary" just a week on the usual diet of bread and water. They were somewhat bleached when turned out, and looked as if they would enjoy a square meal of straight prison diet without any smuggled side dishes.

A QUESTION.

Do you think it wrong to give presents?
I don't.
Cash ought to be encouraged.
Think of the time it takes to charge.
I believe on a cash basis.
On that basis I am working.
No one can disagree with me.
All would be better off.
Ready money is what tells.
You had better try it, if you have'nt.

BLAINE---DAMROSCH

Brilliant Wedding at the National Capital To-Day.

EVERY NATION REPRESENTED.

The President and Members of the Cabinet Present.

The Ceremony Performed by Dr. Douglas—The Bride Attired in a Plain Robe of White Silk—Royal Presents—The Young Couple Leave for Baltimore After the Ceremony.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The marriage of Miss Margaret Isabella Blaine, daughter of the Secretary of State, and Mr. Walter Damrosch, of New York, took place to-day at 10 o'clock in the large drawing room on the second floor of the Blaine mansion. The room was furnished in olive tints. A bower was erected with palms and plants where the bride and groom stood during the ceremony. All the rooms were decked with spring blossoms.

When the bridal party entered, Secretary Blaine escorted his daughter and the groom had the support of his best man, Mr. J. Frank Roosevelt, of New York. There were no bridesmaids, although Miss Blaine in her dainty white gown, Miss Macomb, daughter of the late General Macomb and the bride's most intimate friend, with Miss Rachel Sherman, daughter of General Sherman, formed that effective group of young girls without which no wedding would look complete.

MISS MARGARET BLAINE.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Douglass, rector of St. John's Protestant Episcopal Church, which the bride has lately joined. Secretary and Mrs. Blaine attend the Protestant Church of the Covenant, and Dr. Hamlin, their pastor was also present.

The bride was attired in a plain robe of white silk, one of the costliest of Worth's creations, and designed to reveal the graceful figure of Miss Blaine.

Prominent Guests.

There were 500 persons at the ceremony. They included President Harrison and family, the members of the Cabinet and Diplomatic Corps, the Maine Congressional Delegation and intimate friends of the Blaine family, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew, ex-Senator and Mrs. Platt, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. A. Carnegie, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Medill, Miss Josephine Medill and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson, of Chicago

MR. WALTER DAMROSCH.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Damrosch went to Baltimore to Emmons Blaine's house, which has been put at their disposal, and where they will remain two or three days, going to New York early in the week, whence they will sail for Europe May 23.

The Presents.

Kind fortune showered golden and silver treasures at the bride's feet. She has more silver and gold table furniture than she can ever possibly use. Some of the more elegant presents are duplicated over and over again and it is not an exaggeration to say that Mr. and Mrs. Damrosch start in their married life with a market basket of spoons of every size and shape.

Secretary Blaine's present was a handsome residence, furnished, on Madison avenue, New York.

Their First Meeting.

Miss Blaine and Mr. Damrosch did not have their first meeting on the famous Carnegie coaching trip as has been heretofore reported. They met almost a year before that at a dinner given by Mr. Carnegie at Kilgarston in Scotland, where he had leased the magnificent estate for that season. The seed of acquaintance which was sowed at that time burst into fructification under the morning sun of Mr. Carnegie's watchfulness during the coaching trip through Scotland in the next year, for it was by his arrangement that these young people were seated side by side throughout the trip from London to Cluny castle. At this grand old castle [illegible] and in walks across heath-covered moors the lovers slyly whispered the sweet old story of the young heart's desire.

It would be fulsome flattery to say Miss Blaine is a beautiful young woman, but it may with justice be said that her face bears those strong characteristics, which, as in the case of both her father and her mother, make a good intellect. The portrait accompanying this article is made from a photograph taken some time ago, and shows Miss Blaine in a fancy costume worn at a young people's party. Never since that time has anybody been able to prevail upon her to sit for a portrait. In this picture she looks very much as her younger sister looks at the present time.

RESCUED FROM GYPSIES.

A Stolen New Jersey Child Surrendered After a Fight.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., May 17.—A band of strolling gypsies kidnapped Joseph Mitchell, the five-year-old son of Henry Mitchell of this place.

John Andrews, a charcoal peddler, living in the Pequannock Valley, near Wagner's Station, discovered the child's whereabouts, and the child's father, in company with his neighbors, repaired to the gypsy camp and engaged in a battle with the gypsies, who were finally compelled to surrender up the child.

The villagers then drove the gypsies out of the valley.

WAR IN THE CAMP.

The Order of Railroad Conductors Quarrel Over the Anti-Strike Clause.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 17.—An attempt was made at the session of the Grand Division of the Order of Railroad Conductors to reconsider the vote by which the convention on Wednesday decided to elimininate the anti-strike clause from the constitution.

The attempt was unsuccessful, the motion to reconsider being overwhelmingly rejected. This action has caused "war in the camp" of the Grand Division. Upon the announcement of the result of the vote, S. B. Chittenden, a permanent member of the Grand Division, immediately resigned and withdrew from the convention. The conservative element in the convention feels very much aggrieved and it is not unlikely that a split will occur.

The fight will be bitter this afternoon when the grand officers are to be elected. Their selection is, under the present circumstances, significant and will have considerable influence in the future policy of the organization on the strike question and others almost equally important.

There are so many aspirants for the chair that it is very probable that a dark horse will be run in at the critical moment. F. E. Clark of Utah seems to be in the lead, with C. H. Wilkins of Illinois a good second, followed closely by Martin Clancy of Ohio.

Powderly Indicted.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., May 17.—A true bill was found by the Grand Jury in the case of Edward Callahan against General Master Workman Powderly, John P. Byrne and Peter Wise, for alleged conspiracy in defeating Callaghan for the Senatorial nominations in 1888 and ruining his business. Powderly has telegraphed that he will be here on Monday. The defendants have had their witnesses supœned.

A Big Majority for Revision.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 17.—In the General Presbyterian Assembly the clerk reported 132 presbyteries voting for revision, 66 against, 7 non-committal, 6 not heard from. The report was referred to a special committee, including Francis L. Patton, Princeton; Maurice D. Edwards, St. Paul; Henry M. McCracken, New York ministers; and elders Robert P. Shanklin, Indiana; James D. Thornton, San Francisco.

Horsewhipped His Brother-in-Law.

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 17.—James C. Eddy, mill treasurer, horsewhipped his brother-in-law, P. J. Gage, a prominent cotton broker, on the street last night. The men have been at odds for a long time, the trouble growing out of allegations by Eddy that his sister was badly treated by her husband. The affair causes a sensation owing to the prominence of the parties

The Shad Season About Ended.

RONDOUT, N. Y., May 17.—Fishermen along the upper Hudson are of the opinion that the shad season has about ended. Notwithstanding that it was expected that it would be a long and profitable one, it has been the reverse. The daily catches have been light during the past week and prices were low. The largest one caught this season was off Glasgow, and weighed nine pounds.

Hibernian Officers.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 17.—The Hibernian Convention adjourned to meet at New Orleans in 1892. Officers were elected as follows: National Delegate, M. F. Wilhere, of Philadelphia; National Secretary, M. D. Slatterly, of Albany; National Treasurer, Thomas J. Dundon, of Columbus, Ohio.

Fell Overboard and Drowned.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 17.—Walter D. Wilson, 36 years old, a former postal clerk and well-known in the New England railway mail service, was drowned by falling from a skiff off Riverside. He was alone at the time and tried to swim ashore but sank instantly.

The Weir Challenges Billy Murphy.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Ike Weir, the "Belfast Spider," has issued a challenge to meet Billy Murphy for $2,500 a side and the 120 pound championship of the world. Weir states that if the California Athletic Club will put up a purse of $2,000 he will go to San Francisco to meet Murphy.

NINETEEN VICTIMS

Their Mangled Bodies Taken from the Ashley Mine.

THE SCENE WAS HEARTRENDING

Terrible Sights Witnessed by the Men Who Found the Bodies.

Boss Allen's Lamp Caused the Explosion. Inspector Williams' Bold Attempt at Rescue—The Bodies Conveyed to the Morgue and Prepared for Burial—Intense Excitement Over the Calamity.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 17.—The terrible disaster at the Jersey colliery at Ashley is fully as awful as the first reports stated.

The searchers worked incessantly to rescue the imprisoned miners, and just at twilight the men broke through the debris on the slope and were confronted by a steep fall. A long rope was passed into the slope and a sturdy miner, Peter Murphy, was lowered into the chamber. Anothy Frane was the first rescued. Before reaching the outside Frane feebly called for a priest, and in the darkness of the slope, surrounded by the flickering light of the miners' lamps, Father Hogan administered the last sacrament.

Fire Boss Allen Taken Out.

About an hour or more after Frane was rescued a wild shout came from the men in the opening and the crowd pressed eagerly forward. The limp form of John Allen, fire boss, was borne out. He was badly burned and unconscious, and died soon afterwards. Soon after Robert Roberts was found at the foot of the plane badly burned.

Cause of the Explosion.

It is now said that Fire Boss Allen caused the explosion. A slight cave had stopped the air current. Allen appeared with a naked light. The miners who were cleaning the debris expostulated in vain. Soon after a violent explosion occurred. Allen, Frane and Roberts had started out and called the others to follow. The three got over five hundred feet away before the explosion came. They lay down flat on their faces to escape after damp. The cave-in occurred in front, blocked the way, and their companions were separated from them by another fall. This accounts for the finding of these three first.

A Chamber of Horrors.

Inspector Williams, accompanied by A. Bednigo Rees, of Nanticoke, now determined to make a bold attempt to penetrate the workings and rescue the other men. Gas abounded despite the strong air current drawing through the gangway, and their safety lamps glared and flickered in a manner telling of fearful danger. They persisted in their attempts, however, and followed the gangway 300 feet. Waiting but a moment for the air to clear they advanced down a steep incline of nearly 60 degrees 300 feet further, when the gas became so plentiful that they again paused. Finally, advancing 500 feet through the main gangway they came to a large chamber, which proved a veritable chamber of horrors. By the faint glow of their safety lamps the two men discovered on every side of them corpses, blackened, burned and mangled. The mine inspector, stooping with his lamp, examined and counted the bodies, 19 in all.

A Wail of Sorrow.

When the 19 charred and mangled bodies were brought up a melancholy wail of sorrow went up. Men, hardy miners, with tears trickling down their honest faces, tried to soothe the hysterical women who had been made widows by the horror, and the little children who had been rendered fatherless, but it was a sorrowful task. The bodies were conveyed in ambulances to undertaking rooms and prepared for burial.

The excitement was intense, and the streets in the vicinity of the morgue were completely blocked with people, many of whom came from other towns.

The scenes have never been equalled in the pitiful spectacles presented since the great Avondale disaster many years ago, when over 100 miners were burned to death. A guard of special policemen was found necessary to keep the pressing crowd away from the morgue.

A Terrible Sight.

Here lay a man with his head missing; there a boy stripped of every shred of clothing and covered with wounds; another lay near by with one arm and one foot blown off. Dead bodies of mules lay crushed to a jelly by mine cars, which were scattered about in splinters. Pausing but long enough to ascertain the number of the dead, the two men hurried back to the open air and summoned help. Stretchers and sheets were brought, ropes provided and a rude sled built to draw the corpses up the steep incline. Soon the work of removing the dead bodies was under way, and terrible scenes were witnessed as they were brought to the surface.

Now that so many of the bodies have been reached and taken out it is learned that no less than 31 men and boys lost their lives in this awful disaster and it is possible that one or two others, Hollanders or Hungarians, who have not yet been missed.

Marvelous Escape from Death.

NEW YORK, May 17.—An elevator, at 624 Broadway, containing ten young women employed by Zelmer & Feldstein, feather and flower makers, fell six stories, the accident being caused by the breaking of the cable. One of the girls fainted from fright during the fall, and all were badly frightened and suffered from shock, but no one was much hurt otherwise. Their escape from death or serious injury is considered marvelous.

The Great Olympian Show.

Lorenzo's Great Western Olympian Show, arrived in town from Rahway, yesterday, and performed last evening on the lot at the corner of Fourth street and Plainfield avenue. The performance throughout was good and the attendance was large. The company closes its engagement here this evening.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The Rev. W. E. Honeyman of North Plainfield, is in attendance at the Presbyterian Assembly, now in session at Saratoga.

Mrs. D. C. Bird and two daughters, of West Second street, returned home yesterday from a week's visit to relatives in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The opening exercises in the new school building, at Scotch Plains, will be held on Saturday, May 24, at three o'clock P. M. The trustees of the district are: David P. Hall, D. C., T. J. Nicholl, F. W. Westcott.

Word reaches Plainfield today of the death of Mrs. I. S. Sleight, formerly living at 65 East Front street, this city, which is the home of her sister, Mrs. Wm. C. Butler. Mrs. Sleight was also a sister of John T. Lee. She was a widow.

Mr. Charles Wilkisson, and family, who were former residents of Union avenue but more recently of New York, will return to Plainfield. Mr. Wilkisson has leased the "House of Seven Gables," at West Seventh street and Madison avenue, adjoining the Congregational church.

Mr. Richard Merritt, ex-City Clerk, who has been suffering with melancholia for some time past, left Plainfield last evening for Corning, N. Y., where at its sanitarium he will be under the treatment of specialists. A large circle of friends will join in the hope of his thorough recovery of good health.

Following is a list of the members of Cœur de Leon Commandery, Knights Templar of New Brunswick, who attended the Ascension Day service in Grace church, this city, on Thursday evening: Sir Knights Jerome B. Borden, Josiah Tice, O. O. Stillman, C. H. Cramer, John S. Stewart and Paul Diver.

Shortly after nine o'clock this morning, Mr. Peter Rickert, one of the oldest residents, was stricken with apoplexy at the corner of Front and Somerset streets. He was taken to his home in a carriage, and Drs Lowrie and Long were summoned, but the patient died a few hours afterwards without recovering consciousness.

There is no good news today concerning the condition of Mrs. Enoch S. Farson, of Philadelphia, who is lying dangerously ill. She is the eldest daughter of Gen'l and Mrs. Negeley of West Seventh street, and was married at her home there only seven months ago. The sympathy of a large number of friends is aroused by the sad circumstances.

On the German steamer "Werra," today, Mr. Jacob Kirkner sailed for Bremen. He goes to bring home his wife and daughters who have been detained so long abroad by the serious illness of Miss Carrie Kirkner. An effort will be made to bring the latter home at once. Mr. Kirkner has taken with him all the latest inventions in the way of reclining chairs and cots for the transportation of invalids.

Upon the retirement of Mr. Andrew E. Kenney as representative of the United States Express company in this city, to accept a position as assistant station agent, he received a letter from the General Manager of the Express company at New York, of which the following is an extract: "Dear Sir:—Your resignation to take effect on May 15, is received and accepted with regret. We trust that in your new field you will be not only prosperous but very happy."

The statement that "mistakes happen in the best regulated families," proves that the society reporter of THE PRESS must belong to one of those B. R. F's. He was led into a mistake in these columns yesterday, by the error of others. It was herein stated that "Mr. Constantine P. Ralli's engagement to Miss Anthony, of Netherwood, has already been announced." But such announcement is a mistake of much importance to everybody concerned. Miss Marion Haines, eldest daughter of Samuel A. Haines, Esq., of Netherwood, is the young lady Mr. Ralli is so fortunate as to have won.

Mr. Gershom Frazee who has all his life been a hard worker for the Republican party, but whom they always pass by when the rewards are distributed, is in a fair way to be paid in some degree at last. A petition to the Collector of the Port, at New York, has been signed by all the Republican Senators of the State and all the Republican Assemblymen, asking that Mr. Frazee be appointed to some office in the gift of the Collector. Mr. Frazee's petition is endorsed by Gen. Sewell, Wm. Walter Phelps, John Kean, Jr., George A. Halsey, Amos Clark, John W. Murray, E. R. Pope, W. H. Milliken, Mayor Male, Corporation Counsel Marsh, and a hundred others. Surely, if he had been so good a Democrat as he is a Republican, he would have had an office five years ago.

After years of much suffering Mrs. Eleanor Mathews, relict of Oliver B. Mathews of this city, died today at her home on First place. She was a daughter of the late James F. and Jane A. Kenny; and leaves behind sadly stricken with their great loss, a daughter, Eleanor; a son, Frank, and a devoted sister, Sarah. Mr. Mathews at the time of his death was a trustee of the Crescent Avenue church, and universally esteemed throughout the community. His funeral was attended by a large delegation of New York merchants who had known him in his business life. Mrs. Mathews was one of God's noblewomen. She was a model of submission to God's will, in patient acceptance of her trials and affliction, and the entire absence of even a murmur of complaint when suffering most intense pain. The funeral services will be held in the Crescent Avenue church, Monday afternoon at three o'clock.

THE UNION COUNTY COUNTRY CLUB.

A List of the Charter Members of the Corporation That Will Build the Plainfield Casino.

As the certificate of incorporation of the club of Plainfield men who are to build the Casino at the corner of West Seventh street and Arlington avenue, was not filed in the County Clerk's office until yesterday, THE PRESS has not been at liberty before to publish the names of the charter members and officers. All other information regarding the scheme has been given in these columns exclusively.

The organization will be known as, "The Union County Country Club." Its officers are:

Entertainment by the Red Men.

Miantonomo Tribe, No. 118, Independent Order of Red Men, held its first entertainment in Reform Hall, last evening, and it was largely attended, the building being crowded to its utmost capacity. Mr. Edward E. Wolverton presided and announced the numbers from the printed programme. The entertainment opened with an overture by the orchestra, followed by an address on "The good of the order," by Walter S. Campbell, P. S., of Watchung Tribe, No. 210 of Newark. Prof. Conde then rendered a violin solo, "Fifth air Varie." A song and chorus, "Down on the Farm," by Mr. J. C. Martin and the Eclipse quartette, was well rendered. Mr. J. C. Rand of New York also favored the audience with some banjo and burnt cork selections, and Mr. John H. Carney gave some humorous recitations in a highly commendable manner. A song and chorus, "Papa's Coming Bye and Bye," by Mr. C. H. Farlee and the quartette, was well received.

The improved Order of Red Men is founded upon the customs, traditions and history of the aborigines of this continent. Its origin is, as the name clearly indicates, purely American, dating its history to the early days of the Revolution. It is the oldest protective and benevolent society of American birth and growth. It is secret, but only in the sense that secrecy is proper in those matters which concern the private interests of a common family.

Miantonomo Tribe pays $100 on death of a member, and $50 upon death of wife of member, and $5 per week during sickness of member.

The entertainment last evening was a grand success, and the committee having the matter in charge are deserving of credit for the able and efficient manner in which the affair was conducted.

Stocking Echo Lake.

Yesterday Mr. E. P. Thorn and Fish Warden W. L. Force received a consignment of 10,000 land-locked salmon trout fry and deposited them in Echo Lake, between Westfield and Springfield, Union county. The fry was obtained from Mr. Fred Mather, in charge of the United States fish hatchery, established at Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, at the solicitation of Mr. Thorn, who has great faith that the fish will thrive in the waters in which they were deposited yesterday. It will take at least four years before any returns may be expected from the fry, which were about an inch in length. The cans containing them were accompanied by an employee of the Government, Mr. Foster VanArsdale, a genial gentleman and a thorough disciple of Izak Walton who expressed his opinion that the fish would do well in the waters of Echo Lake.

It is a source of pleasure and gratification to lovers of fishing to meet such men as Mr. VanArsdale on errands like the one in question, or at any time. The fish were received at Westfield, and through the courtesy of Mr. Wm. Grogan, of hotel fame in that village, conveyed to the lake, and were then dumped in the water, one can by Mr. Thorn and one by Mr. Force. May the little fish prosper is the wish of many.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

There will be a special meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held on Wednesday, May 21, at 2:30, at which it is earnestly requested that every individual member of the Union will be present, as the business to come up is of special importance.

The meetings of the W. C. T. U. will be held as usual at 73 West Front street Saturday evening, at 7:30; Sunday morning, at 9:15; Sunday afternoon, at 4, and Tuesday afternoon, at 3.

A Good News Meeting.

Mr. Charles F. Powlison, who is well and favorably known to the young men of this city, will conduct the Young Mens Gospel and praise service at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-morrow at 4:15 P. M. There will be good singing with organ, violin and cornet accompaniment. Be sure to be present.

—Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., met in regular session, last evening, and worked the second degree on one member.

—The Grand Jurors for the present term of court, have decided to accept the two dollars a day allowed them by the Board of Freeholders, and to furnish their own dinners.

A Chance for Music Hall.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—In the current nnmber of the New York Dramatic News, I find an advertisement to which I trust you will permit me to direct the attention of the Music Hall Association, who ought to take the Dramatic News themselves. The advertisement reads:

"FOR SALE.
530 Plush Folding Iron Chairs, and
200 Leather Folding Iron Chairs,
Apply to H. C. MINER,
Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York."

Here is a chance to make a beginning Everyone knows that the Fifth Avenue Theatreis handsomely furnished and it seems to me that if the orchestra and two rows, perhaps, of the dress circle in Music Hall were supplied with comfortable chairs, and Propertyman Mattox were to hang a few more canton-flannel toboggan slides from the ceiling, we could get through another season in our present play-house. I am not talking on a commission—I don't know Mr. Miner and I don't think he knows me. This is merely a suggestion. As Towneman Thatcher puts it "when one goes to the theatre, he wants to hear what the actors have to say." I believe I could hear better in comfortable seats.

CRITIQUE.

Reform Club.

The mid-week meetings of the Reform Club, under the newly established order of exercises are rapidly growing in popular favor. That of last Thursday evening was of marked interest. After prayer by Captain Ostrom, a beautiful poem reading by Mrs. Opdyke, and a well delivered recitation by Master Voehl, the appointed question for the evening, "Which exerts the greatest influence for good, pledge signing or the prohibition of the liquor traffic," was taken up and drew forth animated remarks from Messrs Opdyke, Burnett, Angleman, Fountain, Markley, Lanphear, and others. These meetings are open for free discussion, and the welcome admission of all comers, irrespective of sectarianism or partisanship.

Primrose & West's Famous Minstrels.

Primrose & West and their company of merry minstrels, will appear at Music Hall on Monday evening next. This company opened its present season in this State, and will appear in the same towns this week which will be its last one before the organization for 1890-91.

The performance has undergone many changes since its last appearance here, the most notable one being the engagement of Mr. Lew Dockstader, the originator of the celebrated Dockstader's minstrels, New York city, who has an abundance of new songs and witty sayings. New ballads will be given by a strong vocal corps, and in fact ever, thing is promised bright and highly pleasing. Seats are now on sale.

Mr. Vail's Narrow Escape.

As Mahlon Vail was driving along North avenue, this afternoon, in his hickory buck-board with his handsome team of bob-tailed cobs, the neck yoke broke and the pole hung loose from one horse. To stop them he drove the horses towards the curb, but they sprang on the sidewalk and dashed into Swalm's show window.

Here they pulled Mr. Vail over the dashboard, onto the flag stones, under their heels and dragged the wagon over him. Strange to say he was not killed. One of the iron posts in front of Rockfellow's, was broke off but it held the wagon until the horses were seized just as they headed for Reynolds' soda water fountain.

Bowling at Dunellen.

The members of the Dunellen and Middlesex Bowling Green Club on Wednesday opened the season by enjoying a well contested friendly individual contest at the former's grounds. Three rinks were used. At the conclusion of the games speeches were made by Mr. Stephenson, of Newark, Mr. Schepflin, Messrs Richters and H. B. Willis. A meeting will shortly be held when dates will be decided upon and a series of matches will be arranged

Can't Name Three.

The following very important item appeared in the Somerville Democrat yesterday:

"We will bet a year's subscription to THE DEMOCRAT that Somerville has more pretty girls than any place of its size in the State."

Plainfield had more pretty girls fifteen years ago, than Somerville will ever have.

Fighting the Bookmaking Law.

A petition signed by a number of ministers of Elizabeth is to be presented to the New Jersey Assembly Monday night. It asks that body to reject the bill legalizing bookmaking at race tracks in the State. If the clergymen can defeat this bill the crusade to drive the Linden and Dwyer race tracks out of Union county will be pushed with redoubled vigor.

A Fire at Cranford.

A fire occurred early yesterday morning, at Cranford, and the barn of James Rexford was destroyed; loss $1,000. The fire was not so serious a matter, but Mr. Rexford in trying to save some property was badly burned about the head and shoulders. Dr. McConnell, his physician, thinks he will recover.

The most perfect rules of chemistry are observed in compounding Hires' Cough Cure. Absolutely free from poisons, but certains in its effects to eradicate a cold and to stop a cough.

The Meritorious in the New York Theatres.

Another American comedy has made a solid success in New York. The name of the comedy is "The Editor," and the place of its production was Palmer's Theatre. There has been no play produced in this country in years that met with success so immediate as this. Every daily newspaper pronounced it a "go," and comparison with those other two notable successes, "Henrietta" and "The Senator" were frequent. The new comedy is described as remarkably bright and to contain humor of a kind impossible to resist. The story of the play is coherent and intensely interesting, and there is a vein of pathos and a dramatic interest cleverly interwoven which renders the whole thoroughly delightful. That excellent actor, Louis Aldrich, plays the principal part, "The Editor," a noble-hearted "rough diamond," and the supporting company contains many very prominent players. The stage production is elaborate, as all of Palmer's Theatre productions are, and there is warrant for the belief that the comedy will remain in New York long into the Summer. Matinees are given Saturday only, and seats for any performance may be secured by mail addressed to the box office of Palmer's Theatre.

Barry & Fay will begin a two week's engagement of fun-making and open the Spring season at Proctor's Theatre, New York, next Monday evening. "McKenna's Flirtation," in which they achieved such a success in this city, will be the medium through which these funny men will amuse and produce laughter, cure dyspepsia and banish melancholia. People have cried laughing at these stars in this piece before and all classes of theatre goers are charmed by their infectious humor. The fun making is clean and healthy. New songs and jokes have been introduced that never fail to excite some manifestation of pleasure even in the cynical and sober-faced observer. The singing of "The Typical Masher" and "When the Dinner Hour Comes 'Round," are rollicking scream raisers. The company contains some of the best talent.

* * *

The strangely lifelike and wierdly beautiful reproduction of Portsmouth Harbor alive with a fleet of British warships and other vessels of all classes and descriptions, rising and falling lazily with each roll of the water in the rear of the immense ship "Pinafore," herself presented to us with the lifting of the curtain on the first act of "H. M. S. Pinefore," at the Academy, Monday night, was as startlingly impressive a piece of stagecraft as we have ever seen. The majesty of the ocean has never before been so forcibly impressed upon us. The reality itself could not affect one more than the wide expanse of blue sea that surged toward us behind the huge deck of the big man-o'-war. At times it looked as though the billows would forget themselves and come rushing over the bulwarks and down across the footlights carrying the wreckage of masts, sails, companionway, etc., into our very midst. Manager Duff has certainly fulfilled all of his promises. The presentation was mounted with a magnificence that could be termed nothing short of lavishly extravagant. Mr. Duff's richly costumed company, numbering nearly 200 people, found themselves crowded despite the immense area of the Academy's stage.

* * *

The Kiralfys are enjoying one of their old time triumphs at Niblo's. It is doubtful if the brothers have ever given a more worthy production than that now holding the boards of the Broadway house. The dramatic material heretofore used to introduce the marvelous blendings of color and artistic groupings peculiar to the kaleidoscopic character of the entertainments of the famous pair, merited little attention. "Around the World in 80 Days," however, possesses an absorbingly interesting dramatic story, and the journey of the impassive Phileas Fogg, taking in, as it does, a circuit of the globe, affords unlimited opportunities for gorgeous costuming and brilliant scenic display, none of which the brothers fail to take advantage of. The revival is immeasurably superior to the original production, containing a thousand and one novelties, all beautiful, all effective. The coryphees, too, are always present in ballet divertisements, the "Mikado" ballet being irresistibly attractive.

A Well Deserved Compliment.

The Union County Board of Freeholders, says the Elizabeth Journal, paid a very handsome and well deserved compliment to Director Hubbard, in presenting him with a gavel at the close of the term of the retiring Board. Director Hubbard has presided with great care and impartiality. He long ago won the esteem of the Board and has never lost it. But this was not the only act of the retiring Board that is worthy of notice. The success with which the Board has cared for the county finances, the zeal the members have shown in pushing forward the county road plans, and the economy that has been practiced are all to the highest credit of the board. They retire after having deservedly won the warm approval of the taxpayers, and this fact is shown by the return to the Board of every member but one, outside of Elizabeth.

A Scared Editor.

A rugged farmer stalked into the sanctum with a big whip under his arm.

"Be you the editor?" he asked. "I am," was the half apprehensive reply.

"Here's two dollars—send me your paper for life," he said.

"You see," he went on, "our daughter was sick and liked to died; she drooped and grew weak and pale, had headaches, no appetite, back ached, feet and hands like ice, couldn't sleep, hacked with cough, and we thought she had consumption. No medicine helped her till we tried that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription mentioned in your paper, when she began to mend in no time and is now well and handsome as a rose—put me down as a life subscriber."

Now the editor is looking for another scare. The medicine has cured scores afflicted as was the farmer's daughter It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or price ($1.00) refunded.

A Birthday Party.

Mr. William Peebles gave a birthday sociable last evening, at his residence No. 5 Spooner avenue, where a large party of his friends met to celebrate the event, about fifty in all being present. During the evening an excellent programme of music, recitations, etc., was rendered, followed by dancing. Refreshments were also served in abundance. The presents were many.

—The next regular county examination for teachers' certificates, has been postponed by order of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, from May 30 and 31, to June 6 and 7. It will be held at Westfield.

SENATOR CARLISLE

He Captures the Kentucky Prize by Acclamation.

LINDSAY HIS ONLY OPPONENT.

Exciting Discussion in the House Over the Lamp Chimney Schedule.

A Close Vote and Both Sides Skirmishing for Absent Congressmen—An Income for Agricultural Colleges—The Lottery Fight Becomes Exciting—The Millers Make a Change in the Tariff Bill.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 17.—Hon. J. G. Carlisle was nominated for United States Senator last night by the Democratic caucus.

On the last ballot Carlisle had 72 votes and Lindsay 43.

Mr. Knott's name was withdrawn and but two ballots were taken. On the first Mr. Carlisle received 52 votes, Lindsay 38 and McCreary 30. When the vote was announced Mr. McCreary's name was withdrawn and the balloting began again. In this ballot Carlisle received 72 votes, and before the result was announced it was moved that he be nominated by acclamation. This was done amid the wildest applause.

Washington Friends Pleased.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The news of Mr. Carlisle's nomination for the Senate by the Democratic caucus at Frankfort, Ky., was received here by his many friends with undisguised pleasure, for Mr. Carlisle is popular at the National capital among both his political friends and foes. It did not create much surprise, however, for everybody had expected this result, and they would have been astonished at any other.

A CLOSE VOTE.

Exciting Discussion in the House Over the Lamp Chimney Schedule.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—There was a hot fight in the House on the lamp chimney schedule in the Tariff bill. A number of Republicans abandoned the committee on its proposition to increase the duty to ten cents a dozen and forty per cent. ad valorem. Mr. Chandler, Republican, of Massachusetts, sent up an amendment making a slight reduction, and General Henderson, of Iowa, offered a substitute, which was accepted by Mr. Chandler, fixing the duty at the present rate. On the vote on the latter the committee won by a scratch, rejecting Henderson's amendment by a vote of 107 to 103.

Among the Republicans who voted with the Democrats were Butterworth, Kerr, Henderson and Sweeney, of Iowa; Hopkins and Adams, of Illinois; Taylor, Tennessee; Lynd, Minnesota, and Laidlow, of New York. The vote excited the greatest interest and the Capitol was being scoured by both sides for members. Four Democrats came into the hall as the vote was being announced. They would have made it a tie.

The Lottery Fight at New Orleans.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A dispatch from New Orleans says the chief manager of the Louisiana Lottery interests seems perplexed and worried, while the antis are correspondingly jubilant. The antis say their ranks are growing stronger day by day. It is claimed that the lottery men have lost one Senator and that another is wavering, and will in the end vote against the perpetuation of the lottery and that the anti-lottery ranks of the House are growing stronger.

Reducing the Tariff Rate on Burlaps.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The members of the Ways and Means Committee, at the solicitation of Frank Barry, secretary of the Millers' National Association, agree upon an amendment to the Tariff bill, reducing the rate on burlaps from 1¼ to 1¼ cents and to change the customs administration paragraph so as to render the collection of rebate on imported burlaps re-exported more simple.

An Income for Agricultural Colleges.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The Senate Committee on Education and Labor ordered the Morrill Agricultural College bill reported as a substitute for the Morrill Educational bill. The bill sets aside the income for the sale of public lands to be paid to the agricultural colleges of the different States, $15,000 to each the first year; $16,000 the second year, and so on until the income of each is $25,000 per year.

BISMARCK BLAMED.

Herr Liebknecht says Germany Will be Ruined by the War Burden.

BERLIN, May 17.—The debate of the Army bill was resumed in the Reichstag. Herr Liebknecht declared that the nation would soon be ruined by the heavy burden of militarism. He laid the blame on Prince Bismarck's tendency to war. Bismarck, he said, could have averted the last Russo-Turkish war, but instead he supported Russia's aggressions in every way.

Chancellor Caprivi said he believed that the foreign policy of the Government continued to be more and more harmonious with the feeling of the people. The bill did not deal with the question of impending war, but rather with providing against the burdens of possible war. The saigner a blanc, of which Prince Bismarck had spoken, would, in the event of war, hold good despite the ideas of the Socialists. The bill was referred to a committee of twenty-eight.

Stanley's Marriage Engagement.

LONDON, May 17.—It is learned upon the very best authority that a marriage engagement has been entered into between Henry M. Stanley and Miss Dorothy Tennant, a young English lady of artistic tendencies and greatly admired for her beauty.

Ferry-Boat Passengers Drowned.

BERLIN, May 17.—A ferry boat loaded with passengers while crossing the river Oder, near Ratibor, Silesia, was suddenly capsized. Before assistance could reach them thirty-six of the unfortunate occupants of the boat were drowned.

Knights Appeal for Carpenters.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—The Journal of the Knights of Labor to-day appeals to all members of the order to contribute to the aid of the Chicago carpenters in their strike.

DEATHS ON THE RAIL.

A Boy's Head Severed from His Body by a Freight Train.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., May 17.—Arthur J. Phillips, aged 16 years, was killed at Tribe's Hill, just west of this city, last night, by being run over by a freight train. His head was severed from his body, and the remains horribly mutilated. Coroner Lewis will hold an inquest.

An unknown man was killed by the cars on the West Shore Railroad at Fultonville. An inquest will be held this afternoon.

Testing the Original Package Law.

HOLYOKE, Mass., May 17.—A syndicate of unlicensed liquor dealers employed Ex-Governor George Robinson to look up the constitutionality of the "original package" law, and he has just delivered an opinion to the effect that, under the recent decision of the Supreme Court, the selling of liquor in the original packages is legal, and that convictions by the lower courts under the law will be reversed if taken to the Supreme Court. The dealers will soon make a test case, and there is every prospect of a general commencement here of business under the "original package" decision.

The Latest Baseball Deal.

ST. LOUIS, May 17.—The report is current here that Will Johnson, a strong Brotherhood advocate, has about succeeded in arranging a peace with the Brotherhood and Von der Ahe, and for the early transfer of a club to this city, probably from Cleveland, Buffalo or Pittsburg, and its consolidation with the present Browns, the two making one of the strongest organizations in the country.

Ball-Players Fined.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May. 17.—President Von der Ahe, of the St. Louis Browns, fined Whittrock $50, McCarthy, Rossman and Earle $25 each and released Hartnett for going to a dance without permission last night. He denies that he has a deal with Johnson of St. Louis, which will put St. Louis in the Players' League.

Killed by Quinine.

BELVIDERE, N. J., May 17.—A three-year-old child of the Rev. W. C. Timbell, pastor of the Methodist Church at Harmon, Warren County, died from eating twelve quinine pills.

Blown to Death by Powder.

BANGOR, Me., May 17.—At a small place on the Canadian Pacific Railway, near Moose River, five river drivers sought shelter from a storm in a deserted log cabin on the line of the railway. They built a fire on the floor. The dry boards of the floor quickly ignited and the flames spread to a corner where a portion of a can of powder had been placed. The powder exploded, blowing the men and house into the air. Two of the men are reported killed, and the others terribly injured. The wounded men were taken to the nearest station by a party that happened along some time after.

A DANGEROUS BLAZE

The Fire in the Shamokin Shaft Has Become Alarming.

EXPLOSIONS ARE LOOKED FOR.

A Creek to Be Turned Into the Mine to Quench the Flames.

Gas is Being Made Fast and May Reach the Fire—Precautions Taken to Prevent Loss of Life—Twenty-five Mules Dead at the Bottom of the Shaft—The Ashley Disaster.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., May 19.—The Neilson shaft is on fire, having caught from the burning timbers of the breaker which was destroyed last Friday night. The lower levels are filled with gas. Twenty-five mules at the bottom are dead and nineteen on the top levels will probably be suffocated.

The fire has now assumed a serious aspect. It is known to be in No. 12 vein, at a depth of 1,000 feet, but its extent can not be determined upon, as no one can visit that level and return alive Smoke and foul air was noticed issuing from the air course of No. 12 level. The breaker fire destroyed the boilers and one fan. Steam facilities were obtained and a fan started to ventilate the mine, but it failed to drive out the gas in the upper level.

The mine is making gas fast, and serious explosions will occur if it reaches the fire.

It has been decided to turn the Carbon Run Creek into the shaft and drown out the fire. It will take 36 hours to turn the creek, and if the fire is located where the mine foreman thinks it is it will be three or four days before the water will reach the fire.

The gas and fire is so dangerous that every precaution is being taken to prevent loss of life.

THE ASHLEY HORROR.

An Appeal Issued for Aid for the Dead Miners' Families.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 19.—The Burgess of Ashley has issued an appeal for aid from the charitable public for the families of the miners killed in the disaster at No. 4 slope of the Hartford mine.

He solicits contributions of food, clothing and money, which may be sent to R. Thomas, Burgess; Martin Dooley, President of the Borough Council, or E. Lindermuth, Treasurer at Ashley, Luzerne County, Pa.

The funerals of a number of the victims of the Hartford mine took place yesterday afternoon. Every available space was occupied in the cemetery and the road leading to it was crowded with vehicles of all kinds containing sightseers. Brief services were held at each of the houses and consisted of singing, praying, and in some cases short addreses. The scenes were heartrending in the extreme. Another victim's funeral took place this morning, and the curtain has been lowered upon another terrible calamity.

The Sullivan-McAuliffe Fight.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Sporting circles believe that a fight will be arranged between John L. Sullivan and Joe McAuliffe. Several prominent men of this city and Brooklyn are eager to back the champion and he could get $100,000 behind him just as easily at $10,000 if it were wanted. Billy Madden, McAuliffe's manager, says there will be no difficulty about getting the necessary backing for his man and that the big fellows would surely meet. He also said $7,500 had been volunteered in this city, and several of Joe's California friends are eager to express confidence in their man. So it is only a matter of a few days before the matter is definitely arranged.

Obtaining Money By False Pretenses.

WATERBURY, Conn., May 19.—Michael J. Cassidy is in custody here charged with obtaining money by false pretenses. He has been representing himself to be an agent for the Ladies' Home Journal for nearly a year, during which time he has collected sums varying from $50 to $300. Cassidy is the same mam who two years ago embezzled $300 from Judge E. F. Cole, but whose case was settled to save disgrace to his friends.

Hotel Burned.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. May 19.—The Osborne Hotel, this city, caught fire and was partly consumed at 1 a. m. The hotel was but recently opened for the summer season, and is one of the largest in the town. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to be incendiary. There were thiry inmates, but all escaped unharmed. The house will be immediately rebuilt.

Exciting Bicycle Race.

OMAHA, Neb., May 19.—Eight thousand people saw an exciting finish to the six day eight-hour bicycle race between Jack Prince, the champion and Sergeant Ned Reading, the soldier racer. All week the men had been even. On the last mile under a tremendous spurt, Prince passed Reading and won by a few feet. Total distance covered was a trifle over 716 miles. A purse of $1,000 a side and the entire gate receipts go to the winner.

Death of Ripley Ropes.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 19.—Ripley Ropes, president of the Brooklyn Trust Company. State Charities Commissioner, and one of the largest South American merchants in New York, died at his residence in this city yesterday, at the age of 70 years. He was one of the most prominent men in the political, business and social circles of Brooklyn, and leaves a large fortune.

SHOT HIS COMPANION.

Practical Joking Ends in a Terrible Tragedy at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, May 19.—Robert E. Drake, a member of the Municipal Civil Service Examining Board and Vice-President of the Warden Manufacturing Company, at 3 a. m. shot Charles H Riggs, chief accountant at Kennedy and Spaulding's wholesale hardware establishment, at their lodging house, 301 Clinton street.

They are young men and practical jokers, and were up for the purpose of playing a joke on a companion, a young lawyer named Ryan, whose moustache they were to cut off. Suspecting something of this kind, Ryan locked his sleeping-room door, and the young men were unable to get in. Then they marched about the house and played soldier. Drake took down an old repeating rifle which hung in the hall, he says, and the two marched through the hall.

Riggs marched into his own room and closed the door after him. No sooner had he done so than there was a loud report, a scream, and then Riggs cried out he was shot. A bullet had gone through the panel of the door and penetrated his back over the left kidney. Two physicians were summoned and probed for the bullet.

For two or three hours the young man seemed all right, but at 9 o'clock he began to sink, and about noon he died. Before his death he made an ante-mortem statement to District-Attorney Hancock, exonerating Drake from all blame. The supposition is that the gun was cocked, and that when Riggs shut the door after him it struck the muzzle of the gun and the concussion discharged the weapon. Drake gave himself up to the police and is locked up at the police station.

Riggs was 25 years old, unmarried, and the most expert accountant in the city. He came here four years ago from Port Leydon, where his father is a prominent merchant. Drake is nearly crazy over the unfortunate affair.

HORRIBLE DISCOVERY.

The Guest of a Pittsburg Hotel Awakened By a Corpse.

PITTSBURG, May 19.—J. W. Waggoner, a guest of Boley's Hotel, was awakened from his slumbers by something like a tapping at his window. He got up in bed and peered out into the night, and was thrilled with horror to see the white face of a corpse. The body was hanging by a chain around its neck from a window on the floor above, and the wind in swaying it about caused the noise that awakened Waggoner. The eyes of the corpse were wide open, and the hands were clasped together.

As soon as Waggoner recovered from the shock he alarmed the household. The body proved to be that of John Smith, an oil dealer. He had gone to the room about midnight taking the chain used as a fire-escape, wrapped it twice around his neck and swung out the window, where he hung until he was strangled to death. Several years ago Smith lived in Edensboro. A murder was committed there in which he was implicated with a man named Bowls and another named Brooks. Bowls fled and Brooks was killed. Then Smith turned State's evidence and got clear, but he was from that time on known in the oil country as murderer John Smith. To be called by this name preyed upon his mind and led to his suicide.

EMMONS BLAINE RESIGNS.

He Will Soon Figure in One of the Big Railroad Corporations.

BALTIMORE, May 19.—Emmons Blaine has resigned his position as assistant to President Davis, of the West Virginia Central Railroad Company.

His relations with the company have always been very pleasant, and the only reason assigned for his severing connection at this time is the fact that Mrs. Blaine is not altogether satisfied with the circumscribed limits of Baltimore. New York or Washington is more to her liking, and it is very probable that her husband will shortly change his place of residence.

Mr. Blaine's friends say assistant to the president of a comparatively unknown corporation is too small a place for a man who has the means to own corporations. He will soon figure in one of the big railroad corporations.

Accident at a Circus.

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 19.—During the performance of Lee's circus here, a section of the reserved seat gallery fell, carrying down several hundred persons and causing great excitement. Many persons were cut and bruised, but the only severe injury was to a man whose leg was broken. The proprietor settled damages with the injured persons on the spot.

Mother and Daughter Buried.

ASHFIELD, Mass., May 19.—The bodies of Mrs. G. Stanley Hall and daughter Julia, who were suffocated at Worcester Thursday, were brought here, accompanied by Theodore Fisher, of Boston, Mrs. Hall's brother and Mr. Hall's private secretary. Simple funeral services were held at the Congregational Church.

Orders to Freestone Cutters.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 19.—Over 100 freestone cutters in New Haven are affected by the order of the freestone cutters' unions in Massachusetts, which have notified them that they must cease working for employers who belong to the Masters' Association, or their cards will not be recognized by Massachusetts union men.

May Not be a Murderer.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Lawyer Clinton G. Reynolds who was shot down in his office by young Alphonse Joseph Stephani on Tuesday last, has a good chance of getting over his wound. He passed a restful night in Chambers Street Hospital and his condition was much improved to-day.

CANADY TO RETIRE

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate will Resign To-day.

HOT FIGHT FOR THE POSITION.

Everything Points to the Selection of ex-Congressman Valentine of Nebraska.

The End of the Silver Debate Not Yet in Sight—The Tariff Bill will be Placed on Final Passage Wednesday—Another Contested Election Case—Eulogies to the Late Representative Kelly.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—It is settled finally that Sergeant-at-arms Canady of the Senate is to resign. It is now determined that Col. Canady will hand in his resignation this afternoon to take effect probably July 1st.

His successor is to be chosen at a caucus of Republican Senators. It is likely that Mr. Leeds of Philadelphia, ex-Representative Valentine, of Nebraska, and Col. Swords, of Iowa, will be put in nomination in the caucus, but it looks to-day as though Mr. Valentine would have a clear field after the first ballot. He has the backing of the West and he will get a few votes on the first ballot from New England.

Deputy Sergeant- at-Arms Reed was a strong candidate to succeed Col. Canady, about the strongest in fact, but last night he withdrew from the race in favor of Mr. Valentine. His withdrawal probably settles the fight for succession. Mr. Swords will receive a complimentary vote from Iowa, on the first ballot, but he will likely be withdrawn after that, leaving the contest between Mr. Valentine and Mr. Leeds.

The position of sergeant-at-arms and doorkeeper of the Senate pays $4,920. It is considered particularly desirable because of the patronage connected with it. The sergeant-at-arms is the executive officer of the Senate. Col. Canady has held the position of sergeant-at-arms for nine years, he was appointed from North Carolina to succeed "Dick" Bright at the instance of Senator Sherman, who has used his influence ever since to keep him in office.

Determined efforts have been made for more than a year to have Col. Canady removed and a great many charges against him have been published in the newspapers; but they have all been disproved. The political pressure for the place has been very great and the fact that North Carolina is a Democratic state has rendered Col. Canady's tenure of office very insecure for some time. Nothing but his personal popularity would have kept him in the place for so many years.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

Still Talking Silver in the Senate and Winding Up on Tariff in the House.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—In the Senate this week the discussion of the Silver bill will be continued indefinitely. Several of the Western Senators are down for long speeches, and the end of the debate is not yet in sight.

An effort will be made to hold a Republican caucus during the week to come to some agreement on the silver question and to determine upon a limit to debate; but the discussion is likely to fill out the week at least.

To-morrow after 4 o'clock is to be devoted to eulogies of the late Representative Kelly, of Pennsylvania, and Saturday will be given over to the calendar.

The House will conclude the tariff discussion this week. Twice the consideration of the River and Harbor bill has been postponed by action of the Republican caucus of the House, and it was understood that it would be called up as soon as the Tariff bill had been disposed of.

The Tariff bill will be placed on its final passage on Wednesday, and it is the intention of the Elections Committee, which has the right of way, to call up the contested election case of McDuffie, Republican, against Turpin, Democrat, from the fourth district of Alabama, on Thursday, so that the River and Harbor bill will not come up before the following week at the earliest, unless a caucus should decide to allow it to be brought forward this week. The Elections Committee has reported in favor of the seating of Mr. McDuffie, the contestee, and a minority report has been filed by the Democrats favoring Mr. Turpin's retention of his seat. Friday will, as usual, be devoted to the consideration and passage of private bills.

Mr. Blaine Not a Candidate.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A local paper prints the following: "Secretary Blaine states emphatically that he will not be a candidate for the nomination in 1892. At the same time he does not hesitate to declare that if his health had been as good two years ago as it is to-day he would not have written the cablegram he sent from Florence or the one which he afterward sent from Scotland while the convention was in session at Chicago. He looks upon Governor Hill as the man on the Democratic side, and he does not hesitate to say that the Governor will be a hard one to beat."

Assaulted His Sick Wife.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., May 19.—John B. Davidson is in jail on a charge of assaulting his wife with intent to kill. She was lying in bed on Saturday, being very ill, when her husband came home at night intoxicated, and beat her. She escaped to a neighbor's house, where she is lying at the point of death.

Visiting Indian Tribes.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A special from Kansas City, Mo., says the Cherokee Commissioners have started on their tour among the Indian tribes. Nothing definite is expected from them for a few days.

CONTRACTOR HARDY'S DIFFICULTY.

A Series of Unpleasant Situations Which Has at Last Caused Him Trouble.

Contractor James Hardy, of North Plainfield, voluntarily appeared before Justice Crossley in the borough on Friday afternoon, waived an examination on an alleged charge, preferred by one Adam Young, and furnished bonds in the sum of $150 to await the action of the Grand Jury. The trouble originated in this way: On or about April 12 last Mr. Hardy gave a check for ten dollars to a man named William Pope, and the complainant in the case cashed the check for Pope. The check was made payable at the First National bank, and two days later when it was presented at the bank for payment it was found that there was no money there to meet it.

Mr. Hardy has of late been unfortunate in his business transactions, but those who know him claim that his motives have been the best. Some time since he made an assignment to Messrs A. D. Cook & Bro., making them preferred creditors, and this is likely to make the employes come in among the list of heaviest losers. Mr. W. C. Smith, the mason, is also said to be a creditor to the extent of about $1,800.

Mr. Hardy's misfortune is said to be almost wholly due to his taking contracts at such extremely low figures. Messrs Cook & Bro., it is understood, will finish Mr. Hardy's uncompleted contracts.

Mr. Hardy is prepared to show by a bank statement, that at the close of business on the 12th, the day the check was drawn, Mr. Hardy had $100 to his credit in the bank.

Miss Strong died of consumption this morning, at the home of Mrs. Annie Rhees, on Rock View Terrace, North Plainfield. She had been ill for some time. She is very nearly related to the Messrs C. W. and E. St. J. McCutchen and to Mrs. Edward St. John.

This is the first time the membership has ever crossed the century mark. The newly-elected members included Messrs Craig A. Marsh, E. C. Woltmann and J. A. Demarest.

Mr. Henry C. Squires of this city, published a few months ago an illustrated catalogue of great typographical beauty and intense interest to those who love shooting, fishing, boating or camping. Besides the flattering notices it has received from all the leading papers of this country and England, personal letters in the same vein have been written Mr. Squires by President Harrison, Vice President Morton, ex-Presidents Cleveland and Hayes, all the Cabinet Ministers, the U. S. Senators, army officers, foreign ministers, college presidents, the clergy, prominent lawyers, artists and representative business men. These letters have been published in pamphlet form.

Their May Walk.

The members of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein went on their annual May walk to the mountain yesterday, starting from Blatz's Hotel in North Plainfield at five o'clock in the morning. The destination was at "Penny Orchard," in the vicinity of Johnston's lookout, where the day was spent by indulging in various outdoor amusements, such as base ball, running, jumping, a tug of war and rifle practice. During the afternoon many of the wives and daughters of the members strolled up to the mountain and witnessed the games. Refreshments were served in abundance. The homeward trip was made about dusk.

Court of Special Sessions.

There was a special session of the Court of Common Pleas at Elizabeth, on Saturday morning. The matter of the application of the Summit tavern-keepers for licenses was brought up and testimony taken in the case of Morrissey and White.

CRESCENT LEAGUE WINS AGAIN.

Its Ball Team Defeats the Celebrated "Lees" of Brooklyn.

The Crescent League team of ball players continue to give the public as fine an exhibition as can be seen in any city in the State. They won again Saturday and played a game without an error. The visitors were the celebrated "Lees" of Brooklyn, strengthened by such players as catcher Sublich and first baseman Bishop of last year's Somervilles, pitcher Platz of the Monroes, and other well known semi-professionals. They were very weak at second base, however, and it cost them the game. The three runs the visitors made were in this way:

Bergen, the first to the bat, was given his base on balls, as was also Collins. This forced Bergen to second, and he took third on Sublich's sacrifice, and came home on Bishop's sacrifice. In the second inning Hadley got his first on balls, and Platz followed with a two-bagger in centre field. Gillis got the ball and threw it straight for the home plate to cut off Hadley. The ball struck the latter in the back of the head just as he slid home, and bounded out of everybody's reach so that Platz got his run in too.

As said before, the Crescents played an errorless game. Jones and Martin are simply irreproachable. Wiegand and Lufbery, also, are great players, and Lee is traveling just as fast a pace as any of them. They can't lose Billy. Livingston has not yet pitched the game it is claimed he can. He was very wild, Saturday, but said it was the wind. Mr. Frank Bowman umpired again, and again there was not a word of complaint or criticism from either the players or the spectators. The score:

REFORM HALL MEETING.

A Splendid Address by the Rev. Dr. Rodman.

A fair sized and very appreciative audience met in Reform Hall last evening to hear the Rev. E. M. Rodman, and well were they repaid. Doctor Rodman, after reading the scripture lesson and offering a fervent prayer, delivered an address of sterling worth, founding his remarks upon the Second Epistle of Peter, Chapter 1, verses 5, 6 and 7. He clearly presented the true character of religious faith and the happiness attending it, and dwelt upon the vital importance of conquering every evil habit, and making temperance, patience and godliness governing rules of life. The closest attention followed him throughout.

A full choir led by Mr. Vanderbeek, rendered the best of music, and President Harper, after announcing Mr. Hoagland, P. G. W. P., of the Sons of Temperance, and Mr. Allen, City Missionary of New Brunswick, as next Sunday evening's speakers, submitted and read a petition to the Legislature of New Jersey, protesting against the passage of a bill legalizing gambling on race courses. At the close of the meeting a large number of signatures were affixed to the document

Chased by the Girls.

Two sisters, young colored girls of this city, chased a young colored barber down the railroad track, after prayer meeting in the Mount Olive church, one evening last week. The story is, the barber intended to walk home with another girl, but one of the sisters who accused him of singing to her the song that touched her heart, said he should not only walk with her but he should marry her or die. Then he ran for home and the sisters chased the breath out of him.

Another Raid on Coal Train Jumpers.

Coal train jumpers between this city and Raritan were again surprised by the Central Railroad authorities on Saturday morning, when eleven of them were arrested. Three of the number were committed for five days each, four were sent up for ten days each, two for fifteen days, one for thirty days and one for one day. Several others were arrested along the line and fined.

—A meeting for consecration and prayer will he held at the residence of Mrs. E. D. Poole, No. 22 West Third street, this evening at 8:15 o'clock. All invited.

They Will Banquet at The Netherwood.

The enthusiasm which is being displayed by the wheelmen throughout the State about the Division meet to be held in this city on the 30th and 31st insts., is in itself a sure guarantee of the success to be attained by the efforts of the various committees who have been, and are still hard at work.

The Banquet Committee have found it necessary to make a change in the time printed in the programme for the banquet, from 4.30 to 3.30 P. M., on Friday, May 30. It will be given at Hotel Netherwood. This change may cause some trivial difference in the schedule runs which are to be held just prior to the banquet.

—A regular meeting of Easter Lodge, No. 3542. K. of H., will be held this evening, in the Hand Building, on West Second street, at eight o'clock sharp. A full attendance of the members is earnestly desired.

A Great Cry for More Women

Has been going up from the far West for a good many years. But the cry is not for pale, haggard, debilitated women. The pushing Western men are not anxious for beauty, but they need healthy wives. A great cry for health is continually going up from thousands of women, young and old, all over the earth. Countless remedies have appeared in answer. A few have succeeded, and none hold a higher place than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a sure cure for all those ailments peculiar to the sex.

SHERIFF AND SENATOR.

Will One Come From Plainfield and the Other From Elizabeth.

(From the New York World.)

There promises to be a lively brush for the office of Sheriff of Union county, which is a lucrative plum and is good for three years. The incumbent, Sheriff Glasby, is a Republican, and under the law cannot succeed himself. Who the Republicans will nominate for his successor is a conundrum. The Democrats are beginning to trot out candidates for the nomination. It seems to be conceded that the State Senatorship will go to Elizabeth. Assembleman Fred Marsh is making a quiet but none the less effective still-hunt for the place. If Elizabeth names the Senator, the Sheriff must come from some other part of the county.

Two men are said to be angling for the prize—Freeholder Doty, of Union Township, and Elmore D. Moffett, President of the Plainfield City Council and First Assistant County Clerk. President Moffett is a prominent man in Plainfield and, as that city is the stronghold of Republicanism in the county, it would seem to be policy for the Democrats to nominate a man who could make inroads in the enemy's camp and strengthen the chances for electing a State Senator. Freeholder Doty's friends, however, will give the Moffett contingent a hard fight for the nomination. Both candidates are keeping quiet, and if asked about their prospects rather ridicule the idea that they seriously intend to enter the race.

Union county is an uncertain quantity this year. There are heart-burnings among the Democrats which must be healed and the strongest men be nominated for Sheriff and Senator—men who have the confidence of the rank and file of the party—if it expects to redeem the county from the grasp of the Republicans.

The Hyde Lawn Party.

Mrs. Chas. Hyde gave a lawn party in honor of her son, Mr. Charles Hyde, Jr., on the spacious lawn adjoining her handsome home on East Front street, on Saturday afternoon from four until seven o'clock, that was attended by the very best of society people in this and adjacent cities. The interior of the house was richly adorned and decorated, the whole presenting a very striking appearance. Lander's full orchestra of New York, furnished the music for dancing, which was indulged in both in and out of doors, and Maresi of New York furnished a supper that was both sumptuous and grand, on the lawn near the brook. It is estimated that fully 400 persons were present during the afternoon.

The costumes worn by many of the ladies were elaborate. Mrs. Hyde was assisted by Mrs. Charles Hyde, Jr.

Base Ball at Westfield.

The "White Caps" of this city and the "Stars of Westfield, crossed bats on the latter's grounds Saturday afternoon. The game was closely contested but the "White Caps" secured such a lead in the 1st inning that it was impossible for the "Stars" to overcome it.

The features of the game were the brilliant plays of the third baseman of each nine. The batting of both teams was not very good the only exception being two two base hits by the pitcher and 1st baseman of the "Stars. The latter resulted in a home run as the ball was lost.

Below is the score by innnings:

White Caps	5 2 0 1 0 2 0 1 0—11
Stars	1 0 0 2 0 2 0 0 1—6

Batteries—White Caps—Smith and Carver. Stars—Francis and Weber.

One of Plainfield's People.

The Coast Democrat of Manasquan, N. J., has the following pleasant notice of Conductor A. P. Hetfield, of the Central Railroad:

There was quite a time of rejoicing not only in Point Pleasant, but all along the line of the New York and Long Branch Railroad on Monday last. The cause of the jollification was the arrival of Conductor Hetfield in charge of his old train. Everybody was pleased, and you ought to have seen the pleasant smile of our citizens and the patrons of that train.

"Gus" is one of the old timers, and his many friends in this city naturally feel proud of him, especially as he has been a resident of Plainfield for the past year.

Camping at Washington Rock.

A stage load of men, representing the Milbourn Hatter's Association, arrived in this city about 9:30 o'clock this morning, on their way to Washington Rock, where the party is camping today. A halt was made on West Front street, while some of the members purchased a supply of bread and cheese, to be used in connection with the three or four kegs of beer which they brought with them.

Will Ask You Some Pertinent Questions.

The census enumerator will soon ask you how much money you owe, why you don't pay your debts, if you can read or write, if you are divorced, deformed, a criminal or an idiot, how many relatives you have in the penitentiary, and similar pleasant questions, and you are expected to smile like a cherub and give him clear and full answers instead of a "lickin'."

—Mr. Lew Dockstader, who appears at Music Hall this evening, is the same gentleman who when he was to appear here before with his own company, some time ago, gave the Plainfield people their money back because it was thought the freshet had undermined the foundations of the Hall and made its occupancy unsafe.

Hires' Root Beer is essentially a temperance drink, and, as such, ought to find a place in every larder in the land. It is so cheap, too. A 25 cent package makes five gallons.

TWO METHODIST CHAPELS.

Some Information as to What is Going on in the Rev. Mr. Mitchell's Church, as Told by Him.

(From "The Visitor of Saturday)

The pastor wishes to announce to all our members that he gives no letters of introduction or lists of names to book agents, or agents of any sort. When an agent mentions your pastor's name set the person down as a fraud.

The members of the two Grand Army Posts in this city will attend service in a body at our church Sunday evening, May 25. A special service will be prepared and the church appropriately decorated.

Two beautiful lots on the corner of Monroe and West 4th street, have been bought and paid for, and the Committee, Bros. McGee and Jackson, are now raising money for the erection of a neat frame chapel, to cost not less than $3,000. These two brethren have already given largely to this enterprise, and are desirous that our people should assist them in making this chapel a great success. We are a happy church in having such open doors of usefulness. We have the money. Have we the willingness? We believe we have. Let every heart beat in sympathy and every hand open for the success of the Evona Mission.

The committee having in charge the North Plainfield chapel enterprise have decided to build a neat chapel, costing $5,000, on the lots now owned by our church on the corner of Somerset street and Park place. The Trustees have authorized the commencement of the building so soon as $3,000 have been subscribed. We now present this enterprise to our people, and most earnestly call on them to assist in this good work. Nearly $2,000 have already been subscribed, to raise which about all of our largest givers have contributed. The remaining amount needed must now be raised. It is hoped that every member of the church will take some stock in this enterprise. Do not wait for any solicitor to call upon you but state to the pastor or any member of the committee, consisting of Bros. Carrol, Jackson, Jas. McGee, P. M. Smith, Pangborn and Cokefair, or to any member of the Official Board, what amount you will subscribe. The books are now open. Who will be the first to volunteer a subscription?

Following in the Footsteps of Their Superiors.

The Young Crescents of this city defeated the Young Americans of Dunellen for the fourth time this year in a game of base ball on the Sixth street ball grounds Saturday, by a score of 16 to 2 in seven innings. The game was noted for its heavy hitting and errors. The batteries were J. Sutphen and C. Sutphen for the Y. Crescent; Craig and Shaffer for the Y. Americans. Following is the score by score by innings:

Young Crescents	2 5 5 1 1 1 1—16
Young Americans	0 0 0 0 0 1 1— 2

Heavy Ball Playing at Scotch Plains.

The Young Twilights played a game with the Scotch Plains club, on the latter's diamond, on Saturday afternoon. Five innings were played when, amid great excitement, the out-of-town nine refused to continue the game because they were being beaten.

The score then stood 11 to 10 in favor of the Plainfield amateurs, who returned home by their special stage. The captain of the Young Twilights was Ray McVoy. The Scotch Plains club were much older in years than their amateur contestants, who have only been beaten once this year.

—Mr. Frank Humpston, formerly employed by Messrs C. Schepflin & Co., is now with Messrs Woolston & Buckle.

—A grand picnic will be held at Wendel's Hall, Dunellen, this evening. Prof. O'Reilly of this city will furnish the music for dancing.

—Eight of the Orange Wanderers and three of the members of the Alcoyne Boat club of Elizabeth, came to this city, yesterday, and dined at Force's Hotel. The riders were out for a cross-country "run."

A Weighty Protest Against the Race Track.

The following petition referred to in THE PRESS of Saturday, was circulated in all the churches of Plainfield, yesterday, and everybody signed it. This morning the names were sent with the petition to Trenton:

To the General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

We, the undersigned, citizens, residents and property owners of the County of Union respectfully present this, our earnest protest, against the enactment of Assembly bill No. 112, as amended by the Senate, now pending before your honorable body. The effect of this bill, if enacted, will be to legalize, so far as the Legislature has the power to do it, a practice which is under the ban of the civilized World, and is now nowhere legalized, except on the shore of the Mediterranean Sea and in the State of Louisiana.

Book-making and pool-selling and other lottery and gambling institutions have ruined millions of the human race of both sexes and all ages, without ever benefiting a single human being.

We have two race tracks now lately established in the County of Union, at both of which pool-selling and book-making are constantly carried on and the result has proved to be evil, and only evil, to the good people of this county. Hundreds of laborers and mechanics, heretofore honest and industrious, now leave their work day after day to gamble on these races. Boys and young men, in numbers that are appalling, are their constant attendants, and peculation and embezzlement among the clerks and employees in the cities of Elizabeth and Rahway, directly attributable to the pool rooms and the race tracks, has already brought desolation to more than a score of once happy homes.

The grand jury of Union county has found true bills of indictment against the persons responsible for these iniquities in our county, and we can stamp them out here, unless the Legislatare comes to their rescue by the enactment of this bill.

Against their doing this we solemly protest.

Dated May 16, 1890.

—A concert will be given by Primrose & West's fine band, in front of Music Hall, this evening, before the show. The company made a handsome appearance in their parade at noon. They have a talented corps of musicians, and special leaders for the band and the orchestra.

O'Donnell in Prison.

JOLIET, Ill., May 19.—Jerry O'Donnell, the ex-deputy sheriff who conspired with Graham and others to corrupt the Cronin jurors, was received at the penitentiary and entered upon his three year term, thus adding one more to the Clan-na-Gael colony now behind the bars. O'Donnell was put to work in the wire mill.

FIFTY MEN KILLED

A Frightful Powder Explosion Shakes all Havana.

BUSINESS ENTIRELY SUSPENDED

The Calamity Has Produced a Feeling of General Consternation and Horror.

Many Human Lives Taken from the Ruins—Flags Flying at Half-Mast and Signs of Mourning Everywhere—High Officials Searching for the Dead—The Proprietor of the Wrecked Store Jailed.

HAVANA, May 18.—A hardware store in which was kept a large quantity of powder was destroyed by fire in this city last night. When the fire was raging and the firemen were endeavoring to subdue it a tremendous explosion occurred, bringing down the walls and scattering burning brands for several blocks in all directions. Over fifty persons were killed and wounded, either directly by the falling debris or by the explosion itself.

Among the number killed were five chiefs of the fire department, several firemen and policemen, and the resident Consul for Venezuela. The calamity is one of the most disastrous that has occurred to this city for many years, and has produced a feeling of general consternation and horror.

All business is practically suspended, and every effort is being directed to an examination of the ruins and the discovery of the extent of the loss of life, which cannot now be estimated with certainty. Working parties were at once organized, and it is hoped that by to-morrow morning full details as to the number of dead and wounded, as well as the financial loss, can be ascertained.

The conduct of the authorities is the subject of universal praise. The highest officials have incurred personal risk in conducting the search for the dead, and have offered the use of their own carriages to convey the injured to the hospitals.

Ysasi, the proprietor of the wrecked hardware store, has been arrested.

It is feared that there are several more victims in the ruins. Over the theatres and the Chamber of Commerce and many other buildings flags are hanging at half mast. Everywhere are signs of mourning.

BISMARCK TALKS.

He Thinks Emperor William is the Victim of Current History.

PARIS, May 19.—The Matin publishes an account of an interview had with the French journalist, Das Soux, who recently spent a few days at Friedrichsruhe and was entertained at dinner by the ex-Chancellor.

The conversation was devoted principally to political reminiscences. Prince Bismarck referred to his resignation as a first-class funeral, but added that he was quite alive still. He did not understand the French law, compelling retirement from public service at 60 to 65 years of age. He had been forced to retire at 70, but he was too young to do nothing.

Speaking of the Emperor he says: "I pity this young man. He is like a young hound that barks at everybody, that smells everything, that touches everything, and that ends by causing complete disorder in the room in which he is, no matter how large it may be. I think he [the Emperor William] is the victim of current history, which he might have curbed by a reign of tranquility, sans eclat, in the beaten track and by allowing Germany to enjoy the advantages gained in 1870. If one stone is moved all the other stones of the edifice will fall and a degrigolade will ensue that nothing can check. I am capable of neither astonishment nor scorn. Those are the sentiments of youth."

Prince Luitpold's Fears.

LONDON, May 19.—A dispatch from Munich says that Prince Regent Luitpold has written the Archbishop expressing regret that the Catholic Congress is to be held at Munich, because it is probable that the meeting will occasion some disorder. He enjoins the Archbishop to reconsider the arrangements before the Prince Regent shall have occasion to exercise his rights and perform the duty in taking measures necessary for the maintenance of order.

Arranging a Wrestling Match.

LONDON, May 19.—A letter has been received from "Parson" Davies of Chicago offering to match Evan Lewis, the American champion wrestler, against George Streadman, the English champion, catch-as-catch-can style of wrestling, best two in three or five falls, for $1,000 a side, match to take place in Chicago, or any other American city to be mutually agreed upon, ten or twelve weeks after signing articles.

Boulanger Explains.

LONDON, May 19.—Gen. Boulanger has informed a friend that the letter by which he desolved the Boulangist National Committee does not mean that he is renouncing his claims, but that he desires the absence of any medium between universal suffrage and himself.

Measures to Avoid a Dispute.

BERLIN, May 19.—It is said France and Germany have agreed, in order to avoid dispute on the frontier, to strip a large space of ground on either side of the boundary line and place, at frequent intervals, large stones, marking the line of delimitation conspicuously.

English and German Demands.

LONDON, May 19.—German negotiations with England with regard to Africa are in active progress, but thus far without any result, both sides firmly adhering to their demands.

Shot Himself While Insane.

HELENA, Mont., May 19.—Edward. F. Crosby, a prominent member of society here, shot himself through the heart, causing instant death. Deceased was well connected in New York. His wife is a daughter of Bishop Brewer. Insanity was the cause of the rash act.

West Point's Great Annual Event.

WEST POINT, N. Y., May 19.—The annual examination of students at the United States Military Academy will begin Monday, June 2. It will be continued each day, Sundays excepted, until finished.

ON THE DIAMOND.

Talk About Western Clubs and Attendance at the Games.

NEW YORK, May 19.—Baseball managers expect to see more interest taken in the national game as the weather becomes warmer. In the East the people have had little opportunity as yet of seeing the Western clubs, but as they are now here and will be for several weeks chances for the study of their work will be afforded.

The Cincinnati club comes here to play on Decoration Day, and as it is the first time in years the patrons will no doubt turn out in large number to greet them. Pittsburg and Cleveland are so thoroughly new that it is hard to say what they will do. They are giving only fair exhibitions of the game, but nothing more can be expected until they are more thoroughly organized.

That the magnates have lost money so far goes without saying. Chicago has been the greater loser to both clubs, on account of the bad weather, and Cleveland and Pittsburg have also suffered. Every city has been handicapped. It is said that it takes an average attendance of 1,800 people throughout the season to enable a club to pay all its expenses.

Whether the Players' League will continue to gain the popularity which it has thus far received remains to be seen. There are already indications of a change of sentiment toward the old League. In Brooklyn the attendance at the League grounds has been larger than at Eastern Park, in Philadelphia Harry Wright has had more than his share of the patronage; in Boston the magnates are gradually dividing the attendance with the Players, while in this city the crowds are slowly increasing at the New Polo Grounds.

A QUESTION.

Do you think it wrong to give presents?
I don't.
Cash ought to be encouraged.
Think of the time it takes to charge.
I believe on a cash basis.
On that basis I am working.
No one can disagree with me.
All would be better off.
Ready money is what tells.
You had better try it, if you have'nt.

HIS PARTING SPEECH

Mr. Carlisle to Close the Tariff Debate To-Morrow.

TO BE GIVEN UNLIMITED TIME.

Major McKinley Will Finish for the Republicans and Call for the Vote.

An Opinion from the U. S. Supreme Court on the Anti-Polygamy Law—The President Recommends Prompt Action on the Pan-American Railroad Survey. The Bayne-Bynum Affair Dropped.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—There will be an immense crowd at the House side of the Capital to-morrow morning, when the tariff debate is to close and ex-Speaker Carlisle is booked to make the greatest speech of his life, as his friends now refer to the forthcoming effort. Mr. Carlisle arranged during the general debate on the bill to close for the Democratic side just before the final vote is taken. Otherwise he would present his credentials and be sworn in as the successor to Senator Beck.

Mr. Carlisle will be given unlimited time, and his parting speech is expected to contain some advice to his side of the House as to the course to be pursued in the future on the subject of the tariff.

It is believed that Senator Carlisle will be given Senator Beck's place on the Committee of Finance, and when the Tariff bill comes before the Senate he will be looked to by his side of the chamber as a leader in the discussion.

Mayor McKinley will close for the Republicans and his address, which will not be long, is expected to be the most brilliant ever delivered by the Ohio Representative.

ANTI-POLYGAMY LAW.

An Opinion of the United States Supreme Court on the Edmunds Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The Supreme Court of the United States rendered an opinion of vital interest to the Mormon Church in the suit of the Church of the Latter-Day Saints against the United States, which comes here on appeal from the decision of the Supreme Court of Utah in favor of the United States.

The case grows out of the passage of the Edmunds Anti-Polygamy law by the Forty-ninth Congress. This law, among other things, dissolved the Mormon Church corporation, annulled its charter, directed the appointment of a receiver to wind up its affairs and escheated to the United States all the real estate owned by the church in excess of $50,000 which was not, on the date of the passage of the act, held for purposes of worship or burial.

When the United States under the terms of this act began proceedings to confiscate about $750,000 worth of property belonging to the Church, the Mormons immediately entered suit to have the Edmunds' law declared unconstitutional. It was argued before the Supreme Court in their behalf that Congress by the dissolution of the Church corporation had assumed judical powers, and that the act of the Legislative Assembly of Utah incorporating the Church constituted a contract which could not be impaired by Congress under the authority to repeal territorial enactments.

It was also held that the doctrine escheat was alien to the spirit of free institutions and that it had never been applied in this country to a church or charitable institution. On the part of the United States it was contended that Congress had authority to repeal all territorial enactments; that the act incorporating the church was invalid as an attempt to establish a religion contrary to the provisions of the Constitution, and that, moreover, the charter should be annulled for the abuse of the granted rights. As, when the church corporation was dissolved there was no one to whom to turn over the property, it was properly escheated to the United States.

THE GREAT RAILROAD.

The Pan-American Congress Recommendation Acted Upon.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The President sent to the Senate a letter of the Secretary of State submitting the plan for a preliminary survey for a railway line to connect the principal cities of the American Hemisphere, in accordance with the recommendations of the Pan-American Conference.

The President recommends prompt action by Congress to enable this Government to participate in the promotion of the enterprise.

The share of the United States in the cost of the survey will be $65,000.

The Bayne-Bynum Affair Dropped.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The Bayne-Byhum affair was quickly disposed of in the House. Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia, asked Mr. Bayne if he endorsed the charges contained in Campbell's letter, so far as they applied to him (Wilson) and Mr. Bayne replied, expressing regret that the controversy had occurred and denied that he intended any reflection on either Mr. Bynum or Mr. Wilson, and that the gentlemen had misunderstood him. Mr. Wilson then said he had no further statement to make and the subject was dropped.

Candidates for Sergeant-at-Arms.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Col. Canaday has not yet handed in his resignation as Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, but it will go in this afternoon to take effect July 1. Charles B. Reade, deputy Sergeant-at-Arms, who announced on Saturday that he would withdraw from the contest for the position in favor of Mr. Valentine, has reconsidered his determination, and announces again his candidacy for the position. Col. Wm. Bailey, of Pennsylvania, is also a candidate.

SHOT HIM FOR KICKING.

Mrs. Burgess Puts a Bullet Into a Jealous and Noisy Boarder.

ROCKLAND, Me., May 20.—Albion H. Titus, who has been boarding at the house of Mrs. Charles Burgess, became displeased because Mr. Burgess returned from a sea voyage and took his own wife out for a drive. Titus went to the house about 10 o'clock, and knocking at the door demanded his effects. He finally kicked out the panels of the door, and Mrs. Burgess fired a revolver from the other side.

The bullet struck Titus in the left side and inflicted what the surgeons say may prove a fatal wound. Titus was taken into the house and cared for by Mr. and Mrs. Burgess until the police arrived and arrested the woman. Before she left the house she kissed her husband and Titus and expresed a hope for his recovery. She claims that the shooting was justifiable.

THE BURNING SHAFT.

Many Dwellings in the Neighborhood Have Been Vacated.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., May 20.—The work of turning the creek into the burning Neilson shaft has been going on for the past 24 hours, but the water has not yet reached the mine. Six men went down the shaft to examine into the condition of the 750-foot level. They had nearly reached their destination when they were overcome by gas, and all were rendered unconscious. They were all rescued by a volunteer squad and were restored to consciousness. One of the men was badly bruised in being dragged out of the mine.

Many dwellings in the neighborhood have been vacated, as it is feared that fire may be communicated to them in case the gas reaches the flames below.

TORTURED BY BOYS.

Fiendish Treatment of a New Hampshire Lad by Companions.

MANCHESTER, N. H., May 20.—Two boys named Lucie Danielson and Alex. Anderson took Charles B. Howe, a delicate lad, into an outhouse and treated him in a manner that would put to blush the most hardened pirate of old.

They began their torturous work by sticking pins into nearly every part of the poor boy's body and then poured boiling water upon him.

They then burned his face with powder and tried hard to push him into the vault. They did not succeed in this and left him insensible, in which condition he was afterwards found.

Young Howe's condition is extremely critical and the boys have been arrested.

Powderly Not Guilty.

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 20.—The Callighan conspiracy case against General Master Workman Powderly, John R. Byrne and Peter Wise was called up in the criminal court. Callighan testified that the three had conspired against him to defeat him in his renomination to the Legislature. Mr. Powderly testified that he had never in any way attempted to injure Callighan. The jury after being out a few minutes rendered a verdict of not guilty, the county to pay the cost.

The Bodies All Taken Out.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 20.—All of the bodies of the victims of the recent disaster at the Hartford mine at Ashley are now believed to have been taken from the wrecked pits, except those entirely consumed by the flames. An endeavor to ascertain the condition of the interior of the mine is now being made. The loss to the company will be very heavy. The coroner's inquest will be held to-morrow.

Price of Rubber to be Advanced.

NEW YORK, May 20.—A cable received by a Wall street firm states that the chief English rubber manufacturers are holding a meeting at Manchester to establish new price lists on account of the advance in crude rubber. Prices had already been advanced, but a still further increase is looked for, as the reduction in stocks of crude is expected to continue until next season.

HOSTILITY AROUSED

Newfoundland Delegates Create Trouble in Montreal.

THE BOARD OF TRADE EXCITED.

The English Members Condemn Great Britain and the French May Resign.

London Newspapers Attack Gladstone—Big Victory of the French in Dahomey—Boulangists to Reorganize—Ex-Empress Eugenie's Health Completely Wrecked—Stanley Congratulated by the Queen.

MONTREAL, May 20.—Great Britain was strongly denounced at a big meeting of the Montreal Board of Trade for its action in the Newfoundland fishery question. The Board was called to meet Messrs. Green, Morrison and Powers, the Newfoundland delegates, now in Canada in connection with the French shore question.

The Newfoundlanders demand the repeal of the modus vivendi entered into between Great Britain and France without their consent, and some time ago appointed a delegation to go to Canada to secure the support of the Dominion. The delegation has been warmly received in all the English provinces, but great hostility has been aroused by their mission in the French province of Quebec, and the French Board of Trade passed a resolution denouncing any attempts to interfere with French rights in America.

The Montreal Board of Trade contains many French members, and there was a lively time at the meeting. Great Britain was strongly denounced by the English members, and the French members upheld the French course.

The delegates said the people of Newfoundland demanded that the French should be got rid of in some honorable and legitimate menner, and the situation had come to such a point that they would not stand it any longer.

J. X. Perreault, President of the French Board of Trade, said France would not cede one iota of her rights in America, and there would be war. The French Canadians would side with France in any trouble.

D. A. P. Watt, a leading shipper, denounced Great Britain. No country, he said, had suffered as much as Canada from Downing street rule. Owing to it Canada had lost Maine, and if the Canadians had only done what the Newfoundlanders were now doing, Canada would still own Maine. Downing street should be taught that it must pay more attention to Canadian interests, and he trusted the Newfoundland people would protest with all their power until they secured Newfoundland for the Newfoundlanders.

Despite the protests of the French members strong resolutions were passed protesting against the treatment of the Newfoundlanders by Great Britain, and calling upon the the imperial Government to effect some arrangement whereby for an equivalent the fishing privileges would be voluntarily surrendered by the French Government.

This action has caused great indignation among the French members, who threaten to resign from the Board.

GLADSTONE ATTACKED.

English Newspapers Indignant Over His Siberia-Ireland Speech.

LONDON, May 20.—Several of the Liberal papers condemn Mr. Gladstone's comparison of the atrocities perpetrated by Russian officials upon exiles in Siberia with the Mitchelstown, Ireland, affair.

The Standard says it cannot find language to adequately express its disgust at the parallel drawn by Mr. Gladstone. What can be thought, it asks, of a man who is trying to persuade his countrymen that a confused street riot can be classed with the deliberate flogging of naked women and kindred barbarities. It shocks one's moral sense to find that a party leader has reached a stage of rancor where truth, decency and self-respect are obliterated.

The St. James' Gazette says that in making such a comparison Mr. Gladstone showed himself an unstripped and battered adventurer, sticking at nothing.

Ex-Empress Eugenie in Poor Health.

LONDON, May 20.—News comes from Wiesbaden that the ex-Empress Eugenie, who is living there in strict retirement under the name of Countess de Pierrefond, is suffering terribly from rheumatism, which does not yield to the effects of the waters nor to skillful medical treatment. The once beautiful Eugenie, who has recently passed her sixty-fourth birthday, is completely wrecked in body and spirits.

French Victory in Dahomey.

PARIS, May 20.—The Temps publishes a dispatch from Senegal stating that the French have captured Segou and Anosebougou after conflicts with the Dahomians. The forces of the Dahomians at the battle at Anosebougou, which took place on April 25, numbered 1,500. All of them were killed. The French loss was 15 killed and 72 wounded.

Stanley Congratulated.

LONDON, May 20.—A gracious letter of congratulation has been sent by the Queen to Henry M. Stanley on the occasion of the announcement of his betrothal. Strong pressure will now be brought to bear upon the explorer to induce him to accept the honors of English knighthood and retire on his laurels.

Boulangists Will Reorganize.

PARIS, May 20.—The Boulangists have decided to reorganize their party chiefly for the purpose of keeping their wing of the Chamber of Deputies intact.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY.

A Horse Dashes Through North and Park Avenues at Great Speed, and is Captured on West Front Street by Harrison Randolph—Two Ladies Injured.

At about half-past ten o'clock this morning, a sorrel horse attached to a village cart, the same being owned by Mrs. Dumont of Dunellen, ran away from Mr. R. L. Burnett's residence on Hillside avenue, which resulted in the complete demolition of the cart, besides throwing out and injuring Miss Dumont of Dunellen, and Miss Mollie Lawrence, a sister of Mrs. Burnett.

The two ladies had just started to drive into town, when the horse became unmanageable and ran away. Turning into Broadway from Hillside avenue, at a point known as "Fox's Corner" the ladies were thrown out in the roadway, Miss Dumont receiving injuries of so serious a nature that it was found necessary to immediately summon Dr. Murray. Miss Lawrence suffered only from shock.

The horse ran on and turned into North avenue, upsetting the cart in front of Mr. A. D. Thompson's produce market. The animal then made a bee-line for Smalley Bros. butcher shop nearly opposite, where the cart struck a butcher wagon, reducing the cart into kindling wood. The horse again started out on his mad career, and when turning into Park avenue, the runaway collided with a phæton belonging to Mr. Charles Potter, Jr. Several other wagons were struck on Park avenue and West Front street, but none of them were badly damaged. The animal was subsequently captured by Harrison Randolph on West Front street, near Music Hall.

The runaway horse also dished a wheel on a carriage owned by Mr. David W. Pond, of the Pond Machine Tool company, which was standing in front of a store on West Front street.

The runaway created great excitement, and it is considered almost wonderful that more persons were not injured. Dr. Murray, the attending physician, reports that Miss Dumont's injuries are of a serious nature, but the full extent of them cannot be determined for several days to come.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. Joseph S. Pike has been engaged as night clerk at Hotel Netherwood.

They will insert an advertisement for three months for 45 cents, and send the paper free. The paper itself advertises: "Wanted! 100 new subscribers. Eggs taken in payment and trust given until the speckled pullet lays."

Mrs. Mary A. Thorn, mother of Mr. Guillermo Thorn, the photographer, died at the home of her son, 161 East Second street, yesterday. She was in the 77th year of her age, and since a paralytic stroke of just six months ago, has been a terrible sufferer. She was so broken down by pain, and so emaciated, that her death had been expected many times; but the great vitality she inherited from her father kept her alive for days after it was impossible to feed her anything but wine or beef tea by half-teaspoonfuls.

Miss Adelaide Frances McGee and the Rev. Herbert Welch, will be married, as already announced in these columns, in the Methodist Episcopal church, on Tuesday evening, June 3, at seven o'clock. Miss McGee is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McGee of Washington Park. She is prominently identified with all the charitable work in the community. Mr. Welch is a New York gentleman, the son of wealthy parents, but he has adopted from choice the labor of saving souls and ministering to the righteous wants of the poor. Miss McGee and Mr. Welch met while both were engaged in a trip to Colorado.

A PURSE FOR MR. FITZHUGH.

The Plainfield Choral Society Close the Season With Money in the Bank, and Organize for Another Year—The Old Officers Reelected—A Great Music Treat Follows.

A large representation of the Plainfield Choral Society, with their friends, attended the combined annual meeting and social at the Crescent Avenue chapel last evening. After the meeting was called to order by the President, W. W. Howland, the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mr. Nelson W. Runyon, who also gave a resume of the season's work. The treasurer's report was read by Mr. H. O. Newman, the principal feature of which was that, for the first time in the history of Plainfield, its vocal society ended a season with a bank account of about twenty dollars.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows—there being no change except in the position of librarian:

President—W. Wallace Howland.
Vice President—C. W. McCutchen.
Treasurer—H. O. Newman.
Secretary—Nelson W. Runyon.
Librarian—Nelson Y. Hull.
Directors—D. E. Davis, H. A. McGee and R. J. Shaw.

Mr. Newman made a motion for an amendment to the constitution to the effect that the dues of the active members should be for the ladies $2.50 and for the gentlemen $5, payable in advance. An amendment was made by Mr. W. R. Richards to the effect that the dues be payable in installments at the beginning of the season, and after the first and second concerts, which amendment was accepted by Mr. Newman, and the motion was carried. Mr. Howland moved and it was carried, that a new article be placed in the constitution to the effect that the society be limited to one hundred and fifteen members.

On motion of Mr. Newman, a vote of thanks was extended to the Trustees of the M. E. church for the use of Vincent chapel for rehearsals, also to the Trustees of the Crescent Avenue church for the use of its chapel upon the present occasion, and to the press of the city for favors received.

The musical programme that followed consisted of the following selections:

Griffen's Plumbers Strike.

The plumbers in the employ of A. M. Griffen, who have been getting $3.00 a day, demanded last Friday $3.50 for themselves and $4.00 for Foreman Addis. Their employer had a long talk with them, and fairly laid before them the state of the case as it stood. He now charges his customers 55 cents an hour, of which he gives 49 cents to his men. If he acceded to their demands he would have to charge his customers 65 cents an hour. Mr. Griffen explained how that would not do when other shops were still charging only 55 cents.

The men have thereupon left and started a shop for themselves. Mr. Griffen will only be discommoded for a day or two, until new men arrive.

The Systematic Beneficence of Plainfield's Presbyterians.

The statistical schedule prepared by the standing committee of systematic beneficence for the year ending March 31, 1890, submitted to the Presbytery of Elizabeth, at this city, April 16, gives the following figures of interest concerning the contributions made by Dr. Ketcham's and the Rev. Mr. Richards' congregations. When a comparison of membership is made, Dr. Ketcham's people are shown to have been very generous.

The Crescent Avenue church's contributions were as follows: Home missions, $3,107; Foreign missions, $2,642; Church erection, $200; Sabbath school work, $160; Freedmen, $245; Education, $555; Ministerial relief, $600; Aid for colleges, $140; Synodical home missions, $210; Other benevolent objects, $1,867; Total, $9,726. This is an average of $13.29 for each of the 732 members.

The First Presbyterian church gave: Home missions, $349.02; Foreign missions, $382.69; Church erection, $35.19; Sabbath school work, $72.70; Freedmen, $25.84; Education, $19.25; Ministerial relief, $29.19; Aid for colleges, $18.39; Synodical home missions, $16 81; Other benevolent objects, $176.39; Total, $1,125.47. This is an average of $3.80 on a membership of 296.

George Thatcher Serenaded by His Old Companions.

After the performance of Primrose & West's minstrels, last evening, the band which accompanies the troupe, proceeded to the home of George Thatcher, and took Plainfield's genial citizen completely by surprise. They tendered him a serenade, performing "He's a jolly good fellow," Schubert's serenade, and a medley of George's latest songs prepared expressly for the occasion. Three times three cheers were given for their old companion, "The Minstrel's Friend," George Thatcher; and three more hearty cheers followed the voices that added "Three cheers for George Thatcher's Minstrels."

The proprietors of the organization had nothing to do with this little impromptu recognition of "Our George's" many manly qualities, by his old friends, nor with the expressions of regret at his absence as a co-laborer in their minstrel company during the season just closing. The evening, and far into the morning, was passed in recalling old times over a hearty spread of the good things of life, with an occasional extemporaneous speech or a song, closing with the ever welcome: "Auld Lang Syne."

Look Out for Frost.

The Apollo of Belvidere says: "The late frosts have done considerable damage to strawberry plants. Well 'we told you so' last February during those foggy days that a fog in February means frost in May, following same dates, and to those critics who did not follow our advice in February and mark their calendars for frosts during this month, I will now 'sound the gong of danger' again. Look out for heavy frosts frosts May 24, 25, 26, and 28, and if you have any garden plants of a tender nature such as frosts effect generally, just 'kiver' them up on the above dates to save their scalps, those of you who enjoy a dish of Boston baked beans, for instance, or lovers of tomatoes, as the frost will slay all such plants that have put their heads above mother earth.

Union County's Assemblymen Against Horse Racing.

In spite of the acknowledged opposition of the people to legalizing the race tracks in this State, the bill for such purpose was passed by the Assembly at Trenton, last evening, by a vote of 33 to 13. This community, however, has cause to be proud of the stand taken by its representatives. Of the 13 who voted against the bill, were Messrs Marsh and Voorhees of Union, and Mr. Klotz of Somerset.

Assemblyman Ulrich, of this city, was detained at home because of grave illness in his family; and he expressed his sincere regret, this morning, to a PRESS reporter, that he could not be present and recorded, as he would have been, against the bill.

The Symphonic to be Repeated.

The delightful Kinder Symphonie which was recently given in Holy Cross chapel, by the Young Daughters of the King, will be repeated in Vincent chapel on Saturday afternoon, for the benefit of the Children's Home. Everyone who enjoyed the last entertainment will be present at the repetition, and all who missed it before should avail themselves of this last opportunity. Tickets may be secured at Reynolds' and Randolph's pharmacies, or of any of the ladies of the Home Committee.

Another Centenarian Gone.

Henry Martin, of Piscatawaytown, near New Market, died Sunday afternoon, in his one hundred and first year, having passed his centennial birthday on May 13. He was one of the pioneer oyster gatherers of the Raritan, and followed the business until age overtook him. He then turned his attention for some time to terrapin hunting, in which he was very skilful.

Annual Meeting of New Jersey Physicians.

The New Jersey State Medical Society will hold their twenty-fourth annual meeting at the Heath House, Schooley's Mountain, N. J., June 10 and 11.

Hires' Root Beer is essentially a temperance drink, and, as such, ought to find a place in every larder in the land. It is so cheap, too. A 25 cent package makes five gallons.

Somerset's School Teachers Meet.

A number of the teachers of Somerset county, attended the annual meeting of their association held at Bound Brook, Saturday.

After the usual preliminary exercises and a short business session, Mr. West, of Raritan, introduced the importance of biographical study in connection with history. He maintained that the history of a nation is embodied in the lives of its great men, and that the subject thus studied would be more attractive, better adapted to young minds, would furnish examples of manly virtues, and encourage research.

"How to use the Dictionary in Schools" was treated by Miss Otis, of Somerville, and the question profitably discussed. The absurd ideas which pupils have regarding the shades of meaning of a word are an evidence of the discouragements to be met in this department of schoolwork.

Then followed the President's address. In a forcible way he showed that decision and determination are the requisites of success. He expressed a hope that the Association, which had been nourished upon this principle, would continue its good work.

Election of officers for the ensuing year, resulted as follows: President—Miss Ada Y. Voorhees; Vice President — Frank Stryker; Secretary—Mr. Whitten; Treasurer—Miss Emma Beekman.

Miss Bartolette of Raritan, advocated the importance of physical training. The body to keep pace with mind must be systematically developed. A series of exercises for the weaker muscles is of great importance.

A paper on "Social and Moral Culture," was presented by Miss VanKirk, advocating the finding of time to develop the social and moral side of the child's nature, even at the expense of the three r's.

American Scenery.

There is probably not another ten-mile stretch of railroad in the World more varied and majestic in its surroundings than that from Point of Rocks to Harper's Ferry. The Valley of the Potomac narrows, the hills on either side rise to the stateliness of mountains, and the river flows swiftly in ripples and eddies. Just below the ferry, the river, increased by the Shenandoah's volume, becomes a torrent. On the opposite side is Loudon Heights, a sentinel of the Blue Ridge, dark and frowning. Beyond Virginia and into West Virginia, the base of the two States and ending in the swift flowing stream which separates them, Bolivar Heights start abruptly up with Harper's Ferry at their feet. The train, still upon the opposite side, winds beneath Maryland Heights, 1,300 feet high. The meeting of these three mighty forest-crowned masses, the two rivers becoming but one, the long vista up the Potomac, in the foreground the steel bridge and behind it John Brown's Fort and the old fashioned houses of the town, the ruins of the arsenal whose two tall chimneys alone remain, Jefferson's Rock high on the heights, and over all a September sky—expression fails the theme.

The scene described above can be viewed from the windows of the Vestibuled Trains running between the great cities of the East and West via Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. All B. & O. trains run via Washington.

The Imperial Limited.

The Reading Railroad, in conjunction with the Baltimore and Ohio and Jersey Central, will shortly put a magnificently equipped train in each direction on the New York and Washington line. The train will be known as the "Imperial Limited," and will be composed of five cars, which are to be painted light blue, with silver trimmings, and it it proposed to have placed on the outside panels the coats-of-arms of the States through which the trains run. These trains are being built by the Pullman company, and will be vestibuled throughout. The cars are to be finished in carved mahogany, with the ceilings in antique oak, handsomely decorated. The saloons are fitted up with a marble-top washstand and silver-plated fixings. These cars are to be equipped with reclining arm chairs instead of ordinary seats, and in each car there will be a commodious smoking compartment. It is proposed to have a colored attendant in charge, and in fact to make them as comfortable and as handsomely equipped as a Pullman parlor car, without charging any additional fare. This idea originated with President Corbin, and it is his intention to make the "Imperial Limited" the handsomest train in the World. These cars will all have the "Pullman anti-telescoping steel frame," which makes them exempt from danger of injury in case of a collision.

In the City Court.

Before the City Judge this morning, Mrs. Miner, of Stiger alley, charged Mrs. Kennedy, another resident there, with using foul and indecent language. The defendant was given a hearing, and Judge Codington reserved his decision.

Two Sunday gamblers arrested by the police, were given a hearing before the City Judge, yesterday afternoon. The Judge also reserved his decision in this case.

A Great Cry for More Women

Has been going up from the far West for a good many years. But the cry is not for pale, haggard, debilitated women. The pushing Western men are not anxious for beauty, but they need healthy wives. A great cry for health is coutinually going up from thousands of women, young and old, all over the earth. Countless remedies have appeared in answer. A few have succeeded, and none hold a higher place than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a sure cure for all those ailments peculiar to the sex.

Funeral of Eleanor M. Mathews.

The funeral of the late Eleanor Maxwell Mathews, who died on Saturday, took place from her late home No. 3 First place at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and from the Crescent Avenue church at three o'clock. The Rev. W. R. Richards presided, and spoke eulogistically of Mrs. Mathews. A quartette choir sang beautiful and appropriate music.

Today the remains were taken to Brooklyn and interred in the Friends burying ground in Prospect Park.

Valuable Real Estate Changes Hands.

The desirable property on West Front street, owned by the Berry estate and occupied by Mr. S. C. Peck, which was put up at public auction last week and bought in by the heirs on a bid of $14,500, has been disposed of at private sale for $13,500, Messrs W. L. Hetfield of this city and R. V. Lindabury of Elizabeth, becoming equal owners of the property.

Chasing the Coal Train Jumpers.

Special Officer Hope had a hard chase after three coal train jumpers, yesterday afternoon. The men finally eluded the officer and made good their escape, after a run of about two miles.

Lasters' Strike Amicably Settled.

EAST WEYMOUTH, Mass., May 20.—The lasters' strike at Edwin Clapp's shoe factory was amicably settled. All the departments resumed work to-day.

Dyspepsia causes depraved blood, which, in time, affects every organ and function of the body. As a remedy for these troubles, nothing can approach Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It vitalizes the blood, strengthens the stomach, and corrects all disorders of the liver and kidneys.

Indigestion

Is not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

First Catch Your Hare

Reads an old recipe; that's well enough in Culinary matters, but it dosen't do to wait until you Cut, Seald or Burn yourself, and then run for a bottle of CARL KAERTH'S

"Instantaneous Liniment."

A much wiser plan is to spend 25c., and keep a bottle in the house.

Ask your Druggist for it.

Pugilist Jackson Won the Battle With Ed. Smith

THE FIGHT DECIDED ON POINTS.

Muldoon Enthusiastic Over His Man's Showing and Sends Out a Challenge.

Jemmy Carney Anxious for a Fight. Work on the Diamond—Both New York Clubs Win a Game—Ward's Brooklyn Club Takes Four Straight from Comiskey's Combination.

CHICAGO, May 20.—Ed. Smith, champion of Colorado, sent four thousand men frantic with enthusiasm in Battery D last night by standing up under five rounds of the hardest hitting that Peter Jackson has ever done. Four ounce gloves were used.

In the first round Jackson sent his opponent to his knees twice in as many seconds, and nobody imagined that he could stand up another round. When time was called, however, he exhibited renewed vitality and gave the colored man a succession of neck and body blows, although he himself went to the floor three times.

In the next three rounds it was give and take, each man getting some severe blows and driving each other round the ring.

The referee gave the fight to Jackson on points. Billy Muldoon, Smith's trainer, telegraphed to the sporting resorts East and West, offering to match his man against any man living, barring Sullivan, Jackson and McAuliffe, for a finish fight for $5,000 a side.

More Baseball Scheming.

BROOKLYN, May 20.—Another baseball deal is on the tapis that if carried out will result in the disruption of the International League and the dropping of Brooklyn by the American Association with Detroit as its successor. It is said that the American Association will jump at the chance to take in Detroit. President Mills is not in favor of the scheme as he does not want to pose as a wrecker.

Jemmy Carney's Bold Challenge.

NEW YORK, May 20.—A cablegram from London has been received stating that Jemmy Carney had posted £100 forfeit with Sporting Life to fight any man in England, America or Australia for £1,000 a side and the light-weight championship of the world, the battle to be decided on the Continent or under the auspices of the Pelican Club, four or six months from signing the articles, McAuliffe, Myers or Carroll preferred.

Kicked to Death.

WOODVILLE, N. H., May 20.—Will J. Emery, of Wentworth, was kicked to death last night by W. H. Shaw. The latter was intoxicated, and is under arrest.

SUITS FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

The Mine Workers to Put a Stop to Wholesale Slaughter.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 20.—Robert Watchorn, secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, has arrived here. Mr. Watchorn has entered eight suits for damages for loss of life in the Nottingham cases against the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company, and counsel was instructed to bring criminal action against the general and assistant superintendents and bosses at the various mines for manslaughter. The warrants are to be issued in a few days.

The long number of accidents in the Wyoming coal fields has attracted the attention of the mine workers' organization, and they are determined, if possible, to put an end to the wholesale slaughter in the mines.

RUN DOWN BY A TRAIN.

The Driver of a Street Car Ground to Pieces and Passengers Injured.

CAMDEN, N. J., May 20.—A car of the Broadway and Sixth Street horse-car line was struck and partly demolished by a West Jersey Railroad passenger train at Walnut street crossing a few minutes before 8 o'clock last night.

The driver, John Walls, was ground to pieces and three passengers were injured. Mrs. Hester Pennington, colored, was taken to a hospital in a dangerous condition. Mrs. Hall had a leg broken. Mary Darkin, aged six, had her legs cut and bruised and her lips cut.

There were several other passengers in the car at the time, but they escaped with a severe shaking up. During the day the crossing is in charge of a watchman, but after nightfall is unprotected.

AMONG THE BAPTISTS.

Over 3,000 Laymen in Attendance at the National Anniversary.

CHICAGO, May 20.—It is estimated that over 3,000 laymen are present at the National Baptist anniversaries now in session here.

The anniversaries will continue until May 28, and the time has been apportioned between the following system of church government:

Women's Baptist Home Missionary Society, Mrs. J. N. Crouse, President; American Baptist Publication Society, Hon. Samuel A. Croizer, President; Women's Baptist Foreign Mission Society, Mrs. Gardner Colby, President; American Baptist Missionary Union, Mrs. G. M. Northrup, President; American Baptist Home Mission Society, Hon. C. M. Kingsley, President, and the American Baptist Educational Society.

An Old Hotel Proprietor Kills Himself.

NEW YORK, May 20.—S. H. Crook, the proprietor of Crook's Hotel, Nos. 114 and 118 Park Row, shot himself in the morning in his private apartments at the hotel and died shortly after noon. Mr. Crook has been connected with hotels since 1836. The refusal of the excise commissioners to grant a license for his hotel preyed upon his mind, and it is supposed by his friends to be the only motive for the rash act. Mr. Crook was 74 years old and leaves a widow and married daughter.

Hunting for the Fighting Mayor.

CEDAR KEYS, Fla., May 20.—Mayor Cottrell has up to the present writing been tracked down to within 48 hours. He has the advantage of the sailors, however, in a perfect knowledge of the country, though it is hoped that if they are unable to unearth their man they may run him out of his hiding place in the swamps to the high ground where he cannot fail to be captured. The town is virtually under martial law and the United States revenue steamer McLane is guarding the place.

Riggs Was Shot Accidentally.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 20.—An inquest was held last night over the body of Charles G. Riggs, who was shot by his intimate friend, Lawyer Robert E. Drake. The jury brought in a verdict of accidental shooting but censured Drake for the careless use of the firearm. Drake was released. Riggs' body will be taken to his home at Port Leyden for burial.

The Road Will be Built.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., May 20.—The Woonsocket & Pascoag Railroad projectors say there is a slight obstacle at present to the consummation of the lease to the New York & New England Railroad, but there is no doubt that the road will be built and a lease made to one of the corporations seeking the line.

Bob Wallace Arrested.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Young Robert Wallace nephew of John H. Wallace, editor of Wallace's Monthly, and who it is alleged stole $50,000 from his uncle last week, has been arrested in Havana by the authorities there. Inspector Byrnes received a dispatch from Havana to that effect, and immediately sent a man down to bring Wallace back.

Building Laborers Decide Not to Strike.

BOSTON, May 20.—At a meeting of the Building Laborers' Union it was voted not to strike for an advance in wages. It was feared that a strike would have an injurious effect upon the carpenters' eight-hour movement. The union also voted not to work on buildings being erected by master builders employing non-union carpenters.

Musgrave Discharged.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Thomas B. Musgrave, of the Union League Club, who was arrested on the charge of sending obscene mail matter to Augustus G. Iasigi about the Astor family, was discharged by Judge Gorman on the ground that there was no evidence against the accused.

Horses and Cattle Burned.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 20.—John Mitchell's barn at Cobble Hill, Lincoln, was burned during the night with 46 cows and five horses. Loss $8,000. Insurance $6,000. It was probably incendiary.

Senator Jones Declared Insane.

DETROIT, Mich., May 20.—Ex-United States Senator Charles W. Jones, of Florida, was adjudged insane and committed to St. Joseph's Retreat by Probate Judge Durfee.

A QUESTION.

Do you think it wrong to give presents? I don't.
Cash ought to be encouraged.
Think of the time it takes to charge.
I believe on a cash basis.
On that basis I am working.
No one can disagree with me.
All would be better off.
Ready money is what tells.
You had better try it, if you have'nt.

LAND LOAN BUREAU

A Bill Read in the Senate for Its Establishment.

THE LAST PLEA FOR KEMMLER.

The United States Supreme Court Reserves Its Decision Until Friday.

The Cabinet Adheres to Last Season's Policy Regarding Behring Sea Fisheries—Daggett's Postal Card Contract Goes On—Assessing a House on the Canadian Line—Convention of Brewers.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Senator Stanford introduced a bill to provide for making loans on lands and to establish a land loan bureau in the Treasury Department. The chief and deputy chief shall be appointed by the President, with salaries of $6,000 and $5,000 respectively. The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to prepare ready for issue United States circulating notes of the denominations of $5, $10, $20, $50, $100, $500 and $1,000 to the amount of $100,000,000, and additional amounts as they may become necessary, to be placed to the credit of the land loan bureau. These notes shall be full legal tender for public and private debts, except interest on the public debt or in redemption of the national currency.

Any citizen of the United States, or any person who has declared his intention to become such, who owns unincumbered agricultural land, may apply to the land loan bureau for a loan from these certificates, to be secured by lien on such land, the loan not to accede half the assessed value of the land. No loan shall be made upon land of less than $500 in value, nor in sums less than $250, nor for longer time than twenty years. The loans shall bear interest at the rate of two per cent. per annum, payable annually, and may be paid at any time in sums of not less than 25 per cent. of the whole amount.

The Secretary of the Treasury shall cancel and retire amounts of notes equal to the payments made on loans; and in case payment is made in other currency of the United States, he shall cancel an equal amount of the notes issued under this act. In case of default of payment of interest or principal of the loan, the chiefs of the bureau may order a foreclosure of the lien in a United States Circuit Court.

Counsel fees in any case to be added to the judgment shall not exceed five hundred dollars.

The bill provides that the rule of the common law, that statutes in derogation thereof, are to be strictly construed and shall have no application to this act. This act establishes the law respecting the subject to which it relates, and its provisions and all proceedings under it are to be liberally construed, with a view to effect its object.

KEMMLER'S CASE.

The United States Supreme Court Will Render a Decision on Friday.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The decision of the Supreme Court in the Kemmler case will probably be rendered on Friday.

Roger M. Sherman, who made the application that secured Kemmler a reprieve, appeared for the condemned murderer. He based his argument on the 14th Amendment to the Federal Constitution, which provides that "no state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law," and on the 8th amendment, which provides that "cruel and unusual punishments shall not be inflicted."

Mr. Sherman also held that the Warden of the penitentiary at Auburn was given too great discretion by the law. It conferred upon him a power which had heretofore been solely confided to the court.

Attorney-General Taber argued that the law in question had been passed by the New York Legislature for the purpose of lessening the pains and sufferings of execution and the Supreme Court had not the right under the Constitution to interfere.

He characterized as absurd the proposition of Mr. Sherman that a criminal has the right to demand that his death shall be by rope, instead of such other means as the law of the State in which he lived when the crime was committed might determine.

Built Across the Border.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The Collector of Customs at Plattsburg, N. Y., has informed the Treasury Department that his deputy at Front River, N. Y., reports that a Canadian house has recently been moved in such a manner as to place it directly upon the boundary line between this country and Canada, thereby placing one-half of the house within the United States and the other half in Canada. Assistant Secretary Tichenor has ordered the Collector to assess duty upon the whole house with reference to its component materials.

Daggett's Contract.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Another settlement was reached in the controversy which has been going on between the Postoffice Department officials and Al. Daggett, the postal-card contractor. Postmaster-General Wanamaker has decided to accept the Wilkinson paper, and Mr. Daggett will now be in a better position to carry out the terms of the contract.

Considered by the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The question of the Behring Sea fisheries was considered at the Cabinet meeting, and it was decided to adhere to the policy of last season.

IRON WORKERS' DEMANDS.

The Question of Wages to be Discussed in Convention.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 21.—The main talk among the iron-workers in all the union iron mills is the work of the Amalgamated Convention, which will open up in this city two weeks from to-day. The main question at issue this year will be an advance of fifty cents asked by the puddlers, which is to come from the firm, and a change asked by the roughers on guide-roll, in their wages, will advance them about five per cent., which is to be paid by the rollers. The puddlers say that if the finishers will not ask for an advance the firms will concede them their wages, which is to raise boiling to $6 per ton on a two cent card. Some of the finishers are willing to concede the puddlers' demand, irrespective of their own request.

RAN INTO A LANDSLIDE.

Eight Freight Cars Badly Wrecked and a Fireman Injured.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 21.—At 8 o'clock last night an extra freight train bound north ran into a landslide two miles south of Port Kent, a station twenty-seven miles south of Plattsburg, on the line of the Delaware and Hudson road.

The engine and eight freight cars were wrecked, and Fireman Howe, of Port Henry was badly injured. He was taken to a hotel at Port Kent and physicians summoned.

The Waiters' Strike.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 21.—The three hotels where strikes occurred, the Palmer, the Tremont and the Commercial, are running short-handed. The Grand Pacific Hotel and the Auditorium signed the scale of the Culinary Alliance. The hotel help are in sympathy with the striking waiters. At the Tremont House a half dozen bell boys who were asked to take the places of striking waiters went out on strike themselves. Chamber-maids, cooks and other servants have been put to work in the dining rooms, but they do the work with not a little grumbling.

Granite Business Depressed.

BARRE, Vt., May 21.—The continuance of the quarrymen's strike results in an increasing depression of the granite business. The duration of the strike has been thought to be dependent materially on the final attitude of the Granite Cutters' Union toward the quarrymen, but there has been no proof of this. A committee of the cutters' union has been investigating the situation with a view to settling the difficulty between quarry owners and their employes.

Largest Tin Plate Mill in the World.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 21.—It is expected that one of the largest tin plate mills in the world will be erected in this city. J. Davis Lewis, formerly a tin plate manufacturer in Wales, is at the head of the projected enterprise. Free sites, coupled with cash gifts, running all the way up to $50,000 have been offered by rival localities to secure the new enterprise. Pittsburg has the call, Mr. Davis says, because it is the center of the iron and steel trade and the natural gas region.

In Favor of Mrs. Parnell.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—The master in the case of Edward L. Stewart, administrator of the estate of Miss Charlotte Smith against Delia T. S. Parnell, orders that the bill be dismissed and all costs be paid by the plaintiffs. The suit was brought to recover $4,538 which Miss Smith had given Mrs. Parnell to speculate with. The master finds that Mrs. Parnell lost $2,646 in speculation and that $1,892 was paid back to Miss Smith in installments, and accordingly dismissed the case.

Abe Buzzard's Petition.

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 21.—The Board of Pardons is hearing the plea of Abe Buzzard, the famous Lancaster robber, who since 1885 has been confined in the Eastern Penitentiary. It is the prisoner's second plea for pardon, the first having been refused. His counsel H. B. Hassler, presents affidavits to prove Buzzard's innocence of the burglary for which he was indicted. Buzzard had given himself up on the hope of showing his innocence and getting pardoned.

New Jersey's Ballot Reform Bill.

TRENTON, N. J., May 21.—By a party vote the House adopted the report of the Judiciary Committee which substituted for the Republican ballot reform bill the Democratic bill, which was drafted by Senator Werts at the dictation of Governor Abbett. This action finally disposes of the Republican measure. The only one on ballot reform now before the Legislalature is the Democratic measure, which has already passed the House.

Woolen Mills Shut Down.

BOSTON, Mass., May 21.—Scott's Woolen Mills, at Saugus Centre, have shut down, throwing 100 hands out of employment. The business, which was profitable, has been dull for some time owing to large blocks in wool production and the poor state of the market.

To Strike for Nine Hours.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 21.—At a large and enthusiastic meeting of carpenters held here last night it was voted to quit work June 30 if the demand for nine hours was not granted.

Big Landslide.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 21.—A large slice of the mountain slid down upon the Baltimore & Ohio track near Confluence. The track for a quarter of a mile was carried away and the roadbed covered.

A Headless Corpse.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 21.—A man's body, with the head and one hand missing, was picked up in the harbor. It had evidently been in the water for months. Little clothing was on it.

LANGTRY'S SURPRISE

RACING ROUND A PUBLIC SQUARE

Jumping Hurdles with a Fashionable Youth at an Early Morning Hour.

Socialism Discussed by the English Lords—Parnell Predicts a General Election—Stanley to be Married in Westminster Abbey—Bismarck's Plea to the Empress Frederick.

LONDON, May 21.—Society is aghast at the latest diversions of Mrs. Langtry. A supper was given at the St. James's Theatre, at which were present Lord Lurgan and several guardsmen, with other men-about-town. Lively scenes took place, and at three in the morning it was proposed to run races around St. James's square, near by, to the astonishment of the well-tipped policemen, who grinned at the swells in evening dress, with their coats off, racing around the inclosure, with Mrs. Langtry and a couple of women, her boon companions, wrapped in fur coats, looking on and shrieking with laughter.

Charles Sugden, the actor, ran a sack race with Ernest Lawford, of the Guards, and they fell and rolled over each other in the mud. The gasmen of the St. James's Theatre then arranged hurdles for a race of 100 yards between Mrs. Langtry and Bob Bouchier, a fashionable youth, the latter allowing the Lilly 20 yards start, but he lost by two feet. After the race the party returned to the theatre, where Mrs Langtry distributed the prizes, consisting of handkerchiefs, flowers, slippers and stockings. The proceedings terminated at 6 o'clock in the morning.

LORDS AND SOCIALISTS.

England's Prime Minister Says Too Much Importance is Given to Socialism.

LONDON, May 21.—In the House of Lords the Earl of Wemyss and March, Liberal Conservative, denounced the tendency of the Government towards Socialist legislation. Parliament, he declared, seemed ready to do anything in the shape of grandmotherly legislation and to meddle with affairs that ought to be left to private initiative, like workmen's houses, the payment of wages, and the feeding and education of the poor.

The London County Council, he said, was especially inclined to predatory objects and fostered projects to abolish leaseholds and deprive landlords of their ground rents. They even proposed to take by compulsion, without compensation, property belonging to city guilds in order to apply it to what they called industrial schemes. Serious legislative bodies ought to look where Socialism was leading. It was not land alone, but every kind of property that was threatened. Freedom of contract and freedom of private enterprise were assailed. State help was substituted for self-help, thus destroying the fibre of the nation.

Lord Salisbury, the Prime Minister, admitted the existence of a strong tendency to lean upon the State on every occasion. Against this, he said, statesmen must guard. If they imposed upon the State burdens beyond its power to bear, they would create an indefinite source of expense and would ultimately produce unlimited corruption. Socialism might be defined as the State doing something that might be done by private persons for the sake of gain. Sometimes this was a very unwise thing to do, and at other times a wise thing.

Too much importance, Lord Salisbury declared, was attached to the spectre of socialism. The public could be trusted to find out what practical good lies behind the Socialist doctrine.

Parnell Predicts a General Election.

Lecture on Physical Culture.

Mr. Wm. Blaikie in his lecture last evening on Physical Culture, in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church, took occasion to say that the Y. M. C. A's of the country had done more in this direction than any other agency. He spoke of the well equipped gymnasiums connected with the buildings, and of the competent instructors trained at Springfield. He said that a man of means who wished to put some of his money where it would do the most good might not easily find a better use for it than to assist the Association of this city in providing for the young men of the place such opportunities for physical culture. The lecture was well attended.

Death of Frederick G. Mead.

The sad announcement is made today of the sudden and unexpected death of Mr. Frederick G. Mead, which occurred at his home on East Front street, at twenty minutes before one o'clock this morning, after a brief illness from brain fever. Mr. Mead's illness only dated back since Monday, when he was suddenly taken ill, his complaint finally developing into brain fever, and resulting in his death.

At the time of his demise, Mr. Mead held a responsible position with the American Bank Note Company of New York, and he was held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was a brother of Mrs. A. D. Shepard of East Front street, and another sister of his is the wife of Wm. Dean Howells, the celebrated novelist. Mrs. Mead is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Myers, who have been summoned from Colorado Springs to attend the funeral, having started from there on Monday evening. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Wandered Away From Her Home.

Mrs. Sylvester Cuff, wife of the colored coachman employed by Freeholder J. F. Hubbard, left her home, corner of Plainfield avenue and Fourth street, on Saturday evening, ostensibly to go out for a walk. As she did not return late in the evening, the family became alarmed, and a thorough search was at once instituted, but with no success. All day Sunday and on Monday the search was continued, but no tidings were obtained of the missing woman.

Yesterday, however, Captain Grant was informed by telephone that Mrs. Cuff was at Woodbridge stopping with friends, for which place Captain Grant started in a carriage this morning to bring the woman back to this city.

Mrs. Cuff, it is said, was but recently liberated from the asylum, and she will now probably be returned to that institution.

New York to Liverpool—Liverpool to London.

The Rev. Cornelius Schenck, last evening, at the request of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, of Trinity Reformed church, gave a most interesting, and at times, humorous account of his last Summer vacation trip abroad, including the story of his ocean voyage. The attendance was large, and everybody was thoroughly entertained.

The public should certainly be given an opportunity to hear Mr. Schenck's intensely pleasing description of his journey. It is better worth an admission fee than many lectures on the same subject that a high price is asked for. Mr. Schenck has proved he travels with his eyes wide open, and with his powers of intelligence, appreciation and absorbtion, well lubricated and never idle. By all means the talk should be repeated, and the public notified.

Saturday's Game.

Crescent League—Martin, ss; Lufbery, 2d b; Wiegand, 1st b; Jones, c; Lee, 3d b; Gillis, cf; Livingston, p; Walker, lf; McMurray, rf.

Who is He?

The following item telephoned from this city to the Home News of New Brunswick, appeared in that paper on Monday, under the heading "A Physician to be Sued:"

This treatment had been pursued till a consultation of physicians was held, and it was found that the man's hip was broken and he had erysipelas.

Five bands of mercy have already been organized in Plainfield, namely: The Unitarian, Friends' First day school, the Harned Academy, Catholic Parochial, and in one of the Public Schools. THE YACHT "SANDANONA."

Mr. Clark W. Evans' Handsome Boat on Which He is Entertaining the Swell People of Virginia, in the Port of Hampton.

The interest of the guests at Hygeia Hotel, Old Point Comfort—but more especially the interest of the charming young tutoresses at the Hampton Institutes, and the susceptible young daughters of the F. F. V's of that vicinity—has been centered for the past few weeks in the handsome schooner yacht "Sandanona," which has been riding proudly in the bay off Hampton and within gun shot of Fortress Monroe. Aboard as the guest of her owner, Clark Wright Evans, Esq., formerly of Plainfield, was Mr. Sydney Fry of London. Consequently the thoughts of the fair ones about, were naturally aboard the "Sandanona," also.

Large parties of Northern people guests at the Hotel, and parties composed of the officers of the Fort and their families, and permanent residents of Hampton and Newport News, have visited the yacht and been entertained by its courteous owner during its stay in that vicinity. All have been charmed with the beauty of the boat, and the younger girls have "gone wild over it," and pronounced it "just too lovely!" No cost has been spared in its construction, nor expense in its finishing and furnishing. It contains a comfortable cabin, library and dining room; four private staterooms, toilet and bath rooms; kitchen and butler's pantry.

The "Sandanona" is built for any service, and her crew would gladly start for Europe in her today. Captain Stiles, who is in command, is the same Capt. "Jim Stiles" that the Rev. Dr. Ketcham, Councilman McCutchen, and other Plainfield lovers of a life on the bounding wave, have always looked for when they've gone down Tuckerton way for a cruise. He says the "Sandanona" will sail any seas. The second officer is Mate Herbert Stiles, who isn't even afraid of Satan, off shore. This Summer the "Sandanona"—which title is Indian for "Sunlight"—will cruise off Long Branch and Newport.

A Remarkable Showing.

The Home Building and Loan Association, of this city, in its second annual statement makes the following remarkable showing:

The expense for the year has been $430.62, which is at the rate of 28 cents per share. If we deduct the amount received from entrance fees and fines, $288.18, the net cost is only $142-44, which is at the rate of about 9 cents per share. Contrast this with the amount demanded by National Associations for handling the same amount of money, which would be $2 to $2.40 per share for the same time, and you will see the vastly greater economy of our local association.

The officers of the Association are: Isaac W. Rushmore, President; J. W. Jackson, Vice President; S. R. Struthers, Secretary; Wm F. Arnold, Treasurer; Wm. F. Stillman, Attorney.

The Ball This Evening.

The "Merry Five," of this city and Bound Brook, will hold their first grand ball, this evening, at Bound Brook Hall. The Committee of Arrangements, which consists of Messrs M. Caufield, C. Angerbauer and W. Corness, have spared no pains whatever to make the occasion one of pleasure and enjoyment. Prof. O'Reilly of this city will furnish the music for dancing. During the evening refreshments will be served in abundance.

Fined for Riding on the Sidewalk.

Mr. Eli Long, Jr., of Grove street, North Plainfield, appeared before Justice Hardy in Warren Engine house at seven o'clock, last evening, to answer to a charge of riding a bicycle on the sidewalk, preferred by Thos. Lees. He was fined two dollars and costs. The case was more of a test than anything else, and was simply brought to test the borough ordinance bearing on the subject.

Westfield's Drunks and Disorderlies.

John Kelly and Thos. Casey, two well-known characters about Westfield, were arraigned before Justice Hart, last evening, on a charge of disorderly conduct around the railroad station on Saturday night. Kelly pleaded not guilty, and his hearing was set down for Saturday evening. Casey admitted the charge and sentence was reserved.

Fifteenth Wedding Anniversary.

School Trustee T. L. Thomas and wife, of Dunellen, celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage at their home on Monday evening, and the occasion was one long to be remembered by those who participated. About seventy-five persons were present and enjoyed an evening of real pleasure. The presents and supper were of the very best.

—Janitor Hope of the Bryant school building found a bicycle in the vicinity of the school this morning. It is advertised in another column.

Get well and stay well. But how shall we do it?
Listen my friend, and the secret I'll tell,
Though, for that matter, there's no secret to it,
As many a man understands very well.
If you're low spirited, gloomy, depressed,
If nothing tastes good and your nights bring no rest,
If your stomach is foul and your mouth seems much fouler,
And so cross you become that they call you a "growler,"
Be sure that the trouble is due to your liver;
And the blood is as sluggish as sometimes a river
Becomes when it's filled with all manner of stuff
Clear it out and the current runs smoothly enough.
Go to the drug store and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great blood-purifier and liver invigorator. It is a sure cure for the low spirits and general depression a man feels when his liver is inactive and his blood impure. This remedy makes a man well.

CONDEMNING STATE LANDS.

Judge Depue Appoints a Commission to Appraise Land in Somerset County.

Judge Depue, of the Supreme Court, yesterday appointed, at Newark, the following commission to condemn land in Somerset county belonging to a Mrs. Collins:—James N. Thompson, of Bound Brook; James D. Bartine, of Somerville, and Calvin Carle, of Neshanic. The land in question is desired by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad for the Passaic and Delaware branch of its road in Somerset county.

Attorney General Stockton opposed the appointment of the commission on behalf of the trustees for the support of public schools, who hold a mortgage for $8,000 on 178 acres of land, a part of which is included in the proposed condemnation. The Attorney General held that the question involved the right of eminent domain, the great prerogative of the State, and insisted that a corporation which is only the agent of the State could not seize or condemn the lands of the State.

Judge Depue said he would order the money paid into court for the benefit of the school trustees.

Enclosed Grounds for Westfield.

Westfield is waking up to the needs of the present generation, but there is yet one essential thing needed in the town, and that is a proper system of street lighting, so that strangers can find their way about the place without getting stuck in the mud. The latest improvement in the town is the organization of a stock base ball club, with substantial backing. A number of the prominent and influential residents of the town have banded themselves together for the purpose of advancing out-door sports. Handsome grounds have been leased from Mr. A. A. Drake, Southeast of the railroad, and the work of grading the same has already begun. The grounds will be fenced in and a grand stand erected, and hereafter an admission fee will be charged. Architect Lent will personally superintend the erection of the grand stand.

In order to accomplish all of this work, stock has been floated at $25 a share. The number of shares is limited to eighty, and already fifty shares have been subscribed. The grounds which are bounded by Park street, Summit avenue, the Boulevard and Washington street, will not be used exclusively for base ball purposes, but athletic sports will be held there from time to time.

More New Laws.

Governor Abbett Monday night approved the following bills:

House 276, gives Common Pleas Courts power to transfer licenses for unexpired terms; House 531, makes it a misdemeanor to sell, pledge, pawn or secrete, any property borrowed, hired, leased or purchased on the installment plan; House 399, makes it a misdemeanor to hide, sell, pledge, etc., any goods bought on the installment plan.

These bills were filed without approval:

Senate 254, allows governing bodies of fourth-class cities to build sidewalks and make a lien on property when the owner of the said property refuses to build the walks; House 405, extends the time of completing certain railroads for a further term of two years.

There are now 213 chapters of laws. When the session closed last year there were 297 chapters.

Another Big Government Contract.

The Secretary of the Navy has contracts amounting to $300,000 to award this week. They are for fourteen and sixteen inch gun lathes, which will be used in the foundries at the Washington Navy Yard. Four machine firms are interested in the awards—William Sellers & Co., of Philadelphia, Bement, Miles & Co, of Philadelphia, the Niles Tool Works of Hamilton, O., and the Pond Machine Tool Company of Plainfield, N. J. The expert at the Washington yard examined the plans and figures of the different bidders on Saturday, and recommended that the award be made to Sellers and Bement, Miles & Co., jointly. The Secretary delays making the award until further examination establishes the fact that the lathes recommended are sufficiently better than those offered at a lower price to warrant a discrimination in their favor.

Dunellen and New Market School Matters.

Mr. H. Brewster Willis, Superintendent of public schools for Middlesex county, has made his annual apportionment of public school moneys among the schools of the county, for the year commencing September 1 next. The census of 1889 shows 14,663 school children in the county, and the total amount received is $67,389.20.

Piscataway Township has 863 children of school age, and the township receives $4,554.40. Included in the township is Dunellen with 309 children, New Market with 122, New Brooklyn with 131 and Piscataway with 106 children.

Fell From a Bridge at Roselle.

A young man named Thomas Williams, who is in the employ of the Wilmington, Del., Bridge company, was taken to St. Michael's Hospital in Newark on Monday evening suffering from serious injuries sustained by falling from a bridge on which he had been at work at Roselle, on the line of the Central Railroad.

Hires' Root Beer is essentially a temperance drink, and, as such, ought to find a place in every larder in the land. It is so cheap, too. A 25 cent package makes five gallons.

—The German school in the Gesang and Turner Hall, will soon close the school year, but a few more scholars will be admitted upon application to Mrs. Belter, on East Front street.

—The May term of the Court of Chancery opened at the State House in Trenton, yesterday morning. Included in the list of causes is the case of Charles Hyde vs. Henry Heywood et al in demurrer. J. B. Coward; J. A. Fay, J. H. Jackson, W. K. McClure.

All things considered, it was a very good game of ball. The Brooklyn men won with ease. There were exactly eighty spectators present, and the game netted each club about $22.50. But Ward got his men into first place in the race for the Brotherhood prize.

The following are the scores of the games played:

CHARTER OAK RACES.

There Are Only Six Subscribers for the Great $10,000 Stake.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 21.—The August races at Charter Oak Park are beginning to attract attention.

The great event is the $10,000 race, which for the past half dozen years has been the sensation of the trotting turf. This is for 2:20 horses and the subscribers are Village Farm, East Aurora, N. Y.; G. I. Killer, Norwalk; Elm City Stock Farm, New Haven; Elkton Stock Farm, Elkton, Md.; J. W. Winslow, Boston, and Glenview Farm, Louisville, Ky.

That there are only six subscribers is claimed to be due to apprehensions that Geneva S. and Aubine would appear on the track, and owners of 2:20 horses are not anxious to meet them.

ARRANGING A BATTLE.

John L. Sullivan Says He Will Fight McAuliffe Before Jackson.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Billy Madden has received word from the Golden Gate Athletic Club of San Francisco that they would like to arrange a match between Joe McAuliffe and John L. Sullivan, to take place at their club rooms.

Madden replied that Sullivan says he will fight McAuliffe before Jackson. He says for McAuliffe that the latter will fight Sullivan on his own terms and put no obstacles in his way. He requests that the club negotiate with Sullivan.

An Offer to Fighters.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 21.—Steve McMaugh, patron of sports, offers $4,000 to John L. Sullivan and Joe. McAuliffe, $2,500 to Dempsey and La Blanche, and $1,000 to Billy Myers and Jack McAuliffe to spar before the Gladstone Club of this city, the first named two pairs to engage to a finish, and the lightweights in contest for 15 rounds.

An International Prize Fight.

NEW YORK, May 21.—A special cable to a sporting paper of this city says that arrangements have been completed for an international prize fight between George Dixon, the colored pugilist of Boston, and Nunc Wallace of England, to take place in the Pelican Club for a £500 purse and the featherweight championship of the world.

Ike Weir and Jimmy Connors to Fight.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 21.—The Erie County Athletic Club decided to match Ike Weir of New York and Jimmy Connors of Buffalo for a finish match June 11th or 18th for $1,000 a side. Their attempt to get a match between Australian Murphy and Connors fell through.

Slavin's Challenge to Corbett.

NEW YORK, May 21.—A special cable received here says Frank Slavin's backer has posted a £500 forfeit and issued a challenge to fight Jem Corbett in England or America for £1,000 a side.

WRITTEN IN BLOOD.

Strange Attempt at Suicide of a Lawyer and Politician.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., May 21.—Harmon I. Kneeland, a well-known politician and attorney of this city, was found lying on the floor of his bedroom in a pool of blood. He had attempted to cut his throat with a razor.

On a pane of glass in one of the windows was found written in blood, "I am innocent." A few months ago Dudley T. Finck was thrown from an Erie train near here and killed. Kneeland was on the train at the time and became deeply affected, and has never fully recovered from the shock. He will probably survive his injuries.

A BAD COLLISION.

Two Men and Several Head of Stock Killed by a Freight Wreck.

ALTOONA, Pa., May 21.—Reports reached here of a disastrous freight wreck which occurred at Elizabeth Furnace, three miles east of here. A freight train crashed into a stock train as the latter was crossing a switch from one track to another, completely demolishing fifteen cars and an engine, also killing many head of stock.

Engineer William Boyd, of Harrisburg, is reported dead in the wreck, and his fireman, name unknown, is said to have suffered a like fate. Two brakemen are reported missing, and their names may possibly be added to the list.

WOMEN AT THE POLLS.

They Helped the Laboring Men Elect a School Board.

AUBURN, N. Y., May 21.—In the school election here the laboring men elected every commissioner. Upwards of 300 women walked to the polls and cast their votes.

With the exception of a dozen, perhaps, it was the first time they had taken advantage of this municipal suffrage. W. J. Moses was defeated. He has been a commissioner for years.

The Masked Burglar Sentenced.

RONDOUT, N. Y., May 21.—Frank Rose was sentenced to ten years and nine months at hard labor at Dannemora prison for the masked burglary committed at Riftors, Ulster County, in April 1887. In December of that year he was tried, found guilty, and sentenced to Clinton prison for ten years. The case was taken to the General Term and a new trial granted. The crime was one of the boldest that occurred in this section in years.

A Murderer Confesses His Guilt.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., May 21.—Cal Wood, who was suspected of the murder of Leander Pasco, has confessed his guilt. He says that he had no accomplice in the crime. He secreted himself beside a path in the woods, and when Pasco walked past he shot him in the back. The Wood and Pasco families have long been at war with one another.

Mowatt Captured.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., May 21.—Theodore C. Mowatt, an account of whose escape from Poughkeepsie was published yesterday, has been captured. The following telegram was received by Mrs. Mary Mowatt's counsel here: "Detective caught Mowatt at Brewsters, N.Y., with the securities. It was a hard struggle. Had to overpower him to effect his capture."

No Desire to Enforce the Liquor Law.

BOSTON, May 21.—Reports from leading cities of Massachusetts seem to indicate no general desire to enforce the liquor law on lines laid down in Boston. There are exceptions, but a feeling is apparent that the law has worked well enough as previously administered and that the cause of temperance will receive little aid from the innovation.

Stole $6,000 in Nine Years.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Charles Le Bree, collector of the Western Union Telegraph Company, has been arrested for embezzlement, and has confessed that during the past nine years he has embezzled $6,000 of the company's funds. He is 27 years old, and has been living a fast life.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 21.—At the organization meeting last night of the Republican General Committee, resolutions were adopted censuring Postmaster-General Wanamaker for retaining Postmaster Warner in office and asking for his removal by the authorities at Washington.

Silk Mills in the Sheriff's Hands.

AUBURN, N. Y., May 21.—The Logan Silk Mills have been closed by the sheriff on judgments aggregating $17,000. About 500 hands are thrown out of employment. The failure is attributed to the unsettled condition of the silk market due to tariff legislation.

A Colored Reporter Honored.

BOSTON, May 21.—Robert T. Teamon, colored, reporter of the Boston Globe, was unanimously elected a member of the Boston Press Club. He is probably the first colored man ever elected to an incorporated white man's club in Boston.

Legalizing Pool Selling.

TRENTON, N. J., May 21.—There was a hot time in the House when the bill was called up which legalizes pool selling on horse racing tracks. It was fought tooth and nail by Voorhees, Kerr and Cole, but it passed. There was a big lobby.

Vaux Elected to Congress.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—Richard Vaux was elected to Congress from the Third Congressional district to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Samuel J. Randall. There was practically no opposition.

Union Labor Nominations.

WATERVILLE, Me., May 21.—The Union Labor Convention nominated J. R. Clark for Governor; L. H. Bateman was nominated for Representative to Congress from the Third district. In the other districts no nominations were made. A State Committee was chosen and a committee to prepare an address to the voters of Maine.

Delaware Democratic Convention.

DOVER, Del., May 21.—The Democratic State Central Committee met here and selected August 12 as the date for holding the Democratic State Convention.

A QUESTION.

Do you think it wrong to give presents?
I don't.
Cash ought to be encouraged.
Think of the time it takes to charge.
I believe on a cash basis.
On that basis I am working.
No one can disagree with me.
All would be better off.
Ready money is what tells.
You had better try it, if you have'nt.

EXPOSED THE PLOT

An Alleged Conspiracy to Found a New Republic.

GENERAL OUTLINE OF THE PLAN

A Band of Filibusters Employed by Englishmen to Capture Lower California.

A Scheme to Seize a Mexican Man-of-War and Mexican Officials—Annexation to the United States the Object—A Lobby Working at Washington for the Company's Interests.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—A dispatch from San Francisco says a sensation was caused by the publication of an article giving complete details of an alleged conspiracy to capture Lower California and to found an independent republic, to be followed by annexation to the United States.

A number of prominent capitalists interested in Lower California lands and mines, and well-known citizens of Los Angeles and San Diego are involved. San Diego appears to have been the headquarters of the filibusters.

The general outline of the plan, it is claimed, was for the Mexican Land and Colonization Company, composed of wealthy Englishmen owning concessions on the peninsula, to place in the hands of a well-known San Diego capitalist $100,000 to be used in advancing the interests of the filibusters. The large warehouse of an English company at Ensenada was to be filled with arms, ammunition, and provisions, for the use of the revolutionists.

The officers of the English company claim that the policy of the Mexican officials in Lower California has been ruinous to the land interest of the company which has been obliged to expend thousands of dollars in protecting its interest, and the salvation of the company, they assert, finally depends upon securing the annexation.

A lobby has been working at Washington in the company's interest, but as the prospects of congressional action were unfavorable, a filibustering expedition was fixed upon. Two propositions were discussed. One was to capture Ensenada; the other was to introduce a large number of Americans on the peninsula, ostensibly as railroad laborers, to capture the Mexican man-of-war Democarta, and at the same time give a picnic in honor of the Mexican officials, and in the midst of the festivities capture the garrison and seize the roads and telegraph lines.

Simultaneous risings at Alamo and Tia Juana were to take place. Several meetings of the conspirators took place, and at one of these facts became known to a newspaper man. When the peninsula had been seized a provisional government was to be declared on or about August 1, and martial law was to be enforced. The land of the peninsula was to be nationalized, and, a peaceful order of things secured, negotiations for annexation to the United States would follow. The names of the projectors are given.

CANADIANS EXCITED.

Dismantling of a British Ship Will be Considered an Act of War.

OTTAWA, May 22.—Somewhat of a panic took possession of the heads of the Government here when telegraphic information of the character of the instructions issued from Washington to the Captain of the revenue cutter Bear reached them.

The impression here is that unless secret instructions have been or are to be furnished to the captains of the cruising fleet ordered to Behring Sea, interpreting for them the limits of their activity against British sealers in Behring Sea in a sense contrary to their previous understanding of those limits, serious trouble is likely to arise.

Any dismantling of a British vessel outside the admitted three mile jurisdiction, or seizure of her log book or lading of seal skins will be regarded by our authorities and people as a virtual act of war against a friendly power, and will change the whole character of the situation, which up to the last day or two was considered to wear an encouraging and promising aspect.

Killed in a Railroad Wreck.

PITTSBURG, May 22.—At Alliquippa station on the Pittsburg & Lake Erie road a gravel train collided with the rear of a south bound through freight train during a heavy fog. Engineer Rogers of the gravel train jumped from his engine. His head struck against the end of a railroad tie and was split open, killing him instantly. Conductor Munz and Fireman Robinson also jumped from the engine and were seriously injured. Robinson may die. The engine and three cars of merchandise were wrecked.

Representatives are present from New York, Chicago, St. Louis and other cities.

Six Months for Count Montercole.

A CASE OF BROKEN HEART.

Ex-Judge Masterson's Wife Drops Dead While Entering a Hotel.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Mrs. Florence R. Masterson, wife of ex-Judge Masterson of Prescott, Arizona, the man whose shooting affair in Alice Hopkinson's flat recently brought him into notoriety, died at the Grand Union Hotel, this city. She was 38 years old, much younger than her husband.

There had been an estrangement between them for some months, but when Mrs. Masterson heard of the shooting affair she started East in the hope of effecting a reconciliation with her husband and also for the purpose of seeing again her 14-year-old son, who was with his father. On arrival she wrote Mr. Masterson, requesting an interview. There was no response. She wrote again, with the same result.

Though her health had always been good, the excitement and grief drove her into a condition of nervous prostration. She called upon Dr. Adams, an old friend, and talked with him of her troubles. The doctor accompanied her back to her hotel, and just as she was entering the elevator, she placed her hand over her heart and fell to the floor dead.

A telegram was sent to Mr. Masterson and he was soon at the hotel. The body was removed to an undertaker's establishment, and when a reporter called there he found ex-Judge Masterson sitting with bowed head beside the casket containing the body. He seemed overcome by his emotions, and would utter not a word to anyone.

Coroner Jenkens will make an autopsy. He says there is no doubt that it is a case of broken heart if there ever was one.

WILL GO TO TEXAS.

Ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland Will Visit the Dallas Fair.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Ex-President Cleveland and Mrs. Cleveland were waited upon at their residence last night by Governor Ross, Col. A. H. Belo, Hon. John Martin, J. S. Armstrong and several other citizens of Texas, accompanied by their wives, and a cordial invitation was extended to the ex-President and wife to visit the Texas State Fair to be held at Dallas in November.

Mr. Cleveland replied that he had long desired to visit the Southwest, and if nothing unforeseen occurred would gladly accept the invitation. Mrs. Cleveland also gave a similar answer. The delegation start on their return to Texas to-day.

Dragged Out of Court and Lynched.

COLUMBUS, Miss., May 22.—Grant Anderson, a negro, while undergoing a preliminary trial upon the charge of attempting to assault the little daughter of Dr. Curtis, a prominent citizen here, was drugged out of the court room by a mob. A rope was quickly produced and the prisoner was taken across the street to a livery stable, when his tether was thrown over a rafter and in a second his body was dangling in the air. Life was extinct in about five minutes.

Arrest of a Confidential Bookkeeper.

Mr. Roberts declined to see reporters, but to a friend acknowledged the embezzlement.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 22.—The coal miners and operators of this district held a conference on the scale adopted by the miners for day laborers and dead work. A lively contest is predicted before the matter is settled.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

The Tariff Bill Passed by a Vote of 164 to 142.

ONE REPUBLICAN AGAINST IT.

The Measure Expected to be Called Up in the Senate To-morrow.

The Bear Ordered to Behring Sea—To Seize all Vessels Engaged in Unlawful Acts—Congressman Lawler Seriously Ill—Mr. Canady Presents His Resignation—Ingalls Investigating Mortgages.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Tariff bill passed the House—yeas 164, nays 142. Mr. Coleman (Louisiana, Republican), voted against the bill.

When the Chairman of the Committee of the Whole reported the bill to the House, Mr. McKinley moved its engrossment, third reading and passage, together with the amendments agreed to.

On a rising vote on the call of the previous question, Butterworth, Kerr, Dunnell and Coleman did not vote with the Republicans, but on the yea and nay vote all the Republicans voted for the bill except Coleman, of Louisiana.

The House spent considerable time in voting on the various amendments which have been offered by the Committee of the Whole during the discussion of the last few days. All the amendments which were adopted in the Committee of the Whole were passed by the House except three.

The bill will probably reach the Senate to-morrow. The greater part of it has been through the engrossing clerk's hands in anticipation of its passage. In the Senate it will be referred to the Finance Committee.

That Committee has not considered formally how it will deal with the tariff question, but it is believed that extended hearings will not be given. A few of the representatives of more important industries may be heard from time to time, but most of the arguments will be submitted in writing. Senator Allison will have charge of the bill.

BERHING SEA TROUBLES.

The Bear Ordered to Seize and Dismantle Vessels Violating the Law.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Instructions were sent from the Treasury Department to-day to the commander of the Bear at Seattle, to proceed to Alaskan waters, on her annual voyage of protection to the seal fisheries. The instructions this year to the commander of the Bear are similar to those of last year, but are more explicit in some matters of detail about pursuing marauding vessels.

According to present instructions it is understood that all vessels found violating the law will be dismantled and deprived of all means of further violations. Their logs and all skins are also to be seized and preserved as evidence against them.

The commander of the Bear is also furnished with copies of the President's last proclamatation on this subject and the act of March 2, 1889, regarding the seal and salmon fisheries of Alaska.

Senator Ingalls' Investigation.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—When the Silver bill is out of the way Senator Ingalls will deliver a speech upon the western farm mortgage question and to that end is obtaining data from various county officers in Kansas. He has sent to the clerks of counties throughout the State a circular letter asking how many foreclosure sales had been made in their county and the amount of claims during the last three years. During the time mentioned there have been 168 mortgage sales on the farm lands, in which the amount is over $164,000, in Butler county, the largest county in Kansas.

Complaints from the Squadron.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—An officer on the United States steamer Atlanta, of the Squadron of Evolution, writes to a naval officer here that discontent undoubtedly prevails to a great extent in the squadron among both officers and men, but it is not due to the causes already published, but is caused by a rather arbitrary commander-in-chief, who overlooks no mistakes. Among the men it is due to the presence of a larger than usual number of landsmen and merchant sailors who are unused to naval discipline.

Candidates for Commissioner-at-Large.

WASHINGTON, May 22. — Robert C. Ogden, the partner of John Wannamaker, and Jerome Carty, the law partner of Colonel Dudley, have both been announced here as candidates for Commissioner-at-Large to the World's Fair. The President is compelled by the terms of the bill to make the appointment on Saturday.

Congressman Lawler Ill.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Congressman Frank Lawler is quite ill. Dr. Mallan, who attended Mr. Randall, is his physician, and says that he is suffering from nervous prostration and has advised him to go to a hospital at once.

Captured Another Rival.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 22.—The Western Union Telegraph Company has secured control of the Bay State Telegraph Company for 99 years at $12,000 per year. The company owns six copper wires between New York and Boston and others between New York and Baltimore.

Fractured His Mother's Skull.

LOWELL, Mass., May 22.—Mary Cox, a widow, living on Court avenue, was taken to St. John's Hospital last night with a fractured skull. She was struck over the head with a piece of crockery by her son James during a quarrel. He fled before the police arrived.

A Very Narrow Escape.

A disastrous and perhaps fatal runaway was only averted on Park avenue, a little after six o'clock, last evening, by the presence of mind of Mr. Roger Erickson, a son of ex-Councilman Erickson of Eighth street. The young man was on his way home at the time, when a team of horses, said to belong to a gentleman named Gregrier, whose wife was driving, became frightened at a passing train, and commenced backing. Besides the lady who was driving there were two other ladies in the carriage, and the young man ran heroically to their rescue, catching the frightened animals by the head just in time to save the vehicle from overturning.

Never had a preparation a more appropriate name than Ayer's Hair Vigor. When the capillary glands become enfeebled by disease, or neglect, this dressing imparts renewed life to the scalp, so that the hair assumes much of its youthful fullness and beauty.

THE SCHOOL HOUSE FLAGS.

Franklin Council to Raise Another One in Plainfield.

Nearly every other school house in New Jersey now boasts of a flag and flag pole. Every since the passage of Senator Adrain's School Flag bill there has been a boom of bunting, and the national colors are to be seen floating in every township and school. The fact that nearly all public schools have acquired by some means or another a set of colors, has led many to suppose that the law requires the hoisting of the colors above all the school buildings, private as well as public. There has been a misunderstanding as to the provisions of the law. It does not compel the schools of the State to hoist the American flag, but gives permission to the school authorities to do so. It is altogether permissible and optional.

The law was passed so as to give permission to school trustees to appropriate public moneys for that purpose. In country districts it was not allowed before. There are in the State 1,520 public schools, and of this number about one-third have secured the colors. Nearly all of the schools in this city and in North Plainfield, are already provided with handsome flags. By permision of the Board of Trustees a flag will be raised by Franklin Council, 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., on or before Decoration Day, on the Franklin school building, on West Fourth street. The arangements have not yet been completed, but will appear in THE PRESS as soon as they are arranged.

Now for a W. C. T. U. Building.

The members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of this city, are making an effort to raise a fund to be used in purchasing a lot and erecting thereon a building for the uses and benefits of the W. C. T. U., of Plainfield, N. J.

Their petitions for subscriptions, are headed with this appeal: "We respectfully submit the following statement for the careful consideration of our friends. Our special object is to combat these terrible enemies of our children, our homes and our churches; thereby advancing Christ's kingdom in the hearts of men. To secure this, we have the following departments of work, which are educational and reformatory. Evangelistic—Holding four gospel temperance services each week. Juvenile—Consisting of the Loyal Temperance Legion, Kitchen Garden and Cooking Class, whereby the young can be educated in temperance principles: having a threefold pledge against the use of intoxicants, tobacco and profanity. Literature, Social Purity, Temperance, Scientific Instruction, Hygeine, Heredity and foreign Work. We desire to form a Working Girls Club, which has accomplished untold good in other cities. To carry this work forward successfully, we must have our home, and proper facilities; therefore we appeal to you to assist us in this undertaking."

A Treat for the Girls.

The parade of the New Jersey Wheelmen who will gather here Friday and Saturday of next week, will start from the Plainfield Club house at 9:15 Friday morning. A Thief in the City Hotel.

Some time during last night a thief broke open the cash drawer in the office of the City Hotel, and emptied it of its contents. He left the bank and check books open on the desk.

Mounting a safe near the door leading from the office into the barroom, he succeeded in climbing through the transom. The barroom till was then tapped and about two dollars taken. Proprietor Beerbower left the Hotel, yesterday morning, to be absent a week. Until he returns the amount left in the office drawer cannot be ascertained. Barkeeper George VanDorn was also away from the Hotel, last night, having gone to Newark.

They Fear None.

The "Stars," Plainfield's colored aggregation of base ball players, have organized for another season, stronger than ever. They have engaged VanDyke of Rahway, the celebrated colored pitcher, and "Gamey" Nelson will catch him. Old reliable Tom Martin will play short stop In three weeks, the "Stars" announce, they will be ready to accept a challenge from any club in the country.

Caught His Hand in the Machinery.

Mr. Clement Jolley, a machinist at the Potter Press works, met with a painful accident yesterday, which will deprive him of the use of his left hand for some time to come. He was at work polishing a gear, when his hand became wedged in the machinery, crushing the little finger. Dr. Gaston dressed the wound.

A preacher, who had been annoyed by the incessant "hacking" of members of his congregation, recommended such to try Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

NEW JERSEY'S BALLOT REFORM BILL.

It Passes the Senate and is Ready for the Governor.

The Werts ballot reform bill, the Democratic measure, is almost ready for the Governor's signature, and it will probably be a law before another sun sets. It was called up in the Senate yesterday morning by Senator Werts and on his motion the title was taken for the third reading. Not a Senator wanted to speak upon the bill, and when the roll was called every Republican Senator cast his vote for it.

The bill provides for county registry boards, and official ballot to be distributed freely before election, and the ballot must be prepared in secret, and voted in an official envelope unsealed.

A Rare Treat.

The Kinder Symphonie which will be given by the Young Daughters of the King, in Vincent chapel, on Saturday afternoon, for the benefit of the Children's Home, is the same entertainment which delighted a large audience in Holy Cross chapel, on the 26th ult. At that time the PRESS said: "The idea of the thing is most unique, being a genuine symphony, with full orchestration, performed almost entirely on children's instruments, horns, whistles, cuckoos, bells, triangles, drums and the like. The effect produced is wonderful." Beside the Symphonie there will be a programme of vocal and instrumental music, etc. There is no doubt that Vincent chapel, will be crowded Saturday and all who have not already secured tickets should do so at once. They may be found at Reynolds' and Randolph's pharmacies.

Missing Children Found.

Two school children named Frazee, a boy and a girl, aged eleven and seven years respectively, whose parents reside on East Front street, started out for school yesterday morning, but they did not reach their destination. The children wandered about all day, going as far as Dog Tavern, and as they did not return home after school a search was at once instituted to discover their whereabouts.

Special Officer Hope, who is also janitor at the Bryant building, where the children attend school, was notified, and after a two hours' search he found them wandering about in the vicinity of the Netherwood station. The children were subsequently restored to their parents.

Missing From Newark.

Captain Grant this morning received the following notice which explains itself:

Wilhelmina Felder, age, 70 years; left home, 53 19th avenue, Saturday, May 17, at 4 P. M., to go to St. Mary's church, corner William and High streets, and has not been seen since. Is about 5 feet 1 inch in height, medium build, dark brown hair mixed with gray; gray eyes, two large upper teeth that project; pleasant, mild expression, dressed in brown cloth dress, black cashmere shawl with deep brocade border, black straw bonnet with black trimming, is German and speaks very little English.

Tickets May be Had of Councilman Dunham.

The Midsummer Sunday school convention at Asbury Park, June 18, 19, gives promise of great success. The programme includes as speakers, Rev. Drs. Meredith, Kitteredge, Worden, Schauffler, McEwen, Warren, McChesney, and others. Tickets, including reduced rates at hotel, reserved seats for the sessions of the convention, and tickets for a social and supper, are placed at $1, and may be had of the following persons in this county: M. Marvin Dunham, Plainfield; A. S. Crane and J. M. Dudley, Elizabeth; Jas. H. Durand, Rahway, and the Rev. N. W. Cadwell, Westfield.

Opening the Excursion Season.

The committee on excursion for Wetumpka Lodge, No. 3401, K. of H. met last evening and decided to hold an excursion to Point View Island, on Long Island Sound, on Tuesday, July 1.

The annual excursion of the Trinity Reformed Sunday school to Asbury Park and Ocean Grove, will take place on July 23.

It is Not!

The exercises at Reform Hall, to-night, will consist of songs, recitations and music, and the subject for debate will be, "Is it consistent for a church member in the name of the church, to be building up the Kingdom of God, and in the name of the State to vote to license the saloons which every year bring many thousand homes to desolation and want?"

Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. George McGinnis of Linden avenue, North Plainfield, celebrated their seventeenth wedding anniversary last evening. A large number of the relatives and friends of the host and hostess were present, and enjoyed an evening of real pleasure.

Two Great Games.

The "Monroes," who are to play the Crescent League ball team on Decoration Day afternoon, defeated the "Hackett-Carharts" the other day. And the "Vernons," who are to play next Saturday afternoon, have defeated the "Monroes."

Dyspepsia causes depraved blood, which, in time, affects every organ and function of the body. As a remedy for these troubles, nothing can approach Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It vitalizes the blood, strengthens the stomach, and corrects all disorders of the liver and kidneys.

Not a Vote from Union.

The Elizabeth Journal says: "It is to the lasting credit of Union county and her representatives, that not a single vote of all that were given to legalize gambling at horse races was cast by any of the members of the Legislature from Union county. Senator Miller was absent when the bill passed the Senate, but had his vote recorded as against this measure. Assemblyman Ulrich of Plainfield, was also absent when the vote was taken in the House on Monday night, but the Plainfield Press says he 'was detained at home because of grave illess in his family; and he expressed his sincere regret this morning, to a Press reporter, that he could not be present and recorded, as he would have been, against the bill.' Speaker Marsh not only voted against the bill, but is reported to have done all he consistently could, in his official position, to permit those who opposed the bill to have a fair hearing. But Mr. Voorhees took the floor and fought hard against the iniquity. He implored the House not to disgrace the State by legalizing gambling, and said he was not surprised that no one had the courage to stand sponsor for the amendments. A powerful lobby pushed the bill through the Senate, although the Senators at first, held up their hands in holy horror at the provision which provided for a State tax. Pass this bill, he said, and we bow down to the gambling element, an element which proudly boasts that it controls the Legislature and the courts of New Jersey. It was a fight against tremendous odds, and the World of this morning says: 'the votes which were not bought outright were controlled by the party bosses, nine-tenths of whom are financially interested in some race track.' It is to the credit of Union county that its representatives fought against this bill, and are not under the imputations which attach, in the public mind, to those who voted for it."

Mr. Day of New Market in a Queer Quartette.

The Police News of Boston, and the Police Gazette of New York, have thrown out all novelty advertisements; this course has been adopted, it is said, in consequence of the proposed amendment to the postal laws now pending, which is evidently aimed at the prohibition of the use of the mails to that class of publications.

Speaking of the novelty interest calls to mind that in the Police Gazette it was built up to profitable dimensions by their late advertising manager, Mr. Stanley Day of New Market. It was at his suggestion that the Police News followed suit, and since its adoption Day has had the cream of that trade.

In connection with Day's abandonment of the advertising department of the Police Gazette, suits are pending in which claims are made which will necessitate the bringing together in court two former confidential business associates, Fox and Day, and those two unrelenting opponents, Anthony Comstock and Lum Smith—a queer quartette truly.

Real Estate Transfers.

Within the past few days real estate has changed hands in North Plainfield township as follows:

Archibald C. Ackerman to Ruth W. Ackerman, property in North Plainfield, $1 00.

Ruth W. Ackerman to Eliza Dederick, property in North Plainfield, $5,000.

Township of North Plainfield to Henry Taylor, property in North Plainfield, $42.69.

Ada M. Grant to Joseph H. Bolsterli, property in North Plainfield, $450.

65 Feet for $7,000—25 Feet for $6,500.

THE PRESS has been asked if the property lying between Dr. Probasco's and the Y. M. C. A. lot, on East Front street opposite Peace, has been sold. It has not.

The owner, the Mutual Life Insurance company, doesn't want anything for it. $6,500 is the price set. The Y. M. C. A., gave $7,000 for their lot, but then it has twice as much frontage and is on a corner.

The Atalanta Wheelmen Will Attend the Meet.

The Atalanta Wheelmen of Newark will meet at their club house on Memorial Day at 9:30 o'clock, and from there run to the races, which occur on the Irvington-Millburn course. Dinner will be taken at the Hilton Hotel at 2 o'clock, after which the members will ride to Elizabeth and take a train for Plainfield, N. J., to attend the meet here.

Price of Coal Reduced.

The coal dealers of Elizabeth have agreed upon a reduction in the prices, and the prices of all sizes will be $5 per ton, with twenty-five cents off, or $4 75 net. This is the lowest price quoted for the past four years.

Get well and stay well. But how shall we do it?
Listen my friend, and the secret I'll tell,
Though, for that matter, there's no secret to it,
As many a man understands very well.
If you're low spirited, gloomy, depressed,
If nothing tastes good and your nights bring no rest,
If your stomach is foul and your mouth seems much fouler,
And so cross you become that they call you a "growler,"
Be sure that the trouble is due to your liver;
And the blood is as sluggish as sometimes a river
Becomes when it's filled with all manner of stuff.
Clear it out and the current runs smoothly enough.
Go to the drug store and get a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great blood-purifier and liver invigorator. It is a sure cure for the low spirits and general depression a man feels when his liver is inactive and his blood impure. This remedy makes a man well.

The Increase of Baptists.

At the annual session of the American Baptist Publication Society, the reports presented showed that during the 105 years of Baptist history in this country the average annual increase in membership was 29,000. During the last forty years, however, it has reached 61,108 members, 645 churches and 410 ordained ministers.

The total net assets are $847,458; total number of publications, 33,093,700, and periodicals issued, 31,125,200. The society is much more than self-supporting.

—A free spread was provided for the patrons of Goff's Hotel on the Boulevard, last evening. The "spread" consisted principally of wet goods.

—It is reported that an elopement took place in this city on Sunday evening, but those who are the most interested in the mater, are very reticent on the subject.

—The regular meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be held in their hall as usual this evening. All the members are requested to be present.

—A meeting of the Mutual Aid Society of The Pond Machine Tool works, was held in the hall over Peck's store last evening. Business of importance to the society was transacted.

—The bicycle which Janitor Hope found near the Bryant school building yesterday morning, belonged to Edward V. French. It was stolen from in front of the Bicycle Club house on the evening previous.

STRANGLER EYRAUD

The Famous Paris Murderer Captured in Havana.

HE TRIED TO COMMIT SUICIDE.

Veins in His Leg and Arm Opened With a Piece of Glass.

A Cabinet Council Called in London. Political Prisoners Released by the Czar—Count Campello Returns to the Church—Another Chapter of Russian Brutality—The Reichstag Adjourns.

HAVANA, May 22.—The police announce that Eyraud, the murderer of the Paris huissier Gouffe, has been arrested here

Eyraud registered at the Hotel Roma under the name of Miguel Doski. He claims to be a native of Poland.

When he was placed in jail he attempted to commit suicide by cutting the veins in his leg and arm with a piece of glass. He lost a great deal of blood before medical assistance could be obtained, but the doctors attending him say he will recover.

In his trunk were found several French newspapers containing the details of his crime. A pistol and dagger were also found in his trunk.

In addition to the police officials, who have pictures of the murderer, several persons have identified the prisoner as Eyraud.

A CABINET COUNCIL.

Surprise in London Over the Nature of To-Morrow's Meeting.

LONDON, May 22.—Considerable surprise was manifested at the announcement that a Cabinet Council had been called for to-morrow and much speculation was rife as to the character of the matters, the importance of whose discussion influenced the Government's hasty action.

It was subsequently given out that the council was called for the purpose of discussing the situation with regard to the Irish legislation before the House of Commons, and the practicability of modifying the compensation clause of the Local Taxation bill.

The Star, in its comments on the sudden summoning of the council, expresses its belief that the Government is becoming alarmed at the growing opposition to its leading measures, and thinks it is not unlikely that the present agitation against the Land Purchase bill will end in the withdrawal of the measure, if it does not result in a dissolution of Parliament. One, if not both of these events, is certain.

RUSSIAN BRUTALITY.

Siberian Officers Torture a Woman Dying of Consumption.

LONDON, May 22.—A dispatch from Berne says the Swiss Oroix Federale publishes an account by an eye-witness of an incident preceding the recent massacre of Siberian prisoners at Tara Tool.

The Governor-General of Siberia issued an order that a woman named Konalskaia, who was dying of consumption at Verknindinsk, be removed. She was unable to rise from her bed, and four soldiers dragged her in a semi-nude condition, her single garment hanging in rags, to the court-yard where she died during the sledge journey.

Other female prisoners demanded the removal of Governor Bebroisky for cruelty, hence the shooting by the soldiers.

Praise for the Jones Silver Bill.

LONDON, May 22.—Mr. Henry H. Gibbs, president of the Bi-metallic League, has sent the following cablegram to Mr. Dana Horton, at Washington: "I think the Jones bill will be a most effectual step toward the remonetization of silver. In no case need there be any fear of shipments of silver from India or China to the United States. While the passage of the bill will give confidence to Europe in the stability of silver, its operations will be well calculated to bring about an international bi-metallic agreement with the Latin Union and probably other nations."

The Queen's Birthday.

LONDON, May 22.—The celebration of the Queen's birthday, the anniversary of which falls on Saturday, was very generally observed. The day was one of quiet festivity and good cheer, with very little of the noisy demonstration which almost invariably characterizes the celebration of events of national interest. Nearly all of the Cabinet Ministers and many other prominent persons in private life gave dinners in honor of the Queen last night.

Returned to the Catholic Church.

ROME May 22.—Count Campello, formerly canon of St. Peter's Protestant convent, has returned to the Catholic Church, from which he severed his relations some years ago. He will spend a penitential season of three weeks in a convent, after which it is hoped by the Vatican that his services may be utilized in diplomacy.

Set at Liberty by the Czar.

LONDON, May 22.—Four Germans, who were arrested at Riga a short time ago charged with political offences and condemned to exile in Siberia, have been set at liberty by order of the Czar. No reason is given for this act of clemency.

The Reichstag Adjourned.

BERLIN, May 21.—The Reichstag has adjourned until May 9th.

Railroad Conductors Adjourn.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 22.—The Grand Division of the Order of Railroad Conductors finished up its business and adjourned. The delegates have gone to Albany, and, after spending the day at the Capital, will be given a reception this evening by Governor Hill. To-morrow morning they will go to New York, where they will spend a day or two in sight-seeing and then disperse to their homes.

A Trust Company Resumes Business.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., May 22.—The Montgomery Trust Company, which suspended payment a few weeks ago, has resumed business. The new administration has public confidence, being entirely clear from connection with the bank.

AN OFFER OF $25,000.

John L. Sullivan Pleased With the Virginia Club's Bid for a Fight.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A representative of the newly organized Virginia Athletic Club has been in this city for several days, and has had an interview with John L. Sullivan on the subject of a meeting between the champion and Peter Jackson, and also between Sullivan and Joe McAuliffe.

The Virginian stated that his club was willing to hang up $25,000 for John L. and Peter, thus going the California Athletic Club $5,000 better, and $10,000 for Sullivan and McAuliffe. Sullivan expressed gratification at the offer, and intimated quite plainly that he would give the Virginia Athletic Club preference over the San Francisco Club, but also said, in the same tone that he has been assuming for some time, that he would make no definite agreement to fight anybody until after his new trial in Mississippi, which is set down for June 20. One thing John did say positively was that he would not fight again with bare knuckles.

Shot by White Caps.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 22.—A special from Alliance, Ohio, says: John Shewfran of Homeworth, near here, was roused from his slumbers by a mob of White Caps. They fired several shots, one taking effect in Shewfran's body. The mob then fled. The injured man says he did not know he had an enemy in the world. Great excitement prevails and indignation runs high.

His Second Trial for Murder.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 22.—The second trial of Jacob Scheele, a liquor dealer, for murder in shooting and killing Constable Drucker in New Canaan, has begun. The evidence of witnesses for the prosecution, who testified in the first trial when Scheele was found guilty of murder and sentenced to be hanged May 26, 1889, was again introduced without material change.

Slavin Will Not Fight McAuliffe.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A cablegram from London states that Frank Slavin declines to meet Joe McAuliffe, as the latter has been beaten by Jackson. Slavin will fight the winner of the Sullivan and Jackson match, or Jem Corbett, for £1,000, but the articles must be signed before he will leave England.

A QUESTION.

Do you think it wrong to give presents?
I don't.
Cash ought to be encouraged.
Think of the time it takes to charge.
I believe on a cash basis.
On that basis I am working.
No one can disagree with me.
All would be better off.
Ready money is what tells.
You had better try it, if you have'nt.

A SEVERE SENTENCE

Forger Shellenberger Receives Twenty-two Years.

EXCITING SCENES IN COURT.

The Prisoner Breaks Down Completely and Acted Like a Madman.

He was Formerly a District-Attorney in the Court—The Judge who Sentenced Him was One of His Intimate Political Friends—Pleading Guilty to Seventeen Indictments.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., May 23.—J. Monroe Shellenberger, the lawyer and politician, whose forgeries and other criminal escapades and flight recently caused such a widespread sensation, was sentenced by Judge Yerkes to undergo an imprisonment of 22 years in the Eastern Penitentiary.

There were 17 bills of indictment against him, covering the crimes of forgery and embezzlement. The ordeal of entering the court room proved too much for the once popular and talented lawyer, who as district attorney of Bucks County had made his brilliant reputation at the bar of this very court. As he entered the dock he shrank from the gaze of his former friends and kept his head bowed.

Congressman Robert Yardley, who came from Washington to assist in his defence, sat at one of the tables. As the bills of indictment were read loud groans and sobs came from Shellenberger. His counsel entered the plea of guilty in each case. Shellenberger acted at times like a madman. He opened his handkerchief and threw it over his head, rubbing his head and face with it, and nervously shook the railings of the dock with his hand and foot. Eventually he leaned his head forward on the rail and buried it in his arms, rocking himself on the seat like a person suffering from acute pain. At one time Shellenberger groaned so loud and sobbed with such anguish that the judge, in a nervous sort of way, told the district attorney to hasten his work and get it over.

After all the indictments were read and a plea of guilty was entered in each case, witnesses were called to show the character and extent of Shellenberger's rascalities. Several witnesses testified, and as the testimony was brought out bearing upon the most aggravated and unpardonable cases of rascality and deceit, Shellenberger rocked himself violently in the dock, moved his hands about like a wild man and cried aloud.

Judge Harmon Yerkes, an old-time personal acquaintance, and a professional and political associate of the prisoner for many years, pronounced the sentence of the court. It was anticipated that he would give Shellenberger a heavy sentence, but nothing like what he gave him was looked for.

Judge Yerkes drew himself up and addressed the prisoner in a low, husky voice, in which there seemed a slight tremor of emotion. Shellenberger never raised his head, but went on groaning and weeping violently. Finally the words dropped from the Judge's lips, "twenty-two years in solitary confinement with hard labor." Shellenberger gave a groan of anguish and almost sank to the floor.

The scene caused quite a commotion. The blow seemed to stun the prisoner. It was necessary to partly carry him from the court room.

The sentence was discussed by the farmers and the people of Doylestown on every side. Nothing like it was ever heard in Bucks County. While pity seemed to have been awakened in some quarters by the prisoner's exhibition of anguish in the court room, the general run of old farmers, who reflected upon what Shellenberger had been doing for years, seemed to think that it was just.

Fish Found Guilty of Murder.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 23.—The jury in the case of Frank Fish, charged with murder in the first degree, whose trial has been proceeding at Canandaigua for several days, brought in a verdict of guilty. The sentence will probably be pronounced to-morrow.

World's Fair Commissioners.

BOSTON, May 23.—The Governor has nominated as World's Fair Commissioners Francis W. Breed of Lynn and Thomas E. Proctor of Boston, with George P. Ladd of Spencer and Albert C. Houghton of North Adams as alternates.

A Large Freight House Burned.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 22.—The large freight house of the New York Central Railroad was burned last night. Nothing was saved. The building was a frame structure 300 by 100 feet long, and was filled with general merchandise. The loss will be very heavy. Fireworks are the supposed cause, and barrels of oil aided the flames.

Parading for Powderly.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 23.—Over 3,000 men paraded last night in honor of Grand Master Workman Powderly, who is in the city. Later Mr. Powderly lectured on "Knighthood" before an audience of 4,000 people.

Suicide of a Young Farmer.

DUNKARDS LOVE FEAST.

The Brethren Washed Each Other's Feet and Sang Hymns.

READING, Pa., May 23.—Over 1,000 people attended the annual love feast of the Dunkards at Ziegler's Church near here.

In the attic of the meeting house are beds and cradles with bedding for the women who come a long distance and wished to rest during the day, and also for those who remain all night, as the love feast lasts two days. The elders, with long hair parted in the middle, occupy a table in the main audience room. The cooking is done in the basement of the church. An ox was slaughtered for meals and for the Lord's Supper. The slaughter of the lamb was omitted.

Bishops David Etter and John Hartzler, and Elders Cline and Bucker officiated. Then the backs of the seats were transformed into tables for the celebration of the holy communion. Upon each table were ten water bowls and twenty spoons. Then each member present was appealed to to forgive any ill feeling engendered during the past year.

First feet washing was indulged in. The brethren girt their loins with towels and washed and wiped each other's feet. The women, arrayed in black dresses and white caps, also washed and wiped each other's feet while hymns were sung.

After this the Lord's Supper was spread, consisting of white bread and beef soup, with rice. Every set of four brethren and every set of four sisters ate soup out of one dish, two sitting on one side of the narrow table and two on the other, so that four could easily dip their bread in the bowl and use their spoons.

Then came the "holy kiss," the brethren and sisters kissing each other on the lips. Unfermented grape wine was drunk. The unleavend bread in strips was passed by one brother to another, but the Bishops broke bread for the sisters.

ELOPERS WANTED.

A Married Man Deserts His Family for a Factory Girl.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 23.—There is considerable excitement over the elopement of Eli Porter, a man of 30 years of age, employed as a loom fixer in No. 6 Wamsutta mill, and Mary Woodacre, aged 16, employed as a weaver in the same room of the mill.

The girl did not come home last night from her work, and as it was known that Porter, who has a wife and a three-months-old child, was enamored of the girl, the parents went to find him to see if he could give any reason for her disappearance. It was then found that both had left the mill in the afternoon and had been seen leaving the city in the cars. The parents of the child, who is very pretty and prepossessing, are much distressed over the affair and the father, who has vowed vengeance on the man Porter, has gone to try and trace the whereabouts of his daughter. The man is well known in this city.

TRIED TO LYNCH HIM.

Enraged Citizens Capture a Man Who Attempts to Assault a Child.

RONDOUT, N. Y., May 23.—Daniel Falarden has been committed to jail for attempting to assault Eva Pelott, a 7-year-old child, at Fonda.

He gave the child five cents and enticed her into an alleyway, where the ruffian tried to gag her. Eva's cries attracted the attention of people, who chased Falarden and captured him.

The affair was quickly noised about, and crowds surrounded the prisoner clamoring for justice.

There were cries of "Hang him!" and the trembling prisoner narrowly escaped lynching. Falarden has heretofore borne a good reputation.

Mrs. Babbitt Defies Eviction.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 23.—The notice to quit her little home in this city, served on her by Thomas H. Bullock, a New York lawyer, was disregarded by Mrs. Catharine Babbitt, a sister-in-law of the late B. T. Babbitt, the millionaire soap man, and Mrs. Babbitt does not think that further ejectment proceedings will be taken to compel her to leave the house.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 23.—The General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church convened here at 10 a. m., Rev. H. H. Brownell, of Coultersville, Ill., acting as Moderator. WASHINGTON TOPICS

Hot Contest for the Position of Sergeant-at-Arms.

THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

It is Believed the Discussion in the House Will Last Several Days.

Progress of the Tariff Bill—A Chance Now for Woman Suffrage—The Rush Ordered to Behring Sea—No Outside Pay for Census Enumerators—Senator Brice's Credentials Presented.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—It had been intended to hold the Senate Republican caucus to-morrow evening to choose a successor to Seargeant-at-Arms Canaday, of the Senate, but it has been decided to defer the caucus to some future date not yet agreed upon. This has been done in deference to the wishes of Senators Frye and Chandler, who are absent in New England, and who want to be present when the selection is made. Senator Frye, of Maine, is backing Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms Charles B. Reade, of his State, for the succession.

In addition to the Pennsylvania candidate, Mr. Bailey, Senator Higgins has a candidate from Delaware, and there are three Western candidates in the field—ex-Representative Valentine of Nebraska; Daniel Shepard, of Chicago, private secretary to Senator Farwell, and Colonel Swords, of Iowa. The latter will be strongly backed by Senators Allison and Wilson, and besides he is the second choice of many of the friends of other candidates. His recent connection with the National Republican Committee gives him an advantage which may count for much before the fight is over.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

Indications that it Will be Attacked from Various Quarters.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The River and Harbor bill, carrying an appropriation of over twenty millions of dollars for the improvement of the waterways throughout the country, was brought up in the House and is being considered in the Committee of the Whole.

General Henderson, chairman of the Committee, on opening the discussion urged the passage of the entire bill as reported by the committee, and will endeavor to have it passed without amendment. It is believed the discussion will last several days, as there is a disposition on the part of many members to oppose certain sections of the bill, which they say are full of jobs.

The Progress of the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The engrossing clerks of the House of Representatives did not complete the engrossment of the Tariff bill this morning as they had expected, and it will not reach the Senate until this afternoon. It will be referred immediately to the Finance Committee, which will determine upon an order of business in relation to it at the regular meeting Tuesday next.

The Simonds Copyright Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—By a vote of 6 to 2 the House Committee on Patents decided to make a favorable report on the Simonds International Copyright bill. The bill contains a section providing for reciprocity in the matter of copyright between the United States and foreign countries.

The Big Lottery Fight.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—A special from Baton Rouge, La., says the anti-lottery men mustered 38 votes and the pro-lottery men 53 votes on an outside question in the House last night, which was accepted as a preliminary test vote. This shows that the antis will have a strong minority at least.

Favor Suffrage to Women.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The House Committee on the Judiciary decided by a vote of 8 to 7 to report favorably a joint resolution proposing a Constitutional amendment granting the right of suffrage to women.

The Rush Ordered to Behring Sea.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Instructions similar to those sent to the captain of the Bear were sent to the commander of the Rush, at San Francisco, to proceed to Alaskan waters and protect the seal fisheries there.

No Outside Pay for Census Men.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—A bill was reported and passed the House prescribing penalties to any supervisor or enumerator of the census who shall receive any fee or pay other than his regular compensation from the Government.

Senator Brice's Credentials.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Mr. Payne, of Ohio, presented in the Senate the credentials of Calvin S. Brice as Senator for six years commencing March, 1891. They were read and placed on file.

National Republican Committee Meeting.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—A call has been issued for a meeting in this city on May 29th, of the Executive Committee of the National Republican Committee.

Legislating for Labor.

BOSTON, May 23.—In the Senate the House bill reducing the hours of labor of miners and women employed in manufacturing and mechanical establishments from 60 to 58 per week, was refused a third reading by a vote of 18 to 23. The bill providing that nine hours shall constitutes a day's work in municipal and State employment was ordered a third reading—15 to 12, with an amendment providing that the act shall only apply to those cities and towns in which it is adopted by popular vote.

—It is understood that the arrest which took place in North Plainfield, a few evenings since, for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk, was simply a matter of spite. In the eye of the law, the young man violated the borough ordinance, but the complainant who is a neighbor used very poor judgment and lost a number of friends by lodging a complaint against the accused.

—During the excitement on Park avenue this morning, elsewhere mentioned, one of the barbers in a shop not a block distant, remarked that he might as well shut up shop, as there was no business while the excitement continued. A couple of colored women, resembling song and dance artists, also perched on the roof of the Chautauqua Building and watched the proceedings.

A New Pastor for Somerville.

The German church in Somerville is showing much progress since its present pastor, the Rev. F. Koechli of North Plainfield, took charge of it about three years and a half ago. It was then in a very precarious condition and the hope of the members on a low scale. But soon a greater interest was manifested, the attendance grew larger and has continued to increase. Confidence and hope returned. The church can never become a strong one, as the German population in that vicinity is limited to a comparatively small number, but the members firmly believe that it will still increase in numbers and in spirit.

A few weeks ago a new agreement between the German church in North Plainfield and that of Somerville was effected, under which the pastor of the former church will always be the pastor of the latter.

An Exhibition of Good Work Among the Little Ones.

The last sociable under the auspices of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church, was held last evening. There was only standing room, and little of that. A class of twelve little girls from the W. C. T. U. Kitchen Garden, showed the proficiency they had attained in household duties. THE PRESS has not space to enumerate all they did, but everybody was so well pleased with what they saw, that they would advise all to investigate for themselves the very sensible work the W. C. T. U., are doing in this school through their instructor, Miss Alice Smith. After the exhibition the little girls served light refreshments to those present.

The success of the whole entertainment is due to Mrs. W. J. E. See, assisted by Mrs. J. F. MacDonald, Mrs. W. H. VanDeventer and Mrs. B. F. Corlell. The committee from the Kitchen Garden, were: Miss Alice Smith, Instructor; Miss Kittie Ross, Accompanist; Miss May Tomlinson, Miss Mabel Gillies, and Miss Mattie Powelson.

The little ones who took part, were: Lizzie Stafford, Clara Armstrong, Mabel Nichols, Emma Anglemun, Allie Cross, Dora Ulrick, Kittie Larew, Edith Vail, Mamie Orleman, Minnie Gulick, Jennie Sheppard, Mabel Rowe.

The Daily Record.

In the news of last night, stolen from THE PRESS of the day before, were these items:

The wandering away of the demented Mrs. Cuff;

The accident to Master Dick Waring;

The cruise of Mr. Clark W. Evans' yacht "Sandanona";

The ceremonious opening of Scotch Plains' new school;

And much else.

When everything else fails, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures.

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE.

Col. Mason W. Tyler's and Mr. J. H. Hesse's Barns Totally Destroyed—The Origin of the Fire a Mystery.

Between eleven and twelve o'clock last evening fire was discovered on the ground floor of the two-story frame barn belonging to Col. Mason W. Tyler on West Seventh street, near Plainfield avenue. The fire spread rapidly, and when the firemen arrived, in response to a general alarm sent out, the building was enveloped in flames.

Those who were first on the spot, directed their efforts to saving the live stock, and in this respect they were successful, although the building was totally destroyed together with several carriages, harness, lap robes, hay, grain, etc.

In close proximity to Col. Tyler's barn, stood the unoccupied barn of Mr. J. H. Hesse. This also took fire, and was totally destroyed, involving an additional loss of about $2,500.

Fortunately there was but little or no wind blowing at the time or some of the handsome residences in the immediate vicinity would have doubtless been burned. As it was Col. Tyler's house caught fire, but the firemen soon extinguished the flames. The fire was a hard one to fight, the nearest fire well being at the corner of Liberty and Sixth streets where one engine took suction. Gazelle engine took suction at the well corner of Seventh street and Central avenue.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, although it is thought by some to have originated from a lamp. A coachman employed by Mr. J. P. Page of No. 59 West Seventh street, claims to have first discovered the fire. He also declares that he saw a strange man leaving the place but a few minutes before the fire broke out.

Mr. Tyler's loss on the building will probably not exceed $4,000, and the loss on the contents will be about $1,000 more. The barns and contents were insured for about two-thirds of their value.

When the fire was gotten under control the firemen were provided with hot coffee and other refreshments, the generous gift of Col. Tyler, all of which was highly appreciated by the firemen.

Great Excitement, But Little Damage.

A horse belonging to Mr W. J. Stephenson, the North avenue caterer, fell down at the corner of Park avenue and Second street, about half-past ten o'clock this morning, and all efforts to get the animal on his feet were unavailing. It was at first thought that the horse was injured by the fall, but after a half-hour's hard work, and a generous application of the whip, the animal was induced to rise, and started off on a trot.

To add to the excitement a horse owned by Mr. D. I. Smalley, the North avenue butcher, left standing in front of Fine's cigar store, attempted to run away, and in doing so collided with and upset a butcher wagon belonging to Messrs Lutkins & Hummer, wrecking the shafts. The excitement grew intense, and for a time a most disastrous wreck was threatened. Brave men, however, captured the runaway horse, thus averting more serious consequences.

Interesting Exercises at Reform Hall.

The exercises at Reform Hall, last evening, were very fine, especially the piano solo by Miss Flo Randolph, which brought forth an encore. Singing by Miss Glen and the discussion of the subject, "Is it consistent for a church member in the name of the church, to be building up the Kingdom of God, and in the name of the State to vote to license the saloons which every year bring many thousand homes to desolation and want?" brought the exercies to a close.

Shooting on Decoration Day.

There will be interesting live bird and inanimate target shooting on the grounds of the Middlesex Gun club, on May 30, Decoration Day, under the management of Charles Smith—"Dutchey." A full programme will be published later. Five hundred good lively pigeons will be on the grounds on above occasion.

Hires' Root Beer is essentially a temperance drink, and, as such, ought to find a place in every larder in the land. It is so cheap, too. A 25 cent package makes five gallons.

Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich.:—

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life."

THE BIG TIME COMING.

How the Wheelmen of the Whole State Will Enjoy Themselves in Plainfield Next Week!

The arrangements for the Seventh Annual meet of the Wheelmen of New Jersey, to be held in Plainfield Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, are in the hands of the following general committee: R. V. Whitehead, of Trenton, Chairman; Messrs A. L. C. Marsh and Townsend Rushmore of this city, A. T. Dodd of South Orange, and G. C. Pennell of Elizabeth.

Dr. J. H. Cooley is chairman of the hotel and reception committee; Townsend Rushmore, of banquet and lunches; F. L. C. Martin, of parade and runs, and also of the races at Bergen Point, Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

Visitors to the Meet will be met at the depot by the Reception Committee and will be escorted to the hotel. Wheels will be in charge of the above committee and will be stored in the Gymnasium of the Plainfield Bicycle Club, where each owner will receive a check for the same. Wheels will be delivered on presentation of check only. Division Headquarters will be at Laing's Hotel and visitors are requested to report at once on arriving in order that a register may be kept, and the location of each member be readily determined. At Headquarters each member will be presented with a badge which will be an introduction to all wheelmen present. During the Meet it will be the duty of this Committee to furnish proper escorts and information to guests.

The annual banquet of the Division will take place on Friday afternoon (Decoration Day), at 4.30 o'clock, at Hotel Netherwood. Speeches will be made by prominent officials and a good time is anticipated generally. Only L. A. W. members will be allowed to attend. Club Secretaries are requested to notify the chairman of the committee of the number of seats required in order that they may be secured in advance. The attendance will be very large.

After the business meeting on Friday morning, lunch will be served to all the members attending. Saturday lunch will be served in the Plainfield Bicycle Club House after the parade and photograph.

The Wheelmen's Theatre party for the evening of May 30, at Music Hall, will be very popular, and probably every seat will be sold in advance. The prices will be as follows: $1, 75 and 50 cents. The attraction will be the Hudson County Minstrel and Vaudeville Combination, which scored such a success in Jersey City. The actors are all wheelmen and the show fairly bristles with local hits. Every wheelman expects to attend. The fair sex will be well represented. Curtain rises at 8 P. M.

The "Merry Five" Ball.

The first grand ball under the auspices of the "Merry Five" was held in Bound Brook Hall, on Wednesday evening last, and those who attended from this city report having had a good time. The music for dancing was furnished by Prof. O'Reilly of this city, and the grand march, which contained about 60 couple, was led by Theodore Smith of this city, and lady. At intermission a bountiful repast was served the dancers at Ferry's dining rooms. The affair was a financial success.

AN INCENTIVE TO STUDY.

Free Scholarships Offered at the State Agricultural College — Plainfield Public School Boys May Contend.

The following extract from the Secretary of the State Agricultural College of New Jersey to the public school authorities of this city virtually explains itself. The attention of both teachers and pupils is hereby called to it and to the conditions of the offer made therein:

STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE
NEW BRUNSWICK N. J., May 12, 1890.

MY DEAR SIR:—In accordance with the law of our State passed March 31, 1890 "to increase the efficiency of the public school system of the State by providing for additional free scholarship at the State College," on Saturday, June 7, an examination for admission to the State College will be held at the Court House of each county under the direction of the county and city superintendents of the county. At the request of the State Superintendent of Education, the college authorities will prepare uniform examination papers for this purpose and will send them to the several superintendents a few days in advance of the examination.

All students who pass their examinations receiving a mark of sixty per cent. or over on their examination papers, will be admitted to the College without further examination and will receive appointments to free scholarship. A record of the name of each student who tries the examination and of the value of his examination paper in each subject, estimated on the scale of one hundred, will be kept by the County Superintendent and transmitted in duplicate copies to the President of the State College and to the State Superintendent of Education. While it is possible that there may be another examination held in September, it is better that all students should try the June examination. If they are deficient in certain subjects they will then be able to work up those subjects during the Summer.

We wish to send from the College a circular to every teacher in your county containing information regarding these examinations, that all teachers may get the benefit of the added stimulus that will come when the brighter pupils in all our schools know that they have this possibility of appointment to the State College before them.

A Year's Work of Christian Young Women.

The Young Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its last meeting for the year, at the Y. M. C. A., rooms, Tuesday, and adjourned for the Summer. Their hospital work, however, will be continued. The annual report of the Secretary, Mary E. Mosher, read at the annual meeting, May 4, deserves publication in full. It is as follows:

Custom seems to demand of an organization an annual public meeting, and in compliance with this custom, and with no thought of glorying in our good works—if there be any—have we invited you here on this the evening closing our fourth year.

Whatever we may have been in the past, we are sufficiently humble to-night, and in this spirit we present our year's report.

Having been obliged to give up the Front street rooms, others more attractive and pleasant, were obtained on the corner of North avenue and Peace street. It was with bright hopes that we settled there in October. At our first business meeting we received the resignations of both President and Treasurer. The places were immediately filled, however, with equally faithful and efficient officers.

A prominent philanthropist recently remarked, that all philanthrophic work had suffered owing to the wide spread illness of the past Winter. Our finances have been directly effected by it. Several organizations or individuals to whom we had sub-rented our rooms, were unable to carry on their work, we were therefore burdened by a much larger rent than we had anticipated, and perhaps we might also claim this excuse to explainin some degree, the lack of activity on the part of some of our members.

The most encouraging branch of our "Y" is the Temperance Drill Class of colored children. The Secretary reports an enrollment of fifty children and seven teachers. Sessions have been held every Wednesday since December 18, in the "Y" rooms. In addition to these a good time was given the children on an afternoon in February in the basement of Reform Hall.

Thd Social Committee arranged for a closing reception last June, which was largely attended, and we hoped united our members more closely, even though it added but two more young men to our number of honorary members.

The Hospital Committee report that their singing was appreciated whenever the condition of patients would permit of their visits.

By subscription cards distributed among our members we have endeavored to increase the Y. M. C. A. bulding fund. Our efforts in this direction have not been as successful as we could wish, but the sum of $132.83 has been secured.

Our monthly devotional meetings have been regularly held, with two exceptions, and the few who have attended them, have found them pleasant and helpful.

There is not among our members the ardor or enthusiasm which is natural to new organizations and which characterized ours in its beginning. But there should be energy and purpose sufficient for the work that lies about us. The work will be done for it is God's work. Shall ours be the privilege and honor of being numbered among the laborers?

Respectfully submitted,
MARY E MOSHER, Sec.

—Ex-District Deputy J. R. Rollison of Rahway, was present at the regular meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., last evening, and made an interesting address for the good of the order, which was most heartily appreciated.

An Aged Woman's Sad Fate.

THE PRESS yesterday published a circular which Captain Grant received from Chief of Police Hopper of Newark, requesting Captain Grant to be on the lookout for an aged woman, Wilhelmina Felder, who had wandered away from from her home in Newark on Saturday evening.

Yesterday it was learned that she fell from her chair a corpse in the Alms House at Millburn, whither she was taken after being found in a swamp at that place on Sunday in a dazed condition. It has been since learned that instead of going to St. Mary's church she went to Irvington, and from thence to Millburn, where, as stated above, she was found on Sunday. Her death resulted from heart disease.

Where Shall the Answers Go?

The following card has been circulated among the school children of the city:

IF I DIE TO NIGHT
WHERE SHALL I SPEND ETERNITY
Answer.....
Name.....

But those who might write their answers thereon, do not know where to send them. If anyone who knows will let THE PRESS know, the information will be given in these columns, to morrow.

Dyspepsia causes depraved blood, which, in time, affects every organ and function of the body. As a remedy for these troubles, nothing can approach Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It vitalizes the blood, strengthens the stomach, and corrects all disorders of the liver and kidneys.

M'DONALD UNSEATED.

The New Jersey Senate Decides the Hudson County Contest.

TRENTON, N. J., May 23.—The Senate last night unseated Senator McDonald of Hudson County, Democrat, whose seat was contested by W. S. Stuhr, Fusion candidate.

This is the result of a long and exciting investigation of the election in Hudson County. The report on the case describes the methods by which McDonald was victorious as unparalleled in the history of political frauds.

Senator Adrian, the Democratic member of the committee, made a minority report declaring that the evidence did not warrant the unseating of McDonald.

Senator McDonald made an eloquent speech denouncing what he termed the "steal."

Telegraph for South Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., May 23.—Articles of incorporation of the New Jersey Postal Telegraph Company have been filed in the Secretary of State's office. BOWEN WHIPS MYER

The Streator Cyclone Beaten in a Rattling Mill.

TWENTY-SEVEN ROUNDS FOUGHT

It Was a Finish Battle for Three Thousand Dollars.

A Big Crowd Present—Terrific Fighting in Some of the Rounds—Myer Chased Bowen Around and Asked Him to Fight. The New Orleans Man Responded by Knocking the "Cyclone" Over the Ropes.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 23.—Billy Myer, the "Streator Cyclone" and Andy Bowen, a local light-weight, met in a finish fight for $3,000 in the hall of the Atlantic Club last night.

Considerable money changed hands on the result, most of it being laid at odds of 3 to 1 on Myer. Bowen's seconds were Tommy Danforth and Jim Sweeney, while Myer was attended by his brother and Link Pope.

Pat Konrick, a prominent local sporting man, was referee.

Much time was lost in a wrangle about the karite bandages on Myer's wrist, but time was called at 10:39.

In the first round Bowen lead and hit Myer on the shoulder and rushing him hit him again. After sparring Bowen hit Myer in the ribs. Bowen had the best of the fight so far.

In the second round Bowen hit Billy in the jaw; then they sparred for wind and clinched. Both struck each other three times. The round ended with honors about even.

Third round—Bowen hits Myer a stinger on the neck, but Myer returned it. After sparring for wind, both men got in telling blows, Myer forcing Bowen to the ropes.

Fourth round.—Myer gets in a terrific blow on Bowen's neck, but the latter retaliated and the round ends with honors about even.

Fifth round.—Sparring for wind. After an exchange of blows and terrific in-fighting Bowen throws Myer and has the best of the round.

Sixth round.—Both men looked tired, but Bowen is confident. Both men are cautious and spar for wind. The round ends without any fighting.

Nobody hurt in the seventh round.

Eighth round.—Myer seemed fresher of the two. After some sparring they close and indulge in hard exchanges at short range in which Myer gets the best of it.

From the ninth to the 16th round no blows were given of consequence, Myer evidently trying to tire Bowen out.

The 16th, 17th and 20th rounds were in Bowen's favor.

From the 20th to the 27th round there was some brisk in-fighting. Myer chased Bowen around and tells him to come up and fight.

In the 27th round Bowen punched Myer in the ribs and terrific fighting followed. Bowen knocked Myer on the rope by a terrible blow on the neck. It was a knock-out blow and Bowen won the fight amid great excitement.

Andy Bowen was born in New Orleans in 1867. He has been a pugilist since he was 16 years old and has never been beaten.

FLOCKING TO AMERICA.

The Unemployed of Naples Frightened by a Rumor from the United States.

ROME, May 23.—The unemployed in this city and Naples are assuming a menacing attitude and frequent arrests do not avail to intimidate the people as formerly.

In Naples some excitement has been caused by the rumor that the United States Government proposes to put a stop to emigration. Peasants are selling out their belongings and flocking in throngs to the nearest ports where passage may be obtained to America before the prohibitive measures shall be put into force.

The main causes of the discontent among the peasantry are the marked increase in the burden of taxation and the strict enforcement of the conscription law.

KILLED WHILE PRAYING.

The Congregation Were Invoking Providence Against the Hailstorms.

BERLIN, May 23.—While the people of St. Mahlen, near Hildesheim, Hanover, were assembled in the church whither they had repaired, to pray for the cessation of the hailstorms which have of late prevailed in that locality with damaging effect, the building was struck by lightning.

Four persons were instantly killed, 20 were seriously injured and four were permanently blinded by the flash. The congregation were in an attitude of prayer at the time the bolt fell. In the ensuing rush for the doors, the people being wild with fright, two children were crushed to death.

Chancellor Caprivi's Plan.

BERLIN, May 23.—Chancellor von Caprivi has a scheme for the levying of an especial tax upon German residents in the country who are ineligible for military service, and upon those subjects of the Empire who hold their residence abroad. The "Freisianige Zeitung" calculates that by the various additions to the German army contemplated by the military bill, together with the augmentations for which permission has already been granted, the peace-footing of the army will be increased by 200,000 men.

Rhode Island's Commissioners.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 23.—The Governor has appointed Lyman B. Goff, of Pawtucket, Republican, and Gardiner C. Sims, of Providence, Democrat, Commissioners to the World's Fair, with Jeffrey Hazard, of Providence, and Lorillard Spencer, of Newport, alternates.

LONDON, May 23.—Mr. Lincoln, the American Minister, has resumed the duties of his office.

Genuine Flack Divorce Suit.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The genuine divorce suit of Mrs. Mary A. Flack against ex-Sheriff Flack was tried in the Supreme Court, Special Term, before Judge Beach. Mrs. Flack was ill and did not appear in Court. The fact of marriage was proved; also the fact of Flack's adultery. The defence produced no testimony, and the Court reserved its decision, the only point in doubt being the proper amount of alimony.

Young Sutton's Long Fast.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, May 23.—Young Sutton is now on his seventy-eighth day without food. He still has no desire for nourishment, his only sustenance being lemon soda water. Physicians say he cannot live many days. Yesterday an examination revealed the fact that his stomach and intestines are paralyzed. How he exists is a mystery but his mind remains clear and he talks freely to many callers.

Strike of Cigarmakers.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The Strike Committee of the International Cigarmakers' Union have ordered strikes in four factories employing 2,000 hands to take place on Monday next. The employes of nine cigar factories numbering 1,000 hands are now on a strike in this city for an increase of from fifty cents to one dollar per thousand.

Peacemaker Al. Johnson.

PHILADELPHIA, May 23.—An effort is being made by President Al. Johnson of the Players' League to effect a reconciliation between Love and Fogarty If the difficulty cannot be patched up he will try to secure the transfer of Fogarty to Cleveland or some one of the other clubs.

Claims the Incandescent Light.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The "wizard" Edison's claim to the incandescent light patents is in dispute. Walter K. Freeman has entered a suit for the laurels. He asserts that Mr. Edison offered him $50,000 not to publish that he was the inventor. He lays his damage at $150,000.

Tried to Kill His Wife.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Davis Ramsey, who a year ago sued George I. Ryerson for $50,000 damages for alienating the affections of his wife, broke into the latter's house early in the morning and tried to kill her.

KEMMLER MUST DIE

The United States Supreme Court Will Not Interfere.

ELECTROCUTION NOT CRUEL.

The Decision Banishes the Last Hope for the Condemned Murderer.

Kemmler's Lawyer Disappointed—One More Legal Step to be Taken—A Question as to Who Shall Electrocute the Murderer—Kemmler to be Informed of the Decision To-Morrow.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Application for a writ of error in the Kemmler case was denied by the United States Supreme Court. Chief Justice Fuller delivered the opinion. The full bench concurred.

Chief Justice Fuller read the decision in full. He reviewed the case and severally went over the points made by Kemmler's counsel, and ended by stating that the court had no hesitation in saying that they could not, on the record as presented, reverse the decision of the New York Court of Appeals.

This decision banishes the last hope for life afforded William Kemmler, and he will accordingly be executed in conformity with the new law governing executions in New York State.

Lawyer Sherman Disappointed.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Roger M. Sherman, counsel for Kemmler, said that he did not know what steps he would take next, nor could he arrive at any conclusion until he had seen the full text of the opinion rendered in Washington. His partner, Mr. Thompson, said, however, that he thought "the jig was up."

One More Legal Step.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 24.—The next step to be taken in the courts in the Kemmler case will be the argument of the appeal from the decision of County Judge Corlett, of Cayuga County, denying the writ of habeas corpus asked for on the ground of the unconstitutionality of the power conferred on Warden Durston in the execution of criminals, which power is claimed to be vested in the sheriff of the county wherein the conviction is had. The appeal will come up before the General Term at Buffalo June 3.

What Warden Durston Says.

AUBURN, N. Y., May 24.—Warden Durston says that he believes Kemmler will be electrocuted some time in August. Whether he or the Sheriff of Erie County would electrocute him would undoubtedly be determined next month. Kemmler can be taken before three courts to have the day of execution fixed—the Court of Appeals, General Term and the Court of Oyer and Terminer of Erie County. Kemmler does not know of the Supreme Court's decision, and will not until to-morrow, when the warden will see him.

Offers to Creditors.

BOSTON, May 24.—The creditors of J. Henry Gould, hay and grain dealer, have accepted an offer of 38 cents on the dollar.

Doolittle & Smith, druggists, offer 47½ cents on the dollar.

John A. Henry & Son, leather and shoe findings, offer 30 cents on the dollar.

KISSED THE LADIES.

Russia Now Has Another Cause to Pounce Upon Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 24.—It has been ascertained that the ladies belonging to the Russian Embassy who were assaulted while walking at Buyukdere were not the daughter of the Chief Dragoman of the Embassy and her governess, but his wife and daughter. Neither were the offenders four Turkish soldiers, as at first stated, but were a Turkish officer and five students.

The ladies were walking in a garden when they were seized by the officer and students, who forcibly kissed them.

A party of sailors belonging to a Russian dispatch boat happened to be in the garden. They heard the ladies cry for help and ran to their rooms. They captured four of the assailants, but the fifth succeeded in making his escape for the time being.

The sailors conveyed their prisoners to the Russian Embassy, and delivered them into the keeping of M. Nelidoff, the Russian Ambassador.

The Turkish authorities asked that the prisoners be turned over to them for trial and punishment, but M. Nelidoff refuses to transfer them to the Ottoman officials, basing his refusal on the ground that Turkish justice is illusory.

The affair has created much comment, and it is feared that it will result in complications between the Russian and Turkish Governments.

Toilers to Welcome the Kaiser.

LONDON, May 24.—The London workingmen's organizations are engaged in consideration of the matter of giving a grand labor reception to Emperor William of Germany on the occasion of his visit to England in July. The demonstration will be made in recognition of the efforts of the Kaiser to ameliorate the condition of the workingman in Germany and his endeavor, through the recent labor conference in Berlin, to spread the benefits of his work to the laborers of other countries. As there is no opposition to the proposal the occurrence of the reception is practically assured.

Four Persons Burned to Death.

BERLIN, May 24.—At Gollub, Prussia, the house of a farmer, containing his insane wife and two children, caught fire. The farmer hastened to the house from an adjacent field and attempted to rescue the inmates. He had scarcely entered the burning building when the roof fell and all four were burned to death.

STONED THE PASTOR.

A Gang of Hoodlums Opposed to a Clergyman's Sermon.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 24.—The residence of the Rev. M. W. McDuffie was stoned by a gang of hoodlums who had been worked up to a maddened pitch by the clergyman's outspoken utterance against Bishop O'Farrell's proclamation that the Catholic children of the parish would be refused confirmation if they attended the public schools.

The rear of Pastor McDuffie's house was littered with broken bricks. The clergyman called upon the chief of police for protection, and the former says it was not freely given.

Mr. McDuffie will preach another sermon against Catholic interference in public school affairs to-morrow night. He has frequently been threatened, but he says he is the line of duty and proposes to fight it out. Mrs. McDuffie, who has been in delicate health, was considerably shocked by the cannonading of her house. She was left in the care of her neighbors while the clergyman went out to hunt down the persons who threw the missles.

A CLOUD-BURST.

Railroad Culverts Give Way and a Serious Accident Occurs.

ERIE, Pa., May 24.—A cloud-burst in this vicinity flooded the roads and broke many culverts on several lines of railroads.

A west-bound freight on the Nickle Plate Railroad went through a bridge at Grayton, near the Ohio State line. Engineer Ellis and fireman Nicholson with head brakeman Johnson went down in the mass of engine and twenty-five cars. All came out alive, but the engineer will die. The bridge was a wooden structure 150 feet in length.

Assured the Mine Bosses.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 24.—The coroner's jury which investigated the explosion that took place at the Empire mine last Saturday night by which Henry Krieg and John Thomas lost their lives, have completed their labors. Their verdict censures the inside bosses of the mine for criminal negligence in failing to keep the fire boss with them while the carpenters were engaged in bratticing the mine and changing the air current.

Trout Poachers Arrested.

DELHI, N. Y., May 24.—Eight persons have been arrested on complaint of Robert J. Livingston of New York, charged with unlawfully catching trout in Lake Delaware, owned by complainant. They will be arraigned for trial this afternoon. These are the first arrests of poachers this season on streams throughout the Catskill trout region waters owned or leased by corporations or private individuals.

Bank Wrecker Pell Found Guilty.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The jury in the trial of Geo. H. Pell, charged with grand larceny in having taken $31,000 in bonds belonging to the Lenox Hill bank, at the time of the recent bank wrecking conspiracy, found a verdict of guilty. The penalty is not less than five nor more than ten years' imprisonment. Sentence was deferred.

The Tube Works Dispute Settled.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 24.—The big strike at the National Tube Works at McKeesport ended by the men going back to work. They demanded an increase of wages, but the company offered a satisfactory compromise. Several thousand men were involved in the strike, as the National Rolling Mill was also shut down.

One Cent Less than the Scale.

SCOTT HAVEN, Pa., May 24.—Hon. W. L. Scott's works were notified yesterday that the firm would pay them one cent less than the Columbus scale. Scott's miners and the greater portion of the Youghiogheny River miners have been on strike for the Columbus scale. All resumed in full to-day, the proposal having been accepted by the men.

Two Women Drowned.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 24.—Mrs. John Huling, aged 27, Mrs. Della Mannel, aged 21, and Miss Mamie Huling, aged 16, were rowing in a canvas-decked boat on Davisville Pond, when the craft suddenly filled. Mrs. Mannel and Miss Huling were drowned, but Mrs. Huling escaped by clinging to her dog which swam with her to shore.

Pattern Makers Adjourn.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The annual convention of the Pattern Makers' National League ended last night. T. J. McGonnell of Pittsburg was elected president for the ensuing year. The next convention will be held at Chicago. It was decided to make a formal demand for the eight-hour day on March 1, 1891.

New York Waiters Take Action.

NEW YORK, May 24.—At a meeting of 300 waiters last night, after an address by Secretary Pomeroy of the Chicago Waiters' Association, it was resolved to support the Chicago strikers, and to take action in case anyone attempted to send men from here to supply the places of the strikers.

General Alger Unveils a Monument.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 24.—The Sailors' and Soldiers' Monument was unveiled here before an immense throng. A big procession made up of Grand Army of the Republic posts and citizens preceded the unveiling of the statue. Governor Ladd and Commander-in-Chief Alger made addresses.

Kemp and O'Connor Couldn't Agree.

SIDNEY, N. S. W., May 24.—Kemp and O'Connor, the oarsmen, have failed to agree as to terms, and no match has been arranged.

THE PRESBYTERIANS

Still Discussing Plans for Revision of the Faith.

DR. PATTON ADVOCATES PEACE.

Princeton's President Says He Will Never Confess that Revision is Necessary.

Dr. Van Dyke Cheered and Hissed—Dr. Agnew Denies that the Doctrine of Infant Damnation is Embodied in the Calvinistic System—A Committee to Prepare a Paper on Which All Can Agree.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 24.—The action of the General Assembly in so quickly accepting and adopting the report of the Committee on Revision was rather a surprise. Many had looked forward to a heated debate, and some even went farther and predicted that more or less ill feeling would arise as a necessary accompaniment of any proposition to make revision easier. A serious split is now regarded as extremely improbable.

The revisionists though they admit a compromise, claim that they have won a victory, and seem to be personally contented with regard to the result.

Dr. Patton Argues for Peace.

Dr. Patton, who has been regarded as the leader of the anti-Revisionists said: "This is the most serious moment in the life of this Assembly. We represent differences of opinion. Out of the 212 Presbyteries of this Assembly only eight ask for an absolutely new creed. I do not see the necessity for any alteration on the confession of faith. But 134 Presbyteries have expressed themselves in favor of it and I bow to the opinion of the majority thus expressed. Our Confession of Faith has been traduced and I want this Assembly to re-affirm the standards of belief in the very terms in which this committee is appointed. I will never confess that a total revision of faith is necessary. [Great Applause]. I wish I had a voice that would reach around the world to reaffirm that there never was and never can be a just foundation for the charge that we Presbyterians have ever believed in infant damnation or that that doctrine is embodied in the Westminister standard." [Moderate applause].

Elder Day said Dr. Patton's speech was a great and pleasant surprise to everbody. It would surprise the entire country. "Brethren the thing is done; revision is accomplished," he said.

Dr. Van Dyke's Speech.

Dr. Van Dyke, of Brooklyn, said: "Yesterday I trembled in the belief that the Presbyterian Church was on the verge of a great catastrophe, but my trembling has vastly decreased since Dr. Patton's speech. The situation reminds me of the story of the Lion and the Lamb, and for the life of me I can't tell which is the lamb. The great transcontinental train of revision starts from Saratoga to-day. The first stop will be at Princeton Junction. [Laughter and applause]. Get aboard, eyerybody, the train won't stop long. It has started, and there's not sand enough in New Jersey, nor pig-iron enough in Pennsylvania; pines in Michigan or mountains in the West, to stop its progress to the Golden Gate. I will not consent to any restrictions on the revision committee. I do not agree with Dr. Patton that it was unwise for the last Assembly to send out the overture to the Presbyteries. [Cries of 'question' and hisses.] The Moderator rapped sharply for order and ruled that Mr. Van Dyke had the floor and must be heard. Dr. Van Dyke continued: "I want the shadow of infant damnation rooted out of the confession. Dr. Patton's confession would leave the question ambiguous. I don't want any ambiguity but in God's solemn declaration that none shall perish. Why restrict the committee beyond the general declaration? We will err greatly if we do."

Dr. Crosby's Request.

Dr. Crosby of New York, took the platform and said he did not wish to make a speech, but a request. For one, he was greatly indebted to Dr. Patton, "who had it in his power to lead us in to strife, but who so nobly and magnanimously led us into peace. Between the two propositions before us there is very little difference. The request I wish to make is that we should restrain ourselves and not go into the regions of theological discussion, but to confine ourselves to the question before us—no long speeches and no weary Assembly." [Applause.]

Infant Damnation.

Drs. Merrick, Agnew and several others clamored for the floor. Dr. Agnew was recognized. He said: "This train of Dr. Van Dyke's has started and is going to stop at Princeton. If he will only take on President Patton as conductor we will be satisfied." Dr. Agnew moved that Moderator Moore appoint the Committee on Revision. He (Dr. Agnew) was an anti-revisionist, but he had unbounded confidence in the Moderator. "I deny that the doctrine of infant damnation is embodied in the Calvinistic system. It is a slander to say that it was ever taught in the Church in America. [Laughter and groans.] If you change your Confession of Faith you will bid farewell to organic union with the Southern Church." Here the Assembly became very impatient, and Dr. Agnew sat down.

Both sides tired of discussion, agreed to the proposal first suggested by Dr. Erskine, which was now made in the form of a motion—the appointment of a committee of seven, to which were referred the three propositions before the Assembly, with instructions to prepare a paper on which all could unite. In addition to the authors of the three papers (Drs. Erskine and Kempshall), the Rev. J. H. Torrey, Elder Dar, and District Attorney Graham were named members of this committee.

Safety Bicycles.

The evolution of the bicycle is an interesting study. It began "so many years ago," with the velocipede which a man straddled, and which he propelled by the pressure of each alternate foot upon the floor or ground. Thereafter, for a long time, the tendency of construction was upward. Every man strove to ride a machine so large that he could with difficulty reach the pedals.

Upward is a good motto. Upward and onward is better still. But the upward and onward man, struggling with the sky-scraping wheel, was so frequently thrown off-ward that life in the upper atmosphere ceased to interest him.

Then began the demand for safety bicycles, a demand which increases daily. The Stanley Show, which is an exhibit of bicycles and accessories, held annually in London, represents the public market. Safety bicycles constituted eighty-five per cent. of the exhibit last season.

Of the nine Orange Wanderers who started for Plainfield on Sunday, seven rode Safeties and two ordinaries.

One of the latter gave up the ghost on the infamous "Springfield road" and the other walked most of the way.

The Tandem safety came through without a dismount for bad roads, while the Catfords came in a good second.

The Safeties mentioned are known as the Premier, and are manufactured by Hillman, Herbert and Cooper, Coventry, England. The pet of this class seems to be the Catford, an exceedingly light and strong wheel, weighing only thirty-three pounds, and guaranteed, by the makers, to carry 185 pounds of man with safety to both man and machine.

That this can be done is demonstrated by the case of Mr. John Long, one of the aforesaid Orange Wanderers. His weight on the Fairbanks scale at the Plainfield Bicycle Club, was shown to be 186 pounds, and he has ridden his Catford for two years without a break or a bend, over all kinds of roads, and for long distances, forty miles a day being only an appetizer for him.

The manufacture of the ladies bicycle opens the field—or rather the road—to the fair sex, and the sight of these bright birds of passage is becoming a familiar one to Plainfielders.

Mr. Blaikie, the able exponent of physical culture, strongly advocated at his lecture on Tuesday night, the use of the bicycle by women. After the lecture, in conversation with a prominent and accomplished married lady who told him she hesitated about purchasing a wheel, he exclaimed, "Hesitate no longer, get a wheel immediately."

Mr. Hooley of Plainfield Takes Off His Hat.

Mr. A. G. Hooley, of Central avenue, who is now traveling in the Far West as the representative of a New York Syndicate of wealthy capitalists interested in many schemes there, is at Bozeman, Montana.

He may be pictured just now as bare headed, because a copy of the Chronicle of that place reaches THE PRESS office with this proclamation marked:

☞ Take off your hat and get down on your knees and thank your God that you have lived to see, know and hear of the finest, the grandest and most beautiful city and the most prolific valley in the known world. Yes:

GREET THE FUTURE CAPITAL.

☞ With thanksgiving and joy. For I tell you right now if Bozeman don't get the capital she will keep the flies off the coat tail of the city that does. WE ARE AFTER IT. She is coming to the front with rapid strides and don't you forget it, and I don't intend to let you forget it, and if you will watch the papers you will see a reminder both loud and long.

An Enjoyable Reception.

Vincent chapel was a brilliant place, last night, with its electric lights and beautiful decorations. It was the occasion of the annual reception given to the Junior Department of the Sunday school. The children were highly delighted with the entertainment. The programme consisted of songs and recitations by the children and legerdemain by the prestidigiteur, Mr. Waring of New York. The Methodist people are wisely looking after their young people, and the church and Sunday school are made very attractive for them.

Prof. Segadlo Going Abroad.

(From the Newark Item.)

"Prof. L. F. Segadlo, who has been so successful in teaching Newark's young people the terpsichorean art, will sail for the land of his birth on the good ship Friesland of the Red Star line, on May 28. The good wishes of hundreds who have learned an easy movement and graceful carriage from the polite Professor will follow him as he journeys to and from the Fatherland."

The Crescent League Gets the Second Money.

The prizes in the recent Central Bowling League contest were awarded last Tuesday evening, as follows: Elizabeths 1st prize, $35; Crescents of this city, 2d prize, $21; Monday Nights of Westfield, 3d prize, $14. President Burnett and Secretary and Treasurer, Henry Miller, were present to award the prizes.

—The Grand Jury has adjourned over until Tuesday next.

Positively Delicious.

So delightful to the taste are HAMBURG FIGS, that they could be placed upon the table for dessert, and no one would suspect that they were more than very superior crystalized fruit. This property is what makes them so popular with ladies and children for the cure of indigestion and sick-headache. 25 cents. Dose, one fig. Mack Drug Co., N. Y. For sale by J. G. Miller.

A Youthful Forger in the Toils.

William J. Stires, of Pittstown, Hunterdon county, has been lodged in the county jail at Flemington, for forgery. He was arrested at the instance of Isaac Latourette of White House Station, to whom he gave a check signed John P. Rittenhouse. It is found that he had also used Mr. Rittenhouse's name on another check for $22, which he endeavored to have cashed at the First National Bank in this city, about six weeks ago, but without success.

The young man also tried to work off the forged check on Mr. Jesse Hatfield and at the Western Union office in this city, but he was unsuccessful in both instances.

Following in the Footsteps of Their Parents.

"The Westfield Athletic Company," is the name of the new corporation recently formed at Westfield, to encourage and advance out-door sports. As THE PRESS stated the grounds leased by the company are being enclosed and graded, and a grand stand with numbered seats is being erected. The base ball season will open there with two games on Decoration Day.

The stock holders are also advocating the formation of a "Country Club," like the one recently organized in this city, and it is their intention to erect a club house, with bowling alleys, gymnasium, etc.

Will Join the Plainfield Union.

A union meeting of the Christian Endeavor societies of New Market was held in the Baptist church at that place a few evenings since, at which addresses were delivered by the Rev. Messrs Leveridge and Cubberly and W. C. Stinson. It was also decided to apply for admission into the Plainfield Union, and to offer The Christian Endeavor Union, a monthly periodical published at New Market, as the official organ of the union.

The South Plainfield Washout.

Evidence was again taken, yesterday, before Supreme Court Commissioner D. R. Boice at New Brunswick in the case of Piscataway township against the Middlesex County Board of Freeholders regarding the washout in the public road near New Brooklyn, and County Attorney H. B. Willis presented testimony for the defence. The case is likely to last for some time yet.

How Lovely!

The following paragraph heads the editorial column of the Mt. Ararat Standard today:

"Just plain yaller and green."

All of which alludes to the new coat of paint with which Cy Wilcox has just decorated our congenial contemporary's office.

Is He Protestant or Catholic?

The New York Volunteer, a G. A. R. magazine published by a former Plainfielder, has the following in its last issue:

There is a man in Plainfield, N. J., who occupies a pew as far from the pulpit as possible, so as to save the interest on his money while the deacons are passing the hat.

News via New Brunswick.

The following bit of interesting news is from the Daily Times of New Brunswick of Wednesday: "The superintendent and matron of the Plainfield, N. J., almshouse were arrested charged with ill treating the inmates."

The above item is certainly news to the residents of this city. In the first place Plainfield has no alms house, and besides no such arrests have been made.

—Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., met in regular session, last evening, and settled up matters pertaining to the late entertainment in Amphion Hall.

—German Lutheran services will be held at No. 73 West Front street, (W. C. T. U. rooms) on Sunday, June 1, at 10:30 in the forenoon. Sermon by the Rev. W. Kandelhart of New York.

—The announced question for discussion at the Reform club meeting on Thursday evening, elicited from Messrs A. Titsworth, Burnett, Praed, Scribner, Brown and others, vigorous and instructive remarks. These popular gatherings will be continued every Thursday evening.

Hires' Root Beer is essentially a temperance drink, and, as such, ought to find a place in every larder in the land. It is so cheap, too. A 25 cent package makes five gallons.

—Land was staked out on Sandford avenue, yesterday, for the erection of a handsome new frame dwelling house for Contractor S. Williams. The building is to be designed after the old colonial style, and will cost about $5,000. Wm. H. Clum is the architect.

STAMFORD'S SCHEME

The Senator Advocates His Novel Loan Bill.

A REVOLUTION IN FINANCE.

The Measure Confines Its Provisions for Loans to Agricultural Lands.

A Register of Labor to be Published. Three Contested Election Cases—The Tariff Bill in the Senate—Mr. Call's Resolution on the Cedar Keys Trouble. The Sergeant-at-Arms Contest.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Mr. Stanford addressed the Senate in advocacy of the bill introduced by him some days ago providing for loans by the Government on agricultural lands.

"The principle of the Government loaning money upon property," he said, is completely established in its present advance of ninety per cent. upon Government bonds. The tremendous results of energizing this ninety per cent. and putting it into activity are apparent to all. Equally valuable will be the energizing of the latent forces of real estate. The bill confines its provisions for loans to agricultural lands, but in time they will probably be extended to some other kinds of property, and even to municipalities with proper restrictions.

"The Government can without injury to itself place money in circulation by taking agricultural land as security upon the terms perscribed in the bill. No pressure for redemption can be brought to bear, as only those who are ready to have their mortgages released can make a claim on the Government. The Government loans its credit to the individual in order that the whole people may have a sufficiency of money with which to prosecute their business. The money issued under the provisions of the bill shall be legal tender for all debts, public or private, except interest on the national debt and redemption of national notes. There is no analogy between this scheme and any other financial proposition that was ever suggested

"Under the provisions, the real estate of the country being so vast, there will always be the possibility of obtaining the money necessary to carry on the enterprises of the country, and when there is no further use for the money the borrower stops paying interest and takes up the mortgage upon his farm."

In conclusion he said:

"The bill, while not perfect, provides for what may, perhaps, not improperly be termed a revolution in finance, and I do not expect that it will be adopted until it has been fully considered by the people and has met with their approval. I move that the bill be referred to the Committee on Finance." The bill was so referred.

REGISTER OF LABOR.

A Directory of Skilled Mechanics and Laborers to be Established.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Several bills were under discussion by the Senate Committee on Education and Labor, but final action was taken on only one.

It was resolved to report to the Senate, without recommendation, Senator Turpie's bill directing the Commissioner of Labor to compile and publish annually the Register of Labor, to contain the names and address, selected and alphabetically arranged with reference to occupation, of persons of well-known excellence in their vicinity in any line of skilled labor or mechanism, the names to be taken, in proportion to population, from the different States and Territories and District of Columbia; said register to contain only the names of persons actually engaged in the manual work of their respective callings. Of these registers twice as many copies are to be published as of the Army and Navy Register.

Contested Election Cases.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The House Committee on Elections decided three contested election cases. In the case of Chalmers (Rep.) against Morgan (Dem.) from the Second District of Mississippi, the committee decided to report in favor of Mr. Morgan, who holds the seat in the House. In the case of Langston vs. Venable from the Fourth Virginia District, and of Miller vs. Elliot from the South Carolina District, the committee by strict party votes, decided to make reports favorable to the contestants, both Republicans.

The Cedar Keys Trouble.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Mr. Call offered a resolution in the Senate calling on the President for information as to the landing of an armed force from the revenue cutter McLane at Cedar Keys, Florida, the forcible entry of houses and the pursuit of citizens in the surrounding country, and asked for its adoption. Mr. Edmunds said he did not know that it stated the truth, and upon his suggestion it went over.

Canaday's Successor.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Senator Cameron says the Republicans of the Senate will not caucus for Sergeant-at-Arms for at least three weeks yet, as Canaday's resignation does not take effect until that time. It is conceded that the fight for this place lies between ex-State Treasurer Bailey of Pennsylvania and ex-Congressman Valentine of Nebraska.

The Removal of the Islands.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The Committee of the Whole of the House has adopted, in the River and Harbor bill, the item of $200,000 for the removal of the Delaware river islands.

The Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The Tariff bill was received in the Senate and referred at once to the Finance Committee. Ten thousand copies were ordered printed for the use of the Senate.

The Schoele Murder Trial.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 24.—The evidence in the trial of the liquor seller Schoele for the murder of Constable Duckner is all in. Argument will be had Tuesday.

Lightning's Deadly Work.

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 24.—William Furman was struck by lightning and instantly killed while rig building. Three companions with him were badly stunned.

ARTHUR ON STRIKES

An Important Gathering of Locomotive Engineers.

THEY DISCUSS FEDERATION.

Opposed to an Alliance With Any Other Organized Body of Laborers.

Chief Arthur Sets Forth the Principles of the Order—How Strikes Are Avoided. Railroad Officials Responsible for the C., B. & Q. Trouble—Chauncey Depew Talks on Labor and Capital.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 26.—A grand union meeting of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was held at the Hyperion Theatre yesterday. In the morning a private business session was held, which was attended by about 800 members. At the public session in the afternoon fully 2,000 people were in attendance. After prayer by Grand Chaplain Dority, of Charleston, Mass., addresses of welcome were made by Chief of Division Corbett, Lieutenant-Governor Merwin and Mayor Peck.

Grand Chief P. M. Arthur then delivered an address in which, after telling the audience "who we are and what we aim to do," he said among other things:

"The moral standing of a railroad man twenty-seven years ago was not very high; there has been a marked improvement in his standing since that time. In regard to strikes, I hold that the policy of the Brotherhood is a just and wise one in dealing with differences that arise between employer and employe. My idea of solving such problems is in the words of the Bible: 'Come let us reason together.' Whenever there has been a railroad disposed to meet us and reason with our members a strike has never occurred. There is no such thing in the Brotherhood as ordering a strike. No one is vested with the authority of ordering men to quit. I am opposed to our Brotherhood forming an alliance with any other class of labor. Character makes the man and without that no organization can succeed. I attribute our success to the fact that we have kept aloof from all other organizations. Our policy has been in plain, solid English: 'Mind your own business.' When the Brotherhood federates with any other organization it will forfeit the respect, not only of the public at large, but the employers."

As Chauncey M. Depew stepped to the front of the platform he was given a rousing reception. He began his remarks by saying: "I want to say at the outset, and to say it as president of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad, that every word uttered by Grand Chief Arthur is endorsed by me." He then contined: "I am here not so much to make a speech as to be here. Railroad service demands intelligence and character. The question between capital and labor has been better settled by the Brotherhood than by any other organization in this country. Labor has come to the protection of capital against demagogues."

A TEMPEST BREWING.

Trouble Expected in the Presbyterian Assembly Over the Revision Committee.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 26.—A tempest is believed to be brewing in the committee appointed to nominate the committee of fifteen ministers and ten elders who are to revise the Westminster Confession. This Nominating Committee, as far as the ecclesiastical politics of its members are known, is believed to be pretty evenly divided between revisionists and anti-revisionists.

It is understood that some sixty names have been brought before it from which to select the twenty-five revision committeemen. Some of the names are those of persons who do not want the Confession revised. The revisionists on the Nominating Committee urge that revision should be performed by its friends and not by its enemies, and declare that it would be contradictory to put anti-rivisionists on the Revision Committee. The anti-revisionists argue that it would be worse than a blunder to fail to utilize the learning of the great theologians like Dr. John Hall, Prof. W. G. T. Shedd, Dr. Patton, C. W. Hodge, Prof. Warfield and W. H. Green merely because they do not approve of revision.

Whichever way the fight in the Nominating Committee is determined it is believed that it will be transferred when the committee reports to the Assembly, whose approval of the persons nominated is necessary. If the revisionists in the Nominating Committee secure the nomination of a committee composed entirely of revisionists, the anti-revisionists in the Assembly will of course lift up their voices in protest.

Sold Beer in Original Packages.

LEECHBURG, Pa., May 26.—A car-load of beer was delivered to Mr. Silverman in this place, who immediately began to dispose of it in "original packages." Suit will be brought against Silverman for violation of the Brooks law. The latter says he will give bail or go to jail, and then, if it is decided his business is legal, will sue for damages. The seven kegs that were not sold here were taken to Apolo, where they were quickly disposed of.

Fought Six Rounds.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 26.—Early yesterday morning Dan Walker of this city, and Ed. McDonald of Waterbury, fought six rounds with two-ounce gloves in a barn at Allington, six miles from here, for the gate receipts amounting to $80. The affair was rather tame, Walker having little trouble in pounding his man so that the sponge was thrown up at the end of the sixth round.

THROWN OUT OF BED.

Gloversville, N. Y., Visited With a Severe Shock of Earthquake.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., May 26.—At 7 o'clock yesterday morning the city was visited with a severe shock of earthquake. Large buildings were shaken, people were thrown out of chairs and out of bed, and glass was shattered.

The earthquake was preceded by a loud, rumbling sound. At the same moment the fire alarm bells rang out and the whole city turned out, the excitement being intense. A small dwelling was burned.

Later in the morning, when the excitement had hardly subsided, the fire bells again gave the alarm, and a large brick building in the rear of the Opera House was discovered to be in flames. It was occupied by Julius Cole as a laundry, and was entirely destroyed.

Another slight shock of earthquake was felt about noon. The first shock was the most severe ever felt in this vicinity.

BEAT THE RECORD.

Citizen Train Arrives at Tacoma Ahead of Time but in a Terrible Rage.

TACOMA, Wash., May 26.—George Francis Train has arrived here, completing the fastest trip ever made around the World. He was gone 67 days, 13 hours and 3 minutes, but his actual travelling time was more than 36 hours better, he having stopped that length of time in New York.

He was in a great rage because some one robbed him at Huntington, Ore., Friday morning of $600, and because the Tacoma people did not furnish a special train from Portland to Tacoma.

Along the route of procession up to the Leader office every building was decorated with flags and banners and every window was crowded with people. In fact, it was a great gala day. The President of the United States visiting Tacoma could not have received a grander welcome. The Citizen is stopping at the Hotel Tacoma; and to-night will lecture on his tour in the opera house.

WORK OF INCENDIARIES.

Thirty Buildings Burned and a Village Almost Ruined.

UTICA, N. Y., May 26.—A dispatch from Port Leyden, Lewis County, says: Thirty buildings, including a hotel, stores, shops and dwellings, were burned here yesterday. Loss $75,000, insurance $20,000.

This is the third serious fire, all of incendiary origin, within three months, and the village is almost ruined.

Lost His Life by Jumping.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., May 26.—Thomas Sheehan, aged 22, was drowned here yesterday. Sheehan, with other young men, was crossing the bridge over the Mohawk river, and when near the centre of the bridge one of the young men dared Sheehan to jump, saying that he would follow. Sheehan immediately pulled off his coat and his companion did so too. Sheehan mounted the railing and jumped into the river, sixty feet below. The other young man did not follow. The party and other people who witnessed Sheehan's act hastened to help him. He rose to the surface and swam a short distance towards the south shore, but was apparently overcome by cramps and sank.

Excited Indians.

WINNIPEG, Man., May 26.—The Indians of Northern British Columbia are in a terrible state of excitement and are liable to break out in rebellion over the burning of their burying ground. Canadian Indians bury their dead by hanging them in large trees. The Stwash tribe had 300 of their ancestors hung up in this manner, and while hunters set the forest on fire the bodies dried by years of exposure burned like tar barrels. Among the Indians there was uncontrollable grief, and they threaten vengeance.

Was Defraine Killed and Cremated?

READING, Pa., May 26.—The relatives of Benjamin Defraine, a farmer of District township, this county, who disappeared last November, brought a bundle of blood-stained clothing to the District Attorney's office here and asserted that they believed that he was murdered, and that his body was burned in a barn which was fired by incendiaries on the night of his disappearance.

Kemmler Learns His Fate.

AUBURN, N. Y., May 26.—Kemmler has not been officially notified of the Supreme Court decision refusing to interfere in his case. He has learned of it, however, from convicts who passed his cell in the adjoining corridor. He questioned Guard McNaughton, and on being told that the decision was against him, Kemmler made no remark. The condemned man is in low spirits.

Died from His Injuries.

WATERBURY, Conn., May 26.—Thomas Peters, who was assaulted by Daniel Corr, died last night from his injuries. Corr fled, but was afterward tracked to Buckton, Mass., where he was arrested. The autopsy revealed that death was due to a blow on the skull from a blunt instrument, knuckles or club. Corr will be brought home and tried for manslaughter.

Chicago Wants $5,000,000.

CHICAGO, May 26.—Governor Fifer has been asked to call a special session of the Legislature, to submit a Constitutional amendment authorizing Chicago to vote $5,000,000 for World's Fair purposes.

Wandora Won the French Oaks.

PARIS, May 26.—The French Oaks was won by Wandora, who finished three lengths ahead of Nativa, second, who was two lengths ahead of Liliance, third.

WASHINGTON TOPICS

Senator Pugh Speaking To-Day on the Silver Question.

DEBATING THE LIQUOR BILL.

To Be Taken Up To-Morrow and Argued Until a Final Vote is Had.

Trying to Dispose of the River and Harbor Bill in the House—Official Circles Discussing Adjournment—Mr. Perkins of Kansas Acting as Speaker Pro Tem. During Mr. Reed's Absence.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The end of the silver debate in the Senate is not yet in sight. An effort will be made to close it by the time the Tariff bill is ready to report to the Senate from the Finance Committee, but that is a matter for the indefinite future.

No recent effort has been made to bring about a Republican caucus on the silver question, but one may be held before the end of this week, and when called it will determine the time for closing the debate.

Mr. Pugh is addressing the Senate to-day on the Silver bill. It has been agreed that the measure will be laid aside to-morrow, however, so that the Liquor bill, which is fathered by Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, may be discussed. The Liquor bill will be debated until a final vote on it is had, which may be in a day or two. The uncertainty surrounding the fate of this measure leaves the programme for the latter part of the week in doubt.

The Committee on Appropriations expects to get the Legislative and Fortifications Appropriations bills before the Senate during the week, and possibly the Diplomatic bill. Any one of these may be called up when the Liquor bill is out of the way.

Mr. Sherman and Mr. Aldrich are down for speeches on the Silver bill, and if the Liquor bill is disposed of in time and the Appropriations bills do not interfere, they will deliver them during the latter part of the week. It is likely that the calendar will not be considered on Saturday. General business of an important nature is pressing too hard.

No programme of business for the House has been determined on by the Republican leaders and the matter will rest with the Committee on Rules which will probably bring in a resolution setting apart certain days during the week for the consideration of specified measures.

To-day is District of Columbia day and the Columbus National Park bill is being discussed and will probably be placed on its passage. If to-day is not entirely consumed by District business the discussion of the River and Harbor bill will be concluded this evening and its passage moved. If there is not time then the bill will be finished to-morrow.

It was the intention of the Elections Committee to have the contested case of McDuffie, Republican, against Turpin, Democrat, from Alabama, passed upon but action in the matter will probably be postponed for a week. There are possibilities that conference reports on several bills will be called up for consideration and debated.

ADJOURNMENT GOSSIP.

The All-Absorbing Talk in Official Circles Just Now.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The question of the adjournment of Congress is the all-absorbing topic in official circles. Speaker Reed has said that Congress can dispose of the most pressing public business and adjourn by the middle of July.

This general designation would include the Tariff bill, the silver measure now being debated in the Senate, the Appropriation bills (including the River and Harbor bill), and possibly the National Election law, which is a matter yet undebated in either House.

The clerk of the Senate Finance Committee, from the vantage ground of twenty years' experience, also predicts an adjournment by July 15. But the mass of people in House and Senate, and especially the employes of Congress whose vacation or discharge depends upon the question of adjournment, do not believe that Congress will complete the necessary work of this session before the middle of August or the first of September.

The Republican members of the Senate do not expect to pass the Tariff bill without serious opposition from the Democratic side, and senatorial courtesy will have to be strained almost to the breaking point if debate is to be limited within three weeks or a month.

Editors to Call on the President.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—It is expected that the members of the Suburban Press Association who left Boston for an excursion to Virginia, will arrive June 5, and will be accorded a reception by President Harrison at the White House probably on June 7.

Mr. Perkins Will Act as Speaker.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Speaker Reed has gone to Maine to attend the funeral of his mother. Mr. Perkins of Kansas, will act as Speaker pro tem. during his absence.

A King of Robbers Captured.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 26.—Mansfield "King," the self-confessed murderer, horse thief and all-around criminal, in jail at Clayton, the county seat of St. Louis County, has been identified as Wells, the Denver bank robber, who commanded Cashier Moffat, of the First National Bank of Denver, to hand over $21,000 in cash in March, 1889, at the point of a revolver. "King" was arrested some days ago for horse stealing.

The Bishop Tells the Grace Church People to Build.

Bishop Scarborough made his annual visitation to the Grace church parish, yesterday. Whit Sunday. Morning prayer had been offered by the rector at 9.30, and the service at 10.30 commenced with the litany, followed by the communion-office sermon by the Bishop, followed by confirmation and celebration of the Holy Communion.

The altar, pulpit and lecturn were beautifully decorated with white flowers, appropriate to the day. Thirteen were confirmed. Before beginning his sermon, the Bishop again urged the congregation to proceed and build a new church, as it was greatly needed, the present building being full and every ew rented. He preached a very earnest sermon from the text: "It is expedient for you that I go away, for if I go not away the Comforter will not come unto you, but if I go will send Him unto you." A large congregation, that filled the church, were present at the very interesting service.

—The "Kinder Symphony" held in Vincent chapel on Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the Children's Home, was a grand success. The attendance was large and the entertainment was one of the best.

There is nothing in the world which will give prompter relief to all sufferers from neuralgia than Salvation Oil. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

THE SYMPHONIE AGAIN.

Both the Entertainment and the Success Are Repeated at Vincent Chapel.

The Weihnact Kinder Symphonie which was such a great success a month ago in Holy Cross chapel, was given again on Saturday afternoon, in Vincent chapel for the benefit of the Children's Home. The programme was almost the same as before and the few changes that had been made were most agreeable. Miss Julia Jermain Ketcham's solos were very pleasing, and Miss Dewey's piano solo was also much appreciated. Miss Adelaide McGee, accompanied on the violin by Mr. Clifford McGee, sang the "Angel's Serenade," delightfully. The four tableaux were quite as tasteful and artistic as before, and although there were new faces in more than one scene, the effects were just as pretty. Mr. George P. Taggart put in a few remarks and succeeded in making the people smile.

The Symphonie itself was well done in every respect and Mr. A. S. Newman, the director, is to be heartily congratulated upon the success of his pupils. No one would imagine so much music and such sweet melody to be hiding itself in the most primitive of instruments, only waiting to be brought out by a little practice and rehearsal. A new feature, introduced in this part, was a cornet solo by Master Ralph Whiting of Bound Brook, who played "Now I lay me down to sleep," and played it well, too. He received a good round of applause and he deserved it all.

The entertainment was but another triumph all through, and those who witnessed it both the first time and the second, agreed that they would be glad of an opportunity to enjoy it again.

A Sad Spectacle.

When the 1:17 A. M., train from New York drew up at the station in this city, yesterday morning, there alighted a flashily dressed woman, about forty years of age, who was considerably under the influence of liquor. The woman tried to induce Officer Laine to get her some whiskey, and to him she related a sorrowful tale. She said that she was of wealthy parentage, but was addicted to drink, and frequently went off on a spree, losing all respect for herself and her parents. She gave the name of a well-known hotel in New York, where she said her parents were boarding.

The woman loitered about the station for a long time, and finally boarded the first train back to New York.

A Disreputable Fellow.

Captain Grant and officer Lynch arrested a man near the brick yard on Leland avenue, today, for indecent behavior. He is to have a hearing this afternoon. The case is such an aggravated one, the man should be held to await the action of a grand jury.

Since the above was written Miller was arraigned before the City Judge. He pleaded guilty to being drunk and was committed for twenty days on that charge. He was also committed to the County Jail to await the action of the Grand Jury, in default of $300 bail.

Did Not Come Out Quite Even.

Perseverance Lodge No. 74, K. of P., came out a little behind with their recent variety performance in Amphion Hall. After paying $230 for the troupe and other incidental expenses, there was nothing left for the lodge. The show was given a little out of season, and besides the weather was bad during the week the performance was given. The Knights, however, are to be congratulated upon the able and efficient manner in which the affair was conducted.

A Very Narrow Escape.

While the funeral procession, conveying the body of the late Frederick G. Mead, was ascending the hill leading to Hillside Cemetery, on Saturday afternoon, one of the whiffletrees on Mr. A. D. Shepard's new $600 coupe, just purchased the day before, broke in two, and the vehicle came near running down an incline into the gutter. Several ladies were in the coupe at the time, and the presence of mind on the part of the driver, probably saved them from serious if not fatal injury.

Bishop Scarborough at Netherwood.

Bishop Scarborough administered the rite of confirmation to nine candidates at the Church of Our Savior, Netherwood, last evening. The little church was prettily decorated with Spring flowers, and a large congregation was in attendance. There were present in the chancel beside the Bishop, the priest in charge, the Rev. S. P. Simpson and the Rev. William R. Earle of Westfield.

Services at the First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham conducted a special praise service in the First Presbyterian church, last evening, that was attended by an unusually large congregation. The regular church choir also rendered special music, which included a solo by Miss Fellows and a duett by Miss Fellows and Miss Kent.

All on Account of a Family Quarrel.

It is reported that a married woman living at Evona, attempted to throw herself in front of a moving train at that place a few days ago, but was prevented from doing so by her husband. Domestic trouble is said to have led the woman to attempt such a rash act.

IN MEMORIAM.

The Rev. C. B. Mitchell Delivers an Eloquent Sermon Before the Members of the Grand Army—The Music and the Floral Decorations.

Yesterday was known as Memorial Sunday, among the Grand Army men, and according to the usual custom, the day was set aside for thanksgiving and praise. In the evening, the Rev. Charles B. Mitchell, pastor of the M. E. church, preached an eloquent sermon before a large number of the members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, and Major Anderson Post, No. 109, taking for his text: "And this day shall be unto you for a memorial," as found in Exodus XII: 14.

The pulpit and platform were tastefully decorated for the occasion, with choice cut flowers and potted plants, muskets being stacked on both sides, while in front of the pastor's desk was a beautiful American flag, the whole presenting a patriotic appearance. The attendance was very large, and the service most solemn and impressive, opening with an organ voluntary by Mr. D. E. Davis, followed by a hymn by the congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Mitchell then offered prayer, after which responsive readings on "Warfare" and "Peace" were had by the pastor and congregation.

After a hymn was sung by the congregation and the offeretory by the choir, the Rev. C. B. Mitchell made an address, during which he reviewed briefly the late strife between the North and South, telling from his personal knowledge how the South had thrived since the war, and many other interesting instances and changes which the Grand Army of the Republic was instrumental in bringing about. He quoted from Washington, Grant and other distinguished leaders, and his remarks were followed with close attention.

Another hymn was sung; "Spiritual Warfare" was the topic of more Scriptural reading, and after the congregation joined in singing "America," the audience was dispersed with the benediction.

Interesting Addresses by Out of Town Speakers.

An interesting meeting was held in Reform Hall last evening, President Harper in the chair, Mrs. King leading the choir, with Mr. George Rogers as organist.

The devotional services were conducted by Brothers Allen and Hoagland of New Brunswick, members of the Order of Sons of Temperance, who afterwards delivered very effective and well received addresses. Mr. Allen spoke from a religious standpoint and detailed at length his connection with the Florence Mission in the City of New York, relating several thrilling instances of the power of God in converting men and women from evil ways, and showing the happy results of kind words and deeds as means of reform.

Mr. Hoagland reviewed the history and workings of the Sons of Temperance, an organization of nearly fifty years existence, and which has accomplished great good in lifting fallen humanity from the degredation of liquor drinking to the respectability of total abstinence. Both gentlemen were listened to with close attention.

Sporting Matters.

The season for black bass fishing opens in New Jersey on May 30. The fishing promises to be good.

Shad fishing closes June 10.

Woodcock promises to be plentiful this year. The season opens July 1.

Hereafter, under a new law, it will cost a non-resident $10 to hunt or fish in the State of New Jersey. He must also pay the County Clerk a license fee of $1 to secure the privilege.

Before the City Judge.

Thomas Shelly and his wife were arrested by the police on Saturday evening, for quarreling and fighting at their home on South Second street. While the fight was in progress, a lighted lamp was upset, and the building narrowly escaped destruction by fire.

Before the City Judge this morning the two prisoners pleaded guilty to the charge. Shelley was committed for 30 days, and his wife was fined five dollars.

He'd Better Stop Where He Is.

The bicycle thief is still at large, but the police are on his track. Saturday evening while the members of the Bicycle Club were having entertainment and refreshments in their house, the thief stole Mr. Kirchoff's wheel. He will probably be shot in a few days unless he steals no more..

Held for the Grand Jury.

Two more Sunday gamblers were arraigned before Justice Nash on Friday afternoon, making five in all that have been captured since Captain Grant first made the raid. The young men were obliged to each furnish $100 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

AGAIN THE VISITORS NOWHERE.

The Crescents Drop the Vernons in the Bisque, Where All Other Antagonists Have Gone Before

Brooklyn's pride, the mighty "Vernons," with their mighty pitcher, Worth, came to Plainfield Saturday flushed with victories. They had played all the strongest semi-professionals of the metropolis, and lost but two games. Worth held the proud record of having struck out 14 of the Brooklyn L's, and held that team of big batters down to three hits.

But the Crescents fell upon the visitors hip and thigh. In the first two innings they knocked Worth out of the box with six singles and two two-baggers. Then Winters was put in to pitch and he did better, but the Vernons were heart-broken. Haley made a safe hit in the first inning, and came in on a wild pitch, but that was the only run the visitors took home to Brooklyn.

Lufbery made a beautiful left-handed catch in short right field. McMurray's drop of an easy fly was the only error for the Crescents. The infield played a faultless game, as usual, and Walker got another of those long distance flys that he so often has to run for. The score was:

ROBBED BY HIS JANITOR.

J. L. Anderson, of this City, the New York Tea Merchant, Has the Thief Trapped in His Office.

Captain McLaughlin of the First Precinct, New York, has been in receipt of complaints for some weeks that thieves have been breaking into and robbing the stores in the lower part of the city.

J. L. Anderson, of this city, who is a tea merchant at No. 131 Pearl street, has been one of the principal complainants. For two months he has been reporting occasional thefts from his store.

"The thief must be a profesional one, for he enters by means of false keys," said Mr. Anderson to Capt. McLaughlin.

The tea merchant occupies the third floor of the Pearl street building. The outer door is locked by means of a key and padlock. The door to the inner office is fastened with a Yale lock. Some of the choicest teas Mr. Anderson keeps in the inner office. No one has a key to either door but Mr. Andersen and the office boy.

Detective Nugent was instructed by Captain McLaughlin to conceal himself in the inner office on Friday night after having first locked both doors so as to divert suspicion that any watcher was around. During the evening Officer Nugent heard the click of the padlock on the outer door and looking over the transom caught sight of a tall, muscular young fellow stealthily entering the room.

The officer stepped down and waited. He soon heard the click of the Yale lock and the next moment confronted the burglar. He was Martin Buckley, the sub-janitor employed by Janitor Murphy.

On Buckley the officer found a bunch of keys, one of which opened the padlock, and another the Yale lock. Buckley admitted his guilt.

Assemblyman Marsh Taken Home.

The Hon. Fred Marsh, who was taken so ill at the close of the Legislative session, was taken to his home in Elizabeth yesterday afternoon. He recovered sufficiently on Saturday afternoon to be perfectly rational and the physicians were hopeful of a speedy recovery with quiet and rest. Yesterday the physicians gave his friends permission to remove him. His father came down and his wife and Assemblyman Voorhees, his intimate friend, accompanied him home.

No Shooting on Decoration Day.

The pigeon shooting on the Middlesex Gun Club grounds, announced in these columns a few days ago, has been postponed until a later date. There will be no live bird shooting on those grounds that day.

—Mr. J. J. Sharp's carriage factory on West Sixth street, was broken into last evening, and about $20 worth of paints were taken.

"Oh! why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" We have often wondered why, and have concluded that we don't know, unless it be that the aforesaid mortal is conscious of the fact that at his disposal, at all times, are Dr. Pierce's Pellets, to relieve him, should he suffer from torpidity of the liver, sick or nervous headache, dyspepsia, etc. Druggists.

Dedicating the New School.

The handsome new public school building was formally dedicated at Scotch Plains on Saturday afternoon. Out-of-door exercises, during which Dr. J. A. Coles, on behalf of Miss Emily Coles, presented a handsome flag to the school, preceded the regular dedication exercises. T. R. Nichol presided at the indoor exercises. Principal Goodenough responded to Mr. Nichols' speech of congratulation, and presented, on behalf of Miss Coles, a Bible, strongly advocating the use of the same in the public schools. Addresses followed from Dr. Westcott, County Superintendent Holmes, ex-County Superintendent Pease, Assemblyman John Ulrich, Judge Clearer, former teachers and others. A poem written for the occasion of Dr. Abraham Coles, was read by the Rev. Dr. Parks.

Another Batch of Coal Train Jumpers.

Three men were caught by the police Saturday evening. A loaded coal train going East had on besides its crew, three apparently respectable young men, who claimed to have recently been employed at the shad fishery at Riverside. The men were "spotted" and Captain Grant was notified. He in company with Officers Laine and McCue boarded an express wagon and started in pursuit of the men, who jumped from the train soon after passing the main station.

After a long chase the men were apprehended near the Crescent ball grounds, and locked up. Saturday evening, at the station house, Judge Codington committed the prisoners to the county jail for 10 days each, and yesterday morning they were delivered to that institution.

—All the clerks of the hardware, dry goods, butcher and grocery stores, are requested to meet at Laing's Hall on Front street, this evening, at 8 o'clock, to organize and transact such other business as shall come before the meeting.

THE BOAT CAPSIZED

Eight Persons Drowned While Rowing on Watuppa Lake.

A CHILD CAUSED THE ACCIDENT.

Women and Children Struggling in the Water Within Twenty Feet of Shore.

The Boat was Over-Crowded—Several of the Party Reach Shore in an Exhausted Condition—Only One Man Could Swim—The Bodies of the Drowned were All Recovered.

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 26.—One of the saddest and most heart-rending accidents which have occurred in this city in years took place on Watuppa Lake yesterday afternoon.

A party of men, women and children took a boat at the pond and went out rowing. There was a strong wind blowing and the water was ruffled. The boat into which the party embarked was a common 13-foot flat-bottomed one, and the seating capacity is eight and was too small to accommodate so many persons.

The party was observed trying to work their way toward shore, just north of the pumping station. This was difficult work as the water was rough, the wind strong and the rowers inexperienced. When the boat load of pleasure-seekers was within 20 feet of the shore one of the children rocked the boat. The men cautioned the child to keep quiet, but the child was unmindful of this advice.

The Boat Capsized.

Suddenly, without a moment's warning, the boat capsized. Heartrending cries rent the air, which were heard by Foreman Bullock of the pumping station and James Lafferty, but they were unable to render assistance. Mr. William Turner was the only one of the party who could swim. He succeeded in helping one of his companions ashore.

In the meantime the women were struggling in the water. Three or four parties on shore cried to them to cling to the boat, but their failing strength was unequal to the task, and women and children sank out of sight. Several of the party had struck out for shore on their own hook and succeeded in reaching it in an exhausted condition.

Eight Were Drowned.

The following were drowned, their bodies being recovered later in the day:

Samuel Wittles, aged 50.
Mrs. Whittles, aged 45.
Henry Whittles, aged 10.
Samuel Whittles, Jr., aged 12.
Lovinia Buckley, aged 35.
Fred. Buckley, aged 3.
Willie Buckley, aged 8.
Willie Turner, aged 9.

CLUBBED BY THE POLICE.

Irishmen at New Tipperary Prevented from Listening to William O'Brien.

LONDON, May 26.—The meeting at New Tipperary, to celebrate the success of the new settlement, was held yesterday in spite of the Government's prohibition. About 2,000 people assembled at Limerick Junction to welcome the members of Parliament who came to attend the meeting.

After they had alighted from the train, Messrs. Dillon O'Brien and John O'Conner spoke at the station. The police were nonplussed, as they had received no orders against such a contingency. They warned the speakers, but were not heeded, and they were powerless to go further.

Afterward the speakers drove to New Tipperary, and Mr. O'Brien was about to address the large assemblage there when he was interfered with by the police, and the crowd was dispersed, clubs being freely used by the officers.

Mr. O'Brien taunted the police with cowardice, but suggested to the people that they offer no undue resistance, as he desired to avoid bloodshed.

Mr. O'Brien's attitude undoubtedly ensured the peaceful outcome of the affair, as the people took their cue from him implicitly. They resisted just enough to compel the police to use force, and a good many heads were bruised, but no one was seriously injured so far as reported. Troops were held in readiness throughout the day to assist the police if necessary, but their services were not called into requisition. During a banquet in the evening at the National School two explosives were thrown into the street, but no one was hurt.

DYING FROM STARVATION.

Famine Raging in the Soudan Country and Famine Reported.

LONDON, May 26.—According to reliable advices from the Soudan the population in many places is starving, and cannibalism is prevalent. The people are eating anything, dogs, cats, rats, and snakes being used for food. Around Tokar and Kassela hundreds of persons are dying daily from starvation, and in some other parts the state of affairs is even worse, nearly the whole population having perished.

The reports received are of such an alarming state of affairs that the House of Commons was urged to take immediate action in the matter.

When the subject was brought up in the Commons Mr. Fergusson said that the Government had been cognizant of the situation for some time and that relief had been given in every district that could be reached, but in places in the interior which were beyond the control of the Government famine was rife and many deaths had occurred. Around Suakim 2,000 persons were being fed daily. The failure of crops for successive years, added to other causes, have led to the present intense distress.

Accident to Emperor William.

BERLIN, May 26.—While the Emperor William and the Prince of Saxe-Meiningen were driving at Pottsdam the horses became frightened and swerved, causing the carriage to careen. The Emperor sprang from the vehicle and fell upon his right arm. The Prince was thrown out of the carriage. Aside from a few bruises neither was injured.

"Jack the Ripper" in Germany.

BERLIN, May 26.—A young girl named Hunter was found dead yesterday morning near Altenberg, and the body had been mutilated as were those of "Jack the Ripper's" victims. There is great excitement in the neighborhood.

His Lottery Tickets Never Won.

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 26.—Keyner Kemmerling, the superintendent of the pattern department of the Kelley & Jones brass plant, cut his throat from ear to ear. He was a regular monthly purchaser of Louisiana lottery tickets, never drawing prizes. He was often heard to lament his hard luck. His room-mate was in the room when he committed the deed.

Hit With a Crowbar and Died.

PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—Anton Fritz, a Polish laborer, who was struck on the head with a crowbar during a quarrel at Phœnixville, Pa., on May 15, died at the Pennsylvania Hospital last night from the effects of his injury. His assailant, whose name is not known here, was arrested at the time of the assault.

Lay It to Their Enemies.

CHICAGO, May 26.—The finding of dynamite at the Haymarket Monument was a topic of discussion at the regular Sunday meeting of socialists. A resolution was adopted declaring a belief that the explosive matter was placed there by men opposed to the pardon of Fielden, Schwab and Neede.

A Vicious Passenger.

NEW YORK, May 26.—James T. Curren, a cattle tender, returning from Europe on the steamer City of Rome, stabbed Michael Brennan and John Jones, as the steamer was coming up the bay after leaving Quarantine. Curren was arrested and locked up in the Charles Street police station.

Took Powdered Opium and Died.

HERRICK FALLS, N. Y., May 25.—Mrs. D. A. Pruyn took powdered opium last night in mistake for ipecac, and died from the effects of the poison. Druggist Charles Smith is accused of responsibility for the fatal error.

Baltimore's Appraiser Removed.

BALTIMORE, May 26.—Colonel Philip W. Downes, General Appraiser of Merchandise for the Baltimore District, has been removed by the President. He was appointed by President Cleveland in 1886. No reason for the removal is given except politics.

Another New York Labor Ticket.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The Central Labor Union decided to put a labor ticket in the field at the next municipal election. The Socialists opposed the plan.
